Bellefonte, Pa., November 1, 1929

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Desertion and non-support and pleas of guilty court will be held before Judge Fleming tomorrow and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hassinger, of Moose Run, Boggs township, celebrated their golden wedding with a family dinner, on Monday.

A dispatch from Washington, on Saturday, announced that Alfred W. Kliefoth, of Boalsburg, Pa., now consul at Riga, Latvia, has been designated as second secretary of Embassy, at Berlin, Germany.

Owing to next Tuesday being election day the grand jury will not meet until Wednesday for the consideration of bills of indictment, but as the list is not a very long one they will be able to get through their work before the end of the week.

Next Tuesday will be election day and the Watchman hopes that every voter in Bellefonte will carefully consider all the candidates for borough office and vote for the men whom they candidly believe will make the most capable borough officials.

Thirty members of Constance Commandery Knights Templar, of Bellefonte, attended a division convocation held in the temple of Moshannon Commandery, Philipsburg, last Thursday. Degrees were conferred upon a large class of novitiates, the order of the temple being conferred by the officers of Constance Commandery.

Contrary to the popular belief the driver of fire-fighting apparatus is not exempt from action to recover for any damage he might cause, through reckless driving on the way to or from a fire. While fire, police and hospital motors have right of way, when on duty, their operators must drive with due regard for the safety of all persons using the highway.

The first piece of furniture for Bellefonte's new postoffice arrived in Bellefonte yesterday morning. It is a large safe, second hand, purchased at East Liberty by the White brothers two weeks ago. It was brought here by the Shoemaker Bros., of State College, on their truck, and placed in the old Valentine house until the postoffice has been completed.

The Bellefonte camp, No. 887, P. O. S. of A., will hold a Halloween social in their hall in the Potter-Hoy building, Thursday evening, November 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to attend and take their friends. There will be a special program, with prize awards and refreshments. Those who can should wear costumes and masks. Admission, 10 cents.

About seventy-five members of the Altoona post Veterans of Foreign Wars, accompanied by their band, visited the Rockview penitentiary on Sunday afternoon. The band gave a concert in the prison after which all the visitors witnessed a football game between the black and white teams. Later they were shown through the buildings and entertained at luncheon.

Mrs. Gilbert Boyer and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Labe, of Bellefonte, are chief beneficiaries in the will of the late Louis Lose, who died in Altoona last Friday evening. Practically his entire estate, estimated at from $8,000 to $10,000, was left to them outright with the exception of a few small bequests, one of which was $200 for the care of a favorite bull dog.

Mrs. O. P. Morton Smith went down to Philadelphia, on Sunday, and on Wednesday evening brought home her daughter Betty, who had been a patient at the Masonic hospital since early in the summer undergoing treatment for infantile paralysis. She has now recovered to that extent that she is able to get around very nicely without the use of crutches.

Miss Alyce Rote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Rote, of Chestertown, Md., and a granddaughter of Mrs. J. C. Rote, of Axe Mann, this county, is teaching physical education at Penn. Hall, private school for girls, at Chambersburg. Miss Rote took her degree at the Marjorie Hill school in Washington, D. C., and is reported as doing splendid work at Penn Hall.

The attraction at the Cathaum theatre, State College, this afternoon and evening will be "Street Girl," the all talking musical romance that has just completed a three month's run in New York city at $2 prices. Tomorrow night Ann Harding will be featured there in "Her Private Life," a screen version of the daring stage play "The Right to Kill." The Cathaum is going to show "Rio Rita" soon and if you miss that you will pass up the year's greatest musical extravaganza.

A small house located in Mann's Narrows, Mifflin county, and which housed the family of James Moyer, was burned to the ground, last week, which makes the third time the family had their home destroyed by fire. The Moyers are natives of Centre county and formerly lived in Pennsylvania. Their home there was burned to the ground several years ago. They then moved to Yeagertown and had not lived long there when their home was burned. They then took up their residence in Mann's Narrows and last week it was destroyed by fire.

PENN STATE FURNISHED BEST FOOTBALL THRILL

The best and biggest football thrill in any game played last Saturday was furnished by Penn State in its game with Lafayette on Beaver field, at State College. The visitors kicked a field goal early in the game which gave them a tally of three points. And then, for two hours, the fifteen thousand spectators watched a rather listless exhibition of the great collegiate sport. It was a monotonous struggle, back and forth across the gridiron, neither team showing any special brilliance, with no really spectacular plays to awaken undue enthusiasm.

Toward the end of the fourth period State seemed to waken up and managed to work her way down to within striking distance of the Lafayette goal. A delayed forward pass sent French over the goal line for a touchdown but it was not allowed because the pass was hurled too close to the line of scrimmage. The ball was awarded to Lafayette on its own fifteen yard line. After two tries at bucking the State line Lafayette punted. It was the last minute of play, only a few seconds, in fact. The punt was taken by French who threw a lateral pass to Deidrick, waiting at the side of the field, and the latter tucked the ball under his arm and sped down the field like a frightened deer. His race to the goal being cut off by the Lafayette backs he suddenly veered, ran across to the right side of the field where he met the State interference and under cover of their protection completed a sixty yard run over the goal line and a touchdown. Lafayette protested the legality of the play but the referee decided in State's favor. An attempt to kick the goal from touchdown failed because of the frenzy of the mob which rolled in billows over the field, even before the timekeeper's whistle announced the end of the game.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY WON FROM BUCKNELL FRESHMEN.

Coach Carl G. Snavey's yearlings came up from Bucknell, last Saturday, and in a game on Hughes field at ten o'clock in the morning, lost to the Bellefonte Academy by the score of 46 to 0. At the start of the game it looked as if the visitors might be able to put up an interesting contest, but their big rush was made in the beginning and when the Academy scoring machine got into operation it was at once evident that the only thing to be considered was the size of the score. And the Academy added to that almost at will. On one occasion "Spooks" Temple caught a Bucknell kickoff and ran eighty yards for a touchdown. In the second half quite a number of second and third string Academy men were used.

The Academy team will go to Philadelphia today for a game with Penn yearlings tomorrow. The game will take place at 10 o'clock in the morning, and Watchman readers in Philadelphia who are anxious to see the Academy team in action can do so tomorrow.

HUNTINGDON DOWNS BELLEFONTE.

The one disappointment of the day was the overwhelming defeat of the Bellefonte High school team by Huntingdon High, by the score of 46 to 0. Whether it was an off day for the team or not cuts no figure in the result. But defeated though they were their spirits have not been quenched and the boys are working hard this week to overcome the weak spots and get in shape for the game with Tyrone, on Hughes field, tomorrow afternoon.

Not a team in the western conference has the honors safely tucked away and until that time comes there is always a fighting chance. In any event the Bellefonte boys are going to give their best in every game to be played.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS TOUR CENTRE COUNTY.

A zealous party of Sunday school workers made a tour of Centre county, last week, holding meetings at the Methodist church, in Snow Shoe, on Monday evening; the Methodist church, at Port McAllen, on Tuesday evening; the Methodist church, at State College, Wednesday afternoon and evening; the Salem Reformed church, west of Millheim, Thursday afternoon and evening; the Church of Christ, Howard, on Friday evening, and ending the tour with meetings in the United Brethren church of Bellefonte, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Speakers at the meeting included H. C. Cridland, a worker connected with the State Sabbath School association; Rev. H. E. Oakwood, of Milesburg; Prof. J. H. Frizzell and Mrs. Leitzell, of State College, and C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte. For assisting with the music at the various meetings the committee expresses gratitude to Mrs. F. J. Holden, vocal soloist; Mrs. Gregory, violin soloist; Mr. Casselberry, the male quartette and the instrumental trio, of State College, and the choir of the Bellefonte United Brethren church.

The enthusiasm created by the week's meetings will no doubt result in increased interest and activity among Sunday school workers in every section of the county, and if this result is attained those who took part in the meetings will feel well repaid for their efforts in the good cause.

WADDLE TO STATE COLLEGE HIGHWAY WORK STARTED

The new concrete highway from Waddle to State College, a distance of over six miles, will be at least partially built this fall. The Ross Construction company of Pittsburgh, which has the contract, is getting its machinery and equipment on the ground ready to begin work.

The Highway Department engineers have established headquarters at State College and began work, on Monday, staking out the route of the road, which will follow fairly close the course of the present road. Herbert Bilger, of Bellefonte, is a member of the corps and he and his bride of several months have taken rooms with a private family, at the College, for as long as the job will last.

Charles Cruse, a former Bellefontian, has been delegated as inspector on the job and, with his wife and child, arrived in Bellefonte the latter part of the week and will make their headquarters here.

The Chemical Lime company has secured the contract for the stone for the concrete, so that everything is all set to push the work as fast as possible.

Rhoads Bros., of this place have the contract for all the bridges on the route and they began work excavating at locations on Monday morning.

While the route through "the Barrens" will not be changed much from the present course of No. 250, when it reaches the Buffalo Run valley it will not follow what is known as the Scotia road, either back to Waddle or on to Gray's church. In fact it will emerge from "the Barrens" west of the Horseshoe curve on the Bellefonte Central R. R., cut north across the Sellers farm and hit the Buffalo Run highway, Route 550, at the Hartsock farm, now owned by Harry Ebbs, just east of Maternville.

THE LEGION PROGRAM FOR ARMISTICE DAY.

The Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion has completed its program for the Armistice day celebration in Bellefonte. All members of the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and ex-soldiers will meet at the Legion home, on Howard street, not later than 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning, November 11th. From the home the Legion, under escort of the bugle and drum corps, will march to the Diamond for the usual services at the Zero hour—11 o'clock. Commander Walter Gherity will be in charge and after two minutes of silence will introduce Rev. Robert Thoma, who will be the speaker.

At 1:30 o'clock the Legion and drum corps, Troop L and other organizations will form in parade at the High school building, where they will be joined by the High school and the school band. Marching to the Diamond the High school will hold a few minutes pep meeting while the parade continues down High street to the depot; counter-march to Spring, Spring to Bishop, and Bishop to Allegheny, where the High school will again fall in line and the parade will then march to Hughes field for the football game between Bellefonte and Lewistown High schools.

The annual Legion banquet will be held at the Penn Belle hotel at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. The speaker for the occasion will be Judge M. Ward Fleming, Rev. W. E. Downes and Secretary of Forests and Waters, Charles E. Dorworth. Other guests who will be invited are Burgess Hardman, P. Harris, S. D. Gettig Esq., Col. W. F. Reynolds, George W. Sunday, Prof. A. H. Sloop, Rev. Robert Thoma and Dr. M. J. Locke.

The armistice dance will be held in the auditorium at Hecla park after the banquet.

Mrs. IRWIN CELEBRATES HER 90th ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs. Eliza G. Irwin, widow of the late Daniel Irwin, during his life one of the prominent residents of upper Bald Eagle valley, was 90 years old on October 29th, and the event was duly celebrated at the home of her only daughter, Mrs. J. H. Turner, at Julian, where she has lived since the death of her husband many years ago. Mrs. Irwin was born and grew to womanhood in Huston township, and all her life with the exception of several years immediately following her marriage to Mr. Irwin, when they lived in Iowa, were spent in Bald Eagle valley, most of it in Julian.

Mr. Irwin, who conducted a general store at Julian, was one of the original subscribers to the Watchman and for more than sixty years Mrs. Irwin has read every issue of the paper. Today she looks forward to it's weekly visits with the same eager anticipation that she did half a century ago. At her birthday celebration, this week, she had with her, in addition to her daughter, two of her sons, C. A. Irwin, of Bigler and Edward P. Irwin, of Bellefonte. Another son, living in New York State, was unable to attend the momentous family gathering. Of course the celebration included a big dinner to which all did justice. Mrs. Irwin enjoys remarkably good health for one of her age.

One of the most important offices in our borough is that of tax collector. Vote for Charles Schaefer. He will take care of it for you

CENTRE COUNTY GIRL WINS DIAMOND MEDAL

At the state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held in Warren, Pennsylvania, last week, the Centre county organization received many honors. The Standard of Excellence and ten local unions, Bellefonte, Pleasant Gap, Centre Hall, State College, Unionville, Blanchard, Philipsburg, Half Moon, Port Matilda, Howard, each received a cash award of five dollars for excellence. Julian and Wingate had also completed the requirements but failed to get work reported in time. As the standard exacts many different lines of work, and each one includes a gain in membership, the showing for the county is excellent. Mrs. Maude H. Bell, of State College, has served as president during the year.

Another honor that came to the county during the convention was the diamond medal for declamation. Miss Beulah Harnish, of Wingate, won the medal in a competition with an unusually strong group of young orators. It was Miss Harnish's first competition outside of the county. She won a silver medal some years ago in a contest staged by the Loy-al Temperance Legion in Wingate. The gold medal came to her in a county convention, and two years later, a sufficient number of contests having been held in the county to furnish a class of gold-medals, she competed in the county convention for the grand gold medal which she won. She is now in line for the Grand Diamond medal contest, which is held on alternate years at State conventions and each year at National. Mrs. V. C. Ridge is director of the department in the county.

Second place was won in the State essay contest for 7th and 8th grade students by Gene Ziegler, of State College. The prize was $8.00. Mrs. Maude Herrman is county director of the scientific temperance instruction department and Mrs. R. M. Beach presented the plan of this department recently at the teachers' institute in Bellefonte.

Mrs. W. A. Broyles, of State College, was elected as editor of the state publication the W. C. T. U. Bulletin. The Bulletin has a circulation of about thirty-five thousand and its issuance is one of the major details of the organization program. Those attending from Centre county were Mrs. Frank P. Knoll, Miss Gertrude Adams, Mrs. W. A. Broyles, Mrs. Fred Henry, of State College; Mrs. Ida Witmer, Miss Beulah Harnish and Mrs. Harnish, of Wingate.

WESTERN UNION EQUIPPED WITH TELEPRINTERS

The Western Union telegraph office in Bellefonte and the National Air Transport at the aviation field have been equipped with teleprinter machines. Up to this time, however, manager Mack Hall, at the Western Union, continues to hammer out messages in the old way as he has not yet become sufficiently familiar with the new machine to manipulate it expertly. So far only one machine has been installed in the telegraph office but two more are to be added later which will constitute the full equipment, and then the old-time key and ticker will be thrown into the discard.

The machines were installed in the N. A. T. hangar because the Department of Commerce will discontinue giving that company radio service today. This does not mean that the big wireless station is to be moved from Bellefonte, as such is not the case. In the future, however, it will be used exclusively for Department of Commerce business. With the teleprinters the N. A. T. will be able to have twenty-four hour service on weather reports both east and west, and will also be able to send any messages they have to go out from here.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE DESTROYS OLD BUILDING

An early Sunday morning fire, which had all the earmarks of a deliberate case of arson, completely destroyed a frame building down near the old glass works site, and which belonged to Isaac Underwood and was used as a storage place for second hand machinery. Fortunately, the building stood some distance from any other buildings and the only contents were a second hand traction engine and threshers.

The fire was discovered shortly after two o'clock by the watchman at the P. R. R. engine house, who promptly turned in an alarm of fire, but the building was old and dry and by the time the firemen arrived on the scene it was partially burned down. It is stated on fairly reliable authority that only a few minutes previous to the fire a man in a Ford car, without lights drove up and stopped at the rear of the building. He was there only a minute or two when he left and drove in toward Bellefonte. He was hardly out of sight when the fire was discovered.

Frank L. Murphy, general manager of the Central Pennsylvania Gas company, was in Millersburg, last week, in the interest of securing a franchise to erect a gas plant there of sufficient capacity to supply Millersburg, Halifax, Liverpool, Newport and Millersburg. Should a franchise be granted a plant similar to the one erected at Axe Mann and now supplying an excellent quality of gas to residents of Bellefonte, State College and intermediate points, will be built.

THE "BLACK CAT" RAIDED LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

The "Black Cat" opened seven months ago by "Little Joe" Deslin in The Forge House, just south of Bellefonte, where spaghetti was served in true Italian style, is more. It was raided about 11 o'clock last Thursday morning, by county detective Leo Boden, found parts of two pints of liquor on a table and the place was promptly closed. Little Joe protested that the liquor was not his but had been brought there by some men who came to eat spaghetti, but he was placed under arrest and spent the remainder of the night in the Centre county jail.

On Saturday he secured bail at once proceeded to shake the dust of Bellefonte from his feet. Colmident with his leaving the town was the moving of his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Roth, who kept house for a man on Halfmoon hill. None of them left the county as they are now located in a house near Martha Furnace and continuing their restaurant business.

He had a hearing Tuesday morning and gave bond for trial at court.

Harry T. McDowell, one of the best known residents of Howard was a Bellefonte visitor, one day last week, and just naturally dropped in to the Watchman office to assure us that his Democracy is still as steadfast as his religion. Since he has retired from active business pursuits he doesn't get to Bellefonte as frequently as he used to a few years ago, hence his visits are more of a delight than ever to his man friends. Just now he and Mrs. McDowell are looking forward to a celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving day. The real date would be November 27th, but as that is just one day short of Thanksgiving they decided to celebrate on the latter day. Mrs. McDowell's maiden name was Mary Bella Kline, and she was a daughter of "Squire" and Mrs. Sam Kline, of Howard. Her parents lived to celebrate their golden wedding and so did Mr. McDowell's parents Mr. and Mrs. Perry W. McDowell and it is only natural that Harry and his wife have a hankerin' to do likewise.

Your vote for Charles Schaefer, for tax collector, will be greatly appreciated
