HOME HYGIENE COURSE AND CARE OF SICK.

Penn State College, in conjunction with the American National Red Cross, will conduct again, as in former years, the Red Cross course in hygiene and care of the sick, leading to Red Cross certificate, at the summer school of 1929.

In addition to training graduate nurses to teach the course in schools, settlements clubs, church groups, etc., over the country an invitation is extended to women and girls to avail themselves of the opportunity offered at this time to obtain instruction in practical home and community hygiene, the care of children, care of minor illness and emergencies in the home, quarantine and preventive measures.

The course is in no way comparable to a graduate nurse's training, that is not the object. It aims to teach women to be better home-makers and to meet in a practical and sensible manner emergencies which may arise in their daily lives.

High school girls and a selected group of junior high girls are eligible for enrollment in these classes.

The organization meeting will be held at the College at 3 p. m., July 3rd (Wednesday), when assignments will be made. Miss Lucy Brinkerhoff, of New York city, is director of the course. Miss Brinkerhoff directs the home hygiene courses in the schools of New York city and has been at State College in charge of this work for several years past.

If a sufficient number of women and girls can be enrolled in Bellefonte a class will be held in the Red Cross rooms here.

Any one desiring further information may obtain the same from Miss Helen Mar Erskine, field representative of the American National Red Cross, who will be at the Penn Belle, Bellefonte, on Friday afternoon June 28th, or by writing to her at that address.

Keeler—Bullock.—A beautiful twilight wedding was solemnized in the Methodist Episcopal church at Unionville, Tuesday evening, when Miss Julia Geary Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bullock, of that place, became the bride of Rev. Robert J. Keeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walters Keeler, of Johnstown. The church decorations were beautiful and appropriate, the brilliance of blooming flowers being softened by the lack of illumination save from candelabrum at the altar.

The wedding party marched to the altar to the softened strains of Lohengrin, as played by Miss Anne Gingery, of Tyrone. Miss Elizabeth Hoag, of Bellefonte, sang "Just a Song at Twilight" and "I Love You, Truly," in a low, sweet tone, a fitting prelude to the solemn ceremony, which was performed by the church pastor, Rev. M. H. Crawford, assisted by Rev. George A. Martin, pastor of the First Lutheran church at Bladelle, N. J., a class-mate of the bridegroom. The double ring service was used.

The bride, who wore a gown of white velvet suede crepe, a long veil and carried a bouquet of white rose buds was attended by Miss Nancie Catherine Devine, of Gettysburg, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of pink satin, trimmed with cream lace and carried pink rosebuds. The best man was L. M. Schaeffer, of Johnstown, also a class-mate of the bridegroom. The ushers were Syd C. Peters, of State College, and Paul F. Dubbs, of Bellefonte.

The happy event was witnessed by a large number of invited guests from Lebanon, Connelville, Williamsport, Lancaster, Altoona and other places.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents, which also offered an opportunity to inspect the lavish display of presents. Miss McCamant, of Tyrone, had charge of serving the refreshments. Rev. and Mrs. Keeler are now on a wedding trip by auto through the New England States, going from New York to Boston by boat.

The bride is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school and Millersville Normal, class of 1925. Since her graduation she has been a teacher in the Tyrone schools. The bridegroom is a graduate of Susquehanna University and the theological seminary in connection therewith, class of 1923, and is now pastor of the Lutheran church, at Luthersville, where they will make their home.

Dale, of State College, and Miss Edith Maude Sankey, of Pine Grove Mills, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony took place in the Lutheran church, of that city, and was performed by Rev. Wilton Clyde Dunlap, a native of Centre county. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Lutheran parsonage by Mrs. Dunlap after which Mr. and Mrs. Dale left on a wedding trip to Atlantic City and Washington, D. C.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sankey, of Potters Mills, and is a woman of culture and all the qualifications necessary for her new sphere in life. She is a graduate of Maryland college and is well versed in all the important economic questions of the day. For a number of years she has been an active worker in the Centre county Pomona Grange, and for several years the very efficient secretary of the Grange encampment committee.

Mr. Dale, during most of his life, was extensively engaged in farming, but a few years ago disposed of his farms and moved to State College, where he has been devoting his time and energies to other interests. He, also, is an active member of the Grange organization, being a past master of the county Grange, chairman of the Encampment committee and chairman of the Finance committee of the State Grange. During the past eighteen months he has been one of the three receivers of the Centre County Banking company. Mr. and Mrs. Dale will live at State College.

Dreibleibis—Krebs.—George M. Dreibleibis, of State College, and Miss Mary Kathryn Krebs, of Pine Grove Mills, were married in the Lutheran church, at Pine Grove, at 5 o'clock last Saturday morning, by the pastor, Rev. J. S. English, the ring service being used. They were attended by Miss Mary Reed and Roy Eyer. Leaving by auto immediately after the ceremony, they stopped in Northumberland where a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's uncle, Dr. J. E. Krebs. They then continued their trip by way of Gettysburg to Washington, D. C.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. H. M. Krebs and for some time past has filled a clerical position at State College. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Dreibleibis and is employed at the State College creamery. Just when they will go to house-keeping has not been made public.

A strawberry social will be held tomorrow (Saturday) evening at 6 o'clock, on the Y. M. C. A. lawn, under the auspices of the Epworth League. Homemade cakes will be on sale all evening. You are invited.

A BELLEFONTE BOY WINS FINE PROMOTION.

Because he has stuck faithfully to his work as supervisor of rural extension developments of the Keystone division of the West Penn Power Co., Thomas H. Mensch has just been advised of the reward that invariably follows diligent, constructive service.

On Monday he was notified that his three year's work in the rural service warranted the Company in moving him up to a higher position and that he has been made superintendent of the entire St. Mary's division.
