Bellefonte, Pa., February 8, 1929.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Centre county has only three commercial orchards. In them are 5800 apple trees and 2400 peach trees.

The weather of the past two weeks has been a harvest for the coal dealers but a little hard on the public's pocketbook.

The Bell Telephone Co., on Monday, installed a telephone in the Singer sewing machine shop at 20 W. Bishop St. The number of the new phone is 362-W.

During this year the State Game Commission will release 50,000 rabbits, 500 fox squirrels, 121 wild turkeys, 12,000 quail, 8025 ring-necked pheasants and 3540 Hungarian partridges.

The Bellefonte Academy basketball team will play the Dickinson Seminary quintette, in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents.

Forty-seven officials and employees of the Bell Telephone company, in the Bellefonte district, were guests at the annual banquet served at the Bush house, Wednesday evening of last week.

Twelve prisoners who were deemed a little too unruly for the honor system in vogue at Rockview penitentiary were taken back to Pittsburgh, last Friday, and six others brought in on Saturday.

If you want a good baked ham supper, go to the Methodist church on February 14th. The supper which will be given by the women of the Missionary societies of the church will be served from 5 until 7 o'clock.

The epidemic of influenza and grip, which flourished in Bellefonte during the month of January, has about subsided. And so far as known no new cases of whooping cough or measles have developed among the school children.

The year's term of C. C. Shuey as juvenile court officer for Centre county having expired Judge Fleming, last Friday, appointed Rev. William C. Thompson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, to fill the position during the coming year.

Only five baseball fans reported for a meeting in the grand jury room, last Thursday evening, and as the number was not deemed sufficient to transact business no meeting was held. Another effort will probably be made in the near future to get the enthusiasts together.

Dr. Fred Lewis Pattee, professor emeritus of American literature at the Pennsylvania State College, who resigned as an active member of the Penn State faculty in December after 34 years of service, was elected to membership in the American Association of University Professors at its annual meeting in New York City, recently.

The men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church will hold a supper at the chapel on Spring street, Tuesday evening, February 12th, at 6:15 o'clock. All men of the church are invited to be present. Please notify Mr. Heineman, at the Y. M. C. A., if you can attend so that the committee can prepare for you. Special musical program.

Ed Garbrick has moved his cigar and news stand from its former location in the Bush house block to the room two doors west that was occupied by the Runkle drug store. The Garbrick room will be thrown in to the lobby of the hotel and for the first time in our memory will be used for other purposes than a cigar and tobacco shop. Fifty years ago it was conducted by the late A. J. Cruise and was the "hang-out" of many of the men who made history in Bellefonte.

A group of representative women of Centre county, was present at the meeting of the League of Women when called by Mrs. Robert Mills Beach yesterday, at her home on Linn street, to meet and hear Miss Gertrude Wetzel, of Philadelphia. The meeting was in the form of a rally for the League, Miss Wetzel, a field worker, whom many here have met on her former visits to Bellefonte, having come up to renew interest in the Centre county work.

The First National bank of Bellefonte is passing out blotters showing the size and style of the new currency which is to be put out by the government on July 1st. The blotters will be three eight or an inch narrower than the paper money now in use and an inch shorter, but the size will have nothing to do with the value thereof. The big advantage will be that a man's roll will not take up so much room in his pocket—but of course, that's never worried us to any extent.

Checks were sent out from Harrisburg, last Saturday, to all fourth class school districts for the semi-annual installment of the annual appropriation. The entire amount allotted to Centre county schools is $96,089.32. Two districts in the county, however, failed to receive their vouchers because of failure to file the required certified reports. These were Snow Shoe township, $3,900, and Walker township, $2,965. As soon as the reports are filed vouchers will be forwarded.

NEW AIRMAIL MARKER PLANNED FOR BELLEFONTE.

Robert F. Hunter Submits Proposition to Borough Council.

Robert F. Hunter appeared before Bellefonte borough council, at its regular meeting on Monday evening, and submitted a proposition for the erection of an airmail marker or sign which will not only be unique in character but will probably eclipse anything along the line of the transcontinental airmail. He stated that what he has in mind is the construction of a sign out of heavy iron pipe and sheet metal roofing 150 feet in length by 18 feet wide. The flat metal roof, or sign is to be painted black with the word "Bellefonte" in white aluminum paint, the letters to be fifteen feet high by ten wide. Six big searchlights, three on each side of the sign, are proposed to illuminate the sign for night fliers, and a big arrow will point the direction to the aviation field.

Mr. Hunter stated that he has two locations in view, one out on Thomas Beaver's farm and the other on a plot of ground owned by the borough up at the reservoir. He expressed the opinion that the Beaver farm would be the best location, as the marker there would be in plain view of the traveling public along the State highway, while if placed at the reservoir nobody would see it unless they went up in the air.

Mr. Hunter stated that the expense of erecting and equipping the marker will be from $375 to $400, and this can be arranged for. The only thing he asked the borough to assume was payment for the electric current to illuminate the searchlights, which will probably be about $150 a year. The matter was referred to the Special committee.

A communication was received from Mrs. Charles F. Barner, of east Lamb street, making complaint about mud and water flooding the pavement in front of her home. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

Another communication was received from M. J. Barrick, district engineer of the State Sanitary Water Board, inquiring what council is doing in the matter of a sewer survey of the town.

A communication was received from Ellis L. Orvis Esq., calling attention of council to the fact that Mrs. Daniel Clemson had suffered painful injuries some time ago by stepping into an open manhole in front of the property of her father, P. H. Gherrity, on south Spring street, and called attention to the borough's liability. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

The Street committee reported that repairs had been made on the Lamb street bridge.

The Water committee reported the collection of $550.00 on water taxes.

The Finance committee reported a balance of $692.30 in the hands of the borough treasurer. Request was also made for the renewal of notes totaling $3000 and the issuing of new notes for $3500 to meet current bills, which were authorized.

The Fire and Police committee brought up the matter of the installation of four light traffic signs, and Mr. Fleming, representing the C. H. Arnold Co., of Pittsburgh, was present and detailed the good qualities of the signs manufactured by his company, and which, he stated, met all the requirements of the State Highway Department regulations. The price for two signs would be $610, or $1250 installed, while five signs would cost $1660, or $2755 installed. Mr. Emerick stated that he didn't think it wise to put up new signs now. The matter was pretty thoroughly discussed and was finally referred back to the Fire and Police committee for further investigation and report.

The question of securing a reduction in insurance rates for Bellefonte was again brought up and Mr. Cobb, of the Special committee, stated that a representative of the Underwriters' association was expected in Bellefonte in the near future to check up on what has already been done and decide on what other things the borough must do to secure a reduction.

The question of the purchase of new tires for the two pumps was referred to the Fire and Police committee with power.

Bills totaling $2732.48 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

Seven New Members Join Order of DeMolay.

At a recent meeting of the Penn Centre chapter Order of DeMolay all degrees were conferred in full ceremonial form upon a class of seven candidates. The work was done in an excellent manner and the young men of the order are to be congratulated for the great good they are doing, not only among themselves but through the community. All Master Masons of Bellefonte and surrounding community are cordially invited to attend these meetings and give the boys the support all real "Dads" should.

It is expected that the local Chapter will be invited to assist at the institution of a new Chapter in a nearby city within the next few months. This will be a concrete expression of appreciation of the work they are doing locally.

Bellefonte Family Listed in American Genealogy.

The third volume of The Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy, which has just been published by F. A. Virkus and Company, of Chicago, contains the lineage record of Henry S. Linn, of Bellefonte.

According to this volume, Mr. Linn is descended in the seventh generation from William Linn, who came from Ireland to Chester county, Pa., in 1732. Philip Rytherach, another immigrant ancestor (1628-1730), came from Wales to Pennsylvania in 1690 and settled at Newtown, Delaware county. In this lineage are also Hugh Scott, who came to America in 1726; and Hugh Wilson, who came about 1730 and settled in Pennsylvania and was one of the commissioners named in the act to purchase land at Easton for the court house and prison, 1752. He was justice of the peace from 1752 to 1766, and married Sarah Craig.

Mr. Linn is a retired merchant, having for a number of years been in charge of China Hall, in the Centre County bank building. He is secretary of the board of trustees of the Bellefonte Academy and a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, having served as assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania society from 1925 to 1927.

Three volumes of the Compendium have been issued to date. These contain upwards of 20,000 American lineages from the first ancestor in America down to the present generations. The indexes to these three volumes are the most extensive genealogical indexes ever compiled for a single publication. They list upwards of 150,000 ancestors and include virtually every name distinguished in the colonial history of America. It is indeed rare that one cannot find one or more of one's ancestors listed in the indexes.

These volumes are in the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. library where they are available to the public in the reference room.

John S. Ginter Retires as Active Banker.

After twenty-four year's service with the Farmers and Merchants National bank, of Tyrone, John S. Ginter resigned as cashier, effective on Monday, and has been succeeded by John H. McKivven, of Greensburg. Impaired health was the reason for Mr. Ginter's resignation. While retiring from active work in the bank he will continue as vice president and a member of the board of directors. In the meantime he will devote his time to his other interests, as he is treasurer of the Tyrone school district, vice president and secretary of the Bayer-Gillman company, secretary-treasurer of the Mishler theatre, Altoona, treasurer and director of the Tyrone Gas and Water company, trustee, treasurer and manager of the Pruner home for children, in Bellefonte, and one of the three receivers for the Centre County Banking company.

Bellefonte Academy Boxers Defeat Cook Academy.

Literally speaking the Bellefonte Academy mittens boxed the stuffing out of the Cook Academy fist fighters, in the Bellefonte armory last Friday night, winning the bout 5 to 2. But the local lads had to step some to turn the trick, as every event was hotly contested by the visitors. The summaries follow:

115-pound class—Morris, Bellefonte Academy, defeated Lanza, of Cook Academy, in three rounds.

125-pound class—Buckley, of Bellefonte, defeated Renoldorf, of Cook, three rounds.

135-pound class—Halaiko, of Cook, defeated Mulvehill, Bellefonte, three rounds.

145-pound class—Ducanis, of Bellefonte, defeated Sweeney, of Cook.

Exhibition bout between Temple, Bellefonte, and Proccio, Cook, resulted in no decision.

175-pound class—Barber, of Bellefonte, won in extra period from Mayor, of Cook.

Unlimited class—Won by Sample, of Bellefonte, over McCussick, of Cook.

Buried in an $18,000.00 Casket.

Louis Bertchey, 71, furniture dealer and proprietor of what is said to be one of the finest mortuaries in the county, was buried at Wheeling, W. Va., on Sunday in a bronze casket that cost $18,000 and carried by thirty-four pall bearers.

It is estimated that six thousand persons attended the services which were held in his own mortuary chapel where amplifiers were installed so that the voices of the officiating ministers could be heard by all.

Louis Bertchey Jr., a son of the deceased, was educated at the Bellefonte Academy and later married Miss Helen Saylor, a daughter of Peter Saylor, of this place.

GRANDMOTHER BILGER DIED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Passed Away Almost On Eve of 98th Birthday Anniversary.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger, probably the oldest woman in Centre county, passed peacefully away at her home at Pleasant Gap, on Wednesday night, almost on the eve of her 98th birthday anniversary. In fact her children were already making preparations to again celebrate the event, which would have been next Monday. Mrs. Bilger has been in feeble health all winter and recently had an attack of the grip. She was apparently recovering and on Tuesday was able to sit up and eat her dinner. But on Wednesday afternoon she suffered a collapse which resulted in her death that night.

Mrs. Bilger's maiden name was Elizabeth Eckly and she was born in Perry county on February 11th, 1831, hence was within five days of being 98 years old. When she was a child her parents moved to Centre county and when she grew to womanhood she married Jonathan Bilger. The first few years of their married life were spent on a farm in Pennsylvania, thence they moved onto a farm near Zion and forty-five years ago they moved to Pleasant Gap where the family home has been ever since.

Mrs. Bilger was a home-loving woman and her greatest interest at all times was the welfare of her family and in making her home a cheerful place for friend or stranger. Blessed with a strong constitution and unusual longevity she was quite active, both mentally and physically, up to the past year or two.

Her husband died twenty-eight years ago but surviving her are eleven children, as follows: Mrs. Loretta Yohey, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. C. W. Rees and Mrs. Abbie Rockey, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Phoebe Hile, of Pleasant Gap; Nellie, Annie and Virgie, at home; Mrs. Elizabeth Bender, of Lancaster; Frank, of Goff, Kan.; Newton, of Valley Falls, Kan., and Wilson Bilger, of Bellefonte.

Up to the time of going to press no arrangements for the funeral had been made.

MURDER SUSPECT GIVEN LIFE TERM.

Life imprisonment was the sentence pronounced on Decasto E. Mayer, in Superior court at Seattle, Wash., last week, in what attorneys characterized as a "murder trial without a murder charge." Mayer was accused and convicted of stealing an automobile and watch of James Eugene Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Bassett, of Baltimore, Md., and a nephew of James R. and Charles S. Hughes, of Bellefonte. It will be recalled that several months ago the young man disappeared in Seattle on the eve of sailing for Japan. His automobile and watch were found in the possession of Mayer but no trace was ever found of Bassett, dead or alive. Mayer and his supposed mother, Mrs. Mary E. Smith, were arrested and both tried and convicted of grand larceny. It took the jury only five minutes to bring in a verdict of guilty against Mayer and the court promptly sentenced him to life imprisonment. The general belief that Mayer had murdered Bassett and disposed of his body had no doubt a lot to do with him being given a life term in the penitentiary.

Joseph Boscaino Has Purchased the Coll Barber Shop.

On Tuesday morning Joseph J. Boscaino purchased and took under his own management the Coll barber shop in the Bush house block.

Joseph learned his trade and the business in Bellefonte. He is a graduate of local shops and knows the tonorial requirements of most of the people in the community. Besides, being an excellent barber he is an obliging, courteous young man and invites the public to go to his shop and be convinced of the superiority of its service.

Mr. Coll, "Guy," as he is more familiarly known, will continue to preside over the first chair in the shop indefinitely, while Joseph will be at the second chair, the same that he has worked for over a year.

Miss Irma White, the beauty specialist and hair dresser will also continue her connection with the shop.

Seven colleges and universities have entered the contest. They are Carnegie Tech, the University of Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny, Juniata, Bucknell and Penn State. In both the 1927 and 1928 meets, Penn State was judged the winner. A championship trophy will be presented to the winner of three of the contests. On their return to State College February 23, the Penn State Glee Club will stop off at Johnstown and present a special concert at the Johnstown country club.

A statement in the paper of Bellefonte two weeks ago, saying Mrs. Hartwick was a patient in the Huntingdon hospital, was without foundation.

John Bradley, of Philadelphia, was in Bellefonte between trains Monday, for a short visit with his sister and brother, Mrs. George Bible and Benjamin Bradley Jr., and their families. Three generations of the Corl family of Ferguson Twp., dropped in for what proved to be a very pleasant call, though all too short, on Tuesday afternoon. There was grand-father Corl—not looking it in physique—his son Clarence L. and the latter's manly little son Leslie. They told us that they have had to haul water practically all winter and we are hoping that Wednesday night's rain helped them out a bit.

A Little Gas Problem.

For the consideration of those who are thinking of the use of gas for cooking we give the following resume of the experience of a local house-keeper during two month's use of the utility. The cost is compared with that of chestnut coal at $13.50 per ton, carried in.

Under her own management the lady was able to operate her kitchen range, keeping a fire all night, for two months on 1 ton of chestnut, cost $13.50
Her gas bill for December was $3.57
Her gas bill for January was 3.40
Her stove cost $121.50 and two month's interest on that is 1.22 8.19
Cash saved by use of gas $ 5.31

At the above rate her saving for the year would be $31.86.

It should be remembered, however, that she lost the heat of her coal range which would have been a considerable item had she not had had a steam radiator installed in her kitchen. This resulted in no appreciable increase in consumption of coal in the furnace.

She also lost the supply of hot water always generated by the coal range. This was taken care of by installing a $17.00 Excelsio heater on the steam boiler in the cellar which gives more and hotter water than the range produced without any noticeable increase in the amount of coal or firing of the furnace.

In the light of this experience in an average home in Bellefonte we summarize the advantages and disadvantages of gas for cooking as follows:

With gas a saving of $31.86 per year is possible. There is no lugging of coal or ashes. The kitchen is cleaner because there is no smoke or soot in the air. A hot fire is available in an instant at any moment of the day or night. There will be a cool kitchen to work in during the sultry summer weeks.

Against these very desirable advantages are only two serious disadvantages.

One is the loss of heat from the kitchen range which was depended on to take the dampness out of the house, occasionally in the spring and fall, before the steam heating plant is started.

The other is the loss of the hot water produced by the range during the four or five summer months when the house heating plant is not in operation. This can be taken care of, however, at a cost certainly no greater than the cash saving of $31.86 shown above.

Among the six eminent authors who have been engaged to lecture during the next summer institute at State College, are Joseph Hergeshelmer, Pennsylvania novelist and short story writer; Edward Davison, English poet; Vachel Lindsay, one of America's major poets; Professor John Macy, of Columbia University, who was formerly editor of the "Nation"; Miss Helen L. Cohen, head of the English department of Washington Irving high school, New York City, and author of a number of books on plays and the theatre; and Mrs. Marjorie S. Douglas, writer and critic of short stories.

Professor John A. Ferguson, head of the department of forestry at the Pennsylvania State College, has been appointed by Secretary Jardine, of the United States Department of Agriculture, as a member of the advisory council for the Allegheny Forestry Experiment Station which was established last year at the University of Pennsylvania. The work of this experiment station covers the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia. This station is one of twelve or more forestry experiment stations under the direction of the U. S. Forester Service.

Tentative plans are being made to reorganize the Pennsylvania National Guard, and if it is done Troop B, of Bellefonte, will become a straight cavalry organization instead of a mounted machine gun troop.
