TEACHERS' INSTITUTE IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Pertinent Points Advanced by the Various Instructors for the Benefit of Teachers.

Over three hundred Centre county school teachers met in the court house, on Monday, for the 67th annual institute. The entire morning was taken up with the enrollment of teachers so that the first regular session was held at 1:30 in the afternoon, with county superintendent F. G. Rogers presiding. Following devotions and music superintendent Rogers welcomed the teachers in a hearty little talk, after which he introduced Dr. W. D. Henderson, of the University of Michigan, as the first speaker.

The doctor talked on the fear factor in conduct. He stated that the world in general and the United States in particular is facing two major factors, the most important of which is international relations. Through advanced methods of travel and communication the world is theoretically only about one-fourth as large today as it was in the days of our grandfathers, and the supreme struggle between nations during the ensuing twenty-five years will be one that will make or mar the world—the struggle for markets. The United States, with its abundance of raw material and advanced methods of manufacture, is viewed by other nations with amazement and fear. Dr. Henderson's second allusion was "government." He told how, in the days of Queen Elizabeth the Queen of England ruled supreme while today the King is virtually a figure head, with the prime minister the chief dictator. England is fast becoming the seat of a liberal government while the United States is daily becoming more centralized. Applying his doctrine of fear to children Dr. Henderson stated that children should be brought up without fear in their home, in the school and their associations generally, if they are to be able to do the best possible with their lives and opportunities.

After a session of music Dr. William F. Taylor, of the University of Kentucky, was introduced. Talking on the philosophy of education depending on the philosophy of life the doctor said that the teaching of health has increased the span of human life. Children must be given an inspiration to carry on, to live up to the best that is in life. They must learn the control of conduct through a positive philosophy. He stated that the young people of today are positive, courageous and fine as a group. Early training in the home has much to do with one's philosophy of life, and this must be supplemented with the right kind of training in the school. "Don't worry," he said, but work.

Prior to adjournment Mrs. R. M. Beach, of Bellefonte, made a plea to the teachers to instruct children of the baneful effects of alcohol upon the human system as one of the best means of attaining law enforcement of the liquor problem.

TUESDAY'S SESSIONS

Rev. W. M. Snyder, of the United Brethren church, led the devotional services at the opening of institute on Tuesday morning.

Dr. Taylor made the first talk of the day on a child's right in the modern world. He stated that the biggest problem today is the training of children for intelligent parenthood. Ninety per cent. of the young people today marry and become the head of homes without one bit of training. Our problem in Democracy is to give every child an equal chance. Every child should have a right to be born in a good home and have intelligent parents. And every child should have the right to be taught by a teacher who has understanding and sympathy.

After Prof. Yoder lived up institute with a little music Dr. Henderson continued his talk on fear, a factor in conduct. Man is supposed to be a reasoning being, but we reason very little, and act mostly on suggestion. In teaching always suggest good, never bad; always suggest right, never wrong; always suggest success, never failure.

After the afternoon session Dr. Henderson substituted for W. H. Brislow, of the State Department of Education, Harrisburg, who was present but unable to talk owing to a recent illness. Dr. Henderson talked on the boy problem, in school and out. It is our business to take the child as we find him and inculcate into him good habits so as to make the best citizen possible out of him. The first stage the child passes through is the animal. Man is an animal, but more than that, he is a machine. The first lesson to the boy should be given in the home, that of obedience. At school the first character lesson should be self-control.

Dr. Taylor followed with a discussion on what is good teaching. The necessary qualities in good teaching are discipline, vitality, sensitiveness, courage and intelligence. Get the children to want to learn, create a desire to carry on, that he must make a worthy contribution to the lesson in hand.

At this stage in the proceedings Mr. John D. Sommerville was introduced and extended an invitation to the teachers to visit the Centre County hospital and see the kind of an institution it is.

The last speaker of the afternoon was Dr. Henderson who, in discussing the art of study made the assertion that the average college student wastes about fifty per cent. of his time because he hasn't acquired the fine art of studying to advantage.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

Rev. William C. Thompson led the devotions at the opening of institute on Wednesday morning. Dr. Charles R. Foster, president of Indiana State Teachers' College, and who is also president of the State Educational association, made his first appearance at this session. He spoke of the individual differences in children. The thing that has done more for our educational system than any other is the fact that we recognize the child as an individual. The scientific attitude of today is to bring the child into his own. Give every boy and girl a chance to function. Give them an opportunity to develop socially, mentally and spiritually.

"Maintaining our Ideals" was a topic discussed by Dr. Robert C. Shaw, of the State Department of Education. A nation's progress is determined by the speed at which we travel, asserted the speaker. Our ancestors came here for various reasons. They came to establish a home and remained to found the church and public school. We as a nation are doing more for the underprivileged child than any other nation, but are we doing all we can for the superior or normal child?

E. R. Kontner, supervisor of health and physical education at Harrisburg, gave a talk at the sectional gathering, Wednesday morning, in which he outlined the State health program which is now being carried out in various counties.

On Wednesday afternoon Dr. Henderson talked on habit and conduct. He stated that fifty per cent. of the habits acquired by men and women are fairly well fixed before they get through High school. All habits come from home association, the play ground or the school.

Dr. Taylor talked on the old school and the new. In 1834, he said, 90 per cent. of the teachers were men and only 10 per cent. women, while today it is just the reverse. Children can spell and write better today than they could forty years ago, and are also better in arithmetic. Teachers are becoming more proficient and have better equipment to work with, so it is only natural that schools should be better.

In addition to the discussions of Dr. Taylor and Dr. Henderson, yesterday, the teachers were favored with an interesting talk in the morning by federal judge Albert W. Johnson, of Lewisburg, and an address in the afternoon by Dr. John A. Keith, superintendent of public instruction.

Institute will close with this (Friday) morning's session.

The total enrollment of teachers for the week was 355.

BELLEFONTE TIES MT. CARMEL BEARCATS.

The Bellefonte High school football team struck its stride at Mount Carmel, last Saturday, afternoon, when they held the Bearcats of the High school at that place to a 6 to 6 score. In fact it was really Mt. Carmel that had the trouble of holding Bellefonte from achieving a victory. According to the meagre reports received of the game Bellefonte had the better of it most of the time. Neither team was able to score until towards the close of the last period.

Bellefonte had the ball in Mt. Carmel territory and had worked it down to within striking distance of the goal line. It was Bellefonte's ball and a third down. On the next play Heverly called for a forward pass and Kelly threw one to Confer over the goal line but the latter dropped the ball. Mt. Carmel got the ball on its own twenty yard line but unable to make a down kicked. The kick went up in the air and Bellefonte recovered. After two plays a forward pass was again called and this time Kelly threw to Shope who caught it back of the goal line for a touchdown. Bellefonte failed to kick the goal. In the last two minutes of play Mount Carmel also scored it's only touchdown on a long forward pass. They also failed to kick the goal.

Tomorrow Bellefonte will meet Windber High on Hughes field, game to be called at 2:30 o'clock. This will be a western conference game and the first time for Bellefonte and Windber to meet on the gridiron. It is sure to be a game worth seeing and every fan should be on hand to root for the home team.

STATE ARMOY BOARD O. K'S. NEW ARMOY PLANS.

The State armory board has approved the plans for the new armory for Troop L, of Bellefonte, as prepared by architect Joseph Kuntz, of Pittsburg. Advertising for bids for the erection of the armory will be done in the near future. The board has also authorized the legal transfer of the present armory from the State to the school district of Bellefonte, and it is quite probable that this will be done within a week or two.

Officers of Troop L have leased a strip of ground on the Harry Corman farm, close to the site of the new military reservation, southeast of Bellefonte, to be used as a rifle range. It is long enough for a range of 200 yards.

While hauling in corn, on Tuesday afternoon, farmer William Fletcher, of Howard, was thrown from the wagon when his team of horses ran away and sustained a severe scalp injury. He was brought to the Centre County hospital where surgical aid was given.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HOSPITAL CORPORATION

New Trustees Elected for Bellefonte and State College.

All told there are in the neighborhood of five thousand members of the Centre County hospital corporation in Centre county and of this vast number only thirteen men and eleven women attended the annual meeting held in the court house on Monday evening. A. H. Sloop was chosen to preside and Myron M. Cobb was elected secretary. Mr. Sloop read the call for the meeting and Mr. Cobb read the minutes of the last annual meeting.

A report of the work of the Woman's auxiliary for the past year was read by Mrs. W. Harrison Walker and on a vote was ordered inscribed upon the minutes.

George C. Bingamin, treasurer, submitted his report for the year, which was also accepted and approved.

Business manager W. H. Brown read a report of his department for the fiscal year June 1, 1928, to May 31, 1929, which showed the following facts:

Mr. Brown stated that during the year repairs and improvements had been made as follows: New operating room furniture for the soldiers' ers placed throughout entire building; new furniture for the soldiers and sailors and Miss Mary McQuinn's room; operators' and doctors' rooms repainted; seven rooms in old building repainted and wired for electric bell service; electric bell service for all beds in old wing; children's ward, maternity ward, kitchen and utility rooms repainted; six rooms, three halls and bath in old frame building painted and repapered; and one bath room completed for use of student nurses. Part of this work was paid for by the Woman's Auxiliary, which is also having two rooms in the old building done over for living rooms.

The above work was made possible through the contributions to the annual drive, which netted approximately $7700. Mr. Brown also stressed the urgent need of a new nurse's home with a capacity of at least forty rooms. Such a home would cost about $40,000.

At the conclusion of Mr. Brown's report, which was accepted and ordered placed upon the minutes, John Blanchard Esq., called attention to the fact that at the meeting of the corporation a year ago an amendment was made to the by-laws providing for the appointment of an auditing committee, and that Messrs. A. M. Barr, Earl S. Orr and Charles McCurdy Scott had been appointed. The latter two declined to serve and because of the fact that to do the work right would take considerable time Mr. Barr also failed to function. Mr. Blanchard made a motion that the board appoint auditors and be empowered to pay them for their services, and the motion passed.

There being no other business the question of the election of trustees was taken up. W. Harrison Walker nominated Ray T. Noll, of Pleasant Gap; Charles J. Detrick and Rev. Robert Thera, of Bellefonte, to take the place of W. J. Emerick, Edward R. Owen and Calvin J. Troup, whose terms had expired. On motion the three men were elected. Hon. J. Laird Holmes of State College, nominated Prof. Frank M. Torrence and John R. Doty, of State College, as the new trustees for District No. 2, in place of Mr. Holmes and Prof. Thomas E. Gravatt. Both men were elected. In District No. 6, Millheim, J. Randall Miller, who had been elected by the board to fill out the unexpired term of W. S. Shelton, was elected for a full term of one year.

Before adjourning John Blanchard made an earnest talk in favor of a new nurse's home, and urged the board to give the matter serious consideration at an early date.
