

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., March 22, 1929.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Watchman's always complete report of the regular meeting of borough council, and an interesting baseball article will be found on page 3 this week.

Sucker fishermen have made their appearance along the streams of Centre county and according to reports some fair catches of nice suckers are being made.

Rev. A. L. Miller, pastor of the Methodist church at Lewistown, and a resident of Bellefonte before he entered the ministry, spoke to the Methodist Brotherhood in this place last night.

We have a copy of Linn's History of Centre county for sale. It is in very good condition and as these histories are hard to get we will be glad to consider any offers made for this one.

The condition of Harry Hutchinson, which was regarded as quite serious following a heart attack a week ago, is now slowly improving. Mr. Hutchinson, however, is confined to bed, at his home on Howard street.

One thing is certain, this year, and that is the Bellefonte High school basketball team is not worrying about winning first honors in the interscholastic league. They are far enough behind to be out of the worrying class.

The big plate glass windows have been placed in position in the new portion of the Bush house lobby and painters and decorators are now at work on the interior. In another week or two the place will be finished and furnished.

Miss Lydia Jackson, of Bellefonte, and Miss Emeigh, of Phillipsburg, have been accepted as guests at the Episcopal home for women at Shippensburg, Pa. Just when the ladies mentioned will go to the home has not been decided.

Mrs. W. I. Fleming, who has been a patient in the Centre County hospital since Wednesday, is regarded as critically ill. Mrs. Fleming was taken suddenly ill on Monday evening, and her condition until yesterday had remained unchanged.

Yesterday was the first day of spring, but don't become overly optimistic. The big snow storm, last year, which did many thousands of dollars damage, fell on April 27th and 28th, and for one week Bellefonte was isolated from the rest of the world.

We recommend "The Barker," which is to be shown at the Cathaum theatre, State College, Monday and Tuesday nights. It will be as fine entertainment as were "The Wolf of Wall St" and "In Old Arizona" and no one could reasonably demand anything better than they were.

Wild geese are on the way to their nesting place in the northlands, and from the amount of honking heard about two o'clock on Tuesday morning quite a flock of them must have passed over Bellefonte at that hour. Or it is just possible the geese were attracted by the street lights and circled over the town several times before continuing on their way.

The largest public sale held in Centre county for almost a quarter of a century was that of Harry Lutz, a short distance east of Bellefonte, on Wednesday. Several thousand people were in attendance and the sale amounted to $11,055. One team of horses brought $580 and one cow $220. Mr. Lutz is retiring from the farm which will be occupied by Boyd Sampsel.

Owing to the fact that thirty-three cases of scarlet fever have been reported in State College by the board of health of that town, the board is requiring all farmers selling milk in State College to have the milk thoroughly tested for bacteria. All milk trucks are required to display the dealer's license where it can readily be seen by patrons and the public at large.

A meeting will be held in the grand jury room, in the court house, at 7:30 o'clock on Monday evening, April 1st, to perfect the organization of a Centre county soccer league. At that time the rules for the league will be presented for adoption and other important business will be presented for consideration. Every one interested in the organization of the league should be at the meeting.

At Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Runkle's five hundred party of four tables, which they entertained at their home on north Spring street last night, the guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Houser, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Royer, Mr. and Mrs. William Smeltzer, Mr. and Mrs. George Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. John Garbrick, Miss Verna Smith and Miss Sadie Schaeffer.

The ladies of St. Mary's church, Snow Shoe, are planning for many after-Lenten social gayeties and intend starting them off with a grand ball on Wednesday evening, April 3. They expect to have "The Royal Five" orchestra for the dance and as it made a great hit on the occasion of its last appearance there the local boys will play an entirely new program of dance music. They are out to please.

BAND MASTER WETZLER SURPRISED BY "OUR BOYS."

When enticed to the Bush house in this place, Monday evening, Frank L. Wetzler, gentleman and band master of Milesburg, was so over-whelmed with the sight that greeted him that he broke down completely. It was enough to move any strong heart, for there were forty of the men whom, as youths, he had gathered together on St. Patrick's day, 1913, and started on the way of becoming "Our Boys Band," one of the notable musical organizations of this section fifteen years ago.

The whole affair had been planned so carefully that Mr. Wetzler hadn't a thought of the tribute that was being paid him until he was led into the dining room where the daintily laid tables hinted as to what was to follow.

Dallas Bullock acted as toastmaster for the testimonial dinner and before "Our Boys" were seated asked all to bow the head for a moment in silent tribute to the memory of Lester McClellan, Quay McKinley, George Johnson, Leroy Barnhart and Gilbert Newman, the quintet of bandmen and pals, who will never respond to the baton of their earthly director again.

The dinner was a sumptuous affair, but it was the contact of "Our Boys" with one another that made it an event long to be remembered. There were no set speeches, but everyone gave testimony packed with expression of loyalty and gratitude for the impress the gentlemen they were honoring has made on their lives. The talk of Henry Schalles, president of the First National bank of Bellefonte, long time friend of Mr. Wetzler, on "Wetzler, the man," was a fine tribute to the character of the guest of honor.

While the dinner was arranged for by the members of "Our Boys" band some of the guests were of older organizations in Milesburg when Mr. Wetzler, himself, was only a solo cornet player. They were Harry Meyer, of Bellefonte, of the 1884 organization and Lane Boggs, of Pittsburg, and Tom Campbell, of Renovo, all great musicians in the fine band that Milesburg had in 1895.

The others present were: Edgar Wagner, Malcolm Wetzler, Milford Dunkle, Roland Byran, Dick Stanley, Walter Hugg, George, James and Chas. Sheckler, Bryson Baird, Wayne Bryan, John Dyke, George Newman, Russell Miles, Enoch Smith, Robert Barnhart, Harry and Willis McClellan, Hardman Gray, Leonard R. Glenn, Malcolm Zimmerman, Norman Shawley, Lewis Wetzler, all of Milesburg, Samuel Waite, Ray Johnson, Cameron McKinley and Donald Klinger, of Bellefonte; Dallas Bullock, of State College; Earl and Charles Stanley, of Tyrone; Gray McKinley, of Pittsburg; Andrew Boggs, of Phillipsburg; Earl Cartwright, of Howard; Hayes Pletcher and his three sons, Eldred, Calvin and Allen, of Eagleville, all of whom were members of "Our Boys." Elmer Rockey, of Bellefonte, was specially invited because he was the bus driver the boys all preferred when they went on trips.

It is just possible that the dinner might result in a temporary reorganization of the band. It was suggested that they get together some time soon for a long enough time for proper rehearsals and then give a concert to further the cause of a memorial band hall in Milesburg.

LADIES NIGHT AT KIWANIS MEETING.

John Bullock had charge of the ladies' night program of the Bellefonte Kiwanis club, on Tuesday night. The program consisted of several selections by the Kiwanis quartet and octet. Irvin Martin also entertained with his musical saw and vocal selections.

Dr. Carroll D. Champlin, of the department of education and psychology at the Pennsylvania State College, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Extra Dividends."

Dr. Champlin first discussed several classes of investments which pay dividends. Among them are investments in money, time, health, and study. He then discussed the dividends of life which these investments pay. They are as follows: (1) money, (2) friendships, (3) physical vigor, (4) mental ability, (5) vocational and professional skill, (6) recreation, and (7) self-realization. The last mentioned is the greatest of all. The doctor then mentioned men whose lives are now paying large dividends because of wise investments made along these lines.

The lucky ladies to receive prizes were Mrs. Mary A. Walker, Mrs. Frieda Kerlin, Mrs. Bertha Runkle, Mrs. Frank Hockman, Mrs. H. H. Murtorf, Mrs. Julia E. Baney, Mrs. F. M. Crawford.

A story reached this office from the western end of the county, last week, that while stock and farm machinery at public sales were bringing good prices there was little cash in evidence; so little, in fact, that there is hardly enough to settle with the auctioneer and clerk, and that banks are not discounting the notes. Inquiry at the Bellefonte banks revealed the fact that they are discounting sales notes, as usual, and regard them as some of their best and most profitable business. Other banks are probably doing the same.

THE RIPKA BROTHERS PAROLED FROM JAIL.

In open court, on Saturday morning, Judge Fleming granted a parole to D. E. Ripka and Elias W. Ripka, of Spring Mills, who had served the minimum sentence of one to two years imposed on them in February, 1928, after they plead guilty to the charge of stealing the automobiles of J. H. Rishel, at Spring Mills, and I. I. Thompson, of Stormstown. The automobiles were stolen early in November, 1927, the Rishel car being found at Jersey Shore several weeks later. The Thompson car was also recovered. When they entered pleas of guilty the two men were sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, one hundred dollars fine each, and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one year nor more than two.

In their application for parole, on Saturday, the men were represented by W. D. Zerby Esq., who told the court that all the costs and fines have been paid and that the men had been model prisoners. In granting the parole the court told the men that while they will be released from jail they are still subject to any restrictions the parole officer may see fit to impose and will be until the expiration of the term of their maximum sentence. He also told them that they are under a moral obligation to make good any damage the men from whom they stole the cars may have suffered.

ACADEMY BOXERS WIN LAST MEET OF SEASON.

The Bellefonte Academy boxing team won their final meet of the season, last Friday evening, by defeating the Bucknell University Freshmen 7 to 1. Every event was hotly contested but the Academy boxers were a little too clever with their fists for their opponents.

During the season the Academy team engaged in five meets, winning four of them and losing one, that with Cook Academy, at Monroe Falls, N. Y. But later they defeated the same team here. During the season the Academy scored a total of 24 points to 11 against them. The summary of last Friday night's events was as follows:

115 pounds class—Won by Terpolli Bucknell, over Calders, Academy.
125 pounds class—Won by Buckley, Academy over Smith, Bucknell.
135 pound class—Won by Buckley, Academy, over Cleoro, Bucknell.
145 pound class—Won by Duncan, Academy, over Appleby, Bucknell.
155 pound class—Won by Bucknell, Academy, over Gindetti, Bucknell.
160 pound class—Won by Brown, Academy, over Klapp, Bucknell.
175 pound class—Won by Temple, Academy, over Egel, Bucknell.
Unlimited class—Won by Sample, Academy, over Hoak, Bucknell.
Referee—Ginsburg, State College. Judges, Ward, of Bellefonte, and Maders, State College.

Methodist Conference Changes.

After selecting the Fifth street church, Harrisburg, as the place for holding the annual conference in 1930 the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist church adjourned at Clearfield, on Monday afternoon, with the announcement of the appointments by Bishop McDowell. The changes in pastorate this year were just about normal. Rev. Homer C. Knox was returned to the Bellefonte church for his fifth year and other changes in Centre county are as follows:

Halfmoon—Charles E. Fuller. Milesburg and Unionville—M. H. Crawford.

Sandy Ridge—Robert D. Martin. Port Matilda—J. F. Winkleblech. Salona and Lamar—John A. Hoover.

Snow Shoe—William E. Ruth. State College—A. L. Bixler.

Rev. J. B. Stein, who was returned to the active ministry, was assigned to Saxton. H. W. Hartsock was to the First church, Tyrone, from Mount Union. J. Victor Royer was transferred from Woolrich to Catawissa avenue, Sunbury. Rev. R. W. Faus goes from Port Matilda to Lakemont. Rev. R. R. Lehman, who had been on the Milesburg charge, was transferred to Northumberland.

Deceased Minister's Brief Will.

A letter addressed to his daughter and found among his personal effects, has been probated at Sunbury as the last will and testament of the late Rev. E. H. Yocum, of Northumberland. In the letter the deceased minister directs that "after all bills are paid his estate be divided into three bits." The only heirs are his daughter, Mrs. C. W. Rice, of Northumberland, and two sons, Geo. C. and John Paul Yocum.

In order to handle the freight business from the big hydrating plant of the American Lime and Stone company, without blocking the Y at the round house, the Pennsylvania Railroad company is building a new track from the plant south of the Y and engine house to connect with the siding at the plant of the Sheffield Farms company. Heretofore all the shifting of cars, in and out from the plant, has been done over the Y with the result that it interfered considerably with the turning of engines, and it is to overcome this interference that the new track is being built.

UNDINES CELEBRATE ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Following their long established custom the members of the Undine Engine company assembled in their home on Bishop street, Monday night, to enjoy their thirty-first annual St. Patrick's day banquet. The date for these annual affairs commemorates the dedication of their substantial engine house which occurred March 17, 1898.

All of the apparatus had been removed from the main floor and it was wonderfully festooned with drapes symbolic of the day. Covers were laid for 200 and every place was taken when caterer John Marks and his Undine assistants started serving the delicious repast. When the last course had been disposed of chief George Carpeneto, of the Undine Co., called the banqueters to order and in a happy introductory speech presented State Fire Marshal William J. Morgan, of Harrisburg. The distinguished guest spoke at length on the problems of volunteer firemen. He was followed by Father William E. Downes, Secretary Charles E. Dorworth, Burgess Hardman P. Harris, Roy Wilkinson, town fire marshal John J. Bower Esq., Ogden B. Malin, chief of the Logan Co., District Atty. John G. Love and others. All of the talks were of a congratulatory character and freighted with well deserved praise of the efficiency of the local fire department.

Sheckler's orchestra furnished the music and Irvin Martin contributed songs and musical saw numbers. As the evening advanced so did the spirit of the event and it was late in the night before the last of the good stories had been told and the orchestra grew too tired to play for any more amateur dancing exhibitions. It was a grand affair.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY BOX CAR.

Thomas Fye and James Emel, living down near the Red Roost, were arrested, on Tuesday, by chief of police Harry Dukeman and railroad officer Fred Giles, of Tyrone, on the charge of robbing a box car, as it stood in the Bellefonte yard, of merchandise valued at from four to five hundred dollars.

The robbery happened on or about February 17th, and for some time railroad officials were uncertain whether it took place here or in Philadelphia. After considerable work they finally became convinced that the theft took place in Bellefonte and officers Giles and Wiley came here a week ago to pursue the investigation. With the aid of policeman Dukeman they traced the robbery to Fye and Emel. The fact that some of the stolen stuff was found in their possession is taken as evidence that they are guilty.

Included in the stolen merchandise were about $250 worth of ladies silk underwear, cigars and cigarettes, macaroni, canned soups and vegetables, crackers, honey and a number of other things. As over a month has passed since the robbery much of the stuff had been disposed of.

"THE BARKER" COMING TO CATHAUM NEXT WEEK.

"The Barker," a thrilling talking and sound picture made from the famous stage play of the same name by Kenyon Nicholson, will be the attraction at the Cathaum theatre, State College, on Monday and Tuesday of next week. There will be a matinee daily starting at one-thirty and you will not miss any of the afternoon program if you arrive before three o'clock. The evening showing begins at six.

"The Barker" is the greatest portrayal of carnival life that has ever been brought to the screen and it has done record-breaking business during its run in New York at regular theatre prices. Milton Sills has the title role and you will hear him talk for the first time in the finest characterization he has ever done. You will also hear Dorothy Mackall, who is co-starred, and Betty Compton and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who head the supporting cast. You'll hear the noise and excitement of a traveling tent show. You'll see a wonderful love story lived before your eyes—in fact three different love stories—in this famous First National Vitaphone production.

"The Crucifixion" to be Sung Good Friday Evening.

At St. John's Episcopal church on good Friday evening, Satner's "Crucifixion" will be sung by an augmented choir of thirty-five voices. The soloists will be Mrs. Egil Risan, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Louis Schad, Mr. Cecil Walker, Mr. Russell Blair, Mr. Charles Bullock and Mr. John Emel.

To attend this sacred service is a most fitting climax to the Lenten season and a greater realization of the suffering and death upon the cross of our blessed Christ. Service starts at 7:45.

The very successful evangelistic services which have been held in the United Brethren church for the past six weeks, will be concluded with the coming Sunday evening service. Fifteen have already been taken into the church, and it is expected a second and much larger class will join on Easter Sunday.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. John Sebring is at Danville, a patient in the Geisinger hospital.

Miss M. H. Snyder, who has been in New York on a spring buying trip, will return this week.

N. A. Staples, State highway division engineer in Philadelphia, was a Bellefonte visitor over Sunday.

Mrs. Hiram M. Hiller came up from Germantown, Wednesday, for a visit in Bellefonte, as a house guest of Mrs. W. F. Reynolds.

Frederick Reynolds, who had been in Florida for a month, returned home the after part of last week much benefitted by his trip south.

Judge M. Ward Fleming is in Pittsburgh, this week, holding court, expecting to be there two weeks. He is then scheduled to go to Philadelphia for one week.

Miss Lucy Potter is visiting with Mrs. A. Wilson Norris at the Penn-Harris in Harrisburg, having stopped there enroute home from Atlantic City, where she had been since February.

Mrs. E. O. Struble has been in Reading, this week, attending the annual convention of the Royal Neighbors of America, as a delegate from the Bellefonte chapter, in which she fills the office of orator.

Mrs. Mollie L. Valentine will return to Bellefonte, Monday, from a six weeks stay in Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and will go directly to Mrs. E. H. Richard's, whose guest she will be for a week or more.

Mrs. Thomas W. Shoemaker, of Bellefonte; Mrs. H. H. Curtin, of Curtin; Mrs. John Sholl and Miss Rose Haupt, of Milesburg, went up to Hollidaysburg, on Saturday, to attend the funeral of the late Gregg Brotherlin Esq.

Mrs. James B. Lane returned from McKeesport, Sunday, where she had been visiting with her son Richard and the family. Mr. Lane brought his mother home in the car, remaining here but for a short time, before making the return trip.

Inasmuch as the young ladies at Fairfax Hall, Va., will have no Easter vacation Mrs. Charles R. Kurtz, with her son Frederic, will motor down to the school next week to spend a day or so with Miss Lois Kurtz who is in her first year there.

Mrs. W. B. Meek-Morris, who is now at her former home on west High street, motored in from Pittsburgh, Wednesday, for a visit in Bellefonte. Her son, King Morris, will spend the week-end with fraternity friends at State College, joining his mother here Saturday.

Mrs. S. Harvey Griffith is thought to be slowly recovering from her winter's illness. For a part of the time Mrs. Griffith was a patient in the Cooper hospital, of Camden, N. J., but is now with her daughter, Mrs. Green, of Camden, with whom she spends much of her time.

Mrs. Robert Morris left, yesterday, for Birmingham, S. C., to spend Easter with her sister, Mrs. Robinson, whose winter home has been there for many years. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Morris always spend a part of the summer together, at their former home at Kennebunk Port, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. William Katz and the latter's sister, Miss Freda Baum, have left Bellefonte to make their home at Ventnor, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Katz vacated the apartment they had occupied in the Heverly building ten days ago, leaving them to drive to their new home at the shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thal drove to Potters Mills, Tuesday, for their weekly visit with Mrs. Thal's mother, Mrs. Hess. It has always been a custom of Mrs. Thal to spend a day each week with her mother, while Mr. Thal takes her over, returning in the evening to bring her home.

Hugh M. Quigley went over to New York Tuesday night, to join Mrs. Quigley at the home of her brother, Samuel H. Reynolds Jr., expecting to accompany her home tonight. Mrs. Quigley has been spending two weeks at her former home in Lancaster, and with her brother in New York.

Mrs. Henry Williams, of Beech Creek who is a guest of Mrs. George Williams and her daughter, Miss Helene, will be in Bellefonte for an indefinite time. Miss Williams' sister, Miss Eulalia, has also been a visitor at the Williams home, having come here from Brooklyn, Friday of last week, remaining with her mother and sister until Wednesday.

Clarence Hamilton returned to Bellefonte last week, called home by illness of his uncle, T. B. Hamilton, who has now entirely recovered from the heart attack suffered last Tuesday. Mr. Hamilton had been on a six week's trip to his former home in New York, Atlantic City, Baltimore and Washington, visiting at the latter place at the time of the inauguration.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Linn Blackford, with Miss Bernice Crouse as a driving guest, motored over from Huntingdon, Sunday, remaining here for an overnight visit. During their stay Mr. and Mrs. Blackford were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Garthoff, while Miss Crouse, who has charge of the organ in Mr. Blackford's theatre, was a house guest of Mrs. T. Clayton Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen S. Garman, of Tyrone, Mrs. Garman's mother, Mrs. Piper, and Mr. Garman's two sisters, Mrs. Maitland, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Crouse, of Bellefonte, who have been at Miami, Florida, since Christmas, will leave Monday for the drive north. A part of next week will be spent at Tampa and St. Petersburg enroute home, which will lengthen the time for their arrival in Bellefonte.

Mrs. M. W. Swabb, coronor of Cambria county, was a visitor to Bellefonte, over Sunday, a guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ebon Bower and Mr. Bower, at their home on Howard street. Mrs. Bower's sister, Mrs. Burd, who had been in Bellefonte since Christmas, left here Sunday to go to New York, on a buying trip for her millinery shop in Millheim, intending to go directly back home, to hold her first showing of spring hats to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Harvey, of State College, were in Bellefonte for a little while Wednesday afternoon. They were driving guests of the Hafer Garage for which Frank Holmes was demonstrating a new Buick sedan. We don't know whether Irvin is in the market for a new car or not, but if the motor salesman have doped out that he is a prospect he might as well throw up his hands and buy one. He'll have to do it as a matter of self defense, sooner or later, anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoy were in from Wilkesburg, for one of their frequent week-end visits with Mr. Hoy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hoy.

Mrs. Cora C. Noll, who had been in Kittanning for a month or more, was called home this week by the illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Noll.

Secretary of Forests and Waters Charles E. Dorworth entertained William J. Morgan, State fire marshal, and a number of Bellefonte friends, at dinner, Monday evening, after which an inspection was made of Bellefonte's fire department and fire fighting apparatus and later the party attended the Undine's St. Patrick's day banquet.

Miss Katherine Miller, a student at Goucher College, Baltimore and a niece of Mr. M. Ward Fleming, is Mrs. Fleming's guest, having arrived in Bellefonte last night, enroute home to Butler for her Easter vacation. Miss Miller will accompany her uncle, Judge Fleming, west on Sunday afternoon, when he returns to Pittsburgh to continue his court work.

Over the coming week-end Mr. and Mrs. Jas. K. Barnhart, of Linn St., will entertain Mrs. H. J. Loeb, of Punxsutawney, and Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Campbell, of Seward. Miss Louise Barnhart will come in from Youngstown, Ohio, tomorrow, and Miss Eleanor will come from Syracuse University next Wednesday, both to spend the Easter vacation with their parents.

HELP THE ARMY PAY ITS DEBTS.

The Salvation Army is going to withdraw from its regular activities in Bellefonte for the reason that the community need for its specialized service is so limited as to make the possible support obtainable inadequate to the expense necessary.

A post has been located here for several years and has incurred some debts that the Army will pay before withdrawing. It is a rule of this wonderful world-wide welfare organization to leave no unpaid debts in any of the fields in which it has worked. Accordingly it will clean up before withdrawing from Bellefonte.

The question is: Does our community want some outside community to pay for bills contracted in an endeavor to do good among us?

A number of interested gentlemen here have made a careful investigation of the work the Salvation Army has done here, checked up on the unpaid bills and are convinced that we ought to raise enough to pay them off. The committee comprised Revs. Knox, Thoma, and Thompson, of the local ministerium, Judge Fleming, W. Harrison Walker Esq., Samuel M. Shallosch, Walter R. Cliffe and Earl S. Orr. It urges a generous response to the appeal of the Salvation Army and suggests that even should you not be visited by a solicitor that a contribution be given or mailed to Earl S. Orr, treasurer of this special fund, of Bellefonte, Pa.

Pletcher—Garbrick—Squire A. A. Pletcher, of Howard, and Mrs. Gertrude Garbrick, of near Zion, were married at the bride's farm home, at three o'clock on Thursday afternoon of last week, by Rev. O. T. Moyer, pastor of the Reformed church at Howard. The only witnesses to the ceremony were the bride's father, John S. Zimmerman; her brother, John L. Zimmerman, and the latter's three daughters, Olive, Lillian and Sarah, and M. L. Beck, of Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Pletcher will reside in the bridegroom's ancestral home, at Howard.

Jones—Baird.—A quiet wedding at the parsonage of St. John's Lutheran church, in Bellefonte, on Wednesday evening of last week, was that of Malcolm Jones, son of Mrs. Mary Jones, of Bellefonte, and Miss Rosetta Baird, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baird, of Pleasant Gap. A few intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the pastor, Rev. Clarence E. Arnold. The bridegroom is employed by the American Lime & Stone company and is an industrious young man.

Miss Elizabeth Cooney has on display at present, a very attractive line of $5.00 and $3.00 hats brought from New York especially for the Easter trade. Colors, designs and shapes, for all ages and all tastes. See the display at the Hat Shop, before making a final decision as to your spring hat or you will be dissatisfied later. 12-11.

The annual Easter flower sale will be held at the George A. Miller hardware store beginning Wednesday, March 27th. The choicest of potted plants and cut flowers will be on sale at reasonable prices. 12-2t

Centre county's apple crop last year has been placed at 134,640 bushels and the value a dollar a bushel.
