

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Representative J. Laird Holmes introduced a bill in the Legislature, on Tuesday, providing for a total appropriation of $6,211,000 to State College.

In federal court, at Lewisburg on Tuesday, Judge Johnson sentenced Frank S. Miller, of Rebersburg, to fifteen days in jail for violation of the liquor law.

William Walker, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker, is ill with an attack of scarlet fever, and the family home on west Lamb street has been placed under quarantine.

Deputy sheriff Sinie Hoy motored down to Harrisburg, on Tuesday afternoon, to get Robert Knisley, who was arrested there on a warrant from State College charging him with forgery.

Four inches of snow fell on Tuesday afternoon, the most we have had in this section of the State this winter. At that it would have been deeper had it not turned to rain in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shives, of Clarence, take this means of expressing their appreciation to all those who assisted in saving their home at the time of the destructive fire at Clarence on Monday night last week.

Three negro murderers of Erie county, who were scheduled to go to the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary next Monday morning, have been granted a respite by Governor Fisher until February 25th to enable their case to be heard by the Board of Pardons.

During the year 1928 exactly 102 residents of Centre county were patients at the Geisinger hospital, Danville. State College headed the list with 56, Bellefonte 23, Centre Hall 9, Rebersburg 4, Millheim and Spring Mills, 3, and Boalsburg, Snydertown, Snow Shoe and Moshannon one each.

Both Mrs. Andrew J. Cook and Mrs. A. Wilson Norris celebrated their eighty-fifth birthday, this week, Mrs. Cook with an informal neighborhood reception yesterday afternoon and Mrs. Norris at a dinner given by Mrs. Beach and Miss Blanchard Wednesday evening, at their home on Linn street.

Governor Fisher, on Monday, submitted his budget to the members of the General Assembly and in it he designated an appropriation of $2,250,000 for new construction work at State College. This will be in addition to the usual appropriation for support. In the budget is also an increase of almost five million dollars for support and construction work at the State's penal institutions.

This has been a bad season for transplanting young trout from State hatcheries to the various trout streams. All the streams have been unusually low and during the past month some of them frozen dry, so that planting trout was out of the question. The result is that there is a good stock of trout in the Bellefonte hatchery to put out in the spring before the opening of the fishing season.

The Centre county Woman's Auxiliary of the Centre County hospital will hold its annual meeting at the hospital next Monday, at one o'clock, with a luncheon. Almost forty acceptances have already been received by the committee in charge. Dr. M. J. Locke, Miss Eckert and Miss Harman will be speakers at the luncheon. It is hoped that the luncheon-meeting will result in renewed interest in the institution among the women of Centre county generally.

According to health officer George Glenn there are forty cases of measles among the school children of Bellefonte. There is also one case of diphtheria, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nepp, in the Richelieu apartments, and a case of scarlet fever at the Hartsock home, on Bishop street. The latter is the sixteen year old son, who contracted the disease while helping to care for a younger brother, who also had the fever but has recovered.

Quite a number of people made a hurried trip out to the aviation field, last Saturday morning, by the report that Col. Charles Lindberg was headed this way and would probably come down on the Bellefonte field. But while he flew from Cleveland to New York he didn't stop in Bellefonte nor come near enough for his plane to be seen. On Saturday afternoon two of the big Ford passenger ships came down at the Bellefonte field and remained until Sunday, when they continued on their way east.

According to gossip on the streets yesterday it will not be surprising if the present receivers of the Centre County Banking Co., are relieved of their duties very shortly and the settlement of affairs taken back into the Federal courts. In such an event the creditors will be called together to choose a new receiver or receivers. The case of George R. Meek, alleged partner, on the merits of the question as to whether he is or is not a partner, has been docketed for a hearing in Scranton at the March term of the U. S. District court.

BOGUS BOND SALESMAN WEEPS WHEN SENTENCED.

E. C. McFeaters Given Another Term of Five to Ten Years in Penitentiary.

E. C. McFeaters, the Pittsburgh bond salesman, who in 1922 swindled the First National bank of Spring Mills out of a considerable sum of money, appeared in open court, last Friday afternoon, plead guilty to the charge and was sentenced by Judge Fleming to pay a fine of fifty dollars, costs of the prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the western penitentiary for not less than ten years. As the court pronounced sentence McFeaters slumped into his chair and wept, his sobs being audible throughout the court room.

McFeaters is the man directly responsible for a lot of costly litigation in the now famous Spring Mills bank case against S. G. Walker, who at the time of the swindle was cashier of the bank. For fifteen years prior to 1922 he had been a salesman for a Pittsburgh bond house and was one of the best on the road. According to statements made in court, on Friday, he made good money, but was not content to live within his income. For five or six months he indulged in a regular orgy of selling bogus bonds, forgery and other swindling operations which netted him approximately $238,000. Like the prodigal son he also indulged in riotous living and at one time owned five automobiles, one or more of them being cars costing five thousand dollars.

He purchased a home for his father and mother in the Squirrel Hill district, Pittsburgh, paying part cash and giving a mortgage for the balance. He also bought for the old folks a $3500 player piano on the installment plan. When his swindling operations were detected McFeaters left the State but was finally captured and taken to Blair county where he was tried and convicted before Judge Thomas Baldrige. He was given a sentence of five to ten years in the western penitentiary.

He was a model prisoner and a portion of his term was served at Rockview. His minimum term expired on January 7th and as he was released from the penitentiary he was met at the door by sheriff Harry E. Dunlap, with a detainer warrant, who brought him back to Centre county to answer for his swindling operations here.

In court last Friday afternoon, McFeaters was represented by former Judge James C. Furst, who as district attorney in 1922 had prepared the indictment against McFeaters. Arrayed against him were district attorney John G. Love, N. B. Spangler and S. D. Gettig. In behalf of McFeaters Mr. Furst told the court that when he was sentenced by Judge Baldrige, in Blair county, the court had taken into account the total sum of his swindling operations and now he did not think it consistent to require him to undergo additional punishment. He further stated that during his term in the penitentiary his mother had died, his father was old and crippled and McFeater's assistance was badly needed for his care and that of an aged aunt. On these grounds he asked for a suspended sentence.

Mr. Spangler opposed giving McFeaters a suspended sentence on the ground that his various swindling operations had caused much suffering to a number of Centre county people and costly litigation which is still in the courts. In pronouncing sentence Judge Fleming said he could not condone the man's crime by giving him a suspended sentence. That if there are good grounds for him having been sufficiently punished the Board of Pardons is the proper place to go. He further stated that while he would not assist in any intercession for a pardon, neither would he present any opposition.

Prior to talking up the McFeaters case Charles Williams, of Phillipsburg, who plead guilty to a violation of the liquor law, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and undergo imprisonment for not less than eighteen months nor more than three years.

Howard Chambers, of Snow Shoe, convicted at the September term of court on the charge of aggravated assault and battery, and for whom a new trial was refused, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and serve three months in the county jail.

Williams was taken to the Allegheny county work house on Saturday and McFeaters to the western penitentiary at Pittsburgh on Monday.

Catholic Daughters Install Officers and Observe Anniversary.

A double significance marked the regular meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, held in their club rooms in the Lyon building, last Thursday night. It was the annual installation of officers for the ensuing year and a banquet in celebration of the 9th anniversary of the institution of the chapter. Official guests present included Miss Frances Maher, of Kane, State regent and vice supreme regent of the order, and Miss Helen Merritt, of Tyrone, district deputy. Officers installed were as follows:

Grand regent, Mrs. G. Oscar Gray; vice regent, Mrs. Heverly; prophetess, Mary Woods; monitor, Mrs. Richard Brouse; financial secretary, Agnes Hartie; treasurer, Ethel Carpeneto; sentinel, Adaline Anderson; trustees, Mrs. Waite and Mrs. Catherine Garbrick.

MAN WHO KILLED SEVEN DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR.

Paul Jawarski, man killer of three States, bandit chief and confessed killer of seven men, paid the penalty of his numerous crimes by forfeiting his life in the electric chair at Rockview on Monday morning. The one time church choir singer showed his criminal instincts to the last when he refused to accept the services of a minister during his last hour on earth and to accompany him to the death chair. Without a word of farewell, and with an apparent grim determination to die game he walked to the chair without a tremor. The straps were quickly adjusted and at 7:02 o'clock executioner Robert Elliott pushed the switch which sent 2000 volts of electricity coursing through Jawarski's body. Only one contact was necessary and at 7:06 Jawarski was declared dead by Drs. J. V. Foster, of State College, and Asa L. Hickok, prison physician.

Two minutes later Calvin E. James, of Bucks county, was placed in the chair. Two contacts were given him, one at 7:10 and another at 7:12, and at 7:14 he was pronounced dead.

Jawarski, who was 32 years old, was born near Detroit, Mich., and half his life had been given to a criminal career. Burglaries and murders were committed in Detroit, Mich., Cleveland, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa. In the latter place he became the leader of the noted Flathead band of holdup bandits which made a specialty of payroll robberies. He was the principal figure in the holdup of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company's payroll truck at Mollenauer on December 23rd, 1925, at which time the guard, L. L. Gump, was killed. In due time Jawarski was arrested and convicted, the death penalty being recommended. In August, 1927, in company with Jack Vashbinder, he shot his way out of the Allegheny county jail and escaped. Later he killed Vashbinder.

Last September Jawarski was located in Cleveland, Ohio, and when officers attempted his arrest he killed one of them and was himself shot twice but recovered. He was taken back to Pittsburgh in October. Appeals to the Supreme court and the board of pardons were made in vain and Jawarski finally paid the penalty. His body was unclaimed and was buried in the penitentiary cemetery.

James went to the chair for the murder, on April 15th, 1928, of William Howard Dunstan, a pharmacist of Doylestown, because he claimed the latter refused to pay him a bill of $139 for bootleg whiskey. His case, also, was taken to the Supreme court and the board of pardons but without avail. James' body was claimed and was shipped to Doylestown for burial.

Eight newspaper men from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and New York witnessed the electrocution, attracted there because of the notorious character of Jawarski, who had always maintained that he would find some way to cheat the electric chair, and there was always a suspicion that at the last minute he might attempt suicide, but such was not the case. With eight writers on hand the amount of press matter sent out from Bellefonte in the four days from the time Jawarski was brought to the death house until after his execution totaled 40,000 words, not counting several thousand by telephone. This exceeded by over 5000 the amount sent out at the time of the electrocution of the Four Horsemen of Philadelphia, on January 7th, 1927, when 35,000 words were the total, and was second only to the press matter dispatched in October, 1926, when pilot Charles Ames crashed to his death on Nittany mountain, when the total was 47,000 words.

Woman's Club Meeting.

The regular January meeting of the Woman's club of Bellefonte will be held in the auditorium of the High school building next Monday evening, January 28. Mrs. Bertha Lee Broyles, of State College, who was to have been at the November meeting, will be present and address the audience on the subject, "Peace." We hope she will be greeted by a large attendance of members and friends.

MRS. D. A. GROVE.

Academy Boxing Bout This Evening.

The Bellefonte Academy boxing team will have their first home bout in the local armory at 8:30 o'clock this (Friday) evening, with the fistic battlers of the Shamokin High school. The Academy team this year has a number of clever glove artists and it is a treat to see them in action. Ring-side seats for the bout will be $1.00, with general admission 50 cents. Every man and woman interested in this manly sport should be on hand early.

During the past week depositors of the defunct Centre County Banking company received from Ivan Walker, trustee of the estate of Mary C. Harris, a ten per cent. dividend of their claims against the company which, added to a fifteen per cent. dividend received almost two years ago makes a total of 25 per cent. It is understood that the trustees appointed by Judge Dale have in their possession funds sufficient to justify another distribution of 15 per cent. but their authority for making a distribution has been in doubt pending litigation in the federal courts.

BOROUGH COUNCIL ENACTS PURE MILK ORDINANCE.

Other Business Transacted at the Meeting Monday Night.

Just six members were present at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening, the absentees being Messrs. Reynolds, Kline and Cobb. A communication was received from J. M. Keichline offering to carry the insurance on borough property for twenty per cent. less than any other agent can place it. The communication was placed on file.

A communication was received from John J. Bower making application for re-election as fire marshal. On motion of Mr. Cunningham he was re-elected.

The Street committee presented a routine report of work done on various streets.

The Water committee reported some minor repairs and the collection of $6.00 on the 1925 duplicate, $24.00 on the 1926, $63.75 on the 1927 and $406.25 on the 1928, a total of $500.

The Finance committee reported receipt of a check for $376.64 from Ivan Walker, trustee, on account of the borough deposit in the Centre County bank. The committee also reported a balance of $719.78 in the hands of the borough treasurer and requested the renewal of two notes aggregating $3300.

The Fire and Police committee recommended the election of the following drivers for the two pumps: For the Logans, Arthur Boob, Robert Garman, James Bower, Earl Custer and Miles Steele. For the Undines, George Carpeneto, Albert Knisley, Basil Doll, Charles Saxton and Ralph Moerschbacher.

All other business having been disposed of the much talked of pure milk ordinance was taken up and read for the second time by secretary W. T. Kelley. At the conclusion of the reading Mr. Mignot made a motion that it be passed as read and the motion was seconded by Mr. Brouse. On an aye and nay vote the six councilmen present voted in favor of the ordinance and it was declared legally passed.

Mr. Emerick then stated that in regard to the publication of the ordinance Charles E. Dorworth had offered to give the entire cost for same to the Bellefonte hospital if it were given to the Bellefonte Republican for publication, and he made a motion that it be given to that paper. Mr. Brouse seconded the motion and it was passed without a dissenting vote.

The new ordinance, by the way, provides for the abolition of a local board of health and its health officer and the appointment of a man to act jointly as milk inspector and health officer. The ordinance will become effective the first of April.

Bills totaling $622.50 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

Can, Wholesome Recreation Offered at the Y. M. C. A.

Ever mindful of the fact that a community is judged by the quality of the young people which it turns out into the world, Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., is daily endeavoring to solve the problems and meet the needs of the youth in this vicinity. Clean and wholesome recreation is the aim and full and happy lives the goal.

Sports tend to develop character, self-reliance, self-assurance, cooperation and manliness. With these things in view, teams have been chosen in the different classes, giving an intramural tournament in each of the divisions of gymnasium periods.

On January 1st the first round of these tournaments closed and as a reward to the winning team in each class, the three losing teams gave a banquet to the winners. These banquets were held in the Association building as follows:

Grade school girls.—Winning team the Pansies, Capt. Clea Beck. Attendance 32. Banquetted by the Lilies, Violets and Roses.

Cadet boys.—Winning team the Wildcats, Capt. James Decker. Attendance 24. Banquetted by Bears, Tigers and Lions.

High School girls.—Winning team Vassar, Capt. Irma Sloop. Attendance 33. Banquetted by Bryn Mawr, Wellesley and Drexel.

Junior boys.—Winning team Army, Capt. Homer Knox Jr. Attendance 39. Banquetted by Notre Dame, Yale and Southern California.

These banquets were enjoyable affairs, provided in the covered dish style. Thanks are tendered the mothers who aided the boys and girls in making them a success by their generous help at home.

The second round of tournaments has been started, new teams being chosen. Names of the teams and captains are:

Cadet boys.—Princeton, Elwood Furst, captain; Dartmouth, Blaine Mabus; Harvard, Edmund Maloy; Bucknell, Richard Gray.

Junior boys.—Yellow Jackets, Kenneth Miller; Celtics, Paul Beck; All-Americans, Robert Morris; Swedes H. Rossman.

High School girls.—Navy, L. Morgan; Army, M. Baum; Marines, L. Folmar; Southern California, Sis Curtin.

Grade girls.—Robins, L. Ulrich; Larks, H. Woomer; Wrens, M. Wilson; Orioles, J. Cohen.

These tournaments will end about April 20th, when the winners will be banqueted by the losers.

ALTOONA TO CELEBRATE GREATER POPULATION.

On January seven of this year, the city of Altoona officially annexed surrounding territory of such size as to double the size of the city and increased the population to almost 90,000, making it the seventh largest city in the State.

Members of the Altoona Booster Association are going to feature a big trade event in celebration of the expansion of their city. The event has been termed A Greater Altoona Day and will be held on next Wednesday, January 30.

As stated in the advertisement of the Booster Association appearing in this issue, the Booster merchants are going to offer extraordinary values and they mention the fact that the sale is for all of the people in Central Pennsylvania, as well as for Altoona people and all are invited to attend and share in the good values.

Altoona Booster merchants firmly believe in the trade at home policy and suggest that people give their local merchants first consideration at all times depending on Booster Stores for the things their home stores cannot supply. "Greater Altoona Day," next Wednesday, will be a good time to shop for the home and personal needs that cannot be had in the home town stores.

Big Basket Ball Schedule at Y Tomorrow Night.

Saturday evening, January 26, will bring the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basket ball team into the middle of its 28-29 season. The Y quintette will meet, on its own court, the fast Hill-top Y Red Birds, of Pittsburgh. This team is the representative team of L. C. Heineman's former post, Hilltop Young Men's Christian Association, of Pittsburgh. It has the reputation of being a fast moving and clean playing team and should give the locals a great game.

As preliminaries to this game the Junior Five, of Tyrone, will meet the Hi-Y Five. This should be interesting as the Hi-Y boys are in the pink of condition and have, one of the fastest and smoothest teams representing their club in many years.

As another attraction the girls are endeavoring to bring a team to Bellefonte. This will be a test game as the girls have not been in action yet this season, but have shown their ability to make baskets and play a fast game in their practices.

Saturday evening will no doubt be basketball night for the fans of Bellefonte. The first game will begin at 8:15, the main attraction beginning 9:45. This should give the business men a chance to see one of the finest games this season.

Centre county trappers realized $701 in bounties for their work during the month of December, the largest amount paid to any county in the State, according to a report from Harrisburg. Thus it will be seen that this county not only ranks among the highest in its quota of game animals and birds but also high in its fur-bearing animals. With $701 received as bounties Centre county trappers will probably realize three or four times that amount for their pelts, which is not a bad month's return, and the trapping season is not half over.

If you have not yet bought a ticket for the High school play, "Going Up," which will be given in the Richelieu theatre next Tuesday evening, you should do so at once. It is reported as being one of the best attractions ever offered by the High school.

Russell Rider has purchased the pool room and cigar store in the basement of the Richelieu theatre from Robert F. Hood, and will have charge of same in the future. The young man has been a clerk in the store for several months.

Bellefonte Grain Markets.

Table with 2 columns: Grain type and Price per bushel. Includes items like Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye, Barley, and Buckwheat.
