

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

A marriage license was granted at Hollidaysburg, on Monday, to Andy Simco Jr. and Mary Kresovich, both of Bellefonte.

The primary grade school house in Bush Addition caught fire yesterday morning about 10 o'clock and was completely destroyed.

The American Legion drum corps will probably accompany the Academy football team to Philadelphia for its championship game with Perkiomen tomorrow.

During 1927 it cost $548,595 to keep the public schools of Centre county going. There were 10,694 pupils in the schools so that the average cost per scholar was $51.80.

The ladies of the Milesburg Presbyterian church will hold a X-mas bazaar on Friday, December 14th, in the fireman's hall. Fancy articles, pies, cakes and candy will be on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rhine-smith have leased the apartment in the Heverly building, recently vacated by the Ogdin Malin family, and moved there from the Bush House, Wednesday.

W. B. Hall & Son, on Friday, disposed of their interest in the State theatre to H. J. Thompson, who with Charles Richelieu, operates the Richelieu and Ritz movie theatres in Bellefonte.

The youngest students at the Pennsylvania State College this year are a freshman boy and a freshman girl, each 15. Fourteen co-eds and a like number of freshman boys are just 16 years of age. The oldest four-years students are two women school teachers who are now seniors, each being 39 years of age. The oldest male student is 34.

On Sunday Mrs. Frank Shearer drove from her home in lower Pennsylvania to Potter's Mills to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Palmer. As she was crossing the road she was hit and knocked down by a passing car. She sustained a cut on the forehead from fragments of her broken glasses, some minor cuts and bruises but no serious injuries.

Boost Bellefonte. Your attention is called to a special article in another portion of the paper regarding the air mail celebration. Read it and do your part. The covers and cards can be gotten four (4) for a quarter at Montgomery & Co., Baney's Shoe Store and Joe Thomas's Cigar store near depot. Enclose your Xmas greeting address and mail at once at post office asking them to hold same until Dec. 18. Do your bit and do it now.

Judge M. Ward Fleming issued a court order, on Tuesday, changing the time for the holding of the regular sessions of court in Centre county. The only changes will be in the May and December terms, the May term to be held the third Monday instead of the fourth Monday, while the final term for the year will be held the second Monday in November instead of the second Monday in December. He also makes provision for an equity court to be held several days prior to the opening of each regular term and changes the dates of argument court to correspond with the regular court sessions.

Musical and entertainment circles in Bellefonte have suffered a distinct loss in the departure of Miss Bernice Crouse, who was so popular as organist at the State theatre here. She has accepted a very attractive offer in Williamsport and before taking it up will be guest organist for the opening of the new Keystone theatre in that city. For several weeks she is to reside at its magnificent three-manual Mark and Koltan organ. Miss Crouse is a wonderfully talented musician. In fact the movie public here rather regarded her musical contributions as co-starring with the screen favorites, no matter how popular they might be.

Shortly before four o'clock, on Wednesday afternoon of last week, the barn on the H. L. Curtin farm, east of Curtin, was discovered to be on fire and although an attempt was made by a bucket brigade to extinguish the flames it was of no avail and the barn was completely destroyed with all its contents. This included all the summer's crops of grain and hay, farming implements and three calves. The rest of the stock was saved. The farm tenanted by Thomas Lucas and while there was some insurance on both building and crops it is not sufficient to cover the loss. The Logan fire company responded to an appeal for help but the barn was burned down by the time they arrived on the ground.

Nine aeroplanes, carrying a total of twelve pilots and passengers, were marooned at the Bellefonte aviation field from Thursday afternoon of last week until Sunday morning. The ships were enroute from New York to an airplane show in Chicago and when they reached Bellefonte last Thursday weather conditions west were reported so unfavorable that it was considered prudent to remain in Bellefonte. It was not until Sunday morning that weather conditions had cleared up sufficiently to justify continuing the flight. The nine planes all left within a few minutes about nine o'clock on Sunday morning. While they were marooned in Bellefonte the pilots and passengers were quartered at the Brockerhoff house.

CENTRAL PENNA. GAS CO. PUT GAS IN MAINS SATURDAY

Some Bellefonte Consumers Had Service On Sunday.

Six weeks ago when Frank L. Murphy, construction engineer in charge of the erection of the new production plant of the Central Pennsylvania Gas company, stated that Bellefonte consumers would be able to cook their Thanksgiving dinner on a gas range, it didn't seem possible that such would be the case; and while he missed it so far as Thanksgiving was concerned, he was only two days out of the way, as gas making started at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning and 75,000 cubic feet were made within several hours, enough to fill the small tank and enable the starting of the compression pumps to fill the big six inch mains leading to Bellefonte and State College. And just to show that Bellefonte had gas to use, on Sunday, the dinner that day was cooked on a gas range at the home of Mr. Murphy, on Bishop street.

While there is still considerable work to be done before the plant is entirely completed and the surroundings put in shape, the gas-making machinery is all in order and there will be no let up in gas making, so that consumers who already have their equipment in can start using it at once with assurance of a regular and steady supply from now on.

And right here it might be said that the building of this plant has set a record for industrial achievement in this part of the State. Ground was broken for the plant, near Axe Mann, on June 17th, and in just five and a half months the big plant has been completed, thirty miles of six inch mains laid connecting the plant with Bellefonte and State College, and thousands of feet of service pipes installed. Almost half a million dollars have been expended in the construction of this plant, a large part of which was paid to labor in the communities served by the company, and but for which many men would have been short of work most of the summer.

The completion of the plant is the consummation of a business proposition on which Robert F. Hunter, the promoter, worked for two years or more. And it is less than a year since he had the project in such shape that he was able to interest capital in his scheme. To him belongs all the credit as father of the plant, and to Mr. Murphy and Mr. Mahkin goes the credit for the rapid work in construction.

Learn to Get Your Dinner While You Are Washing the Breakfast Dishes.

"Women's version of housework is more a problem of methods than of multiplicity of duties," says Mrs. Luella M. Fisher, nationally known home economist and dietitian who comes to Bellefonte under the auspices of the Central Pennsylvania Gas company and will give a series of lectures starting next Tuesday in the Undine Fire company hall, on Bishop street.

"If the women would organize their work and provide themselves with labor-saving devices like men do," said Mrs. Fisher, "they would have more time for pleasure and recreation than men do for golf, baseball and other pastimes."

Mrs. Fisher prepares a complete meal to show that the evening dinner, even where guests are entertained, can be prepared while breakfast dishes are being done, and that such a meal can be left to itself while the housewife takes the afternoon off.

"All the long hours of tedious attention to details of the dinner are eliminated by this organized method of preparation," she says.

Mrs. Fisher demonstrates short cuts in housework and emphasizes in particular the utilization of gas. She will give special attention to gas utilization to the general public Friday evening December 14, and is especially desirous that the men attend the demonstrations, as well as the ladies.

Rasmus Lost His "Licker" and Was Put in Jail.

About half-past ten o'clock, on Sunday evening, policeman Thomas Howley was patrolling Bishop street when a young man came out of the Brant house, crawled into a coupe and attempted to drive up Bishop street. Instead his car ran across the street and into a tree then swerved and ran into the curb before it could be stopped. Officer Howley crossed the street and took the driver from the car. He was badly under the influence of liquor and was taken to jail and turned over to the sheriff.

The man proved to be E. F. Rasmus, a clerk in the B. and B. Under-sellers store. After Howley left the jail Rasmus became boisterous and violent and Sheriff Dunlap was compelled to use force to lock him up. Returning to Bishop street policeman Howley searched the young man's car and found a satchel with fourteen bottles of liquor and three broken bottles in it. These were turned over to county detective Leo Boden.

At a hearing before justice of the peace S. Kline Woodring, on Monday morning, Rasmus was held in $2000 bail for possession of liquor and $500 additional for driving a car while intoxicated.

The treasured X-mas gift, a Tennessee cedar chest, $13.50 to $34.00.—W. R. Brachbill, furniture.

BRUSH VALLEY FARMER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

David J. Vonada, a well known Brush valley farmer who lived about a mile west of Penn's Cave, took his own life, on Monday morning, by hanging himself with a halter strap under the overshoot of the barn. He had not been in good health since the middle of last week and this, no doubt, had a lot to do with the man's act. He and his wife lived alone and early in the morning he went out to the barn to feed and care for his stock. Failing to return in a reasonable time Mrs. Vonada went out to see what was wrong, and found him dead.

He was a son of Henry and Sarah Vonada and was born near Madisonburg on November 24th, 1868, hence was 60 years and 10 days old. He had followed farming all his life and was an industrious and good citizen. He married Miss Emma Rote, who survives with two sons, Boyd Vonada, of Bellefonte, and Earl, of Woodward. He also leaves his mother and four brothers and three sisters, Henry Vonada, of Detroit, Mich.; Frank, of Madisonburg; Emanuel, of Aaronsburg; George, of Burnham; Mrs. Milford Kramer, of Woodward; Mrs. John S. Waite, of Madisonburg, and Mrs. James Miller, of Zerby Station.

He was a member of the Lutheran church and Rev. Greenhoe, of Centre Hall, had charge of the funeral services which were held at his late home, at one o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made in the cemetery at Farmer's Mills.

Big Doe Deer Caused Auto Wreck.

About 12:30 o'clock last Friday night Harold D. Cowher was motoring down Bald Eagle valley from Tyrone to Bellefonte. About a mile above Unionville, where the railroad is considerably higher than the highway, a big doe, heading from Bald Eagle mountain to the Alleghenies, jumped from the railroad track into the road right in front of his car.

Cowher couldn't stop but the doe did, with the result that the car hit it with enough force to throw the machine to one side and before Cowher could stop he ran into a small electric light pole and broke it off. The pole fell onto the railroad track and the crossed wires spurted forth streaks of blue fire. To make matters worse Cowher heard a freight train coming down the valley and he was afraid to touch the pole with so much loose electric current flying around.

While his car was damaged it was not out of commission and he turned it around so that the headlights showed full on the fallen pole. The engineer of the train saw the obstruction but not in time to stop but fortunately the locomotive merely pushed the pole from the track and no damage was done.

The deer, in the meantime laid where it had fallen and Cowher motored down to Unionville and notified the State highway patrolmen of the accident. Two of them made a quick run to Unionville and Cowher went along to the place of the accident but the deer had then disappeared.

Special Notice to All Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Jackson-Crissman-Saylor post, No. 1600, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Pennsylvania, will hold the muster-in and initiation of officers Friday evening, December 7th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the assembly hall of the Logan fire company building, on Howard street.

Every comrade who has made application must be present in order to receive the initiation connected with becoming a charter member.

Various national and State officers will be present to install this post and I am certain you will benefit by being present. All foreign service men interested in joining are invited to attend. A banquet will follow the meeting.

Grand Bazaar at Snow Shoe.

Saturday Dec. 15, will be a gala day in Snow Shoe because St. Mary's church is going to have a grand bazaar there that day.

Chicken and waffles will be served both at noon and in the evening and the auditorium of the church will be transformed into a carnival arena where there will be booths for the sale of fancy work, candy and things specially suitable for Christmas gifts. Also, there will be games and lots of amusements for those looking for holiday thrills.

You will make no mistake attending this affair. Besides a good chicken and waffle dinner or supper for only fifty cents there is a good time in store for every one.

We invite the public to our special gas lecture Friday evening, December 14th, at 8 o'clock, at the Undine fire company hall, Bishop street, Bellefonte, Pa. 48-1t

There was a fair attendance on Sunday afternoon, at the Elks memorial services, held in the State theatre. The address was delivered by Rev. C. E. Arnold, pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church.

WALTER DOLAN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Walter Dolan, 20 year old son of George and Julia Dolan, who live on the Long farm at the foot of the Ridge three-fourths of a mile east of Huston, in Nittany valley, was instantly killed at 5:45 o'clock on Sunday evening, when he was run down by an automobile while riding along the highway on his bicycle. The young man had been to Huston and was riding east on his way home.

At a point opposite the William Lowery home, a short distance east of C. W. Mauck's garage, Hugh M. Fredericks, of Flemington, driving a Buick car, and also going east pulled toward the left of the road to pass the boy. As he did so a Packard car, coming west and driven by George W. Randall, of Williamsport, attempted to pass the Fredericks car. In doing so the cars side-swiped and the Packard struck young Dolan. The front wheel of the heavy car passed over his head, crushing it and causing instant death. The car came to a stop in the ditch and the young man was found beneath the car.

Coroner W. R. Heaton investigated the accident, on Monday, and held an inquest. A jury composed of C. W. Mauk, T. L. Gunsallus, H. L. Long, C. A. Dolan, of Nittany, and L. H. and William Neff, of Howard, exonerated Randall but charged Fredericks with contributory negligence in not driving his car so as to have it under complete control.

The Dolan family moved to Nittany valley from Nippenose valley two years ago. In addition to the parents four brothers and one sister survive. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made at Huhlersburg.

CHRISTMAS CLUB SAVERS TO GET ALMOST $50,000.

Members of Christmas club depositors in the three banks of Bellefonte will this year draw down almost $50,000, which they have saved by paying in a small weekly sum in the banks of Bellefonte.

The first National bank is already sending out checks to members of its club, the total amount of which is close to $18,000. The Bellefonte Trust company has not yet closed its club accounts but will do so within a week. It will pay out approximately $28,000. The Farmer's National bank has about $2,500 to pay out as the result of its first Christmas club.

With the above amount of ready cash going into the hands of small savers in Bellefonte and vicinity it will afford every one an opportunity to do considerable Christmas shopping though it is hardly likely all the money will be spent in that way.

Negro Electrocutated at Rockview Monday Morning.

Rogers Dilworth, 25-year-old negro, of Philadelphia, was electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary, on Monday morning, for the murder of policeman John T. Greevy on June 7th, 1925. He was the tallest man ever put to death in the chair at Rockview, standing 6 feet, 5 inches, but weighed only 145 pounds. He was the first man convicted of murder in the State after the passage of the Baumes law granting to juries the right to define the punishment for first degree murder, and also the only man convicted of two murders, receiving a death sentence in one case and life imprisonment in the other.

Dilworth shot the policeman and James Grubb, negro, in the latter's home, following a quarrel but had always maintained that Grubb had fired the shot which killed the policeman. Before going to the chair, on Monday morning, however, he confessed to chaplain Osborne that he had killed both men. Dilworth's body was unclaimed and was buried in the penitentiary cemetery.

Bellefonte Central Extension Well Under Way.

The work of grading the connecting link of the Bellefonte Central railroad, between Struble station and Fairbrook, is fast nearing completion and unless something unforeseen happens the contractor will complete his job within the specified time.

The ties and rails are all on the ground at Struble station, and also the ironwork for one overhead bridge over the road leading across to Waddle. Ties and rails will be put down from Struble to the above road in order to more conveniently handle the iron work for the bridge. When that is completed it is expected the entire roadway will be graded and the work of putting down the ties and rails will be continued. If there is not too much bad weather the road will likely be completed early in the year.

Levi A. Miller, of Pleasant Gap, has been confined to his bed for the past two weeks, his condition being regarded as serious, owing to his advanced age.

Mr. and Mrs. John Curtin went to Philadelphia, Tuesday, where they spent a part of the week. Mr. Curtin being under the care of specialists during the time.

Miss Ida Weaver, who has been in Philadelphia the past three months under the care of specialists, returned home during the week, very much improved in health.

W. Harrison Walker spent a day in Philadelphia this week. Mr. Walker went east Tuesday, attended a meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge Wednesday, and returned home yesterday.

A number of the members of the Bellefonte chapter of the D. A. R. drove to State College last night, where they were guests for the regular December meeting, at the home of Mrs. S. W. Fletcher on Fairmont avenue.

Robert Bauseman and his cousin David Alwood, of Hanover, were among the Thanksgiving visitors in Bellefonte last week, having come up to spend several days with Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bauseman on Water street.

Mrs. E. J. Harrington returned to Bellefonte a week or more ago, from a visit of several months with friends in Philadelphia. Mrs. Harrington has been making her home with her niece, Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, since coming here from Hazleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush O. Yarnell, with their three children, Ida, Emily and Rush Jr., and Nevin Yarnell, all of Detroit, Mich., and Fred Yarnell, of Chester, are at the parental home of ex-sheriff and Mrs. George H. Yarnell, at Hecla Park, for a two week's visit.

Mrs. J. C. Butterworth is now a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Knisely, having come in from Williamsburg for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Butterworth's plans for remaining here are indefinite, expecting Mr. Butterworth when business permits, to drive to Bellefonte, when she will accompany him home.

Gertrude Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dawson, of Philadelphia, will come up tomorrow for an overnight stay, and to accompany her grandmother, Mrs. Harvey Griffith back home. Mrs. Griffith has been with Mrs. T. Clayton Brown for six weeks, while here visiting with her relatives and friends in Centre county.

Mrs. Whiting Griswold, returned to her home in Baltimore Monday, after a three week's visit here with her nieces, Mrs. Jacob Barlett and Mrs. Harry Williams. Mrs. Griswold, who before her marriage was Miss Davis, a native of Bellefonte but left here forty years ago several years after her marriage to Mr. Griswold.

Mrs. H. S. Cooper is contemplating remaining in Bellefonte for the winter, instead of returning to Texas before Christmas, as has been her custom for a number of years. Mrs. Cooper came north from Galveston late in the summer, to be with her aunt, Miss Sarah Benner during the fall, but now considers continuing her visit through the winter.

Mrs. George Denithorne made an overnight visit with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Scott this week, having come in from Pittsburgh to complete some arrangements for moving to Bellefonte. Mr. Denithorne will be here the first of January, to locate permanently, while Mrs. Denithorne and their young son do not expect to join him until later in the winter.

William Jett, brother of Mrs. B. Graham Hunter, was his sisters guest, at the Robert Hunter home on east Linn street, last week. Following Mr. Jett's visit of several days, Robert E. Hunter with his daughter, Henrietta, his daughter-in-law and Mr. Jett as motor guests, Hunter will be at her former home until after Christmas. Mr. Hunter and his daughter returned home Sunday.

Miss Lois Foreman will arrive home from Warm Springs, Ga., on the fifteenth of December, with plans for visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Foreman, until the sixth of January. Miss Foreman has been under treatment at the southern health resort, founded and made famous by Franklin D. Roosevelt, for more than a year, and is now making great progress toward recovery, from the attack of infantile paralysis she suffered three years ago.

Mrs. E. Earl McCreey and her small daughter, who came to Bellefonte last week for the funeral of Mrs. McCreey's aunt, Miss Emily Parker, will leave today for Allentown, for a visit of several days with Mrs. McGinnis. From there they will be accompanied by Mrs. James Schofield, who has been in Allentown since leaving Bellefonte. Mrs. Schofield will spend the remainder of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. G. Ross Parker and her daughter in New Brunswick.

Miss Bernice Crouse spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Williamsport, and will go to her home in Cebra this week, for a vacation, while deciding as to her future location. Miss Crouse has been in Bellefonte for seven years, pianist then organist at the Seenic, later going to the State, her music always having been one of the great attractions of both houses. Several very flattering standing offers await the decision of Miss Crouse, promising her a very successful future.

The Hon. Willis Reed Bierly, well known all over Centre county, has recovered from the two operations he underwent early in the fall and is back in Harrisburg catching up with his work as editor and publisher of the Quarterly Digest of Pennsylvania Law Decisions. Mr. Bierly writes that his illness pulled rather hard on both his corpulency and his pocket book. Having some knowledge of what it costs to be sick these days we are inclined to believe that after two operations and a month or so in a hospital his wallet would look as though an elephant had stepped on it, but the other loss he suffered, we have a suspicion, came from an entirely different source. It wasn't the physical torment that made him ill. It was the conscience of the Jeffersonian Democracy in him rebelling against suppression of its will to the Jeff out for Smith.

The Hon. James C. Furst and Dr. R. L. Stevens were among the local sportsmen who brought down deer on the first day.
