STATE COLLEGE SOLDIER A VICTIM OF SUICIDE.

John Gurdack, technical sergeant on the reserve officers training corps instruction staff at the Pennsylvania State College during the past ten years, committed suicide, last Thursday evening, by blowing away the one side of his head with a shot gun. The act of self-destruction took place in the home of Frank Tomazic, a short distance above Fillmore.

Tomazic was in the Centre county jail serving a three month's sentence imposed by the Federal court for violation of the liquor law and during his absence Raymond Rudy, of State College, had charge of his home. Gurdack had been away from the College for several days and the first knowledge of his whereabouts was the announcement of his suicide. The shooting took place between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, while Rudy was at the barn attending to the stock. Gurdack had gone to an upstairs bedroom where Rudy found his lifeless body sprawled out on a bed.

The sergeant was a native of Galitzia, Austria, where he was born on February 23rd, 1892. He was educated abroad and could speak seven languages. He came to this country as a young man and worked as a miner in Clearfield county, where he took out his first papers to become a naturalized citizen. He enlisted in the army in September, 1914, and had been in the service ever since.

After the close of the war, on April 5th, 1920, he was ordered by the War Department to State College where he served as an instructor in the R. O. T. C. and an office worker. He at one time was a member of Brooks-Doll post of the American Legion, of Bellefonte. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Gurdack left a brief note addressed to his wife in which he expressed a wish to be buried in Arlington cemetery, Washington, and the remains were sent there for interment.

BREAK GROUND FOR TROOP L'S NEW ARMORY.

The Tidlow Bros., contractors of Lock Haven, broke ground, on Tuesday afternoon, for the new military reservation for Troop L, on the site recently acquired east of Bellefonte. The Tidlow Bros. have the contract for the erection of the administration building, while the contract for the stables will not be awarded until May 7th.

Instead of a two story administration building, as at first planned, the State Armory Board has directed that a large one-story brick building be erected, and close inspection of the plans has caused the officers and members of the Troop to look more favorably on the one-story building than the other.

The building is a to be 65x44 feet and rectangular in shape, with a concrete basement under all, large enough to accommodate storage of property, etc. The administration buildings' main floor will house the Troop officer's locker rooms, toilet and shower bath rooms, and rifle room all on the right side of the building. The entire left side is taken up by a large club room and a school room. A pleasing and attractive feature about this room will be a huge fireplace in one end.

The stables will be about 150x40 feet and large enough to accommodate the Troop's thirty-five head of horses. A harness and saddle room is to be built into the stables, together with a room for caretakers.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTO NEAR PHILIPSBURG.

George Fetenko, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fetenko, of Troy, near Philipsburg, was run down by an automobile, about 7:30 o'clock on Sunday evening, and injured so badly that he died at eleven o'clock that night without regaining consciousness. The car was owned by Ambrose Davis, of Munson, and was being driven by J. Oscar Holt, of Munson, who had no operator's license. Both men were arrested, Davis being released on a bail bond of $1000 while Holt was held without bail for a further hearing. The boy victim of the accident was 8 years, 7 months and 4 days old. A fractured skull was the cause of his death.

—The Glens Falls Times, Glens Falls, N. Y., of April 14, devotes a column to the first recital given on the organ presented to the Church of the Messiah, by William L. Achenbach, and said to be one of the finest instruments in that section of the country. Mr. Achenbach was formerly of Bellefonte and although a native of Williamsport, grew to manhood and started his business career here, leaving a number of years ago to locate in Glens Falls. His annual visits back keep alive the friendship of the hosts of friends he made during the time he spent in Bellefonte.

—H. G. Witter, route agent for the A. & P. stores, was brought home from the Altoona hospital, on Monday, but his condition is such that he may be confined to bed for several months.

Gray-Ward.—Carl G. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Oscar Gray, and Miss Julia Cornelia Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward, were quietly married at the parochial residence of St. John's Catholic church, at 1:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, by Rev. W. E. Downes. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple motored to Altoona where they spent the night, returning to Bellefonte on Sunday morning in time for the Easter church services.

A wedding dinner was served at the bride's home, on north Spring street, on Sunday, and that evening the newly married pair were taken to Lewistown by Mr. and Mrs. Gray, where they embarked on the train for Newark, N. J., where they had a furnished apartment awaiting their coming. The bride for several years past has been a clerk in the Haines shoe store conducted by her father. Mr. Gray is a graduate of State College and now holds a good position with the Western Electric company, at Newark, where they will make their future home.

—One of the busiest places in Bellefonte, last Saturday, was the florist shop of Halfmoon Gardens, on High street. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Tabel several clerks were kept busy satisfying the demand for Easter flowers. It was a noticeable fact, however, that the public in general bought the cheaper varieties, and that there was no great demand for Easter lilies. Over four hundred hyacinths were sold at the store and upwards of three thousand tulips counting six to a dozen in a pot, three hundred lilies and one hundred hydrangeas. Among the cut flowers sold were bouquets of roses, snapdragons, carnations, sweet peas and violets, but the stock on hand was not anywhere near exhausted. In the gardens there are now growing ten thousand cabbage plants and an equal number of tomato plants.

—G. Fred Musser, of Philadelphia, who, with Mrs. Musser, has been with friends at State College the past two weeks, has had his share of thrills fishing for trout on Spring creek since the opening of the season. On his first cast on the morning of the fifteenth a fifteen inch trout jumped a foot out of water and took his fly with such force that it broke his rod, but the trout was securely hooked and he simply pulled him out of the stream. A 14-inch, a 12-inch and four between eight and nine inches made up his initial catch. On Monday morning he again went out and an 18-inch trout took his first cast and also broke his rod, but he succeeded in landing him and when he dressed the trout he found inside of it a 9-inch chub.

—Judge M. Ward Fleming is out in Pittsburgh, this week, holding court, and the janitors at the court house are taking advantage of his absence to give his chambers a thorough house-cleaning. And a continuation of their work in the main court room would not be amiss, as the carpet inside the bar is in a deplorable condition. And while we are on the court house we might add that the concrete on the south side of the court house does not compare very favorably with the staidness of the temple of justice. Used as it is for the parking of cars it resembles more the floor of a garage than the approach to a public building.

—At a special session of court, on Saturday morning, John Reed, serving a three month's sentence in the county jail for driving a car while intoxicated, was granted a parole on condition that he arrange to pay his fine of $100 and costs in the case. Patrick J. McTagg, of Philipsburg, brought before the court for violation of the liquor laws, was placed on parole for two years on condition that he pay the costs in the case.

—Joseph W. Undercoffer, baggage master at the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Bellefonte, is now taking his last two week's vacation while an employee of the company. His vacation will end next Tuesday, he will work on Wednesday and go on the retired list on Thursday. His successor will undoubtedly be Thomas J. Lamb, while a number of men are bidding for Lamb's job as assistant baggage master.

—Both fire companies were called out, about eleven o'clock on Sunday morning, by a fire on the roof of the Edward Klingler house, on east Howard street. The firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze with chemicals, but not before a fair-sized hole had been burned in the roof. An overheated flue is believed to have been the cause of the fire.

—Dr. Charles O. Ellis has been elected president of Juniata College, at Huntingdon, as successor to the late Martin G. Brumbaugh, a former Governor of Pennsylvania. Dr. Ellis has been vice-president since 1917. He is 53 years old and a native of Washington, D. C.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICIANS TO PLAY AT STATE COLLEGE.

When high school musicians from eight central Pennsylvania counties meet in the third annual elimination contest at the Pennsylvania State College on Saturday, April 26, the college radio station WPSC will broadcast the events from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 7 in the evening. The contest on Saturday afternoon will be held in the Schwab auditorium under the supervision of Richard W. Grant, the college director of music. Judges will be selected from the faculty and members of the general college staff.

The report of the judges will be broadcast from WPSC on Sunday morning, following the chapel exercises. Chapel services will start at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Dr. George C. Vincent, of the Union Congregational church, of Upper Montclair, N. J., as the speaker.

At the contest tomorrow there will be school orchestras, small instrumental groups, instrumental solos, large vocal groups, girl's chorus, boy's chorus, mixed chorus, vocal solos, duets, trios and quartets.

"HOLD EVERYTHING" IS YEAR'S FUNNIEST SHOW.

If there is any tonic in laughter, you will be able to absorb a barrel full next Monday or Tuesday at the Cathaum theatre, State College, where "Hold Everything," the funniest comedy yet produced, will be the feature attraction. Establishing itself as a bigger laugh-getter than "Gold Diggers of Broadway" and other comedy hits in the few large cities where it is now being shown, "Hold Everything" is a cure-all for trouble.

It brings in one and the same picture the inimitable Winnie Lightner, with a lot of brand new comedy songs that are a riot, and the one and only Joe E. Brown, big-mouthed comedian of "Sally," "On With the Show" and other hits. It has a great story, plenty of romantic heart interest, a beauty chorus, and the entire production is in gorgeous technicolor. Georges Carpentier, famous French boxer, Sally O'Neill and Bert Roach are in the cast. "Hold Everything" has everything to make it likeable, laughable entertainment and if you want to enjoy yourself, don't miss it. At the Cathaum theatre, State College, next Monday and Tuesday, matinees and evenings.

He was found wandering on Half Moon hill, Wednesday morning, nearly perished. Immediately after his disappearance search was started to locate him, but he was not found until after daylight.

—Four boys are under arrest at Tyrone charged with being implicated in starting a fire, in a Tyrone garage on Sunday evening, which entirely destroyed the building and contents, entailing a loss of from $25,000 to $30,000. The boys are blamed with lighting a match while they were filling the gas tank of a car which they intended to use in taking a joy-ride. All the boys are in the neighborhood of fourteen years of age.

—Mrs. Dorothy Waring, wife of the leader of Waring's Pennsylvanians, popular dance and concert orchestra, was granted an uncontested divorce at Cleveland, Ohio, on Monday. Schreyer, at Reading, and at Atlantic City before returning to Chicago.

—We were both surprised and delighted, on Wednesday, when W. C. Kramer, of Berwick, walked in on us. "Cook" was a carriage painter in McQuiston's shop when we knew every corner and person on "Cheapside." The place was one of our hangouts and, naturally, we got to know him well. They were all friendly to the loafers down at McQuiston's shop and probably because "Cook" was the youngest employee there he was the one we warmed up to most. It might have been because he had a bit of devilment in himself and winked often at ours. However that may be is just one of those fellows we'll never forget. He lived at Milesburg then and left this section in 1904 to accept a painting job in the National Car and Foundry plant at Berwick and is still at it. He came up for a visit of a day or so with relatives and friends in Milesburg and that's how we got to see him because he just couldn't return without coming on to Bellefonte for a few hours.

We were sorry that we missed him, because John is always alert, especially politically, and when he comes in we usually get some good dope as to what is going on up his way. And certainly there must be a lot more that the Republicans are calling one or other names such as Democrats were never mean enough to call them.

—The used car sale at the Decker Chevrolet agency in this place is attracting rather unusual attention. That is not surprising because in every car offered there is so much value that buyers are actually getting three or four dollars for every one spent. Decker are not selling candidates for the automobile "graveyard." They never did and never will. There is a vast difference between a used car and one that is ready for the bone yard. The kind the Decker agency put on the market sometimes look almost like new. They have all been gone over by expert mechanics, tested in every way and sold with a guarantee to be absolutely as represented. For a person who needs a car for special use, and does not want to tie up much money in it, one could not do better than buy a second.
