Belleville, Pa., October 12, 1928.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—William Draper Lewis, friend and biographer of Theodore Roosevelt, has declared his intention of working for Smith for President.

—President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, and an ardent temperance advocate, will support Governor Smith for President.

—Councilman Harry Badger is afflicted with one of Job's comforts that settled square on top of his head and is causing no end of annoyance.

—Thermometers in Belleville were below the freezing point, on Monday morning, and the result was not only a heavy frost but a light freeze.

—Troop B, of Belleville, is planning to hold a masked ball and carnival, at Hecla park, on the night of November 1st, as a Halloween celebration.

—At a meeting of the Belleville branch, American Red Cross, on Monday, Miss Wike, community nurse, tendered her resignation effective November 1st.

—Centre county stood 32nd on the list of the counties in the State in the value of farm crops for the year 1927, the county's crops being estimated at $2,899,630.

—Mrs. Millard Hartswick was brought home from the Clearfield hospital, on Sunday afternoon, where she underwent quite a serious operation two weeks ago. Her condition is now so much improved that her restoration to complete health is anticipated.

—Pennsylvania has more livestock than all of New England and New Jersey combined. We are the thirteenth State in point of total value of cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules. Centre county is twenty-second in the State, with a total value of $2,854,470.

—State Senator Harry B. Scott has been elected president of the Mohan National bank, of Philadelphia, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Charles B. Maxwell. Theodore C. Jackson, cashier, was elected vice president, a position formerly held by Senator Scott.

—Mrs. Rebecca L. Felton, oldest member of the W. C. T. U., in the United States, and the only woman to sit as a member of the United States Senate, has declared, unequivocally, for Smith for President. Mrs. Felton was appointed by Governor Hardwick, of Georgia, to serve the unexpired term of Senator Tom Watson, Dec'd.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Centre County Medical Society was held at the Centre County hospital, October 10, 1928. There was a good attendance. A splendidly prepared paper on "bronchial asthma, allergic and non-allergic" was read by O. E. McEntire, M. D. The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, November 15, at 8:30 p. m. at which meeting a collation will be served as an added attraction.

—In an advertisement published on page 5 of this issue of the Watchman the Central Pennsylvania Gas company makes an important announcement of a change in the schedule of rates it will charge. Instead of a 50-cent service charge every month there will be a minimum monthly rate of $1.00. Large consumers of gas will also be given a minimum rate of $1.00 a thousand cubic feet. Gas for house heating purposes will be available this fall.

—The school teachers of Centre county will invade Belleville next week for their annual institute, but the gathering now is much different from what it used to be. Twenty years ago the three hundred teachers came to Belleville and stayed here during the week, but now the most of them come to town by automobile in the morning and return home at the close of the afternoon session. In former years there were splendid evening lectures and entertainments, but the prices for these became prohibitive and they had to be cut from the program.

—Going home from Belleville on the nine o'clock bus, on Wednesday evening, Jane Austin, eight years old, was run down by an automobile driven by George Howard, of Belleville, and is in the Centre County hospital with a fracture of the skull. The child was with her grandmother, Mrs. Harry Austin, and when the bus stopped in Milesburg she jumped off and was in the act of running across the street to her home when hit by the auto. Mr. Howard stopped and rendered aid and also visited the hospital later to see how badly the child was hurt. Those who saw the accident say he was not to blame.

—William Fettes, of Belleville, was arrested, on Saturday afternoon, for using three hooks and grappling for suckers in Spring creek, near the Sutton-Abramsen Engineering company's plant. Bill had one fair-sized sucker when arrested. He was taken before Squire S. Kline Woodring who imposed a fine of twenty dollars and costs and gave him three hours in which to get the money. He couldn't make the rifle and so reported to Squire Woodring. The latter then gave him until ten o'clock Monday morning but when that hour arrived Bill was still without the necessary dough so he was sent to jail.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOSPITAL CORPORATION.

Three Changes Made in Board of Directors.

The annual meeting of the Centre County Hospital corporation was held in the court house on Monday evening, with a fair attendance. The terms of four members of the board of directors, George S. Hazel, Horatio S. Moore, Ralph Mallory and W. T. Kelly, all of Belleville, having expired, and as all of them had expressed a desire to step down and out, three new men were chosen, namely: Myron M. Cobb, George C. Bingham and John S. Sommerville; W. T. Kelly being re-elected.

A resolution was adopted amending the by-laws to permit of the appointment of an auditing committee outside of the board of trustees, and A. M. Barr, Earl C. Orr and Charles McCurdy Scott were appointed.

A very comprehensive report of the work of the Woman's Auxiliary was presented which showed that during the year the women had furnished to the hospital linens, bed clothing, clothes, etc., to the value of over one thousand dollars. They had also done some wiring and paid for other improvements at the nurses' home.

The report of business manager W. H. Brown showed that during the year there had been an increase of fourteen per cent. in patients treated at the hospital over the preceding year, and an increase of seventeen per cent. in the number of patient days. The income from patients during the year was a little in excess of $27,000, and the total income from all sources, including State appropriation, the money received from the hospital drive, contributions and donations amounted to something over $40,000. This sum just about met the expenses of the year.

As practically all the improvements contemplated at the time the big drive was put on four years ago have been completed, and the entire hospital is now in good shape, there will be no unusual expense during the coming year and the main thing that will have to be kept in mind is sufficient revenue to meet the running expenses.

The board of directors met at the hospital, on Tuesday evening, and reorganized by electing J. Thompson Henry, of Martha, president; J. Laird Holmes, of State College, vice president; Myron M. Cobb, secretary, and George C. Bingham, treasurer.

State College Sisters Married at Double Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Newell, of State College, was the scene of a double wedding, at noon on Monday last week, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Hope Newell, became the bride of Albert Perry Powell, and another daughter, Miss Elizabeth Rogers Newell, was married to Ernest Axman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Witman, student pastor of the Methodist church. The brides were attended by their three sisters, the Misses Martha, Dorothy and Virginia Newell, while Elizabeth Kinsloe and Mary Newell, were ribbon bearers.

Mrs. Powell was a graduate of the 1928 class of Penn State while Mrs. Axman is a member of the class of '29. Both Mr. Powell and Mr. Axman are instructors in electrical engineering at the College.

Local Football Results.

The Belleville High school football team won their second game, last Friday afternoon, when they defeated Morrisdale, on Hughes field, 14 to 0. The local boys showed some improvement over the game with Howard a week previous, but they must put a little more fighting spirit into the game if they hope to be conference contenders this year.

The Belleville Academy won its game with the Villa Nova Freshmen, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 26 to 0. At the opening of the game it looked as if the Academy would have a walk-over but in the second period the Villa Nova defense stiffened and held the Bellevillers until the fourth period when two more touchdowns were scored to add to the two made in the first period.

Up at State College an unusually strong Gettysburg team held State to two touchdowns and a final score of 12 to 0. Gettysburg used its second string back-field during half the game, but they did about as good work as the regulars.

Facts for Hunters.

Owing to misunderstanding in the rulings of the Pennsylvania Game Commission there is confusion in the minds of some as to just what the new regulations are.

Non-residents of Pennsylvania can hunt in the State this fall. They cannot take deer, but they can take any other game in season.

The season for cotton-tail rabbits will open November 1. From that date until the end of the month rabbits may be taken only Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays of each week. From December 1 to December 15, rabbits may be taken on every day except Sunday.

Two Belleville People Injured in Auto Accident.

Last Friday evening Charles McCurdy Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Quigley and Miss Henrietta Quigley motored to State College in Mr. Scott's new Ford car to see a show. On the return trip home their car collided with one of the trucks of the James and Nicholson company, contractors on the Belleville Central railroad, at a point near the William Grove farm, about a mile this side of Lemont.

The Scott car was completely overturned and landed by the side of the road. Mrs. Quigley was thrown out and staggering to the fence maintained that she was not hurt, but when she attempted to walk she staggered and fell in a faint, in the only muddy place there was in that locality. The driver of the truck stopped to render what assistance he could. A highway patrolman was notified but by the time he reached the scene of the accident the road was so tracked up with passing automobiles that it was impossible to tell who was to blame for the accident.

In the meantime the Belleville people were brought home in another car. Mrs. Quigley sustained minor rib fractures and Mr. Scott also received a broken rib. Mr. Quigley and Miss Henrietta Quigley were uninjured. The Scott car was badly damaged and was towed in to the Beatty garage for repairs.

Last Friday afternoon, as Burgess Hard P. Harris was motoring down from State College, he saw an overturned automobile lying alongside the road up near Peru, where the state highway makes an S turn in crossing the railroad. The only person in sight was a colored prisoner who had evidently been at work on the penitentiary farm. Mr. Harris stopped his car to take a look and as he did so the door on the upper side of the car was shoved open and a woman's arm became visible. He promptly went to the rescue and found two women imprisoned in the car. He helped them out of their auto prison as quickly as possible. One of the women was slightly injured but not seriously, while the other was unhurt. One was a resident of Wellsboro and the other of Jersey Shore. They were on their way to State College to take the daughter of one of them, who is a co-ed at State, home for the weekend, and did not know of the S turn in the road until they struck it, and in attempting to make the turn their car skidded and turned over on its side.

"Better Sires" Train in Belleville on November 2nd.

The "better sires" demonstration train conducted jointly by the New York Central railroad and the Pennsylvania railroad will be in Belleville on Friday, November 2nd, according to John S. Dale, chairman of the better sires committee of the county Agricultural Extension Association. The train will be placed on a siding near the Pennsylvania railroad depot.

Educational talks by prominent dairymen will be made during the meeting at the train from 2:00 to 5:30. The train will consist of twelve cars, including educational exhibits by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and the Pennsylvania State College. The object of this train is to stimulate the use of purebred sires in improving dairy herds of Centre county and other counties through which the train passes.

There will be purebred sires on the train representing the main dairy breeds. A farmer who has used a grade sire in his herd can bring him in to the train where he can purchase a purebred bull and he will be allowed a beef price for his bull according to the Buffalo market. The amount of money received for his grade bull will be applied on the purchase of the purebred and the grade bull will be loaded on the train and taken on through to market. Those who anticipate exchange of bulls in this manner should get in touch with either the chairman of the committee or the other two members of the committee, who are W. C. Smeltzer, Belleville; and S. W. Walker, Spring Mills.

The Belleville Business Men's Association is making plans to assist in making this a big day in Belleville.

Information on bulls which will be on the train can also be secured at the Agricultural Extension office, at Belleville, in advance of the train. Many dairymen of Centre county are looking forward to this date, November 2nd, and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

—When members of the Isaac Underwood family, on north Spring street, got out of bed, on Saturday morning, they found a yawning hole in the ground in the side yard near their kitchen door. The hole was from fifteen to twenty feet deep and the family were at first considerably exercised to know what had happened. It developed, however, that the hole was an old well that had been dug there many years ago and covered over and filled in over the top, and the support having given the top dropped in.

TROOP B, BELLEVILLE, HORSE SHOW WINNER.

Scores Most Points at Boalsburg Gathering on Sunday.

Expert riders of Troop B, 52nd machine gun squadron, of Belleville, won the riding events at the annual horse show held at Boalsburg, on Sunday, in the presence of a crowd of several thousand people. The troop scored a total of 36 points, against 20 for Troop A, of Boalsburg, and 9 for Troop C, of Lewistown.

Military guests who were present to witness the show were Brigadier General Edward C. Shannon, of Columbia, commanding officer of the 52nd cavalry; Col. Edward J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg; Major Stanley M. Livingstone, of Harrisburg; Col. Theodore Davis Boal; Capt. Pierre de la Boal of Washington, and Capt. Richard E. Tallant, of Clearfield.

The preliminaries were held in the morning and after luncheon the squadron marched to the 28th division shrine where General Shannon delivered a memorial address in behalf of the members of that division who made the supreme sacrifice in France.

One of the outstanding features of horsemanship was the accomplishment of Lieut. Leland H. Walker, of Troop A, of Boalsburg, who, riding two horses in the officer's jumping class, won both first and second places. To do this he had to out-jump Capt. Ralph T. Smith, victor in the brigade show at Mt. Gretna; Lieut. Herbert M. Beezer, runner up in the 1927 brigade show, and Lieut. C. W. Roberts, who took first honors in the show at Altoona on Labor day. All the above are officers of Troop B, Belleville. The results of the show were as follows:

Troop B also won on inspection of horses and equipment.

What Has Become of All the Game Squirrels?

What has become of all the game squirrels, the big black and gray fellows that were quite plentiful in Centre county woodlands after the close of the hunting season last fall? This is a question that is puzzling local game wardens now that the small game season is not far off.

Last fall squirrels were more plentiful in Centre county than they had been for a number of years. Hunters had good sport hunting them and they formed a good part of many mixed game bags. But notwithstanding the fact that the kill was quite large squirrels were quite plentiful after the small game season closed, and the question now is what has become of them?

It will be recalled that there was a short crop of nuts of all kinds in Centre county last year and it is just possible the squirrels migrated to some other section where their natural food was more plentiful. That squirrels will migrate is a known fact. They will travel hundreds of miles, if necessary to get into good feeding woodlands. This year, according to game protector Thomas G. Mosier, there is a good crop of nuts, and while squirrels are quite scarce now it is just possible that they may come back and be fairly plentiful by the opening of the hunting season.

As to other small game, such as wild turkeys, pheasants and rabbits, Mr. Mosier states that they are all quite plentiful. In fact, he believes more plentiful than last year and hunters should have good sport going after them.

Altoona Business Men Boosting High School Game Tomorrow.

When the Belleville High school team goes to Altoona tomorrow for their annual football game with the Altoona High they will be given a reception second only to a college team. The Altoona Booster Association, which is composed of the live merchants of that city, has taken charge of arrangements for the day. Belleville High school colors will be prominently displayed and every effort will be made to give the team, as well as all who accompany it on the trip, a pleasant time.

Last year Belleville won from Altoona by a very decisive score, and while some of the best of last year's players were lost to the local team by graduation, the present eleven will go to the Mountain city determined to turn the trick this year, if possible. This will be Belleville's first conference game this year and naturally they are out to win. Because of this fact they should be given enthusiastic support and every Belleville fan who can do so should accompany the team to Altoona tomorrow.

Lester and Mrs. Sheffer, of Millroy and a grandson of Mrs. Sheffer, who attended the wedding, remained there for the night and returned to Belleville the following day.

A Fine Musical Scheduled for Tonight.

Had it not been for the unexpectedly delightful concert which the Ladies' Volunteer Bible class of the Belleville Methodist church planned and carried through successfully last year we would not now be advising you to go to the church tonight at 8:15 and enjoy their attempt to repeat.

We feel that they are going to surprise the public again this year. The talent includes Herbert A. Wahl, pianist, State College; Dr. Eugene Wentzel, Bellwood, and Robert Owens, Tyrone, baritone; Miss Mabel Gast, reader, Lock Haven; Mrs. Louis Schad, violinist, Belleville; Ashburne Bros quartette, Altoona; Miss Claire Keller, soprano, Harrisburg; and the Temple trio, Robert Myers, cello, Homer Lucas, violin and Reuben H. Cree, piano, of Lock Haven.

We heard the Ashburne Brothers last year and, for us, they could make an evening. Many Bellevillers will remember Eugene Wentzel's singing here when he was a chemist in town. One of the rare voices at State when he was a student there and, we hear, grown in quality.

Really, we think you will regret it if you don't hear the concert tonight. A dollar admits a whole family, whether it comprise one or a dozen.
