Mr. and Mrs. George Long were dinner guests, on Sunday, at the James Kline home.

J. L. McCord, of Cornell University, spent several days last week with friends in the valley.

George Gettig and sister motored in from Braddock and spent Sunday with the Dunlap family.

Miss Luella Gramley, of Millheim, spent the latter end of the week at the F. R. Brennan home.

Frank Alwright is suffering with a gunshot wound in his left leg, the result of a hunting accident.

Mrs. Henry Ash and daughter Joyce spent a part of last week visiting the home folks in Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Rudy are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. S. E. Hillard, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. William Henry and Miss Mary E. Ripka were Sunday visitors at the John Breen home, at Struble.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Tate, of Punxsutawney, spent the latter end of the week with friends in the valley.

The new arrival at the Guy Kocher home is a son. The little chap has been christened Robert Edward.

John Gilliland and Harold Glenn, students at Susquehanna University, spent the week-end with their parents.

Mrs. Thomas Burk, of Marsh Creek, spent several days, last week visiting Mrs. Mary Wyckoff, at the W. R. Port home.

J. W. Miller, Wilbur Heffner, A. W. Tressler, Bert Miller and John H. Saucerman each bagged a wild turkey on Friday.

Lee Markle, of Altoona, made brief calls on friends here on Saturday, en route to the Dice W. Thomas home, on the Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shirk and Mrs. Will Glenn, of Lemont, were guests at the Hamill Glenn home on Friday evening.

E. E. Ellenberger is moving his saw mill to the Aikens' timber tract, back of White Hall, and expects to have a good stock of lumber on hand for shipment as soon as the new railroad is completed.

Will Wagner came down from Juniata, last Thursday, for the opening of the rabbit season and took three home with him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson motored over from Lewistown and spent the latter end of the week with Centre county friends.

Mrs. H. E. Taylor, with her two daughters, Helen and Margaret, and son Harold, of Altoona, visited friends in the valley last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stamm motored up from Philadelphia and spent Sunday with Mrs. Sue Peters, on Main street, finding her somewhat improved from her recent illness.

A fire broke out in the attic of the Fred Gearhart home, on Chestnut street, last Wednesday, but the flames were quickly extinguished by a bucket brigade before much damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Eves, Chester Eves and Mrs. P. B. Burkett, of Stormstown, motored to Baileyville and spent Sunday with Mrs. Margaret Lytle, who has been confined to her bed with illness for some time.

J. H. Everts moved from this place to State College on Friday. We were all sorry to see them go as they are an excellent family in every way.

Earl Louck and wife will occupy the house they vacated on Walnut street, Mr. Everts will engage in the mercantile business at State College.

Mrs. Charles Meyers, of Pennsylvania Furnace, who held the winning ticket which drew the bull at the better sires train, in Bellefonte, last Friday, is certainly a lucky woman. Last year she held the winning ticket which gave her a building lot that she hopes to see grow into considerable money some day.

Will Rider, of Johnstown, a former resident of our town, accompanied by a friend from Mahaffey, passed through town, the latter end of the week, on the way to Mr. Rider's hunting cabin, in Georges valley, where they will hunt small game. Both hunters are primed for the opening of the doe season.

While M. C. Wieland was out gunning, on Saturday, his wife and daughter Sara arranged a birthday surprise party for him that evening, inviting in quite a number of his closest friends. It was his 46th anniversary and proved a most pleasant event. Mr. Wieland received quite a number of very useful remembrances.

UNIONVILLE.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stambaugh, last Sunday, and left a little daughter.

Harry Hall Sr. and family, of the township, moved into our borough, on Monday. We welcome them to our town and church.

Joseph Brugger went with some relatives, on Monday, to DuBois for a little visit with his sister, Mrs. John Rumberger, and other relatives.

The library truck stopped in our town a short time, last Thursday, and quite a number of the citizens looked it over and were very favorably impressed.

Prof. Robert Lannen and wife have moved in with Mrs. Lannen's mother, Mrs. Sara Parsons. Their plans for going to Port Matilda, as reported sometime ago, were changed.

Quite a number of our people who are employed away from here were home for the election, and it was noticed, too, that some who had never voted were out, and were well advanced in years.

Pomona Grange will meet here this (Saturday) at 10 o'clock in the Grange hall. Each one will bring a basket and Union Grange will furnish cooked eats. All members are urged to be present, as an interesting meeting is expected.

Prayer meeting in M. E. church every Thursday evening; also, in the Presbyterian church the same evening and in the Free Methodist church on Friday evening. Sunday school in all three churches Sunday a. m. Preaching in the Methodist church Sunday 10:30; Free Methodist, Sunday, 7:30; Presbyterian, Sunday, 7:00.

On Monday afternoon a reunion prayer service was held in the M. E. church in behalf of the coming election. Now that the election is over and we still need to pray—"continue steadfastly in prayer," as has been recorded in divine instructions long ago, and we, as citizens, and those who are in authority over us will need to invoke divine guidance as much as ever.

Mrs. Gilbert Keatley, who was taken sick suddenly with appendicitis about three weeks ago, while on her way to their home in Renovo, was on a Sunday visit with Mr. Keatley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Keatley, and was taken to a Lock Haven hospital, has recovered sufficiently to be taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. John Huff, in Tyrone. Her sister, Mrs. B. E. Holt has her little daughter.
