NO. 1 LICENSE TAGS TO BE MORE PLENTIFUL

Not many years ago there was only one "No. 1" automobile license plate among the thousands issued by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but 1930 will see quite a little flock of them, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles says. The official car of Governor S. Fisher, will bear official tag No. 1, of course, and his personal car will bear "No. 1", the first in the huge passenger car series. Plates bearing the word "Judiciary", for issuance to Pennsylvania judges, will run from No. 1 to No. 300. The No. 1 in this series goes to Robert Von Moschizsker, chief justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. "Omnibus" plates begin with the number "01" and run to "0999." Legislative plates will run from No. 1. to No. 500 and the No. 1 in this series will be found on the car of Senator Horace W. Schantz, of Allentown, president pro-tem of the State Senate, during the 1929 session. Legislative tag No. 100 has been assigned to Aaron B. Hess, speaker of the House of Representatives during the last session. "National Guard" No. 1 has been assigned to Major General William G. Price, Jr., commander of the National Guard, of Pennsylvania. "National Guard" tags are assigned in the order of military rank of their possessors. Tags No. 1 to No. 9, of new "Consular" series have been omitted, and No. 10, is assigned for 1930 to Eduardo Gruning Rosas, Argentine consul, stationed at Philadelphia. "Trailer" tags begin with "T1" and end with "T149;" tractor dealers with "TX1" and ending with "TX149" bicycles with motor attached, "01" to "0149;" motor cycle dealers, "J1" to "X249." Captain Wilson C. Price, Highway Patrol superintendent, will carry No. 1 on his motorcycle. The motorcycle series ends with No. 11,999.

WILD FOWL SEASON RUNS TO JAN. 15

The season for wild water-fowl, coots or mud hens, and gallinules which opened October 1 will extend January 15. It will be well for hunters to bear in mind that swans, wood ducks and eider ducks are protected, game officials said. The bag limit for ducks of the combined kinds is fifteen a day, sixty a season. For wild geese and brant, five a day, thirty a season. Kill of wild water-fowl during the season of 1928 amounted to 58,822 birds which was an increase of about five thousand over 1927. This year the kill should be equally as large officials believe. In taking coots or gallinules the Federal laws which provide for a daily bag limit of fifteen gallinules and twenty-five coots, unlimited for season prevails. Between October 15 and November 14, wilson or jack-snipe and woodcock may be hunted. For jack-snipe the daily bag limit is twenty, whereas the seasonal bag limit is unlimited. Last year 50,236 woodcock and other shore birds including jack-snipe were killed, and increase of over thirteen thousand over 1927. In order to conform to Federal regulations the last Legislature removed from the game bird list in Pennsylvania swans, wood ducks, eider ducks, loons, grebs, and bobolinks, commonly known as reed birds.

LOOKING BACK TO TWENTY YEARS AGO.

In its "Twenty Years Ago" column, last week, the Lewisburg Journal contained the following pertinent paragraph: Millinburg is to add another industry to her many factories turning out buggies and vehicles, and will keep step with the times by starting the manufacturing of automobiles. G. Willard Hall, of Bellefonte, has invented an auto, and has contracted with the Hopp carriage company for the manufacture of the machine. —This is the day for the meeting of the Eastern Star, District No. 10, in the auditorium at Hedia park. —Subscribe for the Watchman.

TUBERCULOSIS AND THE CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Ten of the great Universities of the United States, three research institutes, the United States hygiene laboratory, the United States bureau of animal industry and two commercial laboratories are cooperating with the National Tuberculosis Association in research work to discover a specific which will cure tuberculosis. There are on file at the office of the national association 680 so-called "cures for tuberculosis." These are all worthless, the majority of them being sent in by lay persons who know nothing about the disease. When a cure is found it will be discovered by a scientist, or a group of scientists, each of whom contributes his bit. His experiments will have to prove beyond a doubt that it is better than rest, fresh air, good food and sunshine which make up the only cure known today—for tuberculosis. A portion of the funds raised by the annual sale of Christmas seals is used toward research work in tuberculosis, but the bulk of the money is spent to educate the public to lead healthful lives and in that way prevent tuberculosis. We know enough about tuberculosis, if every one would make use of that knowledge, to wipe it out just as yellow fever is being completely conquered.

The good accomplished by tuberculosis Christmas seals begins a month before one is born and goes on and on through life. Tuberculosis is peculiarly a family disease. It is generally conceded that tuberculosis infections are childhood infections. Therefore the lessening of the infection and subsequent disease is dependent upon the control of the environment into which the child is born and from which he cannot escape until home has stamped him irrevocably for good or ill. Tuberculosis is a disease that favors the poor homes of the community; the bacillus being democratic, the homes of the poor offer favorable conditions for the full growth of the organism within the individual and its dissemination, through close personal contact, to all members of the family group. So, in a small way, the tiny seal that is sold is not only helping to prevent an actual physical break in early adult life of the very few of the children in sanitariums, but it also will very probably save some children yet unborn from the primary infection.

FROST DOES DAMAGE.

The benefits of the rains in September, badly needed in the agricultural sections of the State were offset by heavy frosts, the Department of Agriculture reported in its summary of crop conditions for October. There is still a lack of water in some counties and farmers are hauling it for household purposes in some sections where wells went dry. Late corn was helped by the rain and conditions are better than a month ago, the report says. There is still much threshing of oats to be done and the yield was better than anticipated.

The corn production is placed at 46,690,000 bushels, the five-year average being 57,760,000 bushels, while the oats crop is 31,801,000 bushels this year, or about 6,000,000 bushels less than the average. The potato yield is given as 23,859,000 bushels or a million less than the five year average. Last year with a bumper crop, the crop was 31,960,000 bushels. The buckwheat crop is not good, many acres being ruined by frost.
