

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Just forty people went from Bellefonte to New York on the excursion Saturday night.

Two negro prisoners escaped from Rockview on Wednesday afternoon and up to this time no trace has been found of them.

During the rain and electric storm, Sunday evening, lightning struck a transformer down Nittany valley, knocked the top off and put it out of commission. Two heavy iron bolts which held the top in place were bent in a half circle.

Last week the road supervisors of Potter township received a check from the State Highway Department for $465 as the State's award for township road projects put through by the supervisors. Burnside township received $177.

R. B. Freeman, who is spending part of the early fall at the Nittany Country club, will entertain a party of men friends over the coming Sunday. That means that those who are left of the old "apple-blossom" crowd will probably all be on hand.

One hundred and fifteen Centre countians located at Niagara Falls and vicinity held a basket picnic on Goat Island, Niagara Falls, last Saturday, which was so thoroughly enjoyed by all that it was voted to make the gathering an annual affair.

The Public Service Commission has refused the application of W. E. Clark for permission to operate a bus line between State College and Philipsburg by way of Waddle Martha and Port Matilda, for the principal reason that the road is not in shape for such service and there is no certainty as to when it will be rebuilt.

Young people of the Presbyterian church met in the chapel, on Monday evening, and organized a Christian Endeavor society with thirty members on the roll. Harold Osborne was elected president; Miss Elizabeth Heineman, vice president, Wayne Morrow, treasurer, and Miss Jean Smith, secretary. Regular meetings of the society will be held Sunday evenings at 6:45 o'clock.

This has been an unusually hard summer on bees. There was not enough of rain to furnish the usual supply of nectar in the blossoms and flowers and the result has been an exceedingly short crop of honey. Some beekeepers who have been taking the honey pretty close are now fearful lest they will have to provide feed for their bees during the winter.

J. Blair Sutton, of Pittsburgh, head of the Sutton-Abramsen Engineering company, was the principal guest at the Kiwanis luncheon, at the Penn Belle on Tuesday, George T. Bush, chairman of the program committee, gave a little talk on his trip to the Northwest and Canada and presented chairman W. Harrison Walker with a little package labeled "The Tale of two Swallows," as a souvenir. At the luncheon next week Judge Ellis L. Orvis will talk on the Constitution.

The State Highway Department has leased rooms on the third floor of Temple Court which are being fitted up as a permanent barracks for the Bellefonte unit of highway patrol, which will be moved there from the W. C. Coxey home, on Bishop street, on or about October 1st. The present force will be augmented by the addition of two men, one of whom will be in charge of the office. The barracks will have direct connection by wire with the printer service in Harrisburg.

Although classes do not start until September 25 at the Pennsylvania State College, the 1170 freshmen will arrive on the campus for the opening of freshman week, on Thursday, September 19. They will have a busy week while members of the college staff and student officers instruct them in the ways of college life. The enrollment at Penn State this year will be approximately the same as last, about 4100 students in all courses. This is the capacity figure. While several new buildings will be opened this fall, each is regarded as a replacement or addition to previously overcrowded or antiquated facilities.

From the number of steel traps on sale in the window of Olewine's hardware store one must needs be impressed with the fact that fur-bearing animals are becoming more plentiful in Centre county. And piled in the centre of the modern make is a big wolf trap of over half a century ago, and from the look of it it is easy to believe that an animal caught in its jaws had little chance of getting away. The trap is the property of Howard Dorman, of Woodward, but over fifty years ago belonged to his grandfather Lewis Dorman, in his day one of the most successful trappers in Centre county. He it was who captured the last panther known to be taken in Centre county mountains, the mounted specimen now being on exhibition in the State museum in Harrisburg. In the big trap Mr. Dorman also caught fifteen wolves virtually at one spot, and also many bear.

BIG GRIST OF CASES

GROUND OUT IN COURT.

Liquor Law Violations Prominent on the List.

The regular September term of court convened, on Monday morning with Judge M. Ward Fleming on the bench. Court reporter Gilbert S. Burrows being detained in Williamsport in the trial of several important cases he sent as a substitute Mrs. Florence O'Dell Grein, of Williamsport. The usual grist of motions and petitions were presented by the various attorneys, list of constables called for returns after which the civil list was gone over and checked up. Two cases listed for this week were continued, namely:

LeRoy Locke vs. George Meyers and Anna M. Meyers, an appeal. Continued, not being at issue.

C. C. Williamson vs. J. H. Fisher an appeal. Continued on application of defendant for purpose of amending pleadings.

On next week's list the case of Nellie H. Corl vs. James Bilger and Grace Bilger was continued under terms of settlement.

H. H. VanZant vs. Harry Behrer, William Breon, John F. Spencer, Henry Tressler and I. C. Holmes, an action in trespass. Continued.

The first criminal case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. Grover C. Walker, indicted on a statutory charge. Prosecutor, Rosamond Frank. Defendant plead guilty and was given the usual sentence imposed in such cases.

Commonwealth vs. Jack Zavada, a statutory charge. Defendant stood trial, was convicted and given the usual sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Wade Auman and Newton Lingle, indicted on ten separate charges of breaking, entering and larceny from hunting camps in the Seven mountains. Prosecutor, Walter Powell, State policeman. The defendants plead guilty to one of the indictments, that charging them with larceny from the camp of the Lamar Hunting club. The defendants were represented by S. D. Gettig Esq., who took the position that none of the camps could legally prosecute, as unincorporated camps could not hold legal title to property such as could warrant a prosecution, but the Commonwealth produced the names of the secretaries of the several camps, to give the membership, which would at least give a pro-rata title. Further action on the part of the court was deferred until Thursday morning.

Commonwealth vs. John Rudy, violation of the liquor laws and motor code. Prosecutor, A. E. Yougel. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, $25.00 fine and placed on probation.

Commonwealth vs. John Gilliland, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and violation of the motor code. Prosecutors, C. A. Zarger and A. E. Yougel. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $200 and placed on probation for three years.

Commonwealth vs. Grace Koch, charged with a violation of the liquor laws. Prosecutor A. E. Yougel. This case was from Lytle's Addition, State College, and grew out of the sworn allegation of a man arrested for intoxication who swore that he had purchased his liquor from Mrs. Koch. The day following the man's arrest the Koch home was searched by chief of police Yougel and other officers from cellar to garret but not a trace of liquor could be found. Mrs. Koch stood trial and was represented by former Judge James C. Furst. In addressing the jury, after the evidence had been produced on both sides, attorney Furst characterized the case as one of persecution of an innocent woman instead of prosecution, and appealed to the jury that they not only return a verdict of not guilty but put the costs on the prosecutor, Chief Yougel. In charging the jury Judge Fleming advised against putting the costs on the prosecutor but the verdict rendered was "not guilty and the prosecutor to pay the costs."

Commonwealth vs. C. G. StClair and Mrs. C. G. StClair, charged with interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duty. Prosecutor, P. C. Frank. The case was from Potter township and Mr. Frank, a constable, claimed the defendants interfered with him when he undertook to serve an execution process. Defendants plead guilty and were sentenced to pay the costs and put on probation for three months.

Commonwealth vs. Earl Waite, charged with obstructing justice in not appearing as a witness before a justice of the peace. Prosecutor, J. L. Tressler, J. P. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs and go on probation for three months. Another case against the same defendant on the charge of resisting an officer was not pressed and the costs put upon the county.

Commonwealth vs. Raymond Carson, charged with pointing firearms. Prosecutor, Martin Dunlap. This

MORE FACTS ABOUT THE

TRCZYLYNY FAMILY.

Several esteemed readers of the Watchman called our attention, during the week, to an inaccuracy in our answer to the query of an Osceola Mills correspondent regarding the Trczylyny family, and especially the fact that all of them were buried in the Trczylyny cemetery, when in fact many of them lie in the Union cemetery. In order to straighten the matter out we have delved into various histories of the early days of Centre county but can find little of consequence in connection with the family in addition to what was given last week, aside from the place of burial.

In the Bellefonte Union cemetery, however, a page of history is revealed that does not appear in any book. There in a lot enclosed with an iron pipe railing, are thirteen graves, all supposed to be members of the family. At one spot is a weather beaten marble slab, about 8x10 feet in size, lying flat on the ground and bearing the following inscription.

"In loving memory of Baron C. Karl Stegner Trczylyny, born 1767, died 1851, his wife, Katherin Dorsey Nohmn and children. Exiled from Poland 1793."

Another stone bears the name of "Hyasinth Trczylyny, born August 6, 1810, died April 2, 1862."

A third stone contains the name of "Charles Trczylyny, died December 10, 1845, aged 40 years, 9 months, 5 days."

A fourth stone has this inscription: "Sarah D. Trczylyny, born March 30, 1806, died September 16, 1884."

In addition to the above there are eight small native stones without any inscription.

From the above it is now a moot question as to whether the Charles Trczylyny, civil engineer who helped to lay out Philipsburg, and the above name Baron were one and the same.

Henry and all of his family are evidently buried in the Trczylyny cemetery, just north of Milesburg. Several people still living here remember him very well. One of them, speaking of his many idiosyncrasies, told us that he was the "awfullest tobacco chewer I ever knew." In fact his habit of continuous tobacco chewing had something to do with the location of the cemetery in which he rests. Henry had a fight with the authorities in Milesburg and ever after nurtured a terrible contempt for the town. When someone asked him why he was going to locate his cemetery where he did he is said to have replied: "So I can lie up there and spit tobacco juice on Milesburg."

MOTHER'S CLUB MEETING

HELD MONDAY EVENING.

The Mother's Club of Bellefonte held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Cliffe, on Linn street, on Monday evening, with sixteen members present. Very beneficial and interesting talks were given by Mrs. Samuel Shallcross on "Adequate Nourishment of the Child," by Mrs. Arthur Dale on "The Care of the Child's Health," and by Mrs. Olaf Risan on "Care of the Sick in the Home."

Mrs. Cliffe delightfully entertained the club by rendering a vocal solo. It was decided to affiliate with the Child Study Group, of New York city, which will give the members access to the latest books on the child. At the conclusion of the business meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Miss Anna W. Keichline, registered architect of Bellefonte, and one of the few women in the State to follow that profession, has turned to writing as a side issue and is propounding her views on electricity in the home through a series of articles in "Beauty at Home," a small monthly publication issued by the Edison Illuminating company, of Boston. The first of the articles, entitled "5% of Building Cost—Adequate Wiring," appears in the September issue of the publication together with a splendid picture of the writer. In her articles Miss Keichline will deal on the electrical standard of the modern home.

case was from Taylor township and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the prosecutor to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Earl Lucas, indicted for violating the motor law by operating a motorcycle while under the influence of liquor. Prosecutor, A. E. Closser. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs, $50 fine and go to jail for sixty days.

Commonwealth vs. Harold Stetler, violation of the liquor laws. Prosecutor, Leo Boden, county detective. This case grew out of the recent raid of the 101 Ranch, in Union township. After the Commonwealth had presented its evidence the defendant changed his plea from not guilty to guilty.

All day Wednesday was taken up with the trial of the case against Mrs. Minnie Crawshaw, of Philipsburg, charged with illegal possession of liquor and just before noon, yesterday, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence had not been pronounced when the Watchman went to press.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

FOR BELLEFONTE ARMORY.

State Army Board Makes Initial Appropriation at a Meeting on Wednesday.

At a meeting of the State Army Board, on Wednesday morning, an initial appropriation of $50,000 was made toward the erection of a new armory in Bellefonte, according to a telegram of notification received that day by Capt. Ralph T. Smith, of Troop L, 103rd cavalry. The telegram also stated that Joseph Kuntz, of Pittsburgh, had been designated as architect, and Benson E. Taylor, superintendent of property and supplies, has given assurance that work will be started in the very near future.

It will be recalled that a movement for a new armory, stables and parade ground for the Bellefonte troop was started last spring and a tract of ten acres of land was purchased through public subscription from Harry Lutz, southeast of Bellefonte. The land was paid for and the deed turned over to the State; negotiations were made at the same time for the sale of the old armory to the Bellefonte school board for $17,000 for use as a gymnasium and recreation hall. This transfer has not yet been made but the school board is ready to take it over as soon as the troop receives permission from the State to make the transfer.

The appropriation of $50,000 will be sufficient to build the stables and start the administration building, and by the time that work is well advanced more money will likely be forthcoming. The entire estimated cost of stables, armory, administration building and putting the parade ground in shape is $125,000.

At the last session of the Legislature the sum of $975,000 was appropriated for new armories and Bellefonte's is the seventh so far authorized.

AGED WOMAN VICTIM

OF AUTO ACCIDENT.

Miss Mina Anger, an aged maiden lady, died at the Centre County hospital, at 8:20 o'clock Saturday morning, as the result of a fractured skull sustained in an auto accident on the concrete highway, near Unionville, about four o'clock Friday afternoon. Miss Anger, with her niece, Miss Helen A. Steintert, and George C. Shade, an elderly man, all of Pittsburgh, were on an automobile trip through the State. Coming down Bald Eagle valley Miss Anger insisted that Mr. Shade drive the car, although he was loath to do so.

On the other side of Unionville the driver evidently became confused and ran the car into the bank at the side of the road. The sudden and severe impact threw both women forward and on the rebound Miss Anger's head struck the back of the rear seat with force enough to fracture her skull. Miss Steintert sustained a broken nose, badly bruised face and injured knees. Aside from shock Mr. Shade was uninjured. They were all brought to the Centre County hospital where they were given prompt attention but Miss Anger died on Saturday morning.

She was a daughter of Jonathan and Christina Auger, deceased, and was almost 86 years old. Her nearest survivors are W. C. Edward G. Charlotte M. and Helen A. Steintert, of 1449 Wightman St., Pittsburgh.

Following her death in the hospital Miss Anger's remains were taken to the Widowson funeral home, on north Spring street, and prepared for burial. Mr. Shade and Miss Steintert were also taken to the Widowson home where brief funeral services were held. Later in the day the remains and other members of the party were taken to Pittsburgh by Mr. Widowson, the remains being delivered to Home-wood cemetery where they were cremated on Monday.

PHILIPSBURG'S AIRPORT

DEDICATED SATURDAY.

Ames field, Philipsburg's airport at Kylvetown, was officially dedicated on Saturday, but the crowd of eight or ten thousand visitors were somewhat disappointed because of the fact that only about fifty per cent of the airplanes expected made their appearance, and a number of the thirteen which did show up were late in arriving owing to the storms prevailing in this section.

The dedication, however, took place as planned, and a number of prizes were awarded for stunt flying. A number of the pilots remained at the field until Sunday and this brought out another large crowd that day. The people of that section are quite enthusiastic over their airport and it will undoubtedly prove a haven for fliers who may be compelled to make an emergency landing while flying over the Alleghenies.

A meeting of ministers and laymen of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at Lewistown, next Monday, to formulate plans for the campaign to raise a fund of $200,000 to pay off the debts on the Methodist home, in Tyrone, the home for children, in Mechanicsburg, and the Wesley Foundation, at State College.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bathurst came in from Detroit last week, arriving in Bellefonte Thursday, for a visit with Mr. Bathurst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bathurst, of Thomas street.

The Misses Katherine and Ellen Dale, and Miss Augusta Murray, drove over from Boalsburg, Tuesday, in the Dale car, to spend a part of the day here with the dentist and in the shops.

Elizabeth Larimer, who has been at Camp Devitt under treatment, for the past three months, is improving so rapidly, that a permanent recovery from her recent indisposition is looked for.

Miss Helen E. C. Overton arrived in Bellefonte, Tuesday evening, to resume her school work at the Academy, after her annual two month's summer stay, at the Children's Seashore Home, at Atlantic City.

Henry S. Linn will go to Erie to-day, to join E. C. Gehring, of Cleveland, for a drive over the Roosevelt trail to Scranton, from there to the Catskills then on to motor along the Atlantic coast as long as their time will permit.

Mrs. M. J. Levi returned Monday from a ten day's vacation, as a guest of friends on a drive to Richmond. Visiting all places of interest in that locality, they then came north to spend the remainder of the time in Washington.

Mrs. J. P. Smith accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Miller and the Miller family, who had been visiting with her in Bellefonte, to their home in Philadelphia a week ago, expecting to spend a month with them in the city.

Mrs. William Armstrong Kirby and her son William Jr. returned Monday to their home in Baltimore, following a four week's visit here with Mrs. Kirby's mother and sister, Mrs. Hammon Sechler and Miss Anna, at their home on east Linn street.

Mrs. Irving L. Foster left State College this week, to go to College Park, Maryland, expecting to spend the winter there with her brother, Dr. Harry Paterson and his family. Upon leaving Mrs. Foster had made no definite plans as to her return to State College.

William Keller II, arrived home Sunday and with his mother, Mrs. Harry Keller, took possession of their house on Monday, which had been occupied during the summer by the J. M. Curtin family. The Curtins returned to their home in Pittsburgh the day they vacated the Keller house.

The near relatives of the late Harry F. Gerberich, who were here for his funeral Monday, included the Misses Louise and Anne Hoffer, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hoffer and Fred Hoffer, all of Philipsburg, Richard Hoffer, of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Funk, of Harrisburg, and Dr. Morris Swartz, of Sunbury.

Mrs. Brees, Mrs. Burnet and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Spencer and her small child, who have been occupying the Hastings house during the summer will go to the Markland next week, for a month or more, expecting to remain in Bellefonte until weather conditions justify their return to New York.

Miss Blanche Underwood arrived home from Erie a week ago, where she had been visiting for a week or more with the family of her brother, Irwin Underwood, whose daughter was married during Miss Underwood's stay. Miss Mary Underwood had been visiting in Erie prior to her sister's going.

Dr. and Mrs. Coburn Rogers will drive to Philadelphia, Monday, taking with them their daughter, Mary, who will enter the College of Pharmacy for the full course. Mary was with her sister, Evelyn, last year at St. Joseph's college, Maryland, where Evelyn will return next week for her last year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank McCoy, with their daughter Amy Jane, motored in from Ambridge on Saturday, August 31, for a visit with Mrs. McCoy's mother, Mrs. Oscar Wetzel, of Willowbank street. Mr. McCoy returned to his business on the following Monday but the family will remain here for a month as the new home they are building in Ambridge will not be ready for occupancy until that time.

Miss Mira Humes, Miss Katherine Allison, Miss Sara Caldwell, Charles Gilmore and Achibald Allison, will leave Tuesday on a drive to Philadelphia, the men returning to Bellefonte, from there, by train, while the women will motor on to Atlantic City for their annual fall visit at the shore. Mrs. Gilmore will go east Friday, to join the party, to be with them for a part of the time they are away.

Governor John S. Fisher and H. E. Andrews were guests for dinner at the Penn Belle, on Sunday evening. In fact Bellefonte has become a regular stopping place for government officials at Harrisburg. The Governor and several friends were here on Thursday of last week, the Lieutenant Governor, Arthur James, on Wednesday, and on Friday evening Samuel Eckels, chief engineer of the Highway Department, and two other officials, took dinner at the Penn Belle.

The W. W. Kellers are making their usual summer visit among old home friends and scenes at Pine Grove. Mr. Keller has been connected with the Pittsburgh post-office for many years and he is glad enough when the time comes that he can put friend wife and son Paul in the automobile, step on the gas and head for Ferguson township where people don't have to be eternally on the jump. They arrived there last Thursday and expect to stay until today or tomorrow. Saturday night officials at Harrisburg and while Mrs. Keller and some friends looked about the town Will stopped for a little chat with us.

Rev. Frank Wetzel, with his two daughters, the Misses Grace and Veda and Miss Rose Lambacher, all of Akron, were arrivals in Bellefonte on Labor day. They came for a little visit with members of the Wetzel family living here. The Misses Wetzel and Miss Lambacher are all graduate nurses in private practice in Akron. The former are graduates of the Bellefonte hospital training school and, as might be understood, stand high in their profession. While Rev. Wetzel has retired from the active ministry he carries on in the course to which he consecrated his life and has a great men's party class in the church at Akron. The party left Bellefonte for the return drive home via Watkins Glen and Buffalo; stopping at the latter place for a call on the Paul Wetzels.

G. man family at Weehawken, N. J., also with the Ira D. Garmans, at Concord Hall, Philadelphia, is included in their plans.

NAVY'S ALL-METAL BLIMP

SAILED EAST YESTERDAY

An all-metal dirigible (blimp) built for the U. S. navy at the Gros Isle naval station, Detroit, Mich passed over Bellefonte at 6:05 o'clock yesterday morning, on its way Lakehurst, N. J. Compared to the Graf Zeppelin it looked like a big potato bug. The ship sailed on the air mail course, was not over two thousand feet high and going at an estimated speed of sixty miles an hour. Its motors did not make a more noise than those of an airplane.

Evev—Miller—Merle Houser Evev, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evev, of Lakemont, Altoona, and Miss Dorothy Ellen Miller, daughter of Mr. Mrs. G. B. Miller, of Hollidaysburg, were married at the home of the bride's parents, on Wednesday morning of last week, by Rev. B. F. Hart, of the Methodist church. Quite a number of guests were present to witness the ceremony about half of whom were from Centre county. The young people will reside in Altoona.

Neidigh—Ellenberger.—Jacob Ear Neidigh and Miss Madeline V. Ellenberger, both of Ferguson township were married at State College, on Tuesday of last week, by Rev. Edwin H. Witman. Following the ceremony they went to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellenberger, at Marengo, where a wedding dinner was served and reception held. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob D. Neidigh and is a hustling young farmer.
