NEWT HESS' STUFFED BEAR

Schaeffer's hardware store, on Allegeheny street, has a wonderful attraction, this week, for old and young. It is the mounted kodiac bear shot by N. E. Hess, of State College, early in 1928, up in Alaska. The bear was mounted in Williamsport and is standing upright on a four foot imitation rock pedestal. As bery and O'Conners six to twelve it stands it is ten feet high, with years for a like offense. Judge front legs extended and its huge jaws agape revealing four angry looking tusks and two jaws full of grinders.
