Frank Nale of the mountain city spent the early part of the week at the Samuel A. Homan home at the Pines.

Harold Brennan of Wilkesbarre is visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert Brennan, and other Centre county relatives.

Oscar B. Krebs and wife of Altoona visited Mr. Krebs' brother, Dr. R. M. Krebs, and found him improving but slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reed and son, Edward, and Miss Kistel motored to Lewisport and visited friends Monday afternoon.

Miss Eleanor Robison, who has been confined to her bed for several weeks on account of a serious illness, is now recovering.

Merchant Geo. O'Bryan and daughter, Mary, of Axe Mann visited Mother O'Bryan on Sunday and found her quite well.

The new arrival at the C. B. Johnson home is a daughter, and as it is the first born the young parents are exceedingly happy.

Mrs. William Stuart and son departed Friday for their home at Fort Worth, Texas, after a two weeks' visit with Centre County friends.

Mrs. Wilkizer of Warren and Mrs. Francis Miller of State College were callers at the J. N. Everts home on South Water street Sunday.

Major F. D. Foster of State College made a hurried trip through West Ferguson and Halfmoon townships in the interest of the State College loan.

Will W. Keller and wife motored over from Pittsburgh to visit his aged mother and relatives, and also took in the foot ball game at State on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James I. Thompson of Millbrook entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robinson of Athens, O., Mr. Robinson being dean of music in the university of that city.

The P. O. of A. Camp No. 137 last Thursday evening entertained the camps from Tyrone, Bellefonte and Bellefonte with an oyster supper and a delightful social hour was spent.

Guy Rossman and wife entertained a turkey dinner at her home at Lewisport on Sunday. His father and three brothers each came in with a fine turkey Friday.

Homer N. Walker and wife, A. Stine Walker and Mrs. Sarah Everts motored to Bellefonte Sunday to visit Mrs. Harry N. Walker, who has been seriously ill for some months but who is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wieland, while on a motor trip Sunday, were callers at the Archey Laird home in the Glades. Prof. Russell Miller of State College was also a caller at the same home on that day.

Chas. Goss, passenger conductor on the Middle Division of the Pennsy, accompanied by Mrs. Dorsey, motored over from Harrisburg and spent the late end of the week with his aged mother, Mrs. Cyrus Goss.

The men's Bible class of Baileyville Sunday School were entertained Thursday evening at the Joe Gilliland home near Baileyville. Refreshments were served with a lavish hand by Mrs. Gilliland and her assistants.

Lumberman E. E. Ellenberger has taken over the C. T. Aikens timber tract and is erecting a saw-mill to commence operations soon, so as to be ready to make shipment as soon as the new railroad is ready for shipments.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Harper are back home from a ten-day visit with their son, Dr. E. Harper, in Philadelphia, and son, Lester Harper, of Harrisburg. The latter and his wife attended Alumni Day exercises at State over Sunday.

Randall Dunlap and family took advantage of Institute week and brought the kiddies down from Cherrytree and spent several days with relatives in town, making their headquarters at the old home on Main street, occupied by his brother, G. R. Dunlap.

Miss Edith Sankey, who accompanied Mrs. Viola Smith to the Wills Eye hospital, Philadelphia, has returned home, leaving Mrs. Smith there for a minor operation on her left eye. Her condition is excellent and her many friends hope that her vision will be restored.

G. W. Rossman and son Albert each came home Friday with a wild turkey. The following day John Barto and Guyer Rossman each brought in a fat turkey hen from old Tussey mountain.

John F. Sauserman came in with a monster gray squirrel which he presented to Mrs. H. N. Walker, who is very ill.

The open meeting of the P. O. S. of A. held last Friday evening in the town hall was but fairly well attended.

A. D. Miller of Lewisburg, field worker, accompanied by his brother, both gave good advice on the work of the Washington Camp. The Camp was praised for the showing it is making, being only two years old and having a membership of 100. After the meeting refreshments were served and a smoker followed.

Last Thursday evening proved to be a gala time at the Mary Sauserman home at Bellefonte. Her son Robert and daughter Margaret were decoyed from home for a time and upon their return at 8 P. M., they were surprised to find the home filled with the younger set, who came to help celebrate their birthday anniversary. Choice refreshments were served. After inspecting the numerous presents the evening was spent in fun and games.

Last Saturday about 8 o'clock P. M. two cars conveying Hollidaysburg ninny-roads and lady friends enroute to Pine Grove Mills to attend the banquet of the Fleetwood hunting club, crashed with a third car at the White Hall crossing. One car was on its side, another was on two wheels and the other escaped with slight damage. Mrs. Baker, one of the occupants, was injured about the legs and badly shaken up, but was able to attend the banquet. Like most of the wrecks, the other fellow was in the wrong.

The reputation of the Pine Grove Mills ladies' aid society as good cooks was enhanced when they served a banquet to the Fleetwood hunting club in the L. O. O. F. hall Saturday evening at 8:30. Seventy-four covers were laid for the members and lady friends and all were taken. Autoists conveyed the banqueters from Hollidaysburg, Boalsburg and State College. The early evening hours were spent in greeting old friends and forming new ones, and spinning hunting yarns. At 9:30 o'clock the delicious banquet was served which consisted of everything that a hungry man could wish for. A large cake baked by Mrs. Carrie Wieland represented a deer head and was ornamented by the word Fleetwood. Supper over, N. E. Hess, banker, hunter, sportsman, farmer and treasurer of the club, acted as toast master. Geo. Baker sang several songs and toasts were responded to by a number of members. The officers of the club for the year are as follows: president, William Leach; vice president, F. G. Homan; treasurer, N. E. Hess; secretary, B. F. Homan. On motion a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Blanche English and sixteen aids for serving the delicious supper.
