

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Frank G. Harris, who served as State Treasurer from 1902 to 1904, died at his home in Clearfield on Monday, at the age of 84 years. It is estimated that cows in Centre county produced 6,650,700 gallons of milk during 1928. This was practically two quarts a day for every man, woman and child in the county. The Centre County Association of Philadelphia will hold its next annual basket picnic in Fairmount park, Philadelphia, on Saturday, June 22. All Centre countians will be welcome. In the eight years that the State has collected a tax on gasoline there has been returned to the sixty-seven counties in the State a total of $13,784,329, Centre county's share of which was $123,711. No matter what kind of a stove or range you now use for cooking, you can lessen your work and in most instances do it for less money with a modern gas range. Central Pennsylvania Gas Co. The State Highway Department has announced a detour owing to general repairs to the road over the mountain, which was taken over by the State last year. The Fred B. Healy family will move next week from the Hamilton house, on east Howard street, into the Wilson I. Fleming home, on north Spring street. Mr. Fleming will make his home with the Healy family. Fishing with minnow in the Bald Eagle, below Milesburg, Monday afternoon, Rev. Homer C. Knox landed three trout. One of them measured 21 inches and another 20 1/2 inches. The third one was about 10 inches in length. The annual tour of Pennsylvania livestock farmers, this summer, will be through New York and into Ontario, according to county agent R. C. Blaney. More definite announcement regarding the tour will be made in due time. In an article published in the Watchman, last week, the erroneous statement was made that the school board will ask for the vacating of Lamb street from Spring to Allegheny. This is a mistake. All they want is from Spring to Locust alley. Mrs. George Miller will hold her annual sale of potted plants and cut flowers for Memorial day, at the Miller Hardware store, Allegheny street, beginning Monday, May 27th, at noon. Choice, large plants, in full bloom, will be offered, at reasonable prices. A regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the director's room, at the High school building, at 7:30 o'clock on Monday evening, May 27th. As this will be the last meeting until the latter part of September, and also the time for the election of officers, every member is urged to be present. Centre countians who escaped death or injury in the terrible accident at the Clinic hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, last Wednesday, were Mrs. Joseph Ceader, a former resident of Belleville, who was a patient in an adjoining building; Miss Esther Schenck, of Howard, a night nurse, who had not yet reported for duty, and Miss Neilson, of Blanchard, another nurse, who was in a section of the institution which escaped the flow of deadly gas. Seventeen young people of the Evangelical church met in the Sunday school room, on Monday evening, and organized an Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor. Officers were elected as follows: President, Ruth Teaman; vice president, Donald Johnson; recording secretary, Eleanor Billett; corresponding secretary, Sara Symmonds, and treasurer, Eleanor Billett. After the business of the evening had been concluded a social hour, with games and refreshments, was enjoyed by all. Dr. William Paul Brown, child health specialist of Philadelphia, was in Belleville last Friday to hold a school clinic. It was held in the old Red Cross rooms and Dr. Brown was assisted by Misses Jean Noll, State health nurse and Daise Keichline, Belleville school nurse. Only scholars who will leave school at the expiration of the June term were examined and of the twenty-seven of them under test not one came up to the standard of physical condition regarded as normal for persons of their age. Included in the list of appropriations signed by Governor Fisher, last Friday, were $179,400 for the Phillipsburg State hospital; $868,000 for maintenance and $338,000 for building purposes at Rockview penitentiary. The above, in addition to $19,500 for the Centre County hospital, $6,311,000 for State College, $39,500 of a deficiency appropriation for Rockview penitentiary and an estimated expenditure of from $300,000 to $400,000 for State highways and bridges within the next biennium, must be admitted as pretty liberal treatment to Centre county on the part of the Legislature and Governor Fisher.

MANY CASES HEARD IN COURT THIS WEEK

List of Criminal Indictments the Largest Ever Entered in Centre County.

When the regular sessions of May court convened, on Monday morning, an innovation confronted the spectators in the shape of a prisoner's dock railed off in the southeast corner of the court room. It was constructed there on Saturday and affords a convenient place for sheriff Harry E. Dunlap to herd together the unfortunates committed to his care and keeping by Judge Fleming. The first case called for trial was that of the Commonwealth vs. Howard Miller, charged with betrayal by Eutalca Bathurst. In her own testimony the plaintiff confessed to a rather promiscuous line of conduct with the result that the defendant was acquitted but required to pay the costs. Commonwealth vs. Clayton Emenhizer, indicted for possession of intoxicating liquor. Emenhizer lives at Orviston and his arrest was based on information furnished by Carrie Walker. The evidence of the Commonwealth showed defendant had in his possession a quantity of home brew which, according to analysis, had an alcoholic content of just a fraction over one per cent. No evidence was produced of any sale. At the conclusion of the testimony Emenhizer changed his plea of not guilty to guilty, and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $50 fine and go on probation for one year. The next case called was that against John Smay, of Snow Shoe Intersection, indicted on two counts, sale and possession of intoxicating liquor, and second count possession only. It will be recalled that when the big raid was pulled off hereabouts on February 8th the Smay home was visited but the raiding officers found nothing, although they claimed the house reeked with fumes. On March 29th county detective Leo Boden, armed with a search warrant, again visited the Smay home and in a cunningly contrived partition discovered a quantity of liquor and two cases of beer, while two more cases were found in the kitchen. The liquor was confiscated and Smay gave bail for his appearance at court. When his case was called on Monday detective Boden informed the court that he had evidence that a few days after Smay's arrest he had sold liquor to High school students from State College. Judge Fleming told Smay that the court would not waste any time moralizing with him as he was fully informed of his notorious actions and promptly sentenced him to pay a fine of $750 and undergo imprisonment in the county jail for a period of two years; "and I want it distinctly understood now," said the Judge, "that the court will not consider any application for parole until the jail sentence is served in full." Commonwealth vs. Mary C. Watson indicted for assault and battery. Prosecutor, Ira C. Viehdorfer, tax collector of Burnside township. The case was the result of an assault committed by defendant on the prosecutor when he went to her home to collect taxes on May 3rd. A verdict of guilty was returned and Mrs. Watson was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, was placed on probation for one year and also ordered to arrange for the payment of a fine and costs imposed on a former occasion when she was convicted as a common scold. In the case against Mode Auman and Newton Lingle, against whom ten indictments are pending, growing out of charges for the alleged robbing of ten hunting camps in the Seven mountains, counsel for defendants moved to quash the indictments for various reasons and the case was continued to the June argument court. The cases against Albert Auman, Perry Hoover, W. E. Confer, Edward Finkle and Ralph Rote, all under indictment as accessories after the fact in the above alleged robberies, were also continued to the June argument court. Commonwealth vs. C. T. Corman, indicted for possession of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Prosecutor, A. E. Yougel, chief of police of State College. The testimony in this case developed that the prosecutor went to the home of the defendant's parents in the late evening of March 30th, or early morning of March 31st, and went into the cellar and found this defendant and two other young men, and that he saw them drinking; that the liquid was in two glasses, which he, the prosecutor, poured back into the bottle, and claims he read a search warrant which he had for the purpose of searching the premises. The defendant and his witnesses swore that they asked the prosecutor to produce his warrant, if he had any, and read it, but the prosecutor read no warrant, or said that he had a warrant until towards the end of the controversy when he pulled out a paper, yellow in color. The defendant reached for it and got hold of a piece of it and the prosecutor claims that the defendant tore the search warrant. The jury rendered a verdict on Tuesday afternoon of not guilty and the county to pay the costs. Commonwealth vs. C. T. Corman, indicted for resisting an officer. Prosecutor, A. E. Yougel, of State College. This case grows out of the former case and verdict rendered of guilty of resisting an officer.

The list was completed yesterday and court adjourned until next Monday, when the civil list will be taken up.

FRANK B. PARKS VICTIM OF GUNSHOT WOUND.

Frank B. Parks is a patient in the Centre County hospital suffering with a serious gunshot wound in the abdomen, which is ascribed by local authorities who have been investigating the shooting to an accidental affair. Parks, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Parks, is about 37 years old, is married and the father of six children. They have been living on the Armstrong farm, along the Jacksonville road, but were getting ready to move from there when the shooting occurred between ten and eleven o'clock on Monday morning. Parks was brought to the Centre County hospital where an investigation showed that the bullet from a .38 calibre revolver had entered the body almost in the centre of the abdomen and physicians considered it a very serious wound. But instead of sinking the victim has been showing improvement and the outcome of the case is still in doubt. Circumstances surrounding the shooting are rather vague. No two witnesses of the accident have the same version as to exactly how it happened.

YOUTH KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Frank Hoover, fifteen year old son of John Hoover, of Sandy Ridge, was instantly killed in an auto collision near the Triangle, about two o'clock on Sunday morning. The boy, with his father, and uncle, Wilmer Hoover, a brother and Charles Vaughn, were returning home from a fishing trip. On the bridge over Bald Eagle creek, near the tea room, the Hoover car was side-swiped by an automobile driven by George F. Frain, of Warriorsmark. Both cars were badly wrecked. Young Hoover died as the result of a fractured skull, while all the others escaped with minor injuries. An inquest held by coroner W. R. Heaton declared the accident unavoidable. The unfortunate victim of the accident was buried in the Umbria cemetery, at Osceola Mills, on Tuesday afternoon.

CENTRE HALL BOY MEETS TRAGIC DEATH.

James Wesley Mowery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mowery, of Centre Hall, and who was a hospital apprentice on the U. S. ship Richmond, was instantly killed on May 10th when a motorcycle he was riding on a trip from New York to Philadelphia collided with an automobile. The ship had only recently returned to New York from a cruise in southern waters and the young apprentice had been granted a few days furlough to visit friends in Philadelphia, and was on his way to that city when he met his death. Mowery was within one day of being twenty-two years old and had only twenty-one more days to serve to complete his four years term of enlistment. In addition to his parents he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Albert, at home; Mrs. Edward Weaver and Mrs. Charles Krebs, of State College; Mrs. Charles Markle, of Pleasant Gap; Eugene, Anna, William, Harold, Kenneth and Martha at home. The remains were sent to Centre Hall where burial was made.

CATHOLIC BAZAAR ATTRACTING GREAT CROWDS.

The bazaar which the members of St. John's Catholic church are conducting in the Knights of Columbus hall started last night and will continue until mid-night, tomorrow, Saturday. One of the great opportunities of the year for the community to obtain beautiful and useful articles at a low price is this annual bazaar. The preparations made provided that this year the bazaar will be greater than ever, and a wider range of articles are on exhibition. Music, amusements and refreshments are in abundance. Admission is free and everyone is welcome.

BENEFIT SUPPER AT ST. MARY'S, SNOW SHOE.

The ladies of St. Mary's church, Snow Shoe, will entertain their friends at a real treat tomorrow (Saturday) evening, beginning at 5 o'clock, in the shape of an Ember week supper. A five course meal will be served. Consomme, salad, baked fish or ham, baked corn, mashed potatoes, bread and butter, pie, cake and coffee, and an enjoyable evening for dancing. The tickets for this big treat are only 50 cents. Everybody welcome. Go and get a good supper and enjoy a delightful social evening. A remarkable coincidence in the death, during the week, of two well known Belleville women, Mrs. Frank Montgomery and Mrs. Charles Smith, is the fact that their husbands passed away within twenty-four hours, just twenty years ago, Mr. Smith dying on April 23rd, 1909, and Mr. Montgomery on April 24th.

KIWANIS LADIES NIGHT A "BEAUTIFUL" SUCCESS.

Ladies night for Kiwanis was beautifully celebrated at the Penn-Belle hotel on Tuesday night, beautiful flowers, beautiful ladies, beautiful music, beautiful words and beautiful thoughts were in evidence during the entire program arranged by the committee, of which Kiwanian Judge Fleming was chairman. The 125 guests who sat around the festive board enjoyed every minute. "Pep," wit, good music, good eats and a happy fellowship made every one heartily endorse the sentiments expressed in the little verse, "Little grains of wisdom, May make your lives more useful And help you on a bit." Souvenir pencils were placed at every plate through the courtesy of John Rossman, that all might take notes on the happy events of the evening. President W. Harrison Walker called upon Miss Freda Edmiston to draw for the men's prize. It was awarded to the president himself. Then Miss Martha Johnston drew for the ladies' prizes. Mrs. W. Harrison Walker and Mrs. Elizabeth Hazel were lucky ones. A talented magician from State College later in the evening explained how president Walker had shuffled the cards to bring two prizes into his family. President Walker announced that the Grangers would fellowship again with Kiwanis at a dinner to be held at Unionville on June 25th. Headmaster Hughes thanked the many Kiwanians and their wives for helping to make the "Womanless Wedding" farce the success it was. The guests present in addition to the many wives and daughters were Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, Centre Hall; Mrs. Egil T. Risan, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hoag, Miss Daisie A. E. Graham; Mr. and Mrs. George Purnell, Miss Freda Edmiston, all of Belleville; Dean Grant, department of music, State College; Miss Martha Gobrecht, the Varsity Quartette, and Robert G. Thrasher, the magician, all of State College; Ralph Dinsmore, Wilmington, Delaware; H. D. Widdowson, Indiana, Pa.; M. E. Plyer, DuBois, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. M. Williams, Belleville; John P. Mahoney, J. Sheridan Clyde, Paul S. Hagan, P. J. Sturgeon, and Albert S. Payne. Dean Grant introduced the State College varsity quartette, and Miss Martha Gobrecht, of State College, a talented marimba player. They entertained with several choice selections. The Dean, himself, led the assembly in very enthusiastic singing. Mr. Thrasher proved himself an adept in sleight of hand craft. Judge Fleming introduced his Rotarian friend, Dr. Spencer M. Free, of DuBois to make the address of the evening. He paid a glowing tribute to the effective work of men's clubs and to the nobleness of women. He defended the youth of the land and declared that many of their follies were due to the indifference of parents and their unworthy examples. He urged tolerance. He stressed the importance of playing the pal to their children. Referring to Americanization and to Americanism, he declared that all undesirable foreigners should be sent back to their own countries. Men's clubs, he said, are teaching the world tolerance in politics, business, society, and religion. The world today is hungering for kind thoughts, kind words, kind deeds, and inspiring personalities. The doctor's address sparkled with brilliant thoughts and kindly humor. A rising vote of thanks was tendered him and the delightful occasion closed in the usual manner.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. Charles E. Kurtz returned to Belleville last week, from a month's visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, in Buffalo, N. Y. William Brachbill II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brachbill, who has been at the Camp Devitt sanitarium under treatment, spent Sunday in Belleville with the family. Capt. W. H. Fry and J. W. Sunday, of Pine Grove Mills, were business visitors in Belleville, on Tuesday, and the Captain found time to call on a number of his old friends. Mrs. William McClure went east, Tuesday, expecting to spend ten days or two weeks at the Murdock P. Clancy home at Narberth, with her two daughters, Mrs. Clancy and Miss Caroline McClure. Miss Mary Raymond, an instructor in the schools of Johnstown, was home for a visit during the week as an over Sunday guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelly, of east Linn street. Ray Huston, of Pittsburgh, of the class of '23 Belleville Academy, was among the students back last week, for the play and dance, remaining for an over Sunday visit with his fiancée, Miss Lucille Smith. Alter K. Ulsh and Mr. Bashore, both former residents of Belleville, drove up from Millersburg, Monday, and spent several hours in Belleville, looking after some business interests which they still retain here. Charles C. Keichline came up from Lake Worth, Florida, last Thursday, owing to the illness of his father. As it has been almost a year since he has been at home he will spend five or six weeks here before returning south. Mrs. Frank McFarlane and Mrs. Hastings, who has been her sister's guest in Belleville, left Saturday for Philadelphia, for a visit with their eldest sister, Mrs. Kinsloe, expecting to spend several weeks in the east. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Manning, of Altoona, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Bowersox at their home in State College last week. Mrs. Manning was a schoolmate of Mrs. Bowersox and, naturally, the visit was one of mutual enjoyment. Rev. Robert Thana, pastor of the Belleville Reformed church, and elders D. K. Keller, of Centre Hall, and J. N. Moyer, of Rebersburg, are at Indianapolis, Ind., attending the Twenty-third triennial sessions of the Reformed church which convened there on Wednesday and will continue eight days. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane with their two younger children, Victor and Tom, drove in from McKeesport, Friday, of last week, visiting until Sunday with Mr. Lane's mother, Mrs. James B. Lane, at her home on Linn street. The trip had been made that Mr. Lane might spend a day fishing in the streams of Centre county. Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Wagner left a week ago for Searcy, Arkansas, expecting to be gone until the middle of June. The greater part of the time while west will be spent visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Elliott Lyon Morris and her family, who with the Charles A. Morris family, have been located in Searcy, since leaving Macon, Georgia, several years ago. John Carver, whose name for many years had been associated with the progressive farming of College township, but who now has joined the colony of retired residents at State College, was in Belleville, Saturday, on his way to Coleville, for an over Sunday visit with his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. John Holderman. Mr. Carver's time while here was occupied with business affairs. The Misses Miller, of Pennsylvania Furnace, and their sister, Mrs. Lemon, of State College, spent Tuesday morning in the shops of Belleville, in anticipation of Miss Maude Miller's leaving for Philadelphia Wednesday. Miss Miller, whose winter school work in Huntingdon county was finished in April, will resume her teaching in Philadelphia, with plans for being there until late in June. Mr. and Mrs. John Somerville drove to Corning, N. Y., Sunday, to see Mr. Somerville's brother, Donald L. Somerville, who continues critically ill in the hospital at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Somerville were accompanied back by the former's brother and sister, Bond V. Somerville, of Sewickly, and Miss Bessie, of Winburne, who had also been called there by the condition of their brother. Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, Mrs. Richard Brouse and Mrs. W. W. Bickett, will represent the Belleville chapter of the Catholic Daughters of America, at the State convention to be held in Pittsburgh next week, having arranged to go out on the 29th. During their stay Mrs. Gray will be a guest of Mrs. Butterworth, at Wilkesburg and Mrs. Brouse will be with her sister, Miss Celia Moerschbacher, who has been with McCreey & Co. for the past year or more. On his way home from attending the sessions of the Supreme court, in Philadelphia, last week, Charles P. Hewes Esq., of Erie, stopped in Belleville, on Wednesday, for a visit with his sisters, Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson. Now it just happened that Wednesday was the birthday anniversary of Harry L. Hutchinson, and as he has so far recovered from a recent illness that he was able to play not to perfection, Mrs. John T. McCormick came down from State College, on Thursday, and they had a regatta family gathering, the first in a number of years. Mr. Hewes went on to his home in Erie on Friday. Quite a stranger in Belleville was M. D. Kelley, who motored down from his home in Altoona, on Wednesday, and stopped here for several hours while on his way to keep a business appointment in Lock Haven. We don't see as much of Mr. Kelley as we did when he was operating his extensive mines in the Snow Shoe region. He is now giving much of his time to the business of M. D. Kelley & Sons, brokers in new and second hand mine machinery. In this connection it might be said that Mr. Kelley is not at all pessimistic on the future of the Central Pennsylvania coal fields. It is his belief that the industry is merely in a natural period of post-war deflation and as soon as abnormal conditions adjust themselves the fields in this district will prosper fully as much as they did before war demands stimulated production far beyond the needs of peace-times.

Dr. and Mrs. Francis Jacobs, of Lancaster, are in Belleville to spend the week-end with Miss Caroline Valentine. Walter Cohen, accompanied by Mrs. Cohen, left Sunday on a business trip east, expecting to be gone for a part of the week. Mrs. James McCafferty, of Harrisburg, has been in this locality, visiting with her son Clarence, of Belleville, and Richard, of Mill Hill. F. K. Lukenbach, President Blair Co. Nat. Bank, was over from Tyrone, Monday afternoon, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Frank Montgomery. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson, who visited the early part of the week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jamison, at Waynesburg, went out to Green county, Sunday. Miss Katherine Hazard and Mrs. Weavrick, of Syracuse, N. Y., were Belleville visitors over Sunday. They motored here to spend a day or so with Mrs. Stanley Valentine, of Curtin street. Mrs. Morris Hazel was over from Altoona, Wednesday, making final arrangements for the unveiling of the Elijah Chambers marker, to be unveiled at Gray's cemetery, at 2:30 o'clock, of the afternoon of Memorial day. Mrs. M. A. Kirk, Mrs. Harold Kirk and Norman Kirk Jr., drove to Meadville a week ago and spent the remainder of the week there as guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young. Mrs. Young was, before her marriage, Miss Lois Kirk. Mrs. Lew Wallace and her daughter, Mrs. John Roberts, are back from Akron, Ohio, visiting with relatives in Centre county. At present Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Roberts are house guests of the former's sister, Miss Ella Wagner, at Milesburg. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bortoff and their younger son, Robert, drove to Wilkesburg, Sunday, called there by the illness of Mr. Bortoff's brother, D. H. Bortoff, who suffered a stroke of paralysis the early part of last week, his condition since that time having been very serious. Miss Isabelle Grove, who was home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Grove, of east Linn street, for a week, left, Monday, to rejoin the Mills family, at Pottstown, with whom she spent the winter in Florida. Later Miss Grove will go with Mr. and Mrs. Mills and their two children, to spend the summer at Atlantic City. Dr. Lee B. Woodcock drove over from Scranton, Sunday night, called here by the condition of his mother, Mrs. John A. Woodcock, whose condition became serious following a fall down stairs Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Woodcock had been ill in Chambersburg for sometime and was able to be brought home only two weeks ago. Mrs. Joseph Beck will come in from Pittsburgh today, to be with Mrs. Woodcock until Sunday. James Cook will arrive here tomorrow from Colorado Springs, to spend the month of June with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cook and Miss Margaret. Mrs. Edward Nichols, also of Colorado Springs, was a guest at the Cook home for several days the early part of the week. Having been east visiting with relatives at Franklin, Pa., Mrs. Nichols stopped here, Saturday, while on a motor trip through central Pennsylvania, returning to Franklin, Wednesday. Visitors at the homes of Mrs. Arthur Eckley and Mrs. William Sprankle, in Coleville, over Sunday, gave their places to the atmosphere of a family reunion gathering. Mrs. Eckley and Mrs. Sprankle are daughters of Jacob Cole and Mr. Cole was married to a Klepfer, so that the Klepfers are very close in the "friendship." Accordingly when Mrs. John Klepfer and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Lotka and their son, West Philadelphia, and Mrs. David Klepfer, of Oaklyn, N. J., arrived here in their car Sunday there was occasion for a very happy day for them all. They remained until Monday morning, when they motored back to their homes. Brown built scold shoes for men, guaranteed solid leather, only $1.95 at Yeager's. 21-1t The death of Levi A. Miller removed the last but one of the men who were on the Belleville committee that arranged the public testimonial to Governor Curtin at the time he left to take up his duties as Minister to Russia. That notable affair was on June 5, 1869, and the sole surviving member of the committee is Capt. C. T. Fryberger, now living in Philipsburg. The Monarch Automatic Storage Water System, at less than $100, means hot water service at its best and operating costs have been sensationally low.
