The Misses Detrick, of Nittany valley, who grow and market the nicest strawberries brought to Bellefonte during the season, picked and sold an even 2500 quarts this year, not counting what they used at home.

Caught in the act of dynamiting Black Moshannon creek for trout, one day last week, Harold Harper, of Philipsburg, was arrested and fined $100 and costs, a total of $104.50. He was given four days in which to settle.

The fact that gasoline dealers, under a law which went into effect July 1st, must give bond in the sum of $50 and up to assure the payment of the four cent tax, has caused a number of small dealers in Centre county to go out of business.

The story to the effect that the home of the late Dr. W. U. Irwin, on Allegheny street, has been sold is wholly without foundation. Mrs. Irwin has not considered the matter at all and has had no offer for it.

Huckleberries are unusually plentiful on the Allegheny mountains, this year, and exceptionally fine in quality, but according to some of the pickers both copperheads and rattlesnakes are also more plentiful than in former years, so that gathering the berries is not devoid of danger.

The Centre County jail has neither gained nor lost in its standing as a penal institution, having received a rating of 360 points out of a possible 1000 at the hands of the State Welfare Department, which is the same rating given it last year. Next year, after the new woman's department has been completed we ought to jump several hundred points.

T. H. Harter Esq., editor of the Gazette, has been quite ill during the week. His condition was so alarming at first that he had to be taken to the hospital. Reports yesterday were to the effect that he is recovering. The trip which he and his grand-nephew, Charles Mensch Jr., were to have taken through the north-west, with the National Editorial Association, had to be cancelled in consequence of Mr. Harter's illness.

Though there were sixty-seven members in the 1929 graduating class of the Bellefonte High school only thirteen of the number have signified their intention of continuing study in higher institutions of learning or taking a course for a permanent vocation. They are Philip Witeraft, Jacob Bortoff, John Smith, Iva Dillon, Mildred Kallin and Warren Wilson, who will enter State College; Katherine Irwin, Wilson college; Sheldon Evey and Mary Rogers, the Philadelphia school of pharmacy; Grace Millward and Margaret Irwin, the graduate school of nursing at the University of Pennsylvania, and Mary Elizabeth Shuey and Sara Lindemuth, the Centre County hospital school for nurses.

FEDERAL OFFICERS MAKE SIX ARRESTS IN COUNTY.

A Bellefonte Taxi Driver Among the Number Taken.

Col. Wilbur F. Leitzell's enforcement officers, of Lewisburg, invaded Centre county, on Saturday evening, and arrested six alleged violators of the Volstead law, securing as evidence two stills, a quantity of moonshine, wine and home brew.

The men arrested were Charles Miller, taxi driver of Bellefonte, who was arrested in his taxi, and three pints of alleged whiskey found in the machine confiscated.

John Koch, of State College, where a quantity of home brew was found. Ralph Snyder and Ralph Moyer, living on the road from Waddle to State College. A gallon of whiskey was found at Snyder's place and a quantity of home brew at Moyers.

Frank Tomaszek, of Fillmore, where a 25-gallon still was found and various products used in manufacturing moonshine.

John Talvano, of Clarence, where another still was found, with a quantity of whiskey, mash and wine.

Miller was taken to Sunbury Saturday night and bond for his release in the sum of $2000 was furnished on Monday by Arthur Thomas. The other men were taken to Sunbury on Sunday and bail for Tomaszek was furnished on Tuesday by Charles Houser, of Fillmore. Up to this time the others have failed to get bail.

As an aftermath of the above raid Mrs. John Koch, of State College, was placed under arrest, on Monday afternoon, by county detective Leo Boden and police chief Yougel, of State College. At a hearing before Squire I. J. Dreese bail for her release was fixed at $700. Being unable to furnish bond she was brought to the Centre county jail.

STARTING TO RAZE STATE'S 'OLD MAIN.'

Work of razing and reconstructing Old Main, the first college building erected on the campus of the Pennsylvania State College over 70 years ago, was started this week by the Henry Baton Construction Company, of Philadelphia. The new structure, which according to the contract, is to be completed by August 1, 1930, will be erected at a cost of approximately $750,000. It will be constructed along the same general plans as the old building and will be used for student activities and administrative offices. The building will have a 150-foot clock tower which will house a complete set of chimes as well as the old bell and the original clock left as a memorial by the class of 1904.

Miss Sarah Benner, probably the oldest native resident of Bellefonte, celebrated her 95th birthday anniversary on Wednesday of last week, and was kindly remembered by scores of friends with gifts of flowers, many more substantial offerings and personal calls. Miss Benner was a daughter of J. M. and Anne Harvey Benner and a granddaughter of General Philip Benner, prominently connected with the early history of Centre county. She enjoys the unusual distinction of having been born in the house in which she spent her entire life and is living today. Ninety-five years, almost twenty four presidential terms, and during that time she has seen this country embroiled in four serious wars. She is the last of her generation of the Benner family. Aside from the loss of her eye-sight several years ago she enjoys good health.

The community daily vacation Bible school, held for three weeks at the High school building under the auspices of the Bellefonte Ministerium, closed on June 28th with an appropriate program of exercises. One hundred and ninety-two boys and girls, ranging in age from 4 to 14 years, were enrolled. Seventy-eight of this number received certificates for perfect attendance. The offering taken during the sessions was given to the Children's Aid society. Eight teachers, qualified by training, were in charge, as follows: Miss Verna Ardery, principal; Miss Martha Geiss, Mrs. Eleanor McDowell, Miss Eleanor Barnhart, Miss Louise Meyer, Mrs. Marvin Rothrock, Miss Mary Robb and Miss Mary Woodring.

While Mrs. Harry Regal, of north Penn street, was out of the house for a few minutes, on Tuesday morning, her ten month's old daughter, Rebecca, got hold of the mother's pocketbook and opening it, chewed several bichloride of mercury tablets found therein. When the mother returned the child was found writhing on the floor. A physician, hastily summoned, used a stomach pump and the child is recovering.

On July 15th Ira D. Garman will open his new jewelry store at 1420 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, "Burlington Arcade," moving there from his old location at 101 south Eleventh street. With his fifty years experience in the jewelry business Mr. Garman's store has grown to be among the leaders in that line in Philadelphia.

Henderson-Crain.—Two hundred invited guests were present in the Methodist church, at Port Matilda, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 29th, to witness the marriage of Miss Eunice Erma Crain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crain, of that place, and Chalmers C. Henderson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Henderson, of State College.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon A. Williams, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. F. Winkleblech. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Agnes Crain, as maid of honor; Miss Ella Williams and Miss Lois Crain, bridesmaids. Samuel Harshbarger took the part of best man while the ushers were Harold Ebersole and Donald V. McLean, both of Cortland, N. Y. The ring ceremony was used. Mrs. W. Scott Crain played the wedding march and Mrs. Mabel Sherbert sang "Oh Promise Me."

A wedding reception and dinner at the bride's home followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left on a motor trip to Colonial Beach, Va. The bride taught the grade school, at Port Matilda, last year and is an accomplished young woman. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College and now holds the position of county club agent under the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at Cortland, N. Y., where they will make their future home.

Fridgen-Waite.—The marriage of Miss Ruth Ann Waite, daughter of Mrs. George C. Waite, of Bellefonte, and Edward N. Fridgen, of L'Anse, Mich., was solemnized at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Lock Haven, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, June 29th. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Merrill Williams and the attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Emma Waite, of Bellefonte, and brother, Gilbert Waite, of Jersey Shore.

The bride is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, class of 1913 and for six years past has been employed in the State highway offices. Mr. Fridgen is a radio operator and spent eighteen months in Bellefonte as one of the trick operators at the aviation field. Mr. and Mrs. Fridgen remained in Bellefonte until Wednesday of last week when they left by automobile for L'Anse, Mich., where the bridegroom holds the position of radio engineer for the Ford Motor Co., and where they will make their home.

Hyslop—Shoemaker.—Coincident with the announcement of the birth of a little son, at the McGee hospital, Pittsburgh, on Sunday morning, June 30th, Dr. and Mrs. William S. Hyslop also announced they were married October 1st, 1928. Mrs. Hyslop, prior to her marriage, was Miss Augusta Shoemaker, daughter of Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker, of Bellefonte. Dr. Hyslop is a native of Pittsburgh, but for more than a year has been official dentist at Rockview penitentiary and also practiced his profession in Bellefonte. Mrs. Hyslop, with her baby, will join her husband in Bellefonte in the near future.

McAllister-Ralston.—J. A. McAllister, of Pennsylvania Furnace, and Miss Anna Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ralston, of Struble, were married at the parsonage of the Reformed church, at Boalsburg, by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Moyer. The young couple returned at once to their own newly furnished home at Pennsylvania Furnace.

DRUM CORPS AND BAND TO HOLD BIG CARNIVAL.

The drum and bugle corps of the Brooks-Doll post, American Legion, and Wetzler's Junior band, of Milesburg and Bellefonte, will unite in holding a big carnival of music and entertainment on the High school grounds Bellefonte, July 18th, 19th and 20th. Three big evenings of solid enjoyment for both old and young.

It will be entirely a local affair and members of the woman's auxiliaries of both the drum corps and band will dispense ice cream, cake, candy, etc. A circle of booths will be on the ground to furnish laughable entertainment. Both the band and the drum corps will be on hand each evening and take turns in furnishing music. Don't forget the dates but be on hand to share in the pleasures of the carnival.

Professor A. H. Espenshade, head of the department of English composition at the Pennsylvania State College and a member of the college faculty for the past 31 years, will sail early this month for a year's leave of absence to teach English composition at the University of Hawaii. For many years, Professor Espenshade was registrar at Penn State, a position which he relinquished to supervise the college building fund campaign in 1929. Later he was made head of the department of English composition. He is the author of "Pennsylvania Place Names."

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mrs. Oscar Wetzel left Bellefonte, on Wednesday, for Waterbury, Conn., where she will join her son, Marie Wetzel and wife, and the latter's mother, for a two week's sojourn on the beach at Webster Point, Madison, where Mr. Wetzel has a cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Katherine Furey Hunter, of Pittsburgh, has been a guest of the Larimer family at Pleasant Gap for the past two weeks, and was joined there Wednesday by her daughter, Mrs. Anthony, who came in to make the trip back to Pittsburgh with her mother.

Frank D. Lee, of Centre Hall, was a business visitor in Bellefonte, on Tuesday of last week, and made a pleasant call at the Watchman office. According to him there is nothing startlingly new on the South Side, all the farmers being busy with hay making at that time and getting in shape for cutting grain.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brouse, with their three children and Mr. Brouse's mother, Mrs. R. S. Brouse, drove to Brooklyn, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Brouse for a stay of only a few days, while the children and their grandmother will join Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Topelt at their cottage on Long Island, expecting to be there for the month of July.

Miss Betty Gates and brother, Edward Lindley, came in from Johnstown, on Saturday, for their annual summer vacation with Bellefonte friends. Their mother, Mrs. Edward L. Gates, and younger daughter, Martha Marie, will join them tomorrow while Mr. Gates will come in later to spend a week and accompany them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Fay and their daughter, Patty Lane Fay Jr., arrived in the east late in June, from Riverside, California, expecting to be here for an indefinite stay. Their time as planned, will be spent in Bellefonte with Mrs. Fay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lane and with Mr. Fay's sister, at their former home in Altoona.

Miss Betty Lockington returned home from Mauch Chunk, last week, expecting to be in Bellefonte permanently, in as much as she is now on the faculty of the Bellefonte High. Miss Lockington had expected to spend the summer abroad but was compelled to abandon the trip on account of her father's illness from injuries in an automobile accident early in the spring.

The Hoovers were in town, over the week-end and Sunday, not the President and family, but Augustus M. Hoover and his son, Lawrence A., of Philadelphia, here on a visit to old friends of bygone years. The elder Hoover spent most of his life here and his son the days of his boyhood and young manhood, so that returning to Bellefonte is like coming back home. They left Philadelphia early in the week and struck Beech Creek July 3rd and remained there over the Fourth and came on here on Saturday.

Fred Craft, a former resident of Bellefonte, will come here from Buffalo this week, to join Mrs. Craft and their two children and after a visit of several days, will take his family back to New York State. Mrs. Craft, her son Fred Jr., and her niece, Mary Edith Otto, of Johnstown, who had been visiting in Buffalo, came here two weeks ago, while Mr. and Mrs. Craft's four year old daughter, Mary Maxine, had been in Bellefonte with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kerns for three months.

A touring party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Lutz and Mr. and Mrs. George D. Rentschler, of Akron, Ohio, enroute home from a trip to Washington, D. C., were Bellefonte visitors on Friday night and were brief callers at this office on Saturday morning. The ladies are grand-daughters of the late John Ward, of Stormstown, and have spent all their life in Akron and this was their first visit to Centre county in eighteen years. They were on their way to Stormstown and from there expected to go to Gatesburg then on to Warriors-mark to visit an aunt, Mrs. George W. Fisher.

Among the Watchman office visitors, Wednesday of last week, was Walter Gherity, owner of the famous Gherity place in the Seven mountains. He has quit farming his land and has turned his place into a regular resort and his trip to Bellefonte, last week, was to bring nineteen young people, his guests from Greensburg to Bellefonte to see the big fish in Spring creek. Mr. Gherity has one less attraction for his place this year and that is the deer. Other years they were as plentiful around there as sheep in a pasture and used his porch pillars as rubbing posts, but since the slaughter of does, last fall, he avers, it is now a rare sight to see one. And the few he has seen this summer are so wild and cautious it is hardly possible to get a sight of them.

The F. P. Hoag and the George I. Purnell families are occupying the Sycamore club, on the Bald Eagle creek at Wingate, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Meek returned, Saturday night, from a week's motor trip through eastern New York, New England, and into Canada to Quebec.

Schaffer and his daughter, Miss Helen, at their home on Curtin street. The object of the visit at this time, was to see Mr. Williams, who on account of ill health, has been with his aunt at Beech Creek for a number of weeks.

Dr. Calvin F. Smith, a native of Centre county, but a practicing physician of Indianapolis, for the greater part of his life, arrived in Bellefonte, Monday, on his way for a visit with his half brother, Harvey Musser, at Centre Hall. As a boy, Dr. Smith lived on the homestead farm which he now owns, at Centre Hill, taught school and read medicine with Dr. Henzly, at Howard, later marrying there and going to Indianapolis to locate. Dr. Smith expects to be east for the summer.

Among the many visitors in Bellefonte last week were Mrs. J. C. Meyer, of Philadelphia, with her nephew, Jack McEntyre, of Tennessee, and niece, Miss Helen Hartwick, of Philadelphia. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hartwick, of Bishop street, during their stay in town, leaving for Philadelphia on Monday. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Hartwick's daughter, Mrs. Glenn Sutherland, of Leatsdale, Pa., with her two children, Jean and Bobby, and a maid, arrived in Bellefonte for her summer visit.

Charles Thompson, of Lemont, was in Bellefonte, Wednesday, looking after some business matters and part of it was to buy a box of candy for Mrs. Thompson. That, of course, wasn't an unusual occurrence, but we told him that he ought to buy her a whole candy store from Syracuse, where Charley has some business interests, and all was going well until they reached the vicinity of Blossburg. Up to that point their son James was at the wheel. Then pater Thompson decided he would drive and hadn't gone two miles until he ran the car through a gourd rail and it turned clear over while rolling down the river bank. Miraculous as it may seem not a person in the car was scratched and while it was badly battered it was not a pane of glass broke.

Mrs. Robert A. Miller, of Tyrone, spent part of yesterday here looking after a little business that required her personal attention.

Mrs. Saul Auerbach and her daughter, Lenore, are here for their summer visit with Mrs. Auerbach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cohen.

Mrs. J. Will Conley, who is in Bellefonte for an indefinite stay, arrived here two weeks ago from Atlantic City, with her daughter, Mrs. Wallis. The latter, after an over Sunday visit with friends here went on to Pittsburgh to join Mr. Wallis on a trip to Canada, to be guests at a Fourth of July house party.

Our old friend John Rich, of Tyrone, dropped in yesterday morning for a little chat and, for the first time, we were struck with his growing likeness to his distinguished father, the late Judge Benjamin Rich, of Unionville. John said that Tyrone has really been quite seriously affected by the abandonment of the railroad division point there and that its effects will probably be felt for some years to come.

Miss Mary Gross, of Axe Mann, was in town Wednesday afternoon; having come in to treat her two fine little nephews, Philip and David Gross, to a movie party. Recently we saw the lads fishing in a hole near their home. It used to be a great place for trout and it must be yet, for Philip told us he had landed twelve out of it this season—one of them fifteen inches long—and David owned to having caught two.

Mrs. E. M. Broderick, of State College, who has been with her uncle, Thomas Hamilton, for the past month, went there from the Centre county hospital, where she had been a patient for three weeks expecting to remain in Bellefonte until entirely recovered from her recent illness. Mrs. Broderick's brother, Thomas Hamilton II, of New York, and his wife, will join her sister here next week to be guests also at the Hamilton home on north Allegheny street.

At a baby show held in Philadelphia, last week, first prize for boy babies was awarded to Thomas P. Geary III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Geary. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Geary was Miss Elizabeth Heckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton H. Heckman, of Bellefonte.
