FIFTY YEARS AGO IN CENTRE COUNTY.

From the Watchman Issue of April 11, 1879.

The friends of the Nittany and Sugar Valley railroad will meet at Tylersville, Clinton county, on Saturday, April 12.

John Anderson now gives a fried oyster with every glass of beer.

It is said that Mr. Bush intends to have the Bush house painted a drab color this spring, like his own residence. This would be a great improvement and a relief from its ghastly whiteness.

Mr. Andy Brockerhoff arrived home from Cuba and Florida, on Wednesday evening. He looks as if the trip had done him good.

Mr. Ben Shroyer, of whom the girls say that he is vastly improved and decidedly fine looking, paid a visit to his parents here last week.

"Warren" requests us to say that he would like to see the Episcopal church crowded next Sunday morning and evening at the Easter services.

Among the gentlemen who attended the special meeting of the county Grange at the Bush house last Friday were W. A. Kerlin and John Grove Jr., two of Potter township's best and most solidly Democratic citizens.

Bernard Lauth has bought the entire business of Lauth, Thomas & Co., of Howard, and has set out four different jobs of wood chopping and coaling thus giving employment to many idle men. He is building a foundry and machine shops and soon expects to have them in operation with his rolling and hoop mills.

Mr. George Jack, of the State College, noticed 24 trout fishermen, on Monday, between Humes' Mill and Bellefonte. At this rate the trout season on Logan's branch will be a short one.

Mrs. Love is getting up another concert to be given in Humes' hall on the evening of 17th inst.

Capt. John A. Hunter, of Half Moon, who was so badly injured some time ago when a load of posts fell on him, had so far recovered as to be able to be in town for the Granger's meeting on Friday.

Mr. William Lyon exhibited his Easter beef cattle on our streets, Wednesday last. They were certainly a fine lot and all who are lucky enough to get a steak or roast off one of them will be lucky indeed.

Spring actually seems to have made her appearance. The weather is mild and pleasant and folks are beginning to make garden.

The citizens of Centre school house district of Walker township are having a school war. It appears that David Detrick and a Miss Markle had each gotten up a subscription school and expected to use the house. Mr. Detrick had secured the permission of the school directors while Miss Markle took it for granted that she had it. Accordingly, the two teachers and their flocks of hopefuls met at the school house and when the matter of who was to have possession became a heated argument James Gramley, a director, was sent for. He told Miss Markle she would have to get out and when she told him he wasn't man enough to put her out he grabbed her in his arms and carried her out of the building. She is said to be a very spirited girl. Our townsman, A. Baum, can vouch for that because she is the same girl who got after him with a buggy whip after she had made the mistake of selling him her four legged chicken, at market last fall, when she thought it was an ordinary two legger she was giving him.

Word from Rev. R. R. Lehman, who was recently changed from the Milesburg charge of the Methodist church to the church at Northumberland, is to the effect that he regards his new station as "a great church and a very great opportunity."

Now if Governor Fisher will enforce his order to "stop pollution of the streams" some of his other delinquencies may be forgiven.

If President Hoover disappoints "big business" it will be a case of rank ingratitude as well as a gratifying surprise to others.

Governor Fisher has been riding on a high horse during the present session of the Legislature, but he may be "riding to a fall."

Probably Governor Fisher is to be pitted rather than blamed. Mellon and Grundy are hard-boiled bosses.

CASSIDY.—Mrs. Carolyn J. Cassidy, widow of the late Robert A. Cassidy, of Canton, Ohio, died at her home in that place, at noon on Sunday, following an illness of some months with a general breakdown.

Her maiden name was Carolyn Johnson and she was born at Boalsburg in 1842, hence was about 37 years old. When she was a girl her parents moved to Bellefonte, her father for a number of years conducting a temperance hotel on Bishop street. On Christmas day, 1860, she married Mr. Cassidy and for a number of years lived in Bellefonte. They finally moved to Canton, Ohio, where Mr. Cassidy engaged in the printing business. In the latter 80's when Mr. Cassidy and the late J. A. Fiedler started the Keystone Gazette the family returned to Bellefonte and lived here until Mr. Cassidy sold his interest to Mr. Fiedler when they returned to Canton, which had been her home ever since.

Mr. Cassidy passed away a number of years ago but surviving her are the following children: Wilbur C. Cassidy, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Grace Fasnacht, Mrs. Martha Betz and Mrs. Lucy Soher, all of Canton; Margaret P. Cassidy, at home, and Mrs. Caroline Walker, of Columbus, Ohio. She was a daughter of Lawrence and Mary Flinn Cooney and was born in Bellefonte 74 years ago. All her early life was spent here but following her marriage to Mr. Dillon they lived in Braddock where she had lived ever since. Mr. Dillon died about five years ago but surviving her are the following children: Mrs. Hollie Ardines, of Bethlehem; Miss Jean, at home; William, of Braddock; Sidney, of Pittsburgh; Leo, of Crafton; Joseph, in Chicago; Milton and Paul, of Braddock. She also leaves two brothers, Martin Cooney, of Bellefonte, and Lawrence, of Pasadena, Cal.

She was a faithful member of the Catholic church all her life and funeral mass was celebrated at Braddock, on Tuesday morning, burial being made in the Catholic cemetery at that place.

JACOBS.—John H. Jacobs, a well known resident of Harris township, died quite suddenly, on Monday morning, at his home at Boalsburg, as the result of a heart attack.

He was a son of George and Hannah Jacobs and was born at Shingletown 75 years ago. As a young man he engaged in teaching school, a profession he followed many years. He was also possessed of considerable musical talent and developed and led several bands on the south side during his life.

He married Miss Effie Burchfield, of Harris township, who survives with two sisters and a brother, Mrs. William Resides, of Bellefonte; Mrs. John L. Leach, of Shingletown, and Luther Jacobs, in the west.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and funeral services were held at his late home at ten o'clock yesterday morning, burial being made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

GOHEEN.—Joseph Rittenhouse Goheen, a former resident of Centre county, died at his home in Peoria, Kan., on March 26th, of general infirmities. He was a son of David and Elizabeth Goheen and was born at Alexandria, Huntingdon county, on September 10th, 1841, hence was in his 88th year. When he was a boy his parents moved to Pine Grove Mills where he grew to manhood.

When but twenty years old he enlisted for service in the Civil war, and made an excellent soldier. After the war he went west and located at Fort Scott, Kan. He is survived by his second wife, four sons, one daughter and a brother, all in the west. Burial was made on March 29th.

CONFER.—J. Thomas Confer, a native of Marsh Creek, died on Wednesday of last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George G. McCloskey, in Lock Haven, following an illness of some weeks. He was sixty years old and is survived by the daughter mentioned above and two sons, E. Blair Confer, of Scranton, and Irwin L. Confer, of Howard. Mr. Confer was a member of the United Brethren church, at Marsh Creek, for many years. Funeral services were held at the McCloskey home, in Lock Haven, at nine o'clock on Saturday morning, after which the remains were taken to Curtin where services were held in the Methodist church, burial being made in the Curtin cemetery.

DERR.—Mrs. Emma Viola Derr, wife of Harvey Derr, of Juniata, and a sister of George Ingram, of Bellefonte, died quite suddenly, last Wednesday night, as the result of a heart attack. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingram and was in her 45th year. She is survived by her husband and five children, all of Juniata, as well as four brothers and two sisters. The remains were taken to Derry for interment on Saturday morning.

WILLIAMS.—Elmer Williams, whose critical illness as the result of a stroke of paralysis was noted in last week's Watchman, died at his home on Logan street, Bellefonte, late Thursday afternoon of last week.

He was a son of Elijah and Elizabeth Williams and was born at Julian, almost 63 years ago. For many years he worked as a division hand on the Pennsylvania railroad, in Bald Eagle valley, and finally was transferred to Bellefonte as a watchman on the High street crossing. He was a devout member of the Methodist church and always a faithful attendant.

He married Miss Anna Burns who survives with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Ross Bathurst, of Bellefonte. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Orlando, Sylvester and Elijah Williams, Mrs. Deborah Andrews and Mrs. Norah Breen, all of Julian, and another sister in Ohio.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Homer C. Knox, after which the remains were taken to Julian for burial.

Weaver—Mokle.—W. Ed. Weaver, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weaver, of the Branch, and Miss Beatrice Mokle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mokle, of Howard, took a trip to Cumberland, Md., the latter part of the week where they were quietly married, returning home on Sunday. On Monday evening the young folks gave them an old-fashioned serenade at the Weaver home. The bride is a school teacher by profession and during the winter had charge of the Branch school. The bridegroom is an industrious young man. Just where they will make their future home has not yet been announced.

Agriculture and the various courses offered are explained in a booklet, "Your College of Agriculture."

—Port Matilda is endeavoring to organize a fire company but the taxpayers are so evenly divided on the kind of apparatus to purchase that they can't settle on anything.

BEAVERS INCREASING IN CENTRE COUNTY

It seems but a few years ago since the State Game Commission planted a few pairs of beavers in Centre county and other woodland sections of the State. Of course, in doing so, the animals were put on the protected list in order that they might multiply and increase to that extent where they will afford sport and remuneration for the legitimate trapper.

And already they have become so plentiful over in the Phillipsburg region that they are almost deemed a nuisance, and State game protectors are capturing them for transfer to other counties where there are no colonies. The trapping is being done by Jesse Hassinger, of Reedsville, an expert in his line, and he has secured a number of the paddle-tailed animals which have been taken over into Clearfield county and freed on streams there.

Some time ago the beavers started to build a home in the Phillipsburg reservoir and had to be ejected from the water. Later they went onto Cold stream, the dam of which was drained some time ago, and built a dam of their own. As it interfered with a free flow of water it was blown up with dynamite. Nothing daunted the beavers rebuilt the dam and again it was blown up, and to prevent another attempt at rebuilding State authorities decided to trap the beavers and plant them elsewhere.

In this connection we might add that we recently heard of a stream not a hundred miles away on which a colony of beavers built a dam several years ago, which is now said to be a regular trout sanctuary. But we won't tell where it is because the trout editor of the Watchman has an eye on it for some good fishing for himself this season.

THREE BUILDINGS BURN AT PLEASANT GAP.

Three buildings belonging to W. H. Noll & Bros., at Pleasant Gap, were totally destroyed by fire, last Thursday afternoon. Two of them were stables and the other a large building used jointly as a warehouse and a repair and machine shop for Henry Noll's airplane work. In the latter were three airplane motors, one a new one that had not yet been removed from the crate and the other two rebuilt motors. They were all ruined. The entire loss is estimated at $11,000, on which there was some insurance.

James Letzell and family moved to Bellefonte from Tyrone, last week, and are located in one of the Schad houses, on Reynolds avenue. Mr. Letzell formerly lived here and at one time served for a brief period as a town policeman.

UNIONVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stover, of Tyrone, were afternoon callers at the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. David Keately.

Mrs. Asbury Holderman, of Huntingdon, was an over Sunday visitor with her sister, Miss Laura Rumberger, and other friends here.

Mr. Bechdel, the new R. R. division foreman here, formerly of Tyrone, has rented rooms in the Free Methodist parsonage and expects to occupy them soon.

Miss Betsy Hall, who has been employed at Berwick for some time, was home to help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hall, move returned to her work last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hall, of Osceola Mills and Mrs. Emily Miles, of Milesburg, were Sunday visitors at the home of their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Keately.

Friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ike, who are residents of Tyrone, were very sorry to hear of the serious accident which occurred in Bellefonte last Saturday, in which he was badly injured.

The cooking demonstration given by Mr. Knight, of State College, at Harold Fisher's on Monday evening, was very much enjoyed by all present and resulted in some sale of the Aluminum Club utensils.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stambaugh changed their plans of moving and went into the Brass house, along the race, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray, who vacated that house, moved up the pike into the Adams house.

Last Saturday J. E. Hall and mother motored to Lock Haven where Mrs. Hall took a train to Renovo to visit her aged aunt Mary Hall, who hasn't been in the best of health. After a few hours visit she returned home.

Saturday evening the boys of town were busy again trying to locate Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Tice, who were recently married and finally were found to be at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall, where they gave them a serenade.

Last Wednesday the stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snoke with a little daughter, born at the Centre County hospital, and both are getting along fine. The other three children are being cared for at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Askins.

The Calthumpians gave Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Crust, last Thursday evening, their reward for quietly slipping off to Lock Haven, on March 28th, and getting married and not even telling anyone until the news was announced by the county papers last week. Best wishes to them for a happy and prosperous life.

SUDDEN DEATH CLAIMS EDWARD E. BEIDLEMAN

One of the most important figures in the political life of Pennsylvania was removed Tuesday when Edward E. Beidleman, former Lieutenant Governor, succumbed to a heart attack. At the time of his sudden death he was considered a formidable candidate for Governor in 1930. He lost to the present Governor, John S. Fisher, in 1926, although he was leading until the Allegheny county returns came in with a more than 30,000 majority for Fisher.

The news that the former Lieutenant Governor had been stricken reached the capitol while the Legislature was in session Monday night and word that he had died Tuesday morning came as a shock to many of Beidleman's friends and associates on Capitol Hill, as cheering reports had been received from the hospital to which he was taken after the attack. Beidleman was 56 years old and had resided in Harrisburg all his life. He was admitted to the bar in 1898 and was regarded as one of the leading attorneys of the State. He was prominent in numerous fraternal organizations. For two terms he served as president of the State Fireman's association.

The heart attack came soon after he began an address at the Father's night celebration of the Parent Teachers association at Edison Junior High school. He was rushed to the Polyclinic hospital. Soon after 4 a. m. he lapsed into unconsciousness and died about 5:30. By a coincidence he died in the same room in which his former colleague in political leadership, W. Harry Baker, expired.

At the bedside were his daughter Catherine, Andrew Patterson, bank president and close friend, and his law partner, Arthur H. Hull. His aged parents and his widow survive.

BELL TEL. EMPLOYEES AWARDED VAIL MEDAL.

Six employees of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania, one of whom is a woman, are to be awarded Theodore N. Vail medals for conspicuous acts of public service in emergencies during 1925, according to an announcement by Leonard H. Kinnard, president of the company. Four of the awards are to be made to Bell employees "for initiative and conspicuous proficiency in the application of first aid, resulting in the saving of human life."

The awards will be made at special presentation exercises. Those to be awarded medals are:

Mary Elizabeth Lindsey, operator in charge of the Hollidaysburg central office; Edward Cannon, cable splicer, and Andrew John Rauh, cable tester, both of Jenkintown; William Anthony McGowan, cable splicer, Bryn Mawr; and Allard Joseph Davis, installer-repairman, and Huber Nordeck Fleegle, installer, both of McKeesport.

The Vail medals were established as memorials to the late president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and are awarded annually to employees of the Bell System for acts or services which conspicuously illustrate Mr. Vail's ideals of public service.

Cannon and Rauh saved the life of a man and a woman critically injured in an automobile accident in Philadelphia, while Davis and Fleegle are credited with saving the life of a small boy hurt in a crash at Wilmerding, near McKeesport.

McGowan is to be awarded a Vail medal for clinging to a pot of blazing paraffin rather than risk dropping it upon the head of a helper on a pole directly beneath him. He suffered severe burns through his sacrificial act.

Miss Lindsey is to be honored for her courage and efficiency when fire broke out in the Hollidaysburg central office. Despite choking smoke and grave personal danger, she remained at the switchboard to handle emergency calls.

GEN. DAWES SELECTED FOR COURT OF ST. JAMES.

Former Vice President Charles G. Dawes has been selected by President Hoover as Ambassador to Great Britain. Formal announcement awaits only word from London that he is acceptable to the British government.

While White House officials declined to discuss the matter, it became known Tuesday that Dawes' name has been presented to the British foreign office through the American embassy, as is usual before a diplomatic appointment is made.

Friends of both the administration and of the General have no doubt that the appointment will be acceptable to the British and formal announcement that the former Vice President will succeed Alanson B. Houghton, New York, is expected within a few days.

Dawes now is in Santo Domingo as head of a mission re-organizing the finances of that West Indian republic. He will complete that work before proceeding to England, about five weeks hence.
