

BELLEFONTE PEOPLE EAT ON ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Exactly 137 covers were laid for complimentary dinner given at the Belle hotel, on Monday evening, by the manufacturers and business committee of the Anti-Saloon League, to a specially invited list of Bellefonte people. Arrangements for the dinner were made several weeks ago by representatives of the League and three dozen Bellefonte men and women acted as a local committee, Kennedy Johnston Esq., being the chairman and L. C. Helmenan secretary.

Following the dinner there was a session of speech-making, at which Mr. Johnston presided. Addresses were made by Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, of Westerville, Ohio, associate general superintendent of the National League; George C. Wilson, a new recruit from Kansas City, Mo., and Thomas B. Jarvis, of Washington, D. C., assistant legislative superintendent of the League.

All the speakers appealed for a reater individual activity in observance and enforcement of the liquor laws. The thirty-six Bellefonte people who appeared on the program as members of the invitation committee were named as a provisional county committee to have charge of any and all activities necessary to carry on their work in the cause of prohibition in this section of the State.

SENATOR SCOTT'S DINNER A REPUBLICAN LOVE FEAST

The dinner given by State Senator Harry B. Scott to the Republican county committee, at the Centre Hills Country club on Wednesday evening, was a regular party love-feast. The "lion and the lamb" fable is a good illustration of the mixture of the more than two hundred guests present.

Governor Fisher was unable to attend because of a previous engagement but the administration was officially represented by Hon. Charles E. Dorworth, Secretary of Forests and Waters, and Miss Sarah Soffel, of the women's division in the Department of Welfare. State Senator Ernst, of Dauphin county, was also a guest as well as Republican State chairman Edward A. Martin, county chairman Wilson I. Fleming, vice chairman Besse A. Miles, Col. Theodore Davis Boal, Editor Thomas H. Harter, John G. Love and editor John McCabe, of the Phillipsburg Ledger.

Of course, as host at the dinner Senator Scott presided and brief talks were made by all the above and then some. The tenor of all the speeches was united Republicanism and individual support of Republican candidates at all times.

If the dinner was given with any idea of launching a Scott boom for Governor next year there were no developments to indicate anything of the kind.

MOSHANNON GIRL VICTIM OF SUICIDE

Miss Grace Gallagher, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher, of Moshannon, died at the Centre County hospital, at 5:45 o'clock on Tuesday evening, as the result of a gunshot wound, self-inflicted, at noon on Sunday.

Last Friday Daniel Kerin, of Moshannon, was placed under arrest on information of the girl's parents charging him with a serious offense against the young woman, and this, no doubt, was the cause of her shooting herself. At any rate, about noon, on Sunday, while upstairs alone, she fired the fatal shot. She did not collapse but calmly walked down stairs, laid the revolver, a .38 caliber weapon on the table, and announced to her mother that she had shot herself.

She was brought to the Centre County hospital as quick as possible where an X-ray examination revealed the fact that the bullet had entered below the heart and lodged between two ribs. The wound, however, was of such a nature as to result in her death.

In addition to her parents she is survived by three brothers, Budd, Jack and Pat, all at home. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning, burial to be made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte.

A masked Halloween party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Egil Risen, N. Allegheny St., on Saturday evening, October 19th, in honor of Miss Edith Olsen, a niece of Mr. Risen. After delicious refreshments in keeping with the season were served, Mr. Risen announced the engagement of Miss Edith to Mr. Walter Johansen of Boston. Miss Olsen is formerly of Boston, but for the past two years has worked in the capacity of stenographer at the Sutton Engineering company of this place. The announcement came as a complete surprise to her many friends, who join in wishing her much happiness.

Sixty members of the Pennsylvania joint committee on rural electrification, who are holding a two day's meeting at State College, spent last night as guests at the Hotel Markland, in Bellefonte, having reserved the entire house for their accommodation.

It looks as if the industrials will be compelled to allow debentures to the farmers or relinquish some of the largesses they have been drawing from consumers through tariff schedules.

The only real difference between Senator Bingham and the others is that Bingham got caught.

The hairpin industry is looking up though no mention of it is made in the tariff bill.

IN THE CHURCHES ON SUNDAY.

UNITED BROTHERS CHURCH.
The Junior Endeavors will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock instead of the regular hour on Saturday.

Sunday school convention of the 4th and 7th districts of the county will convene at 3 p. m. Saturday. There will also be an evening session with Mr. Cridland, of Pittsburgh, speaking.

A Rally day program combining Sunday school and morning worship will convene at 9:30 Sunday morning. All departments of the school will be represented in this service. Good music will characterize the entire program. Mr. Cridland will teach the lesson in the adult department.

The Women's Missionary association will have charge of the evening service beginning 7:30. The beautiful pageant, "Two Masters," will be presented. We want you to worship with us in all these services.

Rev. W. M. Snyder, Pastor

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL.
9:30 A. M., Bible school.
10:45 A. M., Morning service; Sermon: "Names Written in Heaven."

JACKSONVILLE.

The farmers are all busy with their corn and threshing.

There will be church and Communion next Sunday in the Reformed church.

Mrs. Luther Fisher and children spent Sunday afternoon at the Mervin Hoy home.

Mrs. Mervin Hoy and daughter Grace spent Wednesday at the Harry Hoy home.

Mrs. Edith Sorough, daughter and grand daughter, spent Thursday at the William Weaver home.

Miss Dorothy Korman and Mr. Lutz spent Saturday evening with her sister, Mrs. Mervin Hoy.

The bird they call the stork has been busy hereabouts. Stopping at the homes of George Rodgers and Edward Bartley, he left each of them a boy.

More rain fell on Monday night and Tuesday than has fallen at any time in a year. As a result all cisterns in the county have been filled and the water in the streams is higher than it has been at any time since last spring.

WINGATE.
Lew Davidson, who has been suffering with neuritis in his hip, is slowly improving.

The repairs on the Charles Reese house, near the railroad, are fast nearing completion. Mack Murray's new home is also well under way.

P. G. Murray, his son Mack and daughter Geraldine, accompanied by John Smith and son Malcolm motored over to Lewistown on Sunday, and spent the day with friends.

AARONSBURG.

Miss Mable Crouse returned home, Sunday, from a motor trip to Geneva, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Musser, of Coburn, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Musser's father, Benjamin Stover.

The Misses Mildred Carter, Estella Hazel and Martha Smith have gone to State College for an indefinite time.

Mrs. John Mohr Otto was pleasantly surprised, Sunday, to have as callers friends from Milton and Williamsport.

Mrs. Robert Hackenberg, of Williamsport, has for the past two weeks been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Musser.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haffley had as over Sunday guests Mrs. Haffley's sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Royer and daughter, of Altoona.

Mrs. Thomas Hull had as callers, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kessinger and their three children, Miss Polly, John and James Finley, of State College.

Mrs. John Deyo, of Pontiac, Ill., was in town Monday calling on old neighbors and friends. Mrs. Deyo will be better remembered as Mrs. Lucetta Edmunds, a native of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stover and their daughter, Mrs. William Caris and son Billy, of Williamsport, motored to Akron, Ohio, where they are guests of their son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mingle.

Mrs. Geo. McKay and daughter, Miss Florence, of Philadelphia, motored to town last week, accompanied by Mrs. McKay's mother, Mrs. W. H. Phillips, who had been their guest for a week or longer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Stover had as callers during the past week, the Misses Wolfe, their sisters, Mrs. Garbrick and Mrs. Louser, Mrs. Louser's daughter, Mrs. McAdams, of Lebanon, and later Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kreamer and small son, of Jersey Shore.

HOWARD.

The temporary bridge over Marsh creek will soon be ready for traffic.

State game wardens are busy in this district, making three arrests last week.

Mrs. Etta Painter came to Howard, Tuesday, to spend the winter with her son.

M. E. Fletcher attended a meeting of Philco radio dealers, at Williamsport, Wednesday last week.

Dr. Osborne, chaplain at Rockview, was the speaker at the Presbyterian services in the Reformed church, Sunday evening.

The Goodyear blimp gave the people of Howard quite a treat, Saturday. It circled several times and came almost low enough to brush the tree tops.

Avis High came to Howard, last Saturday, to stop the Howard steam roller, but were badly disappointed. The Howard backfield scored almost at will running up a total of 61 points, while Avis was able to penetrate Howard's line for only a first down. Lewisburg High will be next Saturday's opponent at Howard and Howard players are looking for a closer game.
