CENTRE COUNTY FARMERS TO HAVE BIG FIELD DAY ON PENN STATE CAMPUS.

State College is eagerly awaiting the coming of Centre county farm folks and is ready to give them a hearty welcome to their first annual field day on the college grounds Thursday, August 7.

For weeks a committee headed by county agent R. C. Blaney and composed of representative farm men and women as well as members of the agricultural staff at the college, has been shipping plans into shape for a full program for the home county folks. Now the program is ready and it contains events of unusual interest for every man, woman, boy, and girl in rural Centre county.

Exhibits and demonstrations will be given by the dozen departments in the School of Agriculture. Inspections of these will start at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and will continue throughout the day. At 10:30 the sports program for boys and girls will begin under the direction of R. Lenhart, assistant county superintendent of schools, and John Becker, of Spring Mills. The women's program under the supervision of Miss Mayme Lovelace, home economics extension representative, and Mrs. Alfred Albright, Pennsylvania Furnace, will also begin at this hour. A baby show will be held at 11 o'clock.

TO HAVE PICNIC AT NOON.

Picnicking in the college grove will be the noonday event. Farm families will bring their basket lunches and may join in neighborhood or community groups if they choose. Coffee will be furnished, and music and hort talks will follow, then there will be a parade of the college farm courses.

For the main feature of the afternoon, E. H. Dale, Boalsburg, has arranged a baseball game free of admission. Boalsburg will oppose Lebersburg on the college diamond at 2 o'clock. Exhibits and demonstrations will feature the women's program. Guides will be available at 1 o'clock for groups wishing to tour the college buildings and the farms, gardens, orchards, and experimental plots.

Topics suggested for the women's program include flowers for the home and garden, beautifying the home, gardening, library for farm women, canning, pint jars lunch, and nest planning. A number of contests also have been planned with suitable prizes for the winners. These include apple throwing, whistling, sock darning, milking, and for the husband, chicken, cow, and boy calling contest.

YOUNG FOLKS TO ENJOY SPORTS.

The sports program for the boys and girls will consist of races of various kinds, jumping, and children's games. Knot tying and rope splicing will be special features open to all who care to enter, and it is planned for a demonstration staged by 4-H club girls of the county.

Farm crops exhibits will include varieties of grain suited to local conditions, samples of fertilizers, and explanation of experimental work. Animal husbandry will feature guessing weights of large and small horses, livestock judging, guessing age of sheep, and handling of sheep.

Penn State Jesse II will be on exhibit and other dairy features will include grain mixtures, milk production, and a milking contest. Foresters will demonstrate saw filing. Farmers are requested to bring their crosscut saws for this. Planting idle land, estimating timber, and a guessing contest on leaves of trees will be other phases of this program.

SEE GARDENS AND ORCHARDS.

Horticulture will feature a Centre county farmer's vegetable garden, care of the local orchard, trips to the college orchards, and propagation, care, and use of house plants. Agricultural engineering will present hay drying methods, power farm machinery, modern potato machinery, lightning rods, and electric lights.

White rats used in animal nutrition experiments will be on ex-

MAIL PILOT BROWN WILL MAKE ROUND-WORLD HOP.

Mail pilot Henry J. Brown, regarded one of the best and most dependable fliers on the New York to Cleveland airmail route, has been selected by John Henry Mears to pilot his ship in a globe-circling flight in an effort to lower the Graf Zeppelin's record of 21 days. Brown made his last mail flight last week then joined Mears at New York for the final preparations for the trip.

Brown will go into the flight with the utmost confidence of success. He has flown both day and night planes, over the mountainous section of Pennsylvania and has had a number of thrilling experiences, which he has always considered as merely an incident of his job. Less than four months ago, on April 26th, while flying the night mail, the motor on Brown's plane refused to function while flying over Clearfield county. Abandoning the plane he took the parachute route to earth from a height of two thousand feet, landing in safety. His plane fell not a hundred feet away, burst into flames and was consumed. Brown managed to save a portion of his cargo of mail, but over one-half of it was burned.

Last year Brown won the national air race from Los Angeles to Cleveland, Ohio.

SHINGLETOWN.

Held over from last week.

Clarence Mauers, of Pine Grove Mills, visited friends here on the 4th.

Miss Mae DeArmit, of this town, and relatives of State College spent last week touring Canada, Niagara Falls and a number of other important points.

Misses Mae DeArmit and Cora Neff and Lee DeArmit and Howard Neff, spent the afternoon of the 4th visiting friends and relatives in Tyrone and nearby places.

Despite the rain, a marshallow toast was held at the H. E. Ishler home, in Pleasant Gap, on the evening of June 30, in honor of Miss Cora Neff, of this town, who was visiting friends and relatives in that place. Games were played until late in the evening and all reported having a good time. Those present were: Richard Rumberger, Kenneth Ishler, Allan Weaver, Eugene Markie, Clark Hill, Fred Eckenroth, Grace Ishler, Anna Rumberger, Vera Marlike, Cora Neff, "Betty" Ishler, Helen Weaver, Ernest Ishler and "Dickey" Gentzel.

FOR several months, dogs had been chasing sheep. Farmers over a wide area were at a loss to check the marauders. One moonlight night the owner of a valuable flock saw a strange dog running. Immediately he telephoned his neighbors and slipped out of the house to protect his own animals. Within half an hour he heard a distant volley of shots. Shortly his telephone rang to inform him that the killer had been caught red-handed.

Working Capital

There are more business failures in the United States because of lack of enough cash on hand to carry on business properly and profitably, than from any other cause. The man without working capital is handicapped in every way, and his end as a business man may safely be predicted.

The chances are strongly against success.

Business nowadays is a hard game, and proper equipment in experience, judgment—cash is absolutely necessary.
