What was once the central driveway of the Pennsylvania State College has been converted into a promenade this summer. Grading is completed and grass is expected to be growing in "The Mall" by the time the college celebrates its 75th anniversary in October.

Since many people are thinking more or less about the matter now referred to our own record of dates on which we have started the furnace fires going in our home. Over a period of twelve years, the earliest was September 20, 1929. The latest was Oct. 20, 1928.

The screen version of Zane Grey's thrilling novel, "The Border Legion" will be the offering at the Richelieu next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Press for space prevents our telling you as much as we would like to about this great picture, but go and see it by all means.

Capt. John W. Weeks, at one time located in Bellefonte as military instructor for Troop L, was recently discharged from the Walter Reed Memorial hospital, Washington, where he spent eight weeks as a patient. He is now entirely well and, on Friday, left Lewisburg for Fort Riley, Kansas, his new post of duty.

One of the oldest graves in the Bellefonte Union cemetery is that of Martha Schedel who died in 1819, at the age of 34 years. The stone stands close against the trunk of the large weeping willow, along the Howard street fence, and from the looks of it the tree was planted after the tombstone had been placed there.

A small fire on the roof of C. D. Casebeer's garage, shortly before six o'clock, Monday evening, resulted in calling out the entire fire department, and the small blaze was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals. A spark from a refuse fire nearby is believed to have started the blaze. The damage was small.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Robert Lyon Maginnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Maginnis, and Miss Jeannette Fontaine Staples, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Madison Staples, both of Atlanta, Ga., the wedding having taken place in the First Baptist church, Atlanta, on the evening of August 19th. The wedding will be of interest to Bellefonte people because the bridegroom's mother was a Bellefonte woman. Miss Adeline Lyon, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lyon, prior to her marriage to Mr. Maginnis, of Ridgway.

A last hour filing for an independent candidacy for State Senator from the Centre-Clearfield district was made at Harrisburg, last week, by Clarence A. Keiser, of Grampian, who pre-empted the "American Farmer-Labor" party. Mr. Keiser's action was a surprise to Republican leaders in both Centre and Clearfield counties, as he has shown little activity since the primaries in May. Unless he withdraws later it will mean a three cornered fight, with two Republicans battling for supremacy against Don Gingery, the Democratic candidate.

Cyrene Newcomb, seven year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Newcomb, met with quite a serious accident at the brick school building, where she has been a pupil, at recess on Tuesday afternoon. Going out at recess she climbed up on the iron railing along the concrete steps leading from the street to the school house, when one of the children playfully gave her a push. Not expecting anything of the kind the little girl fell from the railing to the concrete steps, fracturing her left arm about two inches above the elbow and also dislocating the elbow. Dr. and Mrs. Newcomb left at five o'clock the same afternoon to take their daughter by automobile to a Pittsburgh specialist to have the fracture reduced.

LUCAS CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Two Dog Cases Drop by Wayside and County Pays Cost.

Judge Fleming had two busy days, last Thursday and Friday, hearing a long list of minor cases as a general clean-up before the regular session of court this week. Two of the cases were the outcome of the activity of E. N. Isenberg, of the State livestock department, in hunting unlicensed dogs throughout the county.

The first case was an appeal by Benjamin Aikey from a decision of Squire J. L. Tressel. Aikey has a dog and had a 1930 license tag on it's collar. When Isenberg visited his home, however, the dog had no tag on. In some way it had been lost and Aikey didn't know it. He was notified to appear before Tressel who imposed $10.50 fine and costs. Aikey appealed and after hearing the evidence the court discharged him.

The other case was that against Edward Gehret. In that case Mr. Gehret was arrested after the dog catcher had looked through a screen door and saw a pug dog without a collar and tag. Gehret also refused to pay a fine and costs to Tressel. In court former Judge Furst, representing the Commonwealth, asked that the case be nolle prossed and the Judge granted the request, county to pay costs.

Other cases disposed of during the two days were as follows: Kenneth N. Thompson, violation of the vehicle code, sentenced to pay the costs and placed on probation for one year.

Frank Resides, of State College, violation of the vehicle code. Discharged, county to pay the costs.

George Negroin, of Nanticoke, violation of the liquor laws. Sentenced to pay the costs and placed on probation for one year.

J. W. Hazlett, violation of the vehicle code, not guilty and county to pay the costs.

Ernest Sheasley, of Flemington, violation of the vehicle code. Sentenced to pay the costs, $10 fine and 10 days in jail.

John Koch, State College, violation of the vehicle code. Sentenced to pay the costs, $40 fine and 18 days in jail.

Charles Witherite, of Fleming, violation of the vehicle code. Not guilty and county pay the costs.

Mrs. Lottie Fagan, of Millheim, assault and battery. Sentenced to pay the costs, a dollar fine and 10 days to one year in jail to be paroled at the end of 10 days.

Arthur Beach, assault and battery. Sentenced to pay the costs, a dollar fine and 30 days to one year in jail.

John Koch, violation of the liquor laws. Held under advisement.

S. Lake Douglas, of Oakmont, violation of the motor code, driving an automobile while intoxicated. Sentenced to pay the costs, $25 fine and placed on parole for one year.

Francis McCormick, two cases of violation of the motor code. Both cases nolle prossed upon the payment of costs.

M. P. Sullivan, violation of the motor code. Nolle prossed upon the payment of costs.

J. A. Wilson, assault and battery. Case nolle prossed upon the payment of costs.

Charles F. Kearney, operating a gambling device. Case nolle prossed owing to death of the defendant and county pay the costs.

Morris Cartright, of Phillipsburg, violation of the liquor laws. Sentenced to pay the costs, $100 fine and 6 months to a year in jail.

Robert Combs, Phillipsburg, violation of the liquor laws. Sentenced to pay the costs, $50 fine and placed on parole for three years.

Harry Meek, violation of the motor code. This case was the result of an accident to defendant's car on the new highway being built from State College to Waddle in which one man was killed. Meek was charged with reckless driving. After hearing the evidence defendant was discharged and county to pay the costs.

E. E. Gentzel, violation of the motor code. Defendant discharged.

Elias W. Ripka, of State College, desertion and non-support. To be discharged upon final payment of costs.

Harry P. Schaffer, desertion and non-support. Sentenced to pay $50 a month, costs and give bond in the sum of $300.

Frank Huff, Tyrone, violation of the liquor laws. Sentenced to pay the costs, $50 fine and placed on parole for two years.

Frank Huff, violation of the motor code. Sentence suspended upon the payment of costs.

Perry Detwiler, operating a gambling device. Sentenced to pay the costs, $100 fine and placed on parole for one year.

Robert Hendershot, of State College, was defendant in three cases instituted by his wife, Hattie Hendershot. One was for assault and battery in which sentence was suspended upon payment of costs. Another was assault and threats to kill, in which he was required to pay the costs, give bond in the sum of $300 to keep the peace and stand committed until the sentence is compiled with. The third case was an action for non-support in which he was ordered to pay the costs, $25 per month for support and give bond in the sum of $300 within ten days.

Edward Faust, of Sandy Ridge, larceny. Case nolle prossed.

Otto F. Adamitz, Phillipsburg, operating a gambling device. Sentenced to pay the costs, $100 fine and paroled for one year.

James Spangler, f. and b. Given the usual sentence in such cases.

LeRoy Cartright, violation of the vehicle code. Sentenced to pay the costs, $25 fine and placed on parole for one year.

Frank P. Meyers, Phillipsburg, violation of the liquor law. Sentenced to pay the costs, $500 fine and five months in jail.

Eugene Moore, who violated his parole, was sent to the Huntingdon reformatory.

William Bogan, assault and battery. Defendant entered a plea of nolle contendere and was sentenced to pay the costs, a dollar fine and 30 days in jail.

Orris Smith, charged with a violation of the liquor laws. Sentenced to pay the costs, $500 fine and placed on probation for three years.

Daniel Frantz, Nathan Frantz, David A. Frantz, Mrs. Clarissa Goss, Mrs. Levi Cowher, Mrs. James Barry and Raymond Frantz were charged with desertion and non-support of their father. After hearing the evidence the defendants were discharged and the poor district of Rush township ordered to pay the costs.

Allison Charles and Harold Leathers, both of Bellefonte, plead guilty to three charges of larceny and were sentenced to pay the costs, one dollar fine and imprisonment in the Huntingdon reformatory.

In court, this week, H. D. Kearns was adjudged guilty of a violation of the motor code and was sentenced to pay the costs, $25 fine and placed on probation for 2 years.

Perry Detwiler, charged with a violation of the liquor laws, was sentenced to pay the costs, $25 fine and paroled for 3 years.

In the case of Kenneth Bohn Baird, charged with a statutory offense, the court directed a verdict of not guilty and county pay the costs.

In the case of John L. Sullivan, also charged with a statutory offense, a nol pro was granted on condition he pay the costs.

Gabriel Sirrianni, violation of the motor code, was found guilty and sentenced to pay the costs, $50 fine and placed on probation for 3 years.

John and Grace Koch, of State College, adjudged guilty of a violation of the liquor laws, were called for sentence. Mr. Koch was sentenced to pay the costs, a dollar fine and 6 months in the Allegheny county work house. Grace Koch was sentenced to pay the costs, one dollar fine and 3 months in the work house.

W. T. Trent, Claude Boddie and William Merlweather, three Rockview penitentiary prisoners, found guilty of attempted escape, were given from one to twelve years in the penitentiary.

Eugene Kennedy, charged with pointing firearms and larceny, was acquitted on both charges.

The case of William T. Lucas, charged with involuntary manslaughter, occupied the attention of the court all day on Wednesday. Lucas was the driver of a car which was wrecked on the Snow Shoe state highway on the night of June 28th, which resulted in the death of Harry Ward, of Bellefonte. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Lucas will be sentenced today.

GRAND JURY RETURNED FIFTY-FIVE TRUE BILLS.

The September grand jury had a busy time of it, last week, but in charge of Thomas A. Fletcher, foreman, they hustled through more bills than were ever presented to a Centre county grand jury. All told 67 bills of indictment were given them by the district attorney, 55 being found true bills, 10 ignored and two were withdrawn. And their work was completed in four days. In their report the jury made the following recommendations:

That the front hall of the jail and sheriff's office be redecorated.

That the walk from the jail to the court house be repaired.

That the entire jail be redecorated and that the county commissioners buy material for the inmates to do as much of the work as possible.

That some provisions be made for the women to have daily outdoor exercise.

That the work for the women's quarters, for which plans have been drawn, should be carried out.

That the paper in the basement of the court house, which may cause fire, be removed at the earliest possible convenience.

The bills No. 105 (Rhodes) and No. 70 (Fleisher) be looked into by the Rev. William C. Thompson, juvenile court officer.

Mr. Pinchot's campaign itinerary has him scheduled for three speeches in Centre county next week. He will be at Phillipsburg at noon Thursday, Sept 18; in Bellefonte at 4 p. m. and at State College in the evening.

APPRAISEMENT FILED OF A. R. MCNITT PROPERTY.

Coincident with the appointment of the Bellefonte Trust company as trustee of the estate of A. R. McNitt, pending his return to Bellefonte or the solving of the mystery of his disappearance in February, 1929, over eighteen months ago, an appraisal of his holdings was made by Ivan Walker and H. P. Harris, the same having been entered of record in the register's office in the court house. The principal items of personal property recorded in the appraisal are 1093 shares of the preferred stock of the Chemical Lime company, 50 shares of the common stock of the same company, 419 shares of the Sunbury Bridge company and 25 shares of the Bellefonte Trust company.

In his safe deposit box were found 2237 shares of some thirty or more stocks which have no market value. Mr. McNitt's lumbering machinery, etc., were appraised by W. R. Shope and George H. Yarnell and the total value of the personal property is given as $159,157.50. In addition Mr. McNitt has coal lands in Armstrong and Greene counties, has timber land in Walker township and owns other real estate which will run his estate up to $200,000, or over.

One thing was noticed when the appraisal was made and that was the absence of any coupon bonds among his stocks and other papers. People who claim to know aver that Mr. McNitt owned some bonds, although they were not able to say how many, and the fact that none were found in his deposit box naturally is exciting interest as to what became of them. It is understood that the Bellefonte Trust company is now making an effort to find out positively in regard to any possible bonds. In this way it may yet be possible to solve the mystery of his disappearance and also determine whether he is alive or dead.

TWO PENN STATE MEN LEADERS IN BIG BUSINESS.

Much public interest has lately been aroused by James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, list of the fifty-nine men who rule America. Ignoring political leaders entirely, Mr. Gerard lists industrial leaders in all lines, banking, steel, railroads, mining, public utilities, amusements and journalism. In this list he includes the name of Philip G. Gossler, president of the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation and lately placed on the board of directors of the United Corporation. Mr. Gossler was a member of the class of eighteen-hundred-ninety, The Pennsylvania State College, and is known socially in Bellefonte where he visited during his college days. His sister was the wife of Lieutenant Pague, Commandant at the college, and it is doubtful whether there has ever been there a more popular, hospitable host and hostess than Lieutenant and Mrs. Pague.

Ambrose N. Diehl, Penn State graduate, Department of Chemistry, class of ninety-eight and vice president of Carnegie Steel Company, has been appointed to a similar office in United Steel Corporation. Mr. Diehl is one of the alumni trustees of The Pennsylvania State College, re-elected last June.

MISS ALLISON WINS IN LOCAL GOLF FINALS.

Miss Katherine Allison, of North Allegheny street, won the cup in the season's finals tournament for women over the course of the Nittany Country club last Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Miss Elizabeth Walker, who had held the cup for two years, was the runner up.

Mrs. W. B. Wallis was the winner of the second-eight for which a cup was also the trophy. Mrs. Ralph Noll, of Pleasant Gap, was runner up and received the silk scarf.

In the medal handicap Miss Elizabeth T. Cooney won the gold club pen offered by the Blair jewelry store.

In the 9 hole match play Mrs. George Kelly was winner of the first eight and won the golf stick and golf balls. She also made a team qualifying score. Mrs. James C. Furst was runner up in this group and won the compact.

Mrs. W. R. Cliff won in the second eight and received the golf bag. Her runner up was Mrs. Charles R. Beatty and her prize was golf balls.

In the semi-finals Miss Elizabeth Walker made a score of 79 for the eighteen holes. That stands as a new record for women over the course.

CENTRE COUNTY PEOPLE PICNIC AT WOODBURY, N. J.

Members of the Centre County Association of Philadelphia, upwards of one hundred of them, held their annual summer outing, a lawn party and picnic at the estate of Dr. Amos Underwood, at Woodbury, N. J., where Warner Underwood, president of the Association, was host to the gathering.

Howard Wetzel and his sister, Mrs. G. S. Farrow, arrived here from West Virginia last week, spent Sunday with Howard's mother, Mrs. H. M. Wessel, then Howard and his sister-in-law, who with her children had been here for the summer, left Tuesday for Waukesha, Wis., where Mrs. Wetzel will join her husband. Mrs. Farrow and her children remained in Bellefonte.

Three car loads of Bellefonte picatorialists left for Bowers Beach, Delaware, early Sunday morning and while they didn't bring home all the fish in the sea they did come back, Tuesday, with about as many as their motors would pull. In the party were C. Y. Wagner, Joseph Wagner, H. P. Schaeffer, John L. Knisely, Dr. E. L. Stevens, Arthur Barabough, Clyde Smith, Law Smith, Samuel Poorman, Harry Garbrick, A. C. Heverly and Frank Gardner.

The Hon. J. W. Kepler and his youngest son, Donald, were in Bellefonte yesterday making a few calls on the former's many friends in town. Donald left State College last June to enter professional base-ball. He was given a try-out by Chicago and "Donnie" Bush sent him to Indianapolis. The latter team farmed him to Davenport, Iowa, where he led the Mississippi Valley League in games won as a pitcher and batted for a percentage of 373. He is home to spend the winter at his most loved sport, hunting, and will keep in condition for next season by scoring old Tusey for game. Donald couldn't make the State team last spring, but he made good in fast company.

Fritz Mercer, Junior Coen, G. Littleton Rogers and Gilbert Hall, all tennis stars of national reputation, will give an exhibition of singles and doubles play in Williamsport tomorrow, Saturday, Sept. 13. The visit of these outstanding tennis players to Williamsport is because of the dedication of the new courts of the Williamsport Tennis club on that date. Seats are being erected for a large gallery and plenty of free parking space is promised motor parties. Mercer is sixth ranking national singles player. Coen is "Big" Bill Tilden's entry for the national championship. Rogers is the Irish champion who has beaten Cochet, of France, twice in matched play. It looks like great entertainment for local tennis lovers.

Bellefonte friends of Rev. M. Dupui Maynard, of Ridgway, formerly rector of St. John's Episcopal church of Bellefonte, tender their sincere sympathy in the death of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Maynard, at her home in Williamsport last week. Paralysis was the cause of death.
