There were 28 patients in the hospital on Monday of this week.

LOCK HAVEN BANKER COMMITTED SUICIDE

William C. Long, cashier of the Clinton County Trust company, at Lock Haven, and president of the school board of that place, committed suicide, last Thursday afternoon, by shooting himself in the head. The shooting took place in Mary's alley shortly after one o'clock, and the body was discovered a few minutes later. A rumor that a shortage of the accounts of the school board might have been cause for the suicide has been disproved by an investigation of the accounts and the only known reason for Mr. Long's taking his own life was ill health. He leaves a wife and one son, William Long.

Clifford E. Close, of State College, has filed an application with the Public Service Commission for a franchise to operate a freight and merchandise bus service between State College and Altoona, by way of Tyrone and intermediate points.

The annual campmeeting of the Free Methodist church, held in Humes' woods for two weeks, closed on Sunday. Nine ministers of that faith took part in the services.

VOCATIONAL PROJECTS AT GRANGE FAIR.

The men teaching vocational agriculture in Centre county have made plans for a vocational agricultural project contest to be held in connection with the Grange fair at Centre Hall. This contest will be staged in the educational building. The judging of the project books will be done Tuesday, August 26th, at 2:00 p. m.

A project contest of this type will be a new event in Centre county. The vocational pupils have been competing in the State contest held in Harrisburg but have never had the opportunity to compete on a county basis. The Centre county contest will be conducted according to the rules of the State contest. There are certain minimum standards set up by the State which a boy has to meet in order to be eligible for the contest. These standards are as follows:

1. Baby Beef—One animal
2. Beekeeping—Five colonies
3. Corn—Two acres
4. Dairy—Two milk cows, 2 calves or records on 5 cows.
5. Fruit—Fifty trees or 1/2 acre of small fruit.
6. Potatoes—One acre
7. Poultry—Two hundred chicks, fifty hens or 50 capons.
8. Sheep—Four ewes
9. Swine—Four shoats or one sow and litter.
11. Truck—One-half acre, or garden of one-fourth acre.
12. Home Improvement—No minimum
13. Medal Winners class—Same as above.

The above classification will be used at Centre Hall except that the baby beef will be grouped with dairy, the medal winners class will be dropped and a miscellaneous group, which will include beekeeping, etc., will be substituted in its place.

In corn, potatoes and small grain projects, an exhibit of the size listed below will aid materially.

H. C. Fetterolf, director of agricultural education, Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, will do the judging of the projects in the contest. Mr. Fetterolf has been associated with vocational work from the start and has done much to make the work in Pennsylvania what it is today. He has had vast experience with project work and we feel it a compliment to vocational work in Centre county to be able to get him to do the judging.

Following is a list of rules for the contest:

This contest is open to all boys and girls, regularly enrolled in vocational agriculture in Centre county, who are carrying projects eligible for the State project contest.

All project books and exhibits shall be in the educational building on the fair grounds by 10:00 A. M. Tuesday.

Additional points will be given in judging for an exhibit of potatoes, corn and small grains. The size of the exhibit shall be as follows:

Corn 10 ears; potatoes, 10 tubers; small grain 1 quart.

The projects will be judged on the following points: Neatness of book, each month the project was carried, size of project, self labor, each visit by the supervisor, ownership, news clippings, pictures.

Prizes of $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00 will be awarded for the first three places in each of the following groups: Dairy cattle, corn, fruit, potatoes, poultry, sheep, swine, small grains, truck, home improvement, miscellaneous.

STATE COLLEGE PROFESSOR HELD UP AND ROBBED.

A news dispatch from York tells how L. C. Madison, of the State Department of Agriculture, livestock division, State College, was held up and robbed, on Sunday, between Laurel and Baltimore, Md., by two young men in training with the tank corps, at Camp Meade, Md. The men gave their names as William Anderson and Paul Rishell, and according to the dispatch they took Madison's automobile, wrist watch and $27 in cash. The young men were caught the same evening and taken to Hanover, Pa., for a hearing.

—We have received from M. I. Gardner, of Clearfield, secretary of the Clearfield County Agricultural Society, the premium list for the 69th annual Clearfield county fair, and if the gathering proves as big as the book our neighbors across the mountain will have a fair to be proud of September 10 to 13, inclusive. The premium list is a book of 144 pages, without the cover, and $10,000 in purses and premiums are offered. Many free attractions are advertised for the week and the promoters promise one of the best fairs to be held in Central Pennsylvania this year.

—The Hotel Phillips, at Philipsburg, has changed hands, having been purchased last week by E. S. Shuck, proprietor of the hotel Dime-ling, in Clearfield, and the Fort Ligonier hotel, at Ligonier, Pa. The new owner took charge on Thursday morning and as he is a hotel man of many years' experience in various places he will probably make a success of the Phillips.

—Thirty cars, trucks and wagons lined up at the Bellefonte curb market, last Saturday morning, and about everything seasonable was offered for sale in good quantities, except apples. They were exceptionally scarce and so far have been of very inferior quality.

AUTOISTS WARNED TO OBEY FIRE LAWS.

Every time there is a fire alarm in Bellefonte automobilists generally make a rush for the scene of the fire, seriously impeding the progress of the firemen and blocking traffic. To prevent this dangerous nuisance the last Legislature enacted a law, which carries a heavy penalty, which, if enforced, will go a long way toward regulating traffic in times of fire. A review of the law, as prepared by S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, is as follows, and automobilists and firemen should give it careful consideration. Mr. Gable says:

"Firemen from all over the State complain that motorists in many instances fail to give them the right of way and in some cases actually hamper them in responding to a call."

"Lives and property are jeopardized by even the slightest delay in fire apparatus or ambulances responding to an emergency call. Motorists who are responsible for causing such delay are subject to arrest and fine."

The law relating to this offense reads as follows:

"Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle or ambulance giving an audible signal, the driver of every other vehicle shall immediately drive the same to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand edge or curb of the highway, clear of any intersection of highways and shall stop and remain in such position unless otherwise directed by a peace officer until the police or fire department vehicle or ambulance shall have passed."

"It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle other than one on official business to follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than 500 feet or to drive into or park such vehicle within the block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm."

Offense does not rest wholly with the private vehicle driver, however Mr. Gable says. He points out that accidents sometimes occur as the result of an ambulance or fire apparatus driver taking unnecessary chances and recklessly disregarding the safety of all other users of the highway.

—On Monday deputy sheriff S. H. Hoy and son Harry motored to Johnstown to get William Reese, wanted in Centre county on a charge of desertion and non-support. Reese had been in a Johnstown hospital as the result of a broken leg and his leg is still in a cast. Being unable to secure bond he is now in the Centre county jail. His wife is at present in Centre Hall.

ALTOONA TO STAGE GREATEST DOLLAR DAY.

As announced elsewhere in this issue, the Altoona Booster stores are going to hold their mid-summer dollar day on Wednesday, August 14, and the people throughout Central Pennsylvania are invited to attend the sale and share in the bargains that will be offered for the one day.

According to the information that has come to us, this will be the biggest dollar day event the Booster stores have ever held and the offerings will include such a wide variety that one will be able to buy practically everything needed for personal use, while the kinds of merchandise needed for the home will also be included at special dollar day prices.

Booster merchants have bought large quantities of new merchandise that will be offered at special prices and will also offer much of their remaining summer stocks at reduced prices in order to close them out to make room for new fall merchandise.

Inasmuch as there will be several months of warm weather during which summer apparel can be worn and summer needs will be required for the home, it will be profitable for people to take advantage of the dollar day opportunities offered by Booster stores and buy freely.

Arrangements have been made for a special dollar day program to be broadcasted over station, WFBG, on Tuesday evening, August 13. Don't forget to tune in and hear this worth while program.

—Two years ago the State Centre Game, Fish and Forestry association, of Philipsburg, spent considerable money erecting a fish dam on Moshannon creek, near Beaver Mills. They stocked the dam with trout and had visions of many a delightful fishing excursion in years to come. Today the association is in danger of losing its lease on the place because the rental has not been forthcoming and there is not enough of money in the treasury to pay it; all due, it is claimed, to unpaid dues of many of the members.

GRANGE CONFERENCE AT STATE NEXT WEEK.

Louis J. Taber, Columbus, Ohio, master of the national Grange, will speak at the Middle Atlantic Grange lecturers' conference, to be held in State College, August 12 to 15.

Other prominent speakers who will appear on the program are: Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the Pennsylvania State College; Charles G. Jordan, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture; Raymond G. Bressler, deputy secretary of agriculture, Harrisburg; N. H., lecturer of the National Grange, and Edward B. Dorsett, Mansfield, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

While the conference is primarily for grange lecturers, other Grangers are welcome to attend the sessions, according to Howard G. Eisman, East Springfield, lecturer of the Pennsylvania State Grange. Grange members in each of the Middle Atlantic States are to make reservations with the lecturer of that State.

BELLEFONTE COOKS ELECTRICALLY
... here is why!

Electric cooking means . . . more time for busy mothers

The mother who has an electric range in her kitchen has time to really enjoy her children. For the old-time drudgery of getting three meals a day has been banished from her home.

Once the food is prepared and placed in the electric oven . . .

basting or turning or tasting is necessary. The oven, itself, automatically tends the cooking.

And results are perfectly delicious! Electric oven-cooked roasts have a juiciness and rich flavor that delight the most critical husband. Souffles, pastries and cakes are easy, even for the inexperienced homemaker. Cook electrically for economy!
