B. H. S. WINS FROM TYRONE THE OLD JINX DOWNED.

From "The Bellefontian," the interesting bimonthly publication of the students of the Bellefonte High school, we take the following account of the foot ball game here last Saturday, between Tyrone and Bellefonte 13, Tyrone 0.

Saturday afternoon on the Hughes field, Bellefonte High school ran rough-shod over their ancient "jinx," Tyrone.

For the first time in the last seven years that Bellefonte High school has played Tyrone she was able to come off the old gridiron with the bacon, and a joyful feeling.

The "Red and White" warriors came back to defeat their old opponents, after taking a beating at the hands of Huntingdon on the preceding Saturday.

The pulp from the "paper-mill" town tried to stage a comeback in the final quarter but were held at bay by the "Red and White Cheetahs."

As usual, Sammy Confer played a brilliant game, and Kelley showed some fine playing, but "Old Ironsides" Shope ran with the best of them. The new right side of the line, consisting of Tom Fisher playing guard, Keeler at tackle, and Gettig on the end did some beautiful work, both offensively and defensively.

The first quarter B. H. S. received the kick-off, "Sammy" totting the old pill back about 40 yards before he was downed; then Kelley, Shope, and "Sammy" started working on the "Orange and Black" line for repeated gains. "Sam" took the ball through left tackle for the first touchdown as the quarter ended with the score 6-0 in favor of the "Red and White Cheetahs" and the first downs stood 7-2 in our favor. In the second quarter the "Cheetahs" kept slashing the line of "Orange and Black" back toward their own goal. Sam made first downs, hitting off tackle, Kelley made good yardage through the center and Shope ran the ends for consecutive gains until the ball was advanced close enough to the Tyrone goal line to let "Max" rip their line with the needed ground and our second and final touchdown. A pass, Kelley to Shope, gave us the extra point. In this quarter the "Red and White" had 5 first-downs to Tyrone's one, and 13 points to Tyrone's 0.

B. H. S. received the kickoff as the second-half began, and continued to make yards and first downs, but Tyrone held the snarling "Cheetahs" better in this quarter than in any quarter of the game. The "Red and White" could muster no more than three first-downs to Tyrone's one. The score remained 13-0 in our favor. In the fourth quarter the "Red and White" got within striking distance of their opponents' goal but penalties set the ball back into deeper territory. This quarter also passed with the score still standing 13-0 in favor of our fighting team and first-downs stood 21-6 in our favor.

Derr played well for the "Orange and Black." Friday and Blowers also played good ball.

The team should have a "loud hand" after defeating our "Jonah" and the students of B. H. S. can be praised for standing back of their colors after the beating we received at the hands of the Huntingdon "Wildcats" they tore the "Cheetah," but not enough to break his spirit.

We are looking forward to Lewis-town on Armistice Day. We took plenty of beatings from Lewistown in basketball, but do you think they can make us "bite the turf" on the gridiron? We shall see.

PENN STATE TO CELEBRATE HER 75th ANNIVERSARY

Celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Legislative grant of a charter to the institution that is now the Pennsylvania State College will be observed next year by the college.

Trustees of the college have approved the suggestion of president Ralph D. Hetzel to mark the anniversary celebration with suitable educational conferences during which dedication of buildings now under construction will take place. Each of the six schools of the college will have a new building completed by the time college opens in late September of 1930. The anniversary of founding will be celebrated over a period of at least three days in October or November, and in this period each school will conduct meetings that will attract educational, agricultural and industrial leaders from the State and Nation.

Penn State received its institutional charter through an act of the State Legislature on February 22, 1855. Four years later the first students entered what was then known as the "Farmers' High School of Pennsylvania."

—Since 1900 the banks of Pennsylvania have paid into the State Treasury, in interest on State deposits, approximately $13,020,000.

Listeners Didn't Quite

Get Shades of Meaning

It all depends upon how you say it. There was once a clergyman by the name of Twitchel. In the pulpit he maintained a gravity of manner and expression, but out of the pulpit was a regular fellow. Occasionally he would if the emergency required, introduce something queer in a sermon for the sake of arousing the attention of the congregation.

One Sunday, seeing that his hearers were becoming sleepy, he paused in his sermon and said: "Brethren, you haven't any idea of the sufferings of our missionaries in the new settlements, on account of the mosquitoes. The mosquitoes in some of these regions are enormous. A great many of them would weigh a pound, and they will get on the logs and bark when the missionaries are going along."

By this time all ears and eyes were open and he proceeded to finish his discourse. The next day one of the church members called him to account for telling lies in the pulpit.

"There never was a mosquito that weighed a pound," he said.

"But," replied the minister, "I didn't say one of them would weigh a pound; I said a great many, and I think a million of them would."

"But you said that they barked at the missionaries."

"No, no, brother; I said they would get on the logs and bark."—Boston Herald.

Relics of Wesley in

House Where He Died

Wesley's house in the City road, London, adjoining the chapel of which he laid the foundation stone in 1777, has been converted into a museum of interesting relics of the famous preacher. Here may be seen his bedroom as it was when he died there on March 2, 1791, intact with its beautiful Chippendale furniture. One article of which, a massive bureau with curious secret drawers, has been valued at many thousands of pounds, apart from its associations. Adjoining the bedroom are his praying closet and his study, the latter a spacious apartment, also furnished in Chippendale. Here are preserved his preaching gown of flowered brocade, his riding shoes and stirrups, and many other personal belongings, including the pen he was writing with when he lay dying.

Opossum's Pouch

The opossum is the only American animal that belongs to the class of marsupials or pouched animals. There are usually two litters a year and from five to fourteen to a litter. According to the investigations of Dr. Carl Hartman of the University of Texas, an authority on the subject, the young are born undeveloped or in embryo form and crawl by their own efforts into the pouch of the mother. There they remain for 65 to 75 days, never leaving the pouch and depending entirely upon the mother. Even after they are able to provide for themselves and leave the pouch, they may return there or may attach themselves to the mother's hair or tail.

Feather Trapped Thief

Few women have "broken the bank" at Monte Carlo, but of those who have done so the most amazing was Baroness Groner—she did so twice in one evening! As she left the tables and started walking toward the restaurant, two hands shot out from behind some ferns and clutched her by the throat, while her ostrich feather handbag was snatched. Detectives could find no trace of the thieves.

Later, in the restaurant, she caught sight of a single ostrich feather on the leg of a man's trousers. He and his companion were searched, and the baroness' winnings were found in the girl's stocking.

Sportsman

A Londoner, a strong swimmer, was spending a holiday at Le Touquet. He bathed each day at a part of the coast generally considered to be dangerous. He noticed that on every occasion a Frenchman on the shore watched him with gloomy interest. One day the Saxon broke silence.

"You like to see me swim?" he asked.

"Mais, non," the other shrugged. "But here they pay five francs for the recovery of a body."—Sporting and Dramatic News.

Treatment for Botulism

Botulism is poisoning from infected ripe olives, preserved fruit and vegetables. The symptoms and treatment, according to the Red Cross textbook on first aid, are similar to ptomaine poisoning. The person afflicted becomes sick at the stomach. His skin is cold and clammy, his pulse weak and there are severe pains in the abdomen and often eruptions of the skin. The treatment is to administer castor oil or epsom salts and a teaspoonful of charcoal, and send for a doctor.

The Moral

Guide—Here you see the waistcoat worn by Lord Nelson at the battle of Trafalgar. The bullet that ended his life went through this hole here.

Nurse (to her charges)—Just take a lesson from that, children. If that hole had been mended at the proper time the bullet could not have gone through it, and he would still be alive today.—Weekly Scotsman.

PRESIDENT ENROLLS IN RED CROSS

President Hoover, who is also president of the American Red Cross enrolls in the annual Roll Call of the society, which occurs from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 28.

CHURCHMEN ASK SUPPORT OF RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Leading churchmen of the nation have joined in asking public support of the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. Two distinguished leaders who have sent messages to their congregations all over the country are quoted, as follows:

"I plead for an extension of our Red Cross membership until we can call a roll of every adult American," stated the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. "I would like to see the children listed in the organization by their parents. I plead for it because of the spiritual reaction I visualize in our millions of contributing members."

"As president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, I bespeak for the Roll Call of the American Red Cross the fullest cooperation of all the churches in the constituency of the Council," writes Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council. "I cannot imagine that there is any minister who will not be grateful for the opportunity to call the attention of his people to the work of the Red Cross and to urge them to enroll in its membership."

AID FOR VETERANS IS RED CROSS PLEDGE

Service and Ex-Service Men Are Helped in All Problems.

Service to World War veterans in hospital, for able-bodied veterans, and for dependent families of both called for expenditures of $738,000 by the American Red Cross during the year just ended. In addition, Red Cross Chapters spent $1,963,000 in veteran relief, and also for men still in service.

Although eleven years have passed since the Armistice, there remain 25,500 disabled and sick veterans of the World War in hospitals, and the peak of the number who will require hospitalization is not expected by Veterans Bureau authorities to be reached until 1947. For these men, the Red Cross must continue its service of providing recreation and comforts, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the Red Cross.

"Under its Charter from Congress, the Red Cross is required to maintain service for veterans of wars and for the men still in the service," Mr. Fieser said. "The funds for this work come from the annual roll call membership fees. In addition to the sum spent in maintaining contact with the veterans, the Red Cross expended $308,000 in its service to the men still in the regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps. The society and a majority of its 3,500 chapters handle claims for these men for insurance, compensation and other benefits they are entitled to under the law, and also where necessary arrange to provide for dependents of the men."

Red Cross workers are maintained in forty-eight Veterans Bureau Hospitals, as well as in all regular Army and Navy hospitals, whose duty it is to supervise recreational facilities for the patients, and to provide small comforts. In the Army and Navy Hospitals, the workers also do social service for the patients. These tasks also are performed at all Army Posts and Navy Ports by Red Cross workers, and in addition Red Cross representatives to handle claims are established at the majority of Veterans Bureau regional offices.

Mr. Fieser urged that all citizens enroll in the Roll Call, from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 28, in order to aid in supporting this work.

WOMEN KNIT AND SEW FOR RED CROSS RELIEF

Volunteers Aid Through Motor and Canteen Corps—Send Gifts to Service Men.

Recalling the days of the World War, many women still make pajamas and other hospital garments, many knit sweaters, and more than 2,500,000 surgical dressings were rolled by volunteer workers for the American Red Cross Chapters all over the nation, in the year just closed.

The hospital garments are given to veterans and the surgical dressings go to civilian or Veterans' Bureau hospitals, or wherever needed. Many Chapters also maintain well stocked closets of surgical dressings and garments, in order to be prepared should a disaster strike their communities.

Volunteer workers make children's clothing and layettes which are distributed in time of major catastrophes. The Motor Corps of Red Cross women and the Canteen Service, also first created during the World War, still are maintained by many Red Cross Chapters. Last year the various Motor Corps, some with ambulances, answered about 30,000 calls, and the Canteens served more than 20,000 persons. They were especially active where floods or forest fires or other catastrophes called for feeding refugees or firemen engaged in active work fighting disaster.

Another activity of women volunteers is that of filling Christmas bags—small cretonne ditty bags—to send to soldiers and sailors who are stationed at posts or ports abroad. More than 40,000 of these are sent each year for distribution to the Americans at Christmas time.

LABOR HEAD URGES SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

"Invariably it is the masses of the people which suffer most when disasters occur," stated William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, recently.

"Because they suffer most and because of their helplessness, the ministrations of the Red Cross organization take on added significance and importance. No doubt many lives among these particular groups are saved through the prompt service which this organization gives."

"Because the American Federation of Labor appreciates this fact, we have supplemented the appeal of the American Red Cross at each Roll Call period for memberships from the great mass of working men and women and their families."

"The continued service of the American Federation of Labor in this most humane and unselfish work will be most cheerfully rendered."

Mr. Green is a member of the Board of Incorporators of the American Red Cross.

FIVE RED CROSS CAMPS HOUSE FLOOD REFUGEES

A total of 27,791 persons were maintained by the American Red Cross in camps or in their own homes in the three States of Alabama, Georgia and Florida, following the disastrous floods of early last Spring. Five camps were organized, of which four were in Alabama and one in Florida. Small temporary camps were set up in various places in addition to these, but the persons not sheltered in the five main camps soon were able to return home or to friends and relatives. Red Cross nurses were at all five camps, assisting the State health authorities in care of the sick and in inoculating against epidemics.

Little St. Eustatius Island in the Dutch West Indies gave refuge to American ships during the Revolution. The hurricane of last September struck the island, causing heavy loss. The American Red Cross was glad to send a small cash relief fund in remembrance of the historic friendship of the island folk for this republic.

Banking

Banking has become a varied occupation. The early banks did little more than receive money on deposit, pay it out on checks, and lend to borrowers.

These duties, while still the chief functions of a bank, now are supplanted by many others of importance. For example, National Banks, in recent years, have been granted all the fiduciary powers of a Trust Company, and can act as Executor, Administrator or Trustee. More and more the public is becoming financially interested in our great industries, in public utilities and carriers, through the ownership of stock in these corporations.

Today expert knowledge is necessary to the proper settlement of an estate. We advise everyone to make a Will, and to name a proper bank as Executor.
