WEST PENN POWER CO.

IN BELLEFONTE CHURCHES.

BELLEFONTE METHODIST CHURCH.

Church school, C. C. Shuey, Supt., 30 a. m. Extra events. League with interesting program and lively object 6:30 p. m. Worship—10:45 a. m. special exposition—"Conditions of a Continuous Pentecost." 7:30 "The Ethic of Pentecost," urgent preaching. Tuesday evening, class. Wednesday, mid-week congregational gathering, featured praise, prayer, world outlook and christian obligation—local, national and international, exceptional occasion. Commercial travelers and visitors invited; men in particular welcome. Pastor responds to calls in his services.

Easter had exceptional attention in interest for the Methodists of Bellefonte and their friends. The service conducted a very helpful service, well attended. The church school had 345 attendance with a goal of 333; and with a $500 old service objective, conditioning a special gift of $10, it turned $100.50, making the total School offering, $110.50. Special events led interest to the program in the school. A class of young men on a rural school led by their teacher, was introduced. The beginners department, in charge of the persistent Miss Green, had a pleasant party for their exercises. Miss Mary Gehret recited the entire chapter in Matthew's Gospel describing the high lights of the Resurrection story.

The congregational exercises were very attractively. At both morning and evening the chorus sang two special selections. While the members of the church were largely in attendance in the congregation, many rangers and week-end visitors are noted in the sittings, visiting on outnumbering the women. At eight strangers were very numerous. Our members were received on answer certificate by Pastor Jacobs, assisted by official men and women, and members.

UNIONVILLE.

In the published account of my trip to Buffalo, last week there appeared a statement that the Larkin Co. employed 350 people. They employ that number in their garment factory and about a thousand all told.

Mrs. Anna Finch will give a display of Larkin products and premiums at her home Friday, April 25th, afternoon and evening. All who are interested are cordially invited to attend. Dresses for women, misses and children, and many other things will be on display.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kerchner and daughter Dorothy were guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shirk, for dinner on Easter, at The Markland, Bellefonte, and Sunday afternoon they all drove to Jersey Shore, to the home of Mr. Kerchner's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith.

Easter day was observed in the M. E. church by special services in the evening by the Junior and Epworth Leagues. The Juniors were under the instruction of Mrs. Buck, and the young people of Miss Alice Bauder. There was also special music by the choir and orchestra and a sermon by the pastor, Rev. M. H. Crawford.

Union Grange will meet Friday evening, April 25th. An interesting program is being planned for the lecture hour in memory of William Saunders, the first master of the national Grange. Mr. Saunders was a great lover of the beauty in nature, being a horticulturist. His greatest achievement was the planning of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg.

Among the many visitors to our town during the Easter vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holtzworth and family, at the parental homes of Mr. and Mrs. D. Buck and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holtzworth; Mrs. Robert Keeler, of Buffalo, N. Y., at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W.
