

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Twenty-five people came to Bellefonte on the excursion train from Philadelphia, on Sunday.

—A nine and a half pound son made its arrival in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Musser yesterday morning.

—Beginning last Wednesday evening all the stores in Bellefonte will remain open evenings until after the holiday season.

—Walter Harm has purchased an interest in a retail coal yard at Elmira N. Y., and will move there and locate permanently.

—Bellefonte didn't get any of the snow storm that swept over the eastern portion of the State, on Saturday, but we had real winter weather, just the same.

—A fire at the home of Lee Solt, on south Spring street, early Monday morning, called out the firemen but the flames, which had communicated to the roof, were quickly extinguished. Not much damage was done.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ishler, of Buffalo Run valley, are mourning the death of their seven year old son, Richard Crider Ishler, which occurred last Friday following a week's illness. Burial was made in the Meyers cemetery, on Sunday.

—A beautiful Christmas cantata, "The Glory of Bethlehem," will be rendered on Sunday afternoon, December 23rd, in the Reformed church by the choir, assisted by other soloists, under the direction of Mrs. Alberta Krader. Don't forget the date, December 23rd, at 4 o'clock.

—Charles C. Orndorf, the Woodward hunter who was shot through the abdomen last week by an unknown hunter, is still living and has a chance of recovery. At the Centre County hospital yesterday it was reported that he had had a good night, Wednesday night, and his condition was good yesterday.

—A new enrollment record has been established this fall at the Pennsylvania State College, according to official figures just announced. A total of 4069 resident students includes 3219 men and 535 women in four-year courses leading to the bachelor degree. There are 143 graduate students, 118 in two-year courses and 54 special students.

—Frank M. Crawford, treasurer and member of the board of directors of the Potter-Hoy Hardware store, has tendered his resignation effective January first. He has been with the company for twenty-eight and a half years, having risen from a salesman to the position he has filled for some time past. He has as yet made no plans for the future but as he has other business interests in Bellefonte it is safe to say he will not be idle.

—On Monday night robbers broke into the wayside store of Harry Ebbs, on the John Hartsock farm, in Buffalo Run valley, and stole a quantity of merchandise. On leaving the store they drove towards Stormstown where they ran into another car causing a wreck of both machines. This led to their arrest and they gave their names as Elmer Hummel and Charles Swisher. A third man with them was also arrested but it developed that he had nothing to do with the robbery and he was released. Hummel and Swisher are in the Centre County jail.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hunter, of Bellefonte, have announced the marriage of their second daughter, Miss Martha Hunter, to Wallace Kelly, of Philadelphia, the wedding having taken place in New York on Friday, November 9th. Mrs. Kelly is a graduate of the School of Applied Arts, in Philadelphia, and since her graduation has had her own studio where she has devoted much of her time to commercial art. Her husband is a rising young sculptor and has already attained a degree of prominence in artistic modeling. They will reside in Philadelphia.

—A telephone message from Ashland, Ohio, last Saturday morning, to Mr. and Mrs. John Mignot apprised them of the fact that they are now grandparents, a little daughter having arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cantwell at 4:30 o'clock that morning. Mrs. Cantwell, before her marriage, was Miss Margaret Mignot, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mignot. The latter, by the way, with their son Philip, will go to Ashland to spend the Christmas season with their daughter and husband which will give them a chance to see their new grand-daughter, who has been named Sallie Marie.

—Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Mary Hunter Linn, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Frank T. Gardner, of State College, attended a group meeting of mothers' assistance fund trustees for Blair, Centre and Clearfield counties, held at Tyrone last Friday. At the meeting was Miss Blanche Stauffer, acting State supervisor, and most of the time was devoted to an examination of statistics of the work from all parts of the State. Miss Stauffer presented a report to be used in preparation of a plan that Governor Fisher, in co-operation with the Welfare Department, is framing for presentation to the next Legislature. The report and plan were endorsed by all present.

DECEMBER COURT NOW IN SESSION.

Complete List of Cases Heard and Disposed of.

The regular December court of quarter sessions opened on Monday morning at ten o'clock, with Hon. M. Ward Fleming on the bench and the various officers in their respective places.

Considerable time was taken up in hearing motions and petitions, after which the list of traverse jurors was called and absentees noted. The returns of the different constables of the several districts who had any report were taken.

The civil list of cases for next week was then gone over and the following cases disposed of:

Charles M. McCurdy, president of The First National bank of Bellefonte, now to the use of the Bellefonte Trust company, vs. the Bellefonte Trust company, executor and trustee under the last will and testament of Louisa T. Bush, deceased, garnishee, George T. Bush, defendant, and Solomon Nissley, claimant, being an action in attachment execution. Continued.

James E. Starrette vs. Harry Spector and David Swabb, trading as Williamsport Auto Parts company. Being an action in trespass. Continued at the cost of the defendant.

W. S. Shelton vs. C. M. Smith, an action in assumpsit. Continued.

J. M. Quigley vs. John F. Ivory Storage company, Inc., an action in foreign attachment in trespass. Continued.

The list of criminal cases was then taken up and the first case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. Blaine Stone, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Mary E. Beckwith. The defendant pleaded guilty and the usual sentence was imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Paul Panick, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Mary Spilla. This case went to trial and resulted in a verdict of guilty and the usual sentence was imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Joseph Harpster, indicted for statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Virginia Carson. Verdict late Monday evening of guilty and the defendant given the usual sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Earl Rider, indicted for a statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Grace Braucht. Defendant appeared in open court and entered a plea of guilty and received the usual sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Harry Jackson, indicted for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Prosecutrix, A. E. Yougel, chief of police of State College. Defendant appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, one dollar fine and three months in the county jail.

Commonwealth vs. Vilas Ream, indicted for furnishing liquor to a minor, namely, Verna May Martin. Prosecutrix J. C. Martin. This minor has been in the juvenile court several times and is in the hands of the court officers. The defendant appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $50, and three months in the Allegheny county work house.

Commonwealth vs. Francis G. Womer, indicted on a statutory charge. Prosecutrix, Edna Wolf. Verdict of guilty and the usual sentence in such cases imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Elmer McCartney, indicted for aggravated assault and battery by automobile. Prosecutrix, C. W. Grassmier. The prosecutor charges the defendant with hitting him with his automobile on Route 64 east of the borough of Milesburg, on the evening of July 28, 1928, the prosecutor alleging that he was walking on the right hand side of the road, as far as to the right as he could possibly get, and that he was hit by the defendant's car and thrown against a barbed-wire fence. The defendant denies hitting the prosecutor but that the prosecutor called to him after he had passed and that he, the defendant, stopped and that the prosecutor assaulted him by striking him. The jury was out for some time and on Tuesday evening returned a verdict of not guilty but the defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Hillary Viard, charged with breaking and entering property owned by Maude Yingling, the prosecutor, in South Philipsburg borough and taking therefrom different articles of personal property. Officers with a search warrant searched the premises of the defendant and found a suit case, two rugs, a table cover, a lounge cover, a sugar bowl and a lamp identified by the prosecutrix as the property of her mother vested in the prosecutrix by virtue of the will of her mother. This case went on trial Tuesday afternoon.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. Hillary Viard the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. At this time Hillary Viard was called and sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, a fine of one dollar and not less than one and one-half nor more than three years in the western penitentiary.

Commonwealth vs. Alfred Mulholland, charged with breaking, entering and larceny. Prosecutor, William F. Gill. This case is from Philipsburg. The defendant was charged with entering the store of William F. Gill and taking rifles, flash-lights, knives and watches on the night of September 25, 1928, with Elmer Hendershot and Lee Arisman. The last two named plead guilty last Thursday and Alfred Mulholland went to trial. The jury retired on Wednesday afternoon and verdict on Thursday morning of not guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Ernest Hall, indicted for possession of and transporting liquor. Prosecutor, Leo Boden, county detective. The defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $300 and put on parole for a period of three years.

Commonwealth vs. William Krumrine. Charged with malicious mischief. Commonwealth vs. Kenneth Jordan. Commonwealth vs. Ellis Poorman. Commonwealth vs. William Neidigh. Prosecutor Alfred V. Verboken, State police.

These four defendants are young boys, and on Halloween night did a lot of damage to what is known as the Krumrine school house, in Ferguson township. They appeared in open court and plead guilty and were sentenced to pay the costs and make restitution of the damage done and placed on parole for a period of two years.

Commonwealth vs. Emory Fink, indicted for breaking, entering and larceny. Prosecutor, Harold Stanton. The defendant plead guilty to taking two auto tires, storage battery and socket. Sentenced to pay costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of three months.

Rockview Penitentiary Runs Short of Water.

A serious shortage of water developed at Rockview penitentiary on Monday evening, and the situation was such as to be almost alarming. With no time to investigate the cause thereof prison officials sent hurry calls to various places for four inch pipe and an engine and pump and a temporary pumping station was established on Spring creek and water pumped from there.

The penitentiary gets its water from a big impounding dam in McBride's Gap, and while the stream there is naturally low, as are all the streams in the county, owing to the light rainfall during the past two or three months, it has always had a sufficient supply for all ordinary uses. The big dam was just completed this summer and the water flows down the gap in an eight inch pipe. An investigation showed that the pipe line had sprung a big leak and more water was flowing away than was used by the penitentiary. The leak has been repaired and the big dam is again filling up. But the auxiliary pumping station on Spring creek will be maintained for a time as an emergency supply.

Next Tuesday will be Airmail Celebration Day.

Next Tuesday will be the day for celebrating the tenth anniversary of the inauguration of the airmail in Bellefonte. The Postoffice Department will arrange to take out by plane that day all letters mailed at the Bellefonte office and marked airmail. The committee in charge of the celebration urges everybody who intends sending out the special letters to get them into the postoffice early, so as to enable them being handled properly, but with the request that they be held until the 18th.

George T. Bush, chairman of the committee, has now on hand almost four thousand letters to be mailed that day, while three thousand of the special envelopes have already been taken by the people of Bellefonte and vicinity to send out to friends and acquaintances in distant places. It will not be surprising if the total number reaches ten thousand. Surely a big advertisement for Bellefonte. While they last the special envelopes can be obtained at Montgomery & Co's, Baney's shoe store and Thomas' cigar store, near the depot. The post card can also be purchased four for a quarter. It has a map of the United States with airmail lines well marked and Bellefonte given unusual prominence.

Ward Markle, of Pleasant Gap, Given Gas Refrigerator.

The drawing for the gas refrigerator given away free by the Central Pennsylvania Gas company, took place at the company's offices in the Odd Fellows' building, Bellefonte, at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, and resulted in the refrigerator going to Pleasant Gap as the property of Ward Markle.

In making the drawing two hundred coupons were put in a box and after being well mixed fifteen were drawn out. Then five were drawn from the fifteen, three from the five and one from the final three, which proved to be that of Mr. Markle.

MANY CASES HEARD AT SPECIAL COURT.

Many desertion and non-support cases as well as pleas of guilty, were heard at a special session of court by Judge Fleming, last Thursday. The list follows:

Lawrence Marshall, who in 1925 was ordered to pay $20 a month to the support of his wife and children, and who had defaulted in the payments to the extent of $220, was brought into court and after hearing the evidence in the case Judge Fleming decided to continue the old order of $20 per month and suspended further sentence on condition that Marshall pay the amount now due in installments.

Thomas B. McClure, of Bellefonte, charged with non-support. Order for support refused upon payment of costs and defendant awarded the custody of his three children.

Glenn R. Weaver and Robert A. Hoover, charged with a violation of the motor vehicle code. Nol pros entered upon the payment of costs.

Harold Poorman, of Spring Mills, charged with the larceny of an automobile tire. Sentence suspended upon the payment of costs.

H. M. Lucas, charged with desertion and non-support, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and $15 a month toward the support of his wife during such time as she has no employment.

Henry Sents, charged with desertion and non-support, failed to appear in court and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Cora Harris, charged with assault and battery, was ordered to pay the costs and further sentence suspended on condition she remove from Centre county.

William Mills Sr., charged with non-support, was ordered to pay the costs of prosecution and $10 a month to the support of his wife.

William Thomas and Gilbert Woodring, charged with larceny. Sentence suspended upon the payment of costs.

H. V. Lykens, Thomas Leitzell and Donald Marshall, charged with larceny. Sentence suspended upon the payment of costs.

E. T. Parsons, who plead guilty to violation of the liquor laws and violation of the motor laws, was given a suspended jail sentence in the first case and $200 fine and costs, and in the second case was ordered to pay the costs of prosecution, $200 fine and stand committed until the sentence is complied with.

Mike Furl, charged with operation of gambling devices and illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, was given a suspended sentence in the first case, and in the second was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $300 and imprisonment in the county jail for sixteen months.

E. F. Ramus plead guilty to the illegal possession of liquor and operating a motor car while under the influence of liquor and was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 in each case and the costs of prosecution, jail sentence being suspended.

Carl Lengle, charged with forgery. Sentence suspended upon the payment of costs.

James Hill, of State College, charged with larceny. Sentence suspended upon payment of costs.

Earl Lucas, charged with false pretense. Sentence suspended upon payment of costs.

An Elusive Half Dollar.

On Sunday afternoon a group of young men and boys standing on the south Water street pavement, near the High street bridge, saw a bright object in Spring creek which looked like silver money. One of the young men finally decided to climb down the wall to see what it was. When he got down he discovered that it was a silver half dollar, but it laid ten feet out in the stream and in fifteen inches of water. He didn't want to wade out and get it so some one on the pavement threw him down a crooked stick. He fished for half an hour with the stick trying to coax the half dollar close enough to reach it, but talk about the elusiveness of money. He would pull it in a few inches when it would slide slip and roll about as far away as ever.

Finally it rolled under some moss alongside of a stone and try as he might he could not dislodge it. Then he gathered two good sized stones and piled them one on top of the other out in the stream to stand on, then fish the silver out with his hand. Throwing in the stones made the water muddy and by the time it cleared off he had lost all track of the stone under which the half dollar rolled. All told he worked almost an hour, his shoes were full of water, his clothing wet and he finally had to give up the hunt, and the half dollar is still in the creek for the man who is able to find it.

—M. H. Hall, manager of the Western Union Telegraph office, in Bellefonte, announces that his company will again issue gift orders which made such a decided hit with the public last year; especially persons desiring to send a Christmas remembrance to friends a long distance from home. Greeting messages accompanying the gift orders will be sent free of charge. Further particulars can be obtained at the local office of the company.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL

—H. H. Roan, of State College, made a business trip to Harrisburg, on Wednesday.

—Mrs. Emma C. Bathgate, of Lemont, went to Harrisburg, last week, to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. John I. Bennett.

—Mrs. Theresa Hibler Sears has closed her home at Milesburg, and gone to New York city, to spend the winter with Mrs. Amelia Riffle and her family.

—Mrs. W. H. Miller and her sister, Miss Annie Noll, went over to Altoona yesterday morning, to visit with their nephew, Wilkey Horner and his family until Sunday.

—Mrs. David Washburn has been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Keller, at Madisonburg, while Mr. Washburn and A. L. McKinley are on a hunting trip in Little valley.

—George Ingram, yard manager at the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply, is ill at his home on Lamb street, having been off duty for a week, suffering with what is thought to be a nerve condition.

—Mrs. Frank McFarlane closed her apartment yesterday and went to Philadelphia, where she will visit until some time in January, with her sister, Mrs. Kinlosie and other relatives in the city.

—Dr. Morris E. Swartz spent a few hours yesterday with his many friends in Bellefonte. Being a native of the town, Dr. Swartz has always kept in touch with everything here, by frequent short visits back home.

—Miss Effie Miller, of Philadelphia, was one of the people who took advantage of the excursion on Sunday, to come to Bellefonte for the day's visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller, of east High street.

—Mrs. Herman Stutzenbach was here from Philadelphia on the excursion, Sunday, to spend the day with her father, Elmer Yeager and his daughters, and the Cain family. It was Mrs. Stutzenbach's Christmas visit back home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Levi Roan, of Williamsport, but formerly of Centre county, went out to Columbus, Ohio, last week, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Roan's sister, Mrs. Straw, which was held from the home of her mother, Mrs. Young.

—Mrs. Harry Holter Curtin, of Curtin, was a guest last week of Mrs. George Spencer, in Brooklyn, having gone over for a week's visit, and to do some Christmas buying. Mrs. Spencer is better known in Bellefonte, as Miss Margaret Burnet.

—After spending the week in Bellefonte, serving as a juror, J. W. Hartsock was dismissed Thursday morning, and returned home at once. Mr. Hartsock is one of the leading citizens of Half Moon valley and among Centre county's best known farmers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garbrick and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reber, of Coleville, drove to Pittsburgh for Thanksgiving, all returning shortly after, save Mrs. Garbrick who remained until yesterday, driving in then with her brother, Frank Crissman and a friend, now guests at the Garbrick home in Coleville.

—Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Nissley went out to McKeesport Sunday, called there by the death of their nephew, Jimmie McCarthy, whose death followed an operation in the McKeesport hospital. The child was ten years old, and well-known in Bellefonte, through his frequent visits here with Dr. and Mrs. Nissley.

—Miss Caroline Valentine has been a guest of her cousin, Mrs. George R. Meek since her arrival in Bellefonte last Saturday morning, expecting to be there until making definite arrangements for the winter. Her cousins, the Misses Mary and Sara Valentine, of Chestnut Hill, and Thomas Jacobs, of Philadelphia, who accompanied her here, returned home early in the week.

—W. A. Stover, retired, and I. V. O. Huseman, carpenter, of Millheim, who are serving as jurors this week, were pleasant callers at the Watchman office on Tuesday. Mr. Stover, by the way, did not take his annual deer hunt this year because he just put off getting a license until it was too late so naturally stayed at home. Both men, however, are of the opinion that one illegal deer was killed for every five does shot.

—Mrs. Della Williams, who is in Los Angeles for an indefinite stay with her brother, A. G. Osmer and his family, accompanied Mr. Osmer to the coast upon his return home, following a short visit he had made to Centre county, late in November. Mr. Osmer had been there in Lincoln, Neb., on business and while there unexpectedly decided to come on east so that while Mrs. Williams had planned to go to California the trip made with her brother was an unlooked for pleasure.

—Mrs. Frank E. Wieland, of Linden Hall, has been with her daughter, Mrs. E. Fred Brouse, at Norristown, for more than a month and during Mrs. Wieland's visit there has come to the Brouse home a little son who has been named Frank Wieland, for its maternal grandfather. The child is Mr. and Mrs. Brouse's second son. Mr. Wieland and his younger daughter, Miss Mildred, an instructor in the schools of Altoona, will go to Norristown as soon as the Altoona schools close, to spend the Holiday season at the Brouse home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin drove in from Pittsburgh yesterday, for the funeral of Merwin A. Nolan, who died at his home in Nittany, Tuesday, while there from Pittsburgh for his Thanksgiving vacation. Since going to Pittsburgh, Mr. Nolan had made his home with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shoemaker and after the death of Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker, lived in the Martin family. While here Mr. and Mrs. Martin have been guests of Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker, Mrs. Martin being a cousin of the late Thomas A. Shoemaker.

—W. W. Orndorf, of Howard, was in town on Saturday. We hadn't seen "Bill" for nearly a year, but he looked as though only a minute had elapsed since last we had the pleasure of a chat with him. He is working at the creamery down at Howard and as people demand milk and butter every day in the year "Bill" doesn't even have Sundays off. He wasn't "crabbing" about that, however, for he was a farmer over in Little Nittany valley before he moved to Howard and farmers of his day were raised in a school that had no patience with the modern idea that all the tools should be dropped when the whistle blows whether there is a load of hay or grain in the field and a thunder storm coming up, or not.

Bellefonte Academy Defeated the Perkiomens.

The Bellefonte Academy football team won the mythical title of State champions for prep schools by defeating Perkiomens, on Franklin field, Philadelphia, on Saturday, by the score of 14 to 0. It was a satisfactory victory for the Academy but an expensive test for both schools. An eastern snow storm struck Philadelphia on Friday night and it snowed all day on Saturday, with the result that considerably less than one thousand people were present at the game. In fact the total receipts were only $548.

Harry (Spooks) Temple, captain and fullback on the Academy team, got in his work in the first period of the game when he captured a fumble and ran twenty-seven yards for a touchdown. Harry booted the pigskin over the goal bar for the extra point. There was no more scoring until the fourth period when the Academy made another touchdown through straight football plays. The nearest Perkiomens ever got to the Academy goal line was within fifteen yards. The American Legion drum corps furnished the inspiration for the Academy players.
