clinical examinations of many patients gave no evildence of change in the circulatory, hepatic, renal or endrocinculatory, hepatic, renal or endrocine functions. When it is considered that the persons under observation had had been addicted for at least five years, some of them as long as twenty years, these negative observations are highly significant. Thus there are substantial grounds for the belief that, were it possible to relleve the addict of his addiction, compltete rehabilitation might be expected.-Washngton Star.
