Hallow-een Party Given by Sixth Grade School Pupils.

The pupils of the sixth grade, Allegheny street school, celebrated the Hallow-een season with a party held in the school room on Friday afternoon. The room was appropriately decorated with black cats, bats, owls, pumpkins and witches, cut out by the pupils as part of their industrial Features of the entertainment included the "witches' cauldron," Margaret Beaver taking the part of the witch. All the pupils took part in the "ghostly silence," in which Jane Curtin appeared in the role of ghost. Each pupil's fortune was told by Jean McGarvey, the gypsy fortune teller. Madeline Purnell played the part of chief announcer, with Jane McCoy as assistant.

The clown stunts caused much excitement. The clowns were Catherinne Kilpatrick, Thelma Sanders, Edward Malloy, Ivar Hansen, Guy Poorman, Robert Brown, Pauline Witmer and Jean Emel. Another interesting feature was the minstrel given by Budd Moyer, Homer Knox, Frank Sasserman, Samuel Jones, Jonas Vorie and Milford Stine.

All the pupils were in costume. Paul Lose represented a typical tramp; Philip Cronemiller and Elizabeth Montgomery, Mexicans. Others in the sixth grade who contributed to the success of the party were LeRoy Rider, Mabel Musser, Dorothy Derr, Russell Moyer, Harry Davis, George Cain, Neil Shay, David Mills, Hazel Dunlap, Marjorie Houser, Mary Quici, Marie Nelson, Mary Baumgardner, Charlotte Watson, Eleanor Wion, Beulah Shultz, Luther Casper, Charles Eberhart, Betty and Genevieve Hampton, Marian Morrison and Dorothy Sager. Jack Wilkinson, who is quite seriously ill in the Philipsburg hos-pital, was greatly missed by his vote to the candidate of the Republiteacher, Mrs. Paul McGarvey, and all his companion pupils.

Following the entertainment of the program the children were served with apples, doughnuts, candy corn and peanuts, after which school was dismissed.

Four types of memberships will be sought here by the local chapter of enrollment will continue through

Thanksgiving day. The bulk of the one thousand members the chapter expects to enroll will be dollar memberships, local officers Gregg. say, but many persons will be asked for the other three types of memberships carrying with them fees of five, ten and twenty-five dollars.

The larger memberships are necessary, it was explained, for the support of the local work of the chapter, inasmuch as only fifty cents of each membership fee goes to national headquarters for the financing of national and international work. From the one dollar membership, fifty cents goes to national headquarters and fifty cents remains in the chapter treasury, while from the five dollar memberships $4.50 will stay in Bellefonte and the $25.00 memberships will put $24.50 into the local treasury.

As many of the larger types of memberships will be secured as possible, as chapter officers say it is virtually impossible to carry on the local service program from revenues derived from the one dollar memberships aolne.

The strangest election ever recorded in the United States made political history on Tuesday when Herbert Hoover was swept into the Presidency by a vote of the people, rather than of any political party.

Start Campaign to Stop Operation of Fish, Eel Baskets.

The campaign against operation of fish baskets or eel racks is being pushed with more than usual vigor during the present season, N. R. Buller, the commisioner of fisheries, said today.

The drive against the operators of the illegal devices recently has been centered on the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers, especially in the vicinity of Harrisburg.

Prior to 1925 operation of fish baskets was allowed if a permit were taken out. The code of that year made their operation illegal under any circumstances.

Complete banning of the baskets followed hundreds of arrests for illegal taking of game fish in them. In many instances the operators con-ducted a thriving business in the sale of the illegally obtained fish.
