

SALVATION ARMY LEAVES BELLEFONTE.

Some time ago a work was started in Bellefonte with the thought that there might be a field here in which the Salvation Army could work, and while their efforts have been limited, yet considerable good has been accomplished, and Bellefonte has felt to a degree the worth as some of our leading citizens will testify.

Investigation proves that through the churches, and various other organizations the field is reasonably covered, and in addition to this fact the financial returns show, that the community is rather small, with its other obligations, making the support of an Army post here difficult.

During the past few days, conferences have been held with civic and church leaders, and upon their kindly advice and consent, it has been decided to withdraw the Salvation Army workers from Bellefonte. That is, while the Salvation Army will still be at the service of the citizens of Bellefonte, a post will no longer be maintained here. The services of the workers have been transferred to a larger community.

Regardless as to whether a dollar is raised locally, the divisional headquarters of Eastern Pennsylvania must assume any deficit here, just as was done last year at this time. This it can ill afford to do, seeing that it has already taken from the general funds to do this, and those funds are heavily taxed at this present season of the year.

Mr. Arthur Noble, who has been associated with the S. A. 32 years, has been sent here from the Scranton headquarters to adjust matters, and to set on foot a movement which will meet the present need, and to help the Salvation Army leave with a clean slate. This has been endorsed by a number of leading citizens, and an organization is in course of formation, whereby the necessary funds will be secured to meet this present need.

Should the needful amount be secured through this campaign it is the purpose of the Salvation Army to make no further appeal to the citizens of Bellefonte this year, and it will be considered a donation to the Salvation Army work for 1929.

Historic Home Destroyed by Fire.

The old Mattern homestead, which for ninety-one years has stood as a landmark near the forks of the road at the Seven Stars, Huntingdon county, was entirely destroyed by fire about noon last Friday. The fire originated in the attic, likely from a defective flue, and the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything from the second floor, though most of the furniture on the first floor was removed.

The house was built in 1838 by George Mattern, who occupied it during his life. At his death it passed into possession of his son, John F. Mattern, and lately it had been occupied by the latter's son, R. Milton Mattern. Building and contents were partially insured.

MONTHLY PAYMENT AUTO INSURANCE.

New Convenient Installment Plan Offered by Largest Multiple-line Company.

A plan by which car owners may buy necessary forms of insurance on a monthly payment plan, similar to that on which millions of people buy their cars, homes, and other conveniences, has just been announced by the largest multiple-line insurance company and is now being offered to the automobilists of Bellefonte and vicinity by B. O. Harvey, at Temple Court.

"The policies," says B. O. Harvey, "are identical with those sold for annual premiums. They are issued for a year and monthly payments will run for two to six months, depending on the size of the car and the forms of insurance needed. The policies will be issued for standard rates and a charge of 25 cents will be added to each installment.

"Under present conditions of traffic," B. O. Harvey points out, "no one can afford to take his car out of a garage unless he has arranged for the protection of liability and property damage insurance, at least. A man never knows when he is going to meet with an accident; never knows when he is going to have a lawsuit for damages, even though he may not have been the driver at fault. And auto damage suits are for big amounts these days.

"It's a wonderful thing to be able to refer the claimants to the capable representatives of a big insurance company and know that the company will not only handle the matter but pay whatever should be paid, including costs.

"If the man insures in the company offering this protection on the installment payment plan, The Travelers of Hartford, Connecticut, he feels easy no matter where he drives because The Travelers has service offices throughout the United States and Canada.
