NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The 1928 wheat crop in Centre county totaled 173,080 bushels.

On Wednesday evening Harry Harding accepted Burgess Harris' invitation to leave town indefinitely and stay left.

This is the first day of March and four weeks of groundhog weather have passed into history.

George C. Bingamin, last week, purchased the Roan apartments, corner of Allegheny and Curtin streets, not as a home for himself but as an investment.

Residents of Spring Mills, spurred on by several disastrous fires in the past few years, have started a movement to organize a volunteer fire company.

A little son, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ogden B. Malin, at the Centre County hospital, on Tuesday morning. This is the second boy in the Malin family.

Tuesday's high water flooded the foundry department of the Sutton Engineering Co's plant to the extent that work had to be suspended for most of the day.

The condition of Superintendent E. C. Musser, of the West Penn Power company, who has been confined to his home with illness the past week, is not improving.

The board of pardons, on Wednesday refused the application for commutation of three negroes, of Erie county, who are scheduled to go to the electric chair next Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shively have leased one of the Harvey Miller houses, on Bishop street, and will move there as soon as possible from the Mrs. Thomas Rishel double house, on Willowbank street.

Mrs. Millard Hartwick returned home from the Clearfield hospital, last Friday, with every hope of a complete restoration to health as the result of an operation she underwent three weeks ago today.

Clair Miller has equipped himself with a horse and wagon and has embarked in the draying business. Clair is a dependable and deserving young man and if you need hauling of any kind he would appreciate the opportunity of serving you.

Postmaster John L. Knisely is planning to go to Washington to attend the inauguration of Herbert Hoover as president, while assistant postmaster Morton Smith will be a member of the National Guard of honor as escort to Governor Fisher.

Another meeting will be held in the grand jury room, in the court house, at 8 o'clock next Monday evening, March 4th, for the purpose of considering the organization of a baseball team for the 1929 season. A meeting was called several weeks ago but only four men appeared and this was not enough to take any action. Now it is up to the fans to turn out at next Monday evening's meeting if they want a team this year.

James A. McCafferty and his family, formerly residents of this place, have moved from New York city, where they had been since leaving here, to Hartsville, South Carolina. Jim writes that he is happy to be located down among "Democrats who are Democrats of the old stamp." And he knows what Democrats are for he used to be a potential political figure in the South ward of Bellefonte when it was as reliably Democratic as is South Carolina.

In June, 1879, Wilson I. Fleming, a young merchant tailor of Bellefonte, and Miss Bella P. Ward, were united in marriage, and as both are still living, in good health they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in less than four months. At this time, however, no plans have been made for any elaborate celebration of the event, though when the time comes it is quite possible that the momentous event will not be permitted to go by unnoticed.

The dedication of the recreation hall at the Pennsylvania State College will take place on the afternoon of March 23, during the weekend of the intercollegiate boxing tournament which is to be held at the college this year. The building, which was built by alumni and friends at a cost of approximately a half-million dollars, is now in use for indoor athletic events and is considered one of the finest buildings for physical education in this part of the country. It has a permanent seating capacity of 3,500. With the use of portable seats the building is capable of accommodating 6,000.

Joint committees of the local Board of Trade, the Business Men's Association and Kiwanis met at the Bush house Monday evening to discuss the feasibility of merging units of the latter two organizations with the Board of Trade in order to stimulate greater efforts toward the industrial advancement of Bellefonte. The gentlemen were in session over two hours. Many suggestions were considered and while nothing definite was arrived at the outcome of the meeting was not without profit, for it was revealed that there is an earnest desire on the part of all three organizations to boost Bellefonte whenever opportunity presents.

FEBRUARY COURT SESSION CONVENED ON MONDAY.

Cases Heard and Sentences Imposed by Judge Fleming.

Court convened on Monday morning at ten o'clock. The first case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. Russel Letterman, indicted for a statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Clara Heckman. The prosecutrix is from Centre Hall and the defendant from Milesburg. The testimony in this case developed certain facts relative to a juvenile now in the Darlington home in Delaware county, and at the close of the testimony and after the jury retired the district attorney moved the court for the arrest of James Sheehler, a witness for the defense in the above stated cause. He was promptly arrested by the sheriff and just before adjournment on Monday evening the court sat as a committing magistrate and held the defendant in the sum of $1000. Verdict in the Letterman case was guilty.

The next case called was a civil case of Isaac Underwood vs. Burdine Butler, being an appeal and suit to recover the balance of a book account of $69.99. Verdict on Monday evening in favor of the plaintiff for $69.99, with interest $33.83, or a total amount of $103.82.

Commonwealth vs. William Flick Jr., indicted for a statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Lola Wise. This case was from Sandy Ridge. Defendant pleaded guilty and the usual sentence in such cases was imposed.

Commonwealth vs. John Dullen. Indicted for manufacturing and being in possession of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Prosecutrix, Leo Boden, county detective. This case is from Marion township. Defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $50 and put under probation for a period of one year.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Irvin, indicted for possession of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Prosecutrix, Leo Boden. This case is from Philipsburg. Defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $500 fine and imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 9 months nor more than a year and a half.

Commonwealth vs. Paul Waite, indicted for assault and battery. Prosecutrix, Anna D. Waite, his wife. This case was from Spring township and the defendant pleaded guilty. Private counsel for the Commonwealth suggested that the case be changed from assault and battery to a charge of desertion and non-support, and an order made for the support of the wife and children, which was granted, and the Court ordered the defendant to pay the costs of prosecution, $25 per month for the support of his wife and children and go under probation for a period of one year.

Late Monday afternoon a jury was drawn in the case of John H. Detwiler vs. R. H. Shook, an appeal. The action was brought to recover an alleged balance due on the purchase price of a cow which the defendant bought back in 1918. After hearing the evidence pro and con the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Commonwealth vs. Lloyd Ripka, indicted for a statutory offense. Prosecutrix, Berenice Ripka. Defendant pleaded guilty and was given the usual sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Harry Kimmell, William Minnick and Harold Wagner, indicted for the larceny of a deer. Prosecutrix, John E. Bubb. The defendants are from Cressona, Schuylkill county, and the prosecutrix from Potter township. The case dates back to the deer hunting season last December, when Mr. Bubb claimed the defendants stole his deer and took it home with them. According to Mr. Bubb he shot a doe on December 3rd, giving as identification records that it was shot on the top of the skull and through the left front shoulder. He took the deer to a cabin occupied by the Schuylkill county hunters and asked permission to park the carcass outside the cabin, which was granted. He also made the request that if the party left the mountains before he came for his deer they put it into the cabin. When Bubb returned for his deer it was gone and so were the hunters. Inquiry revealed the fact that they had left camp the same evening he had left his deer at the cabin, and that they had taken two deer with them. The men were followed to Cressona, where it is claimed, a deer was found which bore similar shot marks as the one claimed by Bubb.

After hearing all the evidence in the above case the jury returned a verdict of guilty, but attorneys for the defendants promptly made a motion for a new trial, which will be argued in due time.

Commonwealth vs. Ernest Long, of Centre township, indicted for selling intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Prosecutrix, Leo Boden, county detective. The alleged sale was made by the wife, and the Commonwealth could not show that the husband was about, the court instructed the jury to find the defendant not guilty but dispose of the costs. The court also ordered the Commonwealth to proceed after the wife of Mr. Long. The jury returned a verdict according to the instructions, of not guilty, but the defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. John Burns and

Ernest Long, indicted for transporting liquor for beverage purposes. Prosecutrix, Leo Boden, county detective. The liquor was transported in the car of John Burns but admittedly placed there by Ernest Long. The defendants plead guilty and the court sentenced Burns to pay the costs of prosecution, fine of $100 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of four months, and sentenced Long to pay the costs of prosecution, fine of $200 and undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county work house for a period of not less than six months nor more than one year.

Commonwealth vs. William Manchester, of Bellefonte, indicted for false pretense in two cases. The prosecutrix in the first case was W. H. Montgomery and in the second case J. A. Harter. The defendant pleaded guilty. In the first case the court sentenced defendant to pay the costs of prosecution, fine of $1.00 and not less than one nor more than two years in the penitentiary; and in the second case a like sentence was imposed, the second sentence to begin at the end of the first sentence.

Commonwealth vs. William Matz, of Taylor township, indicted for selling intoxicating liquor. Prosecutrix, Alfred E. Verbecker. The prosecution was brought on the allegation of a Mr. Phillips that he had purchased a gallon jug of whiskey from Matz in December. The latter not only denied the charge but proved by competent witnesses that he was not at home on the day of the alleged sale. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty but pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Samuel Judy, of State College, indicted for the larceny of a pig from the pen of John C. Homan. The evidence was purely circumstantial and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

GAME REPORTED SCARCE IN SEVEN MOUNTAINS.

Not a report has reached this office, this winter, from farmers living along the foot-hills of the Seven mountains of depredations by deer on their farm lands. In previous years the deer came out of the mountains by the dozen and pawed up grain fields and made so bold as to invade barnyards in search of feed. This was accounted for because of the fact that natural food was reported scarce in the mountains.

Last fall there was an abundance of feed in the mountains but this is no reason why there shouldn't be some evidence of deer in the foothills. Last week a Bellefonte man accompanied a local game warden on a trip of five miles or more through the Seven mountains, going in at Walter Gherittys and passing through some of the best deer territory, and the only trail discovered since the fall of snow almost a month ago was one believed made by a doe and fawn. Aside from this trail the surface of the snow was unbroken by deer tracks in the entire stretch of their travel.

The warden some time previous had put out corn and small grain as feed for birds, etc., and a visit to those places showed that the feed was still there, with no evidence of it having been touched by any kind of game. The same condition prevails, it is reported, in other sections of the mountains.

Such being the case the question naturally arises what has become of all the deer reported by game wardens as being so plentiful in the Seven mountains last fall? While no accurate statement was ever given out by game wardens or the State Game Commission as to the number of deer killed in Centre county last fall, it is estimated by hunters that the number was probably in excess of six thousand. Before the season opened, however, game wardens claimed that there were fully twenty-five to thirty thousand deer in the mountains, and if this estimate were anywhere near correct the kill of last fall should not have affected the herd to such a degree that no evidence of deer in great numbers can be found now.

Col. Wilbur F. Leitzell Promoted As A Prohibition Officer.

Col. Wilbur F. Leitzell, of State College, but who during the past year has been located in Philadelphia as a deputy prohibition administrator, was given a promotion, last Friday to acting assistant prohibition administrator in charge of the middle prohibition district of Pennsylvania. The appointment was made by Col. Samuel O. Wynne, prohibition administrator.

Col. Leitzell succeeds Col. E. R. Wilson as enforcement officer for the middle district, which comprises thirty-two counties. Col. Wilson having been transferred to Porto Rico. The appointment of Col. Leitzell was made because of his familiarity with the district. In anticipation of his appointment he resigned a week previous as a member of the staff of Major General William G. Price, division machine gun officer of the Pennsylvania National Guard. Col. Leitzell's headquarters will be at Lewisburg, which will be nearer his home at State College.

THE Y. BANQUETS DADS AND SONS SUCCESSFULLY.

Just two hundred and ten fathers and sons sat down to a banquet in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, Tuesday evening. It was the largest and most delightful affair of the sort carried through by the Association.

The food and service was planned and in charge of the ladies' auxiliary and the excellence of it and the deftness with which the many guests were served left no doubt as to the thoroughness with which the ladies had organized for the unusual undertaking. Considering the handicaps under which they worked, the lack of kitchen facilities for handling so many people and other inconveniences certainly it must have been the inspiration of the cause in which they worked that carried them to such successful achievement.

During the meal, with Cecil Walker as director and Miss Freda Edmiston at the piano, there was mass singing of topical songs set to popular music. It quickly changed the threatened stiltedness of the affair into one of community of spirit. Dads were sons again and sons were just themselves—and what could have been finer. And when that High school quartet got up to show what it could do—gosh, we were living back in the 90's and ready to go out and harmonize on every street corner in Bellefonte. Of course the Kiwanis quartet was better from an artistic standpoint but the kick comes when the boys do it for the pure love of letting something out that they haven't fully realized is in their souls.

J. Kennedy Johnston, president of the Association, introduced the toastmaster, Rev. Homer C. Knox, who spoke briefly before announcing that Henry Bullock would offer the toast to "Our Dads." He was followed by Rev. Robert Thoma, who proposed a toast to "Our Sons." Then general secretary Heineman and his assistant Mr. Singer, spoke on the Y. work and the speaker of the evening, Prof. J. H. Frizell, of State College, was introduced.

Prof. Frizell was in fine form and rose to the occasion with a splendid talk on the ideal relationship of father and son. It was a very serious sermon in a cleverly lightened vein and we think left a deep impression on both the fathers and their sons.

Big Boxing Bout in Local Armory Tomorrow Evening.

The Bellefonte Academy boxing team will put on their third home bout of the season, in the local armory tomorrow (Saturday) evening, with the Freshman team of the University of Pennsylvania. The bout will not begin until 9:30 o'clock, which will enable business men and their employees to attend. The price of admission will be one dollar to all, no preferred seats.

The Academy boxers have won both bouts put on in Bellefonte, and while the University Freshmen are reported as being quite handy with their fists, the locals feel that they are a match for them. But whether they win or lose it is sure to be a contest worth seeing.

Mr. Hughes has announced that no small boys will be admitted without paying the full price of admission. The principle reason for this decision is the damage done to the boxing platform by unknown small boys. According to reports the boys have been forcing an entrance into the armory and doing considerable damage, not only to the boxing platform but to the building, and Mr. Hughes is taking this means of protecting his own property, at least.

Keystone Division Wins West Penn Power Load Building Contest.

Word came today to the Keystone division office of the West Penn Power company that the local division is the winner of the 1928 employees load building contest. Congratulations are being extended to Kemp G. Fuller, division manager, and his men on their success in the campaign just closed, which placed the Keystone division at the head of the list of awards. Prize money in the amount of $900.00 will be divided among Keystone division employees in recognition of their efforts.

That Keystone's victory was made possible by team play is indicated by the fact that the individual high point scorer for the division gathered a total lower than that of the leader in any other section of the company's territory.

The leaders in the Keystone division were: Vincent Stevens, Bellefonte; Dolores Robinson, Ridgway; Ruth McKenna, Kane; L. M. Neubert, Ridgway; Paul Immel, Bellefonte.

Odd Fellows to Meet at Lewisburg.

For the third time in the history of the Central Pennsylvania Odd Fellows' Association they will hold their annual meeting at Lewisburg on Friday, April 26th. It will be the 45th annual meeting. The association includes all the lodges in seventeen counties in the central portion of the State. Two of the annual meetings have been held in Bellefonte, but it has been some years since they met here last.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. Frank Naginey went to Atlantic City, Wednesday, to spend the month of March at the shore, expecting to be a guest at the Jefferson hotel during her stay.

Mrs. Hartwick, of the Hartwick Beauty parlors, will go to New York Sunday, to spend a week attending the hair dressers convention, to be in session there next week.

The Misses Jennie, Mary and Sara Valentine, of Chestnut Hill, daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Valentine, and former residents of Bellefonte will sail in March to spend the summer abroad.

Fred Weber, expert cabinet maker of Boalsburg, spent Tuesday night with his son John in this place. He was on his way home from Williamsport to which city he had gone to receive treatment at the hands of a specialist.

Mrs. Robert DeGolyer was with her mother, Mrs. Louise V. Harris, for the afternoon of last week, having stopped in Bellefonte enroute home to Evanston, Ill., from Baltimore, where she had been for an alumni meeting at Goucher college.

Miss Elizabeth Cooney is in New York, having gone over Wednesday, to attend some of the early spring millinery openings and do the season's buying for the Hat Shop. The Shop, while she is away, will be in charge of her sister, Miss Stella Cooney.

Mrs. Thomas Beaver and her daughter part of last week, having stopped in part of the month of March with Mrs. Beaver's sister, Mrs. Amy Prince Potter, at Pittsburgh and with her mother and sister, Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Spengler, at Cleveland.

Mrs. Elsie Rankin Helliwell, who has been here from Atlantic City for two weeks, came to Bellefonte to be with her father and sister, Wm B. Rankin and Miss Mary, during the absence of her sister, Mrs. Preston Lytle. Mrs. Lytle is at State College with Mr. Lytle and Mrs. Helliwell has planned to be in Bellefonte indefinitely.

A. R. McNitt left, Saturday, for Florida, to spend two weeks or more with his sisters at Miami, where they have lived for several years. Since leaving Milroy, the McNitt family have all identified themselves with Florida, expecting to make that their permanent home. Cummings McNitt is at present a guest of Lawrence McMullen at his home at Hecla.

John W. Miller, of Ferguson township, was in town last Saturday and when our curiosity got the better of us so far as to ask him what brought him down he said he hadn't much to do at home, so just ran down to have a look in at court. John said that the farmers up in his neighborhood were about all hauling water, but we presume they have been out of that job since Monday's thaw and the heavy rain that fell most of Monday night.

Mrs. C. D. Tanner, Mrs. J. K. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Tanner and their two children, of Bellefonte, Mrs. John Foreman, of Howard, and Mrs. Howard Orwig, of State College, drove to Linden a week ago, for a Johnston family party at the home of Mrs. John Brooks as a celebration of Mrs. Tanner's and Mrs. Johnston's birthday anniversary. The dinner having been prepared and taken with them, the party was given as a surprise to Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Foreman, Mrs. Orwig and Mrs. Brooks are sisters.

Mrs. O. C. Campbell came in from Barnesboro, last week, for an indefinite stay here with ill relatives but returned home Tuesday, called back by the condition of her son, who is recovering from an attack of influenza. Mrs. Campbell spent the time while here, with her sister, Mrs. John Lambert, whose daughter, Miss Marie, is ill, with her uncle, Henry Tibbens, who has been in a serious condition for several weeks, and with her mother, Mrs. Potter Tate, who died, Thursday, at her home at Pleasant Gap.

Mrs. Willard Strunk of the Nittany "Tea Room" and her niece, Miss Rhoda Strunk, of Clintonale, who is visiting with her uncle and aunt at the Nittany hotel, drove up to Bellefonte, Tuesday, to spend a part of the morning with the dentist. Upon seeing our plight, as a result of the high water, Mrs. Strunk remarked that we had nothing on her, that she had been obliged to wade through water to her knees, in her cellar before leaving, to get her fishing boots, that she might rescue the food stored in that part of the house.

Newton E. Hess, of State College, was in Bellefonte, Saturday, calling on a few of his friends and looking after some business matters. He is the county's real big game hunter, but he is fearful that his days on the chase are over because of a little "kink" in one of his knees that seems to baffle the skill of all the experts he goes to. He has visited surgeons, osteopaths, and chiropractors, all to no avail. Apparently the knee is just as good as it ever was, but without any preliminary warning, it just gives way and Mr. Hess has great difficulty in using it for some hours afterward. While here he showed us the reports of last season's Alaskan hunts sent out by the government up there and we noticed that no one got a brown kadiak bear any larger than his largest, which measured ten feet from tip to tip.

During the course of a little chat, Wednesday morning, with Gilbert F. Noll, the hustling painting and decorating big game hunter, we learned that he was flying rather high on Wednesday last week. Capt. Donald Stuart, an attaché of the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., was here having a look at the radio experimental work that is being carried on at the Bellefonte airdrome. The extremely cold weather at the time cracked the starter on Col. Stuart's cabin plane and as the party with him could not wait here until repair parts came in they left by train. The Colonel then invited Gilbert to fly with him to Washington. The distance, by air, is 142 miles, and they made it in 82 minutes. Gilbert said they had a fine trip. The highest altitude they reached was 5000 feet at which point the temperature was 20 degrees below zero. So far as flying was concerned it was nothing new to Gilbert, for ten years ago he flew to Cleveland with "Slim" Lewis, perhaps the most popular pilot ever located in Bellefonte. Eighty-two minutes to Washington by air and twelve hours back by rail is some contrast.

Mrs. Charles T. Noll, of Howard St., has been in Kittanning for two weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Glenn Schnars.

Jane Miller, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Spring street, is visiting with friends in New York City.

Mrs. E. E. Sager, of Bellefonte and Philadelphia, is a surgical patient in the Samaritan hospital, in Philadelphia, entering there Monday, for a foot operation.

Miss May Crider is home from Philadelphia, where she had been with her sister, Miss Emily, who is a patient in the Jefferson hospital, convalescing from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays Mattern Jr., had as over Sunday guests, at their apartment in the Hart house on Spring street, Mr. Mattern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Mattern, of Tyrone.

Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth will attend the inauguration next week, with Mr. Dorworth, as a member of Governor Fisher's party, which has its reservations at the New Willard hotel.

Mrs. Paul L. Coates, of Parkersburg, Pa., and her daughter, Eleanor Frances, arrived in Bellefonte, Saturday, expecting to be with Mrs. Coates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGinley, for several weeks.

Miss Helen Boyle, a junior at State, and Joseph Fisher, of Erie, who was graduated at the recent mid-year commencement, spent Wednesday evening with Miss Boyle's grandmother, Mrs. C. D. Tanner, in this place.

Mrs. Frank Warfield, who is slowly convalescing from her recent attack of the "flu" went to Philadelphia Monday, where she will be with her cousin, Mrs. Phoebe Harris for several weeks, hoping by that time, to have fully recovered.

Those from out-of-town, here for the funeral of Harry E. Beck, whose body was brought to Bellefonte from Moores, Pa., Wednesday, for burial included Mrs. Beck and their two children, Maxine and Edward, the latter from Wilkinsburg; Mrs. Beck's mother, Mrs. H. A. McKee, who had been with her daughter at Moores for several weeks, Harry McKee an instructor at Carnegie Tech; Mary McKee Shull, all of Wilkinsburg; Lyman Beck, of Moores, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beck, of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beck, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Harry Love and her daughter Sue, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Nellie Segner and her two daughters, of Tyrone.

Cathaum Treats Soon to Show Sound and Talking Pictures.

After weeks of preparation for the installation of the very latest and best sound reproduction equipment that it is possible to obtain, the Cathaum theatre, State College, has now reached the point where a very short while will see the completion of the installation. The opening of sound and talking programs may be expected in the very near future and patrons of the Cathaum are eagerly awaiting the opening announcement.

The perfect co-ordination of sight and sound in motion pictures has created a new era in entertainment. A sensation in the large cities for some months past, its magical qualities will soon bring a new thrill to those of us who are far removed from the more populous centers. Feature photoplays will be shown with complete musical accompaniment, many will have the added charm of singing and dialogue, and still others will be entirely in dialogue. Novelty acts and playlets, and the famous sound newsreel will add variety to the programs that you will both see and hear at the Cathaum. Patrons are urged to watch for the opening announcement.

Hayes-Reiley.—A wedding of interest to Bellefonte people was that of John Hoffer Hayes, youngest son of Mrs. R. G. Hayes, of Bellefonte, and Miss Ruth Reiley, of Pittsburgh, which took place at 5:30 o'clock last evening, at the home of the bride's uncle, Rev. Edward Reiley, at Wallingford, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Reiley, and owing to the illness of the bride's mother the wedding was a very quiet affair. There were no attendants and the only guests were members of the Hayes family. The young couple will make their home in New York, where the bridegroom is located as an insurance adjuster.
