

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. D. I. Willard is remodeling her double brick house on north Thomas street, into one of six apartments.

St. Mary's guild of the Episcopal church, will hold a food sale in the Variety shop, Saturday afternoon, February 16, opening at two o'clock.

Thirty-five members of the West Penn Power club held their monthly meeting at the Pete Coldren resort, on the top of Nittany mountain, on Monday evening.

Mrs. Benjamin Bradley Jr., was hostess at a card party Monday night, given at her home on west High street, as a surprise to Mr. Bradley, in celebration of his birthday anniversary. Three tables of five hundred were in play.

The West Penn Power company has made an offer of $180,000 for the purchase of the Emporium electric light and power plant, and the offer is being favorably considered by the owners, though nothing definite regarding a sale has yet been done.

The Bellefonte Academy basketball team will play the St. Francis college junior varsity quintette, on the Y. M. C. A. floor, tomorrow (Saturday) evening, at eight o'clock. As the season is drawing to a close all lovers of the game should be on hand early.

The only two Centre countians who will go to President Hoover's inauguration as members of Governor Fisher's official party will be Charles E. Dorworth, Secretary of Forests and Waters, and Col. Theodore Davis Boal, of Boalsburg, who has been appointed a military aide to the Governor.

Samuel M. Hess, of Ferguson township, was one of the committee on resolutions at the annual meeting of the State road supervisor's association, in Altoona this week. Sam evidently made himself heard in the convention to win appointment among the several hundred men present.

In addition to the three applications for parole which will be heard before Judge Fleming, in open court tomorrow, three men now under bond on the charge of operating gambling devices will appear and enter pleas of guilty and accept sentence. They are J. H. Bickett, David Finklestein and Joe Company.

Two school teachers at Snow Shoe, Misses Velda Eiters and Leotta Caldwell, were painfully injured, last Thursday, while coasting. Miss Caldwell sustained a broken nose, had several teeth knocked out and did not regain consciousness until early the next morning. The sled on which the young people were coasting ran into a tree.

We omitted to mention the fact, last week, that Joseph Parrish, son of Dr. C. M. Parrish, of Bellefonte, a graduate of Jefferson Medical college, has been appointed an interne in the Philadelphia General hospital. It is a commendable appointment and the many friends of Dr. Parrish Jr., are gratified to know that his abilities are thus recognized.

Miss Edward Rine has arranged to sell her home in Coleville to Fred Billet, of the same place, and will move to Bellefonte the first of April, into the east side of the Mrs. Thomas Rishel property, to be vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shively. Mrs. Rishel and Mrs. Rine are sisters, and Mrs. Rine is now leaving the property owned for many years by their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cessner, and where the family was raised.

On Monday evening school children on West High and Thomas streets discovered a baby pig running at large with no apparent owner in sight. The boys cornered the pig and captured it, and unable to find the owner turned it over to Nathan Kofman for safe keeping until the owner could be found. But he was not long in making his appearance, as Tuesday morning Jimmy Matthews turned up and claimed the pig, which had escaped from his pen.

Persistent rumors on the street to the effect that Montgomery-Ward & Co., the Chicago mail order house, is looking for a location in Bellefonte, are not without some foundation. They did make an offer to lease the Hazel & Co., building on Allegheny St., for a period of five years, with a five year renewal clause, but it involved such extensive repairs and changes to the building that the owners were not persuaded to give it serious consideration. The story to the effect that they had offered J. O. Heverly $100,000 for his corner is not true. Mr. Heverly informed the writer that he has never been approached on the question of either purchase or rental of his building. The Lyon and Co., building, now occupied by the E. and B., and the Brant house corner, are two other locations said to be under consideration by the Chicago concern. We have been lead to believe, however, that should they decide to locate a branch here they would prefer to have it on Allegheny street, north of High, and have a location in that business section in mind.

W. Cordes Snyder, former superintendent for the Lehigh Valley Coal company, at Snow Shoe, but who the past several years has been superintendent of mines for the Consolidation Coal company, at Frostburg, Maryland, has accepted a more desirable situation in the anthracite region, effective February 15th. It is understood that Mrs. Snyder and daughter Marjorie will not go to Scranton until sometime in April.

DRY RAIDERS INVADE BELLEFONTE ON FRIDAY.

Seven Places Visited and Big Dent Made in Local Supply of Wet Goods.

County detective Leo Boden pulled his biggest coup last Friday, when a force of eleven State and local officers imported from other places raided seven places in Bellefonte and vicinity and confiscated enough wet goods to make a big dent in the local supply of contraband fire water. According to information the county detective had his layout planned to perfection and in order that there might not be any chance of a "leak" awaited the arrival of the raiding force before securing search warrants at the office of Squire S. Kline Woodring. The squad, divided up, started work right after the noon hour and the first haul was brought into Squire Woodring's office at two o'clock, and it was well on five before the last raid had been completed.

The first man to be brought in was Ambrose Piskey, who lives out near "Burnham," the home of Miss Valentine. When Corp. Walter Powell and constable J. J. McDonald visited the Piskey home they found sitting at a table a well known Bellefonte man with a bottle and glass in front of him. These were collected together with one 10-gallon still, 8 gallon jugs of white moonshine, 3 half-gallon jugs, 2 quart bottles, and 2 bottles of home brew, 20 bottles of the latter being destroyed. Piskey was placed under arrest and brought to the Squire's office. He displayed considerable bravado, at first, and offered to settle right then and there, but Mr. Woodring informed him that he couldn't settle there; he had to give bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for his appearance at court or else go to jail. The Squire asked him why he started making moonshine and he said that he had been thrown out of work because they all said he was too old, and he had to live so he started making moonshine. He finally gave bail for his appearance at court.

Others raided included Joe Crueshett, whose home yielded a 10 gallon still, one 50 gallon barrel of mash, one 10 gallon keg, 1 gallon of moonshine, 1 quart of pruce whiskey, one half-pint of white moonshine, and 21 bottles of beer.

The next man was Andy Capota, where 40 gallons of beer mash, 25 gallons plum mash, 5 gallons moonshine mash and 25 bottles of beer were seized.

At Lee Cowher's home, down near the old nail works, four bottles of home brew were seized and 75 bottles destroyed.

When the raiding officers visited the home of Mike Shay, in Pike alley, Bellefonte, the only person found in the house was the same man discovered at the Ambrose Piskey home when it was raided. None of the Shay family was at home and a thorough search failed to disclose any illicit drinkables.

A deputation of the raiders visited the John Smay home, above Snow Shoe Intersection, but a thorough search failed to reveal anything, though the raiders claimed the house reeked with fumes of newly-made moonshine.

The last place visited was the home of Joe Carparella, at Coleville, known among the thirsties as "the beer garden." It yielded the biggest haul of any—8 barrels of grape wine, 3 kegs, one of which was full and the other two partially empty, one-half barrel and 18 quarts, all wine. Also a quantity of home brew, 7 boxes of raisins, and a small amount of moonshine.

The raiding party consisted of Corporal Ed Strohmam and troopers Hunter Kennedy, Nerone and L. H. Nicholson, of Harrisburg; Corp. Walter Powell, trooper John F. Frank and constable Probst, of Lock Haven; constable Ed Gustafson, of Phillipsburg; chief of police A. E. Yougel, of State College, and constable J. J. McDonald, of Spring township.

As stated above the amount of wet goods confiscated made a big dent in the local supply but it evidently didn't dry it up by any means, as was evident by the number of men on the streets Saturday night who were perceptibly "under the influence," as well as the display of discarded pint bottles in the gutters on Sunday morning.

On Saturday the raiding squad visited Phillipsburg and raided five places, confiscating a good sized cargo of beer, home brew and moonshine. Five arrests were made, namely: Charles Irvin, Mrs. Minnie Crawshaw, Albert Courson, John Hart and James Farthingham. All gave bail for their appearance at court except Hart and Courson, who were unable to obtain bond, and they were brought to the Centre county jail.

W. Cordes Snyder, former superintendent for the Lehigh Valley Coal company, at Snow Shoe, but who the past several years has been superintendent of mines for the Consolidation Coal company, at Frostburg, Maryland, has accepted a more desirable situation in the anthracite region, effective February 15th. It is understood that Mrs. Snyder and daughter Marjorie will not go to Scranton until sometime in April.

Former State Policeman Under Arrest for Murder.

Readers of the Watchman will probably recall the circumstance of the arrest of Cleveland Packer, of Holt's Hollow, on March 14th, 1925, by three State policemen, on the charge of illegal possession and transportation of liquor; and the further fact that Mr. Packer was badly beaten up in the face by one of the policemen, W. J. Lyster, at that time stationed in Bellefonte.

Packer had Lyster arrested for aggravated assault and the officers retaliated by having Packer arrested on the charges of assault and resisting an officer. Judge Arthur C. Dale was on the bench at the time and at the May term of court the grand jury ignored the bills in both cases. Lyster was soon after transferred to Johnstown and was implicated there in severely beating up a man. He was tried in court, at Ebensburg, and was acquitted.

Shortly after that his name disappeared from the roster of the state police. He later enrolled as a member of the coal and iron police of the Pittsburgh Coal company, and on Sunday he and two other policemen beat up a foreigner, John Bercovek, so brutally that he died. It is said that Lyster used a stove poker over the man's head.

The brutal affair is being widely exploited by Pittsburgh papers and Governor Fisher has requested particulars, intimating that if the facts are as published the licenses of the policemen will be promptly revoked.

High Lights On Proposed New Motor Code.

Principal changes in the new State motor code from the present laws are:

Abolition of the thirty-five-mile speed limit for passenger automobiles and increasing from thirty to forty miles per hour the maximum speed for pneumatic-tired buses.

Raising the operators' license and learners' permit fee by $1 and the registration fees for all trucks and motor buses.

Increasing from 90 to 50 per cent. of normal vision the sight requirement for driving automobiles.

Making "hitch-hiking" so far as it concerns solicitation for rides from the highways an offense punishable by a fine of $5.

Prohibiting use of license plates not legible at a distance of fifty feet in daylight.

Making inspection of motor vehicles compulsory upon official "safety" proclamation of the Governor.

Eliminating the yellow light in traffic signals between "stop" and "go."

Compelling all motorists to file accident reports with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles and garage owners to report abandoned cars left in their garages after fifteen days.

Bankers Hold Group Meeting in Altoona.

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of group six, Pennsylvania Bankers' association, was held in Altoona, on Tuesday, Lincoln's birthday, with almost five hundred members in attendance, though the number from Centre county was not as large as usual.

At the business meeting in the morning Theodore C. Jackson, cashier of the Moshannon National bank, Phillipsburg, was elected president for the ensuing year, and John D. Meyer, president of the First National bank of Tyrone, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for his fifteenth consecutive year.

A resolution was passed protesting against the passage by Congress of an amendment to section 5219, U. S. revised statutes, which would permit the levy of an increase in taxes on banks according to the amount of business transacted.

Centre County Cows Show Good Test.

In his report for the month of January Ira Whiteman, tester for the Centre county cow testing association No. 1, states that 27 herds were tested with 354 cows in milk and 68 cows dry. 75 cows produced over 40 pounds of butterfat and 31 cows over 50 pounds. 113 cows produced 1000 pounds of milk and 63 cows over 1200 pounds. The rating of the ten highest cows was as follows:

ELECTRIC LOAD BUILDERS RECEIVE BONUS CHECKS.

At Annual Banquet of Keystone Power Club, at Ridgway Last Evening.

Bellefonte and Centre county officials and employees of the West Penn Power company, when they returned from Ridgway this morning, where they attended the annual banquet of the Keystone Power Club last evening, will bring home the bacon in the shape of numerous checks for their share of the bonus awarded in the annual load-building contest held by the West Penn company.

Two hundred and twenty-seven officials, employees and guests attended the banquet, those from the Bellefonte division being E. C. Musser, district manager; D. L. Currier, assistant manager; Paul Immel, Fred Miller, Carl Dubbs, Victor Watson, J. Harris Holmes, John Porter Lyon, John E. Winklosky, Kenneth Jones and Richard R. Herman, of Bellefonte. Francis A. Miller, superintendent; Vincent Stevens, Fred Cleveland and Frank L. Holmes, of State College. The banquet is said to have eclipsed any and all similar affairs.

At the banquet awards were made to the winners of the 1922 employees' load building contest. The contest held during 1927 in the Keystone division alone was so successful that West Penn officials decided to extend the contest during 1925 throughout their entire territory, comprising six divisions. At the close of the 1925 contest the Keystone division, consisting of Bellefonte, State College, Ridgway, St. Marys, Coudersport, Kane and Mt. Jewett and Johnsbury, carried off the first prize of $1300.00.

The six divisions of the West Penn territory are sub-divided into forty-three districts, of which Bellefonte and State College is known as District "E." This district had the honor of standing in fifth place at the close of the contest.

The individual awards for Bellefonte and State College were as follows:

E. C. Musser, his share as one of the district managers in the winning division, $30.80; and for having his district standing in fifth place at the close of the contest, $50.00.

J. Harris Holmes, as appliance supervisor, $25.00.

The other employees winning prizes according to the points earned by them, are as follows:

Escaped Prisoner Brought Back From West Virginia.

John Schultz, who escaped from Rockview penitentiary on July 24th, 1926, was brought back from West Virginia, on Tuesday of last week, and on Saturday was sentenced by Judge Fleming for breaking and escaping from the Centre county institution.

Schultz was sent up from Lawrence county in April, 1926, for breaking and entering and larceny, having been given a term of two to four years. He was later transferred to Rockview from Pittsburgh and on July 24th, while at work in the harvest field, he decided to leave and made good his escape. Going to West Virginia he indulged his propensity for stealing with the result that he was caught, tried and convicted of larceny and given three years in the penitentiary at Moundsville. While serving his term there he was identified as the man who escaped from Rockview.

A detainee was promptly lodged against him by prison authorities and when released at Moundsville officers were on hand to bring him back to Centre county. Judge Fleming gave him an additional two to four years in the western penitentiary, and he was taken to that institution on Saturday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Bilger, held at her late home at Pleasant Gap, on Monday afternoon, was very largely attended, hundreds of persons going to pay homage to a woman who lived almost a century of years. Rev. W. J. Wagner had charge of the services and burial was made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

The Interdenominational Union of Bellefonte will observe the day of prayer for missions on Friday, February 15th, 7:30 p. m., in the Methodist church. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Edmund Blanchard has been with Mr. Blanchard's sisters, Mrs. R. M. Beach and Miss Mary Blanchard, during the past week, having stopped in Bellefonte on her way back to Breckenridge, Texas, from a visit to her former home in Philadelphia. Mrs. Blanchard had been called north by the death of her mother, Mrs. Donnelly.

A pleasant caller at the Watchman office, Saturday, was Harry Johnston, Boggs township farmer. Mr. Johnston is among the fortunates. While farmers in many parts of the county have been suffering nearly all winter he has had no such inconvenience, for he has water piped from a nearby spring, which has never failed, even in prolonged drouths.

Sylvester S. Saul was a recent guest of the Misses Anna and Mary Hoy, at their home on north Spring street, with whom he lived when they were residents of Rock View. Since leaving Bellefonte, Sylvester has been in the U. S. Navy and being off duty on a ten day furlough, made the visit here enroute to California, to report for duty for another four year period, expecting to leave at once for China, where he had already spent much of his time since entering in the Navy. His experience in the rescue of Americans during the recent uprising, was extremely interesting, the one feature which seemed to impress him greatly, was when his vessel had been sent to Nanking, with orders to take all Americans to Shanghai and safety. Many of the men with big business interests, after being brought aboard, returned, refusing to abandon their possessions.

Fink-Entler.—A belated wedding announcement is that of Carl Fink and Miss Dorothy Margaret Entler both of Johnstown, who were married at St. John's Catholic church, Bellefonte, on Saturday, January 16, by Rev. W. E. Downes. The young people, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bowman, motored to Bellefonte, that day, and after securing the necessary license, went to the Catholic church and were married. They returned home the same day, intending to keep their wedding a secret for a year, but it just couldn't be done and a public announcement was made last Friday evening.

Stray Dogs Killed Ten Chickens at W. J. Musser's Home.

Last Friday afternoon while W. J. Musser, of east Lamb street, was away from home stray dogs got into his chicken yard and killed ten of his chickens. The wholesale massacre was over when Mr. Musser returned home. As he did not see the dogs do the killing he is not definitely certain who the owners are, but avers that a number of unlicensed dogs are running around loose in that section of the town, which should either be licensed or killed by the proper officials. Mr. Musser, it is understood, will apply to the State Department of Agriculture for pay for his chickens.

James C. Waddle, but who will probably be better remembered as "Uncle Jimmy" in the days when he conducted the local freight up and down Bald Eagle valley on the railroad, celebrated his 94th birthday anniversary, on Monday, at his home in Lock Haven. A native of Centre county he is by far the oldest member of a family prominently identified with the early history of Spring creek and its environments. He was one of the men who went to work at an early age for the Pennsylvania Railroad company and worked until his retirement at the age of seventy, twenty-six years ago. During his many years of service with the company he became known by hundreds living along the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, and always had a smile and a friendly wave of the hand for every one. Physically he is still in remarkable health, considering his unusual age, his only defect being his eyesight which to him is quite serious, as he laments the fact that he "cannot read printing." But he makes up the loss, in fact, by having some one else read to him.

Milk dealers in Bellefonte aver that there is considerable stealing of milk, cream, milk tickets and money put out for milk being done at the present time in Bellefonte, and so far no one has been caught in the act. At a certain home on east High street the woman of the house is in the habit of putting out money when she wants an extra supply of milk, and every time she has done so the pennies have been stolen. A few days ago she decided to watch for the thief. The money was put out with the bottles and the woman took up a position at a place of vantage where she could see, and as she thought not to be seen. She waited and watched for an hour and nothing happened. With nobody in sight she went to the kitchen on an errand and avers she wasn't gone two minutes but when she returned the money was gone. How any one, boy, girl or grown person, could have gone there, taken the money and gotten away with it in the short time she was out of sight, is beyond her conception.

In view of leaving Bellefonte to make their home in Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Katz are now offering at private sale, all their household goods, reserving nothing. Prospective buyers or any one interested, will be shown everything on sale, by Mrs. Katz between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m. and 1 and 4 p. m. at their apartments in the Heverly building, corner High and Allegheny Sts. 74-7-11.

Tonight both the Cathaum and Nittany theatres at State College will show great pictures, Ronald Coleman and Lily Demitt will appear in "The Rescue" at the Nittany and Nancy Carroll, Josephine Dunn and Lawrence Gray will be featured in "The Sin Sister" at the Cathaum both Friday and Saturday nights.
