

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

An appropriation of $19,000 has been recommended for the Centre County hospital for the ensuing two years.

Charles A. Mensch, of Bellefonte, has been elected managing editor of the Penn State Collegian for the ensuing year.

A picture benefit will be given for the Centre County hospital at the Ritz theatre, Monday, April 10th, under the auspices of the auxiliary.

Mrs. John A. Woodcock, who has been ill in Chambersburg for several weeks, was taken to the hospital in that place the early part of the week.

At a meeting of the Hotel Greeters' association, in Altoona, on Saturday, Mrs. M. A. Landsy, of Bellefonte, was nominated as second vice-president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

G. Willard Hall, of Bellefonte, who has been an employee in the State workmen's insurance department, at Harrisburg, for some years, now fills the position of assistant to the chief of claims division.

The State highway engineering corps with which Herbert Bilger, of Bellefonte is connected, and which has been engaged on the new highway between Lock Haven and Renovo for almost two years, was moved, last week, to Philipsburg, where a new piece of highway is being built.

A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives providing for an appropriation of $750,000 to reconstruct suitable quarters on a tract of land near White Hill, in Cumberland valley, as an institution for mental defectives. The proposition is to transfer prisoners from Rockview to White Hill to aid in the work of reconstruction.

Rumor has it that W. Frederic Reynolds has associated himself with some gentlemen interested in an independent match plant at Ottawa, Canada, and is considering locating there to become active in its management. We are informed that some of the parties interested were associated with Mr. Reynolds in the management of the Federal plant at this place.

The forest ranger force of the Sprout State forest has been recently increased. John H. Chatham, of McElhattan, has been placed in charge of the Queens Run division with headquarters at Farrandville; Robert E. Drake, of Shintown, in charge of the Hyner division, with headquarters at Hyner, and A. K. Werts, of Renovo, with headquarters at West Renovo.

Pennsylvania is one of the seven leading peach growing States. There are not many commercial orchards in Centre county but they grew 7,300 bushels last year, with a gross value of $12,410. Of our bordering counties Blair, Huntingdon and Union each grew nearly three times as many peaches as we did, while Clearfield and Clinton each grew less.

Palm Sunday was an ideal spring day. The weather was not only sunny and warm, but hot. Overcoats and ladies wraps were laid aside and about everybody in Bellefonte who could do so was out doors. Many spring dresses were in evidence and south Water street was lined with strange cars, the occupants of which tried to get a sight of the big trout in Spring creek but the water was so cloudy that it was impossible to see only the few trout lying close to the edge of the stream.

Early Sunday morning a party of eight young men invaded Welshans store and restaurant, at Jersey Shore, on the hunt of something to eat. When they left the proprietor noticed that some of his goods were missing and summoning State police the men, who were traveling in two cars, were rounded up. The missing stuff was found in their possession and all were locked up. One of the party gave the name of D. Gramley, of Howard street, Bellefonte, the others being from Williamsport.

Owing to continued impaired health John C. Bair, last week, voluntarily ended his service as an employee of the Bellefonte postoffice. At the time he was the oldest employee in the point of service and was working on his second extension of time. Had his health continued good he could have worked up until September when he would have been compelled to quit. In recognition of his esteem in which he is held by his fellow employees they presented him with a fine Gladstone bag.

It is not the intention of the writer to usurp the prerogative of the trout editor of the Watchman, but the opening of the fishing season will soon be here and every man who can trundle a rod and line are doubtless wondering what the fisherman's luck will be like this year. If all the streams in the county have as good a showing of trout as Spring creek, in and near Bellefonte, there will be no lack of trout: the only thing will be to catch them. The warm weather of the past week has made the trout quite active and if the nice weather continues they should be in good shape by April 15th.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF ANDREW J. McNITT.

Left Bellefonte on 1:20 P. M. Train February 25th and Has Not Been Heard of Since.

What has become of Andrew J. McNitt, a prominent lumberman of Bellefonte, is the alarming question that is now puzzling his many friends and business associates in Bellefonte. Mr. McNitt left Bellefonte on Monday, February 25th, intending to go to Miami Beach, Florida, for the Sharkey-Stribling prize fight. It was his plan then to spend some time with his brother, O. J. McNitt, at Miami Beach, and return home with his two sisters, Misses Rhoda and Nancy McNitt, of Milroy. But so far as known he never reached Florida; at least he never showed up at the home of his brother, nor was he seen by his sisters, who returned home on Monday, entirely unconscious of his disappearance.

It is known for a certainty that he departed on the 1:20 p. m. train on Monday afternoon, February 25th. According to W. H. Bartholomew, bookkeeper in Mr. McNitt's office, and who was as close in his confidence as any man, it was his plan to go on the Lehigh-Pennsylvania train to Lock Haven; change there to the Buffalo Express, go to Harrisburg and from there to Washington where he would arrive, if trains were on time, shortly before nine o'clock. As he intended traveling on mileage from Bellefonte to Washington there is no way to check up on him. At the national capitol he expected to join the crowd on the excursion train bound for Miami Beach.

When he left Bellefonte Mr. Bartholomew is confident he did not have over $150 on his person. He cashed a check for $100 and this with the money he had in his pockets, was all he had. He has been gone now over a month and up to this time no checks have been returned to Bellefonte against his account.

While Mr. Bartholomew thought it rather strange that he had no word from him since he left Bellefonte, he felt no alarm, as he thought his time was probably so occupied with sight-seeing that he didn't take the trouble to write. He knew the sisters were returning home Monday morning and he called them up and asked about Andy. He was promptly informed that they hadn't seen him at all, either in Florida or anywhere else. Naturally this information was cause for considerable alarm and A. Brown McNitt came over from Milroy as soon as he could get here, and with R. Cummings McNitt, Lawrence McMullen and Mr. Bartholomew at once started an investigation.

As stated above they have positive evidence that he left Bellefonte on the train specified, as "Butch" Beezer walked with him from the ticket office to the car and saw him get on. But there the trail ends. On Monday night the facts about Mr. McNitt's disappearance were broadcast on the radio but up to the time of the writing of this story it brought no results. Detectives have been engaged in an effort to unravel the mystery of his disappearance.

While it may be true that he didn't have any big amount of money on his person he wore a very expensive diamond ring and carried a valuable watch, and the fear now felt by his friends and business associates is that he may have been slugged to death for these valuables and his body disposed of in some out of the way place. But it is a long way from her to Florida and lacking any definite clue to work on it is like hunting for a needle in a hay stack.

Some of his friends were inclined to the belief that he might be sick and in a hospital somewhere, but this hardly seems likely. He was in good health the day he left and had been taken ill anywhere he had plenty of letters and papers in his pockets to offer means of identification, and some of his friends would have been notified before this. And the amount of money he took with him wouldn't have lasted this long, sick or well.

In addition to the brothers and sisters mentioned in this article Mr. McNitt has another sister, Mrs. Steckles, in St. Paul, Minn.

Up to the time the Watchman went to press, yesterday afternoon, not a thing had been learned that would afford even a clue to work upon. The Pennsylvania Railroad company is checking up conductor's reports in an effort to determine if Mr. McNitt traveled from Bellefonte to Washington, D. C., that day, on mileage, or if not, how far he did go. The company has already ascertained that only eight excursion tickets were sold in Washington the evening of the 25th for Miami Beach.

A report was current here, on Wednesday, that a suit case found in Wilmington, Del., resembled that of Mr. McNitt, but on being opened it proved to be that of another person.

Rumor was on the street hear at noon yesterday to the effect that a letter had been received from Lock Haven in which the writer volunteered some information concerning Mr. McNitt's whereabouts. The rumor could not be confirmed, however, at the McNitt office here.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF A PHILIPSBURG MAN.

Two hundred dollars reward has been offered for information which will lead to the discovery of Frank

Humphrey, a well known resident of Philipsburg, who mysteriously disappeared, on Saturday evening, March 16th, and of whom no trace has been found, either dead or alive, up to this writing.

Mr. Humphrey had for many years been employed as engineer at the power house of the Associated Gas and Electric company and his record for punctuality and regularity was first-class. He is 56 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds and when last seen was in excellent health. He left home early on Saturday evening, the 16th, and when he failed to return at his usual time a search was instituted. Through one source of information it was learned that he was with a party of men at a house in Point Lookout but left there at 2 o'clock Sunday morning for his home.

On Sunday afternoon his hat was found on the roadway, near Point Lookout. It was covered with mud, as if it had been rolled through the dirt. This is the only trace found.

Searching parties were out all last week hunting for the body, under the supposition that he might have fallen into the Moshannon creek, accidentally, and drowned, or might have been hit and killed by an automobile and the body secreted somewhere. On Sunday more than two hundred people joined in an organized search but failed to find any trace of the missing man.

MUSIC AND PLAYLET ON WOMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM.

Owing to the serious illness of the president, Mrs. D. I. Willard, her assistant, Miss Hill, presided at Monday evening's meeting of the Woman's club, held in the High school building. Following a brief business session the High school orchestra, led by Mrs. Krader and assisted by Miss Ethel Crider, furnished several delightful musical selections. This was followed with a demonstration of the musical work throughout the grades, emphasized with solos by a number of Mrs. Krader's pupils, who were accompanied by Miss Sarah Shuey, on the piano. Mrs. Krader and Miss Fulton sang two harmonious duets.

The music was followed with a little playlet put on by three High school girls, which was done remarkably well and proved that their talents along this line are also being developed.

Dr. William P. Brown, tuberculosis specialist, of Philadelphia, was introduced by Miss Daise Kechline, school nurse. He gave a practical talk on prevention methods, in which he stated that tuberculosis is on the increase in Centre county due to the fact that children are permitted to eat what they like instead of what is good for them. Every child should be compelled to eat two spoonfuls of greens at a meal, and they'll finally become fond of it. He spoke of the fine work being accomplished in dental hygiene, saying he had never seen children with better teeth than those in the Bellefonte schools.

BIG TIME APPROACHING FOR SNOW SHOE.

Next Wednesday night Snow Shoe will probably be the Mecca of pleasure seekers and it will be because the parishioners of St. Mary's church of that place are going to give another of their grand balls. For advertising purposes any old kind of a dance is often called a grand ball—not so in Snow Shoe. When they say grand out there they mean it.

The "Royal Five" orchestra will furnish the music, dancing will continue from 8 until 12 and everything possible will be provided for the comfort and pleasure of those who attend.

You are invited. If you don't go please remember that we advised you as to where one good time can be had and you'll have no come back on Thursday morning when you hear what a grand ball it was that you missed.

THE CRUCIFIXION TO BE SUNG TONIGHT.

At St. John's Episcopal church this Good Friday, evening, Satine's "Crucifixion" will be sung by an augmented choir of thirty-five voices. The soloists will be Mrs. Egil Risan, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Louis Schad, Mr. Cecil Walker, Mr. Russell Blair, Mr. Charles Bullock and Mr. John Emel.

To attend this sacred service is a most fitting climax to the Lenten season and a greater realization of the suffering and death upon the cross of our blessed Christ. Service starts at 8:15 instead of 7:45 as announced by the Watchman last week.

A trickle of water and a tiny gas flame operates Electrolux, the gas refrigerator. Performances daily at our show rooms.—Central Pennsylvania Gas Co.

Because of a break-down during the influenza epidemic Dr. W. U. Irwin has been compelled to withdraw, temporarily, from active practice of his profession. Going night and day at that time he over-taxed his strength and has been unable to recoup physically. For fear of permanently impairing his health he has decided to take a complete rest and has closed his office and will not engage in any practice, whatever, until about June 1st.

WORTH TOWNSHIP WILL INCREASE ROAD TAX.

At a special session of court, on Saturday morning, Judge Fleming granted a petition from the tax payers of Worth township for permission to increase their road tax five mills. In the petition it was set forth that prior to the incorporation of Port Matilda as a borough the road tax for the township was a little in excess of $2,000. But with the loss of the assessed valuation of Port Matilda the tax amounts to only $750, and that is not sufficient for maintaining the twenty-six miles of roads in the township.

John Sayers, a young man from Bald Eagle valley, who had been in jail two months on a charge of rape, was brought before the court on a writ of habeas corpus to secure his liberty on bail. After a consultation of attorneys district attorney John G. Love announced that he had no objections to the defendant being released on bail and the court fixed the bond at $1,000, which was promptly executed.

Harrison Dean, a young man from Buffalo Run valley, entered a plea of guilty to stealing the automobile of John Meek, at Waddle, on the evening of February 17th. The young man took the machine for the purpose of taking his girl a motor ride. He returned it within three hours but when Mr. Meek examined the car he found a broken gas line and other damage. District attorney John G. Love told the court that Mr. Meek was not anxious to have the fellow punished severely but would like him to make good the damage to the car. He also stated that George Stevenson would give the young man work and see that he paid the damage in monthly installments, as well as the costs of prosecution. Mr. Stevenson was in court, and personally made an offer to take the young man. He was given into Mr. Stevenson's charge but placed on probation for two years.

Samuel Holt plead guilty to the operation of gambling devices in the shape of a slot machine and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs of prosecution.

District attorney John G. Love requested the court to make an order empowering sheriff Harry E. Dunlap to destroy 30 half barrels of beer and 8 barrels of wine confiscated in recent raids, and the court issued the order.

BARTHELMESS SINGS IN "WEARY RIVER."

Richard Barthelmess, plus sound, music and talking! This is the treat awaiting motion picture lovers who attend the showing of "Weary River" at the Cathaum theatre, State College, on Wednesday and Thursday, April third and fourth. Thousands have paid advanced prices to see and hear this great singing, talking picture in large cities, and now vitaphone brings it to you as Barthelmess' supreme triumph.

"Weary River" is like a rippling melody, flowing on and on to nowhere—just like this boy—until he found his soul in the love of a girl. It is the epic of a down-and-outer whose plaintive music reaches through prison bars to find love and a new life a thousand miles away—the story of a singing convict boy whose voice over the radio won him a parole and a girl's love. Dick's marvelous baritone voice will give you a thrill you'll want to remember forever. His acting in this great dramatic story is unsurpassed. Together, you will find in "Weary River" the utmost in entertainment.

There will be matinees each afternoon, starting at 1:30 and with the last complete program beginning at three o'clock. Evening opening time is six.

The purchase includes the Oriole stores in Tyrone, Philipsburg, Osceola Mills, two in Bellefonte, Centre Hall, Saxton, Huntingdon, Belleville, Millheim, Howard, Petersburg, Mount Union, Irvona, Madera, Hollidaysburg and Altoona. The purchase gives the Shaffer company charge of a chain of eighty-one stores, sixty-one of which are equipped with meat markets.

Cake Sale Tomorrow.

The ladies' aid of St. John's Reformed church will hold a cake sale at the Variety shop, on Allegheny street, all day tomorrow, or as long as the cakes last.

As the ladies of the Reformed church have an enviable reputation as pastry cooks their offerings tomorrow will likely be in great demand, so if you want one for Easter Sunday we would advise you to go early.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams, after their entertainment of the Sycamore club, will complete the winter series of social functions, which included dinners, card parties and any entertainment the members might fancy.

Fred Musser, of Philadelphia, were arrivals in town, Sunday, having motored up to spend several weeks here while packing up their furniture preparatory to giving the Gehrets possession of their entire house on Logan street. At least that is Fred's explanation of why they came at this time. You know the fishing season will open in a few days and, explanation or no explanation; we know Fred well enough to be certain that that momentous event had more to do with timing their visit than such a trifling thing as packing furniture.

MANY CONVERTS IN EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Sunday, March 24th, closed the evangelistic campaign at the United Brethren church. This was one of the most profound and far reaching campaigns that has been held in this community for a long time. During the six weeks of services 135 souls went to the altar expressing their intention to enter the service of the Lord and to rejoice in the great truth that "Jesus Christ died to save sinners." Of this number about ninety expressed their desire to unite with the United Brethren church, and the remainder with other churches of the town.

The influence of this meeting was not confined to the town but extended into the country for several miles. The ministers of several of the surrounding towns were present at these services and were so impressed with the evangelist's thorough method of work, and his simple, forceful, dependable gospel messages, that some of them made an appointment with him for a later date. Accordingly he began a three-week's campaign at Houserville, last evening. His preaching is pleasing to the ear, appealing to the heart and mind, and impelling to the convictions. He usually speaks to a capacity house and often many have to be turned away so great are the crowds that throng to hear him. The average nightly attendance at this campaign was above three hundred. Thus far eighteen have been received into the church and about forty more have handed their names to the pastor, Rev. Snyder, indicating their desire to be received into church fellowship on Easter Sunday.

The plate offerings during the campaign amounted to $399.00 and the free will offering of the last day to $215.00. The total expenses during the six weeks were $95.50, the same being paid out of the plate offerings. The remainder was given to Rev. Boone, the evangelist. At the closing service about 475 people were present representing different churches of the town and outlying districts. These unanimously expressed their desire to have the evangelist return at a future date.

The annual Easter flower sale will be held at the George A. Miller hardware store beginning Wednesday, March 27th. The choicest of potted plants and cut flowers will be on sale at reasonable prices. 12-2t
