

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., October 24, 1930.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Among the students enrolled this year at Ohio State University is Clarence H. Smeltzer, of Bellefonte.

—The small game season will open a week from tomorrow and hunters are already getting their hunting equipment in shape.

—Vote for Don Gingery for Senator and help smash the combination that Scott and Holmes have formed to keep each other in office forever.

—A baked ham supper will be served in the parish house of St. John's Episcopal church in this place on Tuesday evening, October 28, at 5:30 o'clock. Supper will be 75c and everybody will be made welcome.

—After October 31st all cars operating on Pennsylvania highways must bear an inspection tag. They must be visible on the car for a period of thirty days. Failure to have one subjects the owner to a fine of $10.00.

—The Woman's club of Bellefonte will meet at the High school Monday evening, October 27th at 7:30 o'clock. W. Harrison Walker Esq., will discuss the underprivileged children. The public is invited to attend at eight o'clock.

—Dr. and Mrs. George D. Green, of North Grove street, Lock Haven, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elinor Blanchard Green, to Francis Conrad, of New York city, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Conrad, of Pittsburgh.

—Jacob Kofman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Kofman, of this place, and a graduate of Bellefonte High, is out to make the Freshman football team at State and it is reported that the coaches look very approvingly at his work at "center."

—Bellefonte stores were crowded with people on Saturday evening, but we are unable to say whether they were buying or just getting warm. It was the first really chilly night of the season and the side-walk congestion was noticeable by its absence.

—At a meeting of the Retail Druggists' Association of Centre and Clearfield counties, held at the Hotel Philips, Philipsburg, last Thursday evening, Ray White, of Bellefonte, chairman of the executive committee, presented the constitution framed for the association and after discussing the various provisions it was unanimously adopted.

—A fishing license law became operative in New Jersey in August of this year. Pennsylvanians who go down to Jersey to fish in the tidal waters along the coast should keep this in mind if they want to avoid trouble. Since fishing excursions from Centre county have become quite popular we publish this information for Watchman readers.

—Centre county had its first taste of real winter during the past week. From torrid weather most of last week it blew up cold, on Friday night, and Saturday morning snowflakes were flying through the air. On Monday morning the temperature was down to 22 degrees above zero. While it has been cold all week there is promise of milder weather to come.

—Miss Jean Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard, of Linn street, helped serve at a tea given at Briggs hall, Oak Grove, Maine, Wednesday afternoon of last week. Miss Blanchard is a student at Oak Grove Seminary. The tea was given to the College Club of Augusta and Mrs. William Tudor Gardner, wife of the Governor, was the guest of honor.

—Last Friday three good Undines, George Carpeneto, John Bottorf and John Rossman took their pumper to Hughes field and thoroughly saturated the football field so as to put it in good shape for Saturday's games. The field was covered with about an inch of dust but the good sprinkling it received from the Undines put it in fine condition, for which Academy officials are extremely appreciative.

—The iron viaduct over Spring creek and the iron stringers on the concrete abutment across the Island and up the race to the Big Spring, erected by the George I. Denithorne Construction company to carry the big 16-inch water pipe, is a good job, and will no doubt prove very satisfactory to the borough. While it will probably be many years before repairs of any kind will be necessary to the pipe, yet if that time ever comes it will be an easy matter to get at it.

—The two Scranton singers, Clarice Elizabeth Spencer, contralto, soprano, and D. Ellwyn Thomas, baritone, selected from a field of nineteen sopranos and nineteen baritones at the state audition of the Atwater Kent Radio foundation, at Philadelphia, to take part in the national broadcast; Saturday, were both pupils of Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, of Scranton. Miss Spencer and Mr. Thomas will both be heard next month, at the audition held in New York, with the winners from the eastern group of States.

ILL AND DESPONDENT

C. E. ROBB TAKES OWN LIFE.

Despondent over prolonged illness, his body racked with pain and his nerves strained beyond the point of endurance C. E. Robb, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Bellefonte, took his own life by shooting himself through the heart, in the toilet of the bank building, about 6:30 o'clock on Sunday evening.

He had been in poor health for a year or more and on Friday evening returned from a ten day's vacation trip into Canada with Ray Green, as a companion. On Sunday afternoon he took a walk out into the country with Mr. Green and about six o'clock he put on his hat and overcoat and calling his pet dog, "Laddie," called goodbye to his son Richard, stating that he and Laddie were "going down town and are not coming back." The boy told his mother what his father had said and hastily donning her wraps she followed him down town. She saw him at his desk, writing, and knocked on the door but her husband paid no attention to the knock. Finally, he left the desk, turned out the lights and went down to the basement.

Mrs. Robb saw the light coming on in the basement and it was only a few minutes later that she heard two or more shots. She then ran to the home of her brother-in-law, Mark Williams, and gasped out her tragic belief that her husband had shot himself. Mr. Williams went for Paul Jones, the bank runner, who was at supper and the three went back to the bank. Going to the basement they found the toilet door locked from the inside and Williams broke it open with an iron bar.

Minus overcoat, coat, hat, collar and tie the body of Mr. Robb was lying stretched on the floor, while in the corner of the room laid the dead body of Laddie. Two shots had been used on the dog while only one shot was found in Robb's body, and that through the heart, the bullet passing clear through. From the way the body lay he had evidently gotten down on the floor before firing the fatal shot.

A hurry call was sent for Dr. Dale who pronounced death as having been instantaneous. District attorney John G. Love, as well as all the bank officials were summoned and were soon on the scene of the heart-breaking tragedy. Coroner W. R. Heaton, of Philipsburg, was communicated with and after learning all the details he authorized the removal of the body.

When Mrs. Robb saw her husband at his desk he was writing a note to Mr. McCurdy, which was found later, and which in substance was as follows:

"When you get this I will be gone. My accounts in the bank are all straight. Do what you can for my boys."

The note was written in a firm hand and gave no evidence of the mental strain or suffering of the writer.

Charles Edward Robb was a son of Henry and Alice Robb and was born at Nittany on April 2nd, 1878, hence was in his fifty-third year. His education was received in the public schools at Nittany and his first job was that of a brakeman on the passenger train on the old Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. Later he became agent of the American Express company, in Bellefonte, going from that to the Commercial Telephone company. Twenty-five years ago he entered the First National Bank as a clerk and had risen to the position of assistant cashier. He was always courteous and obliging and was regarded generally as a shrewd and able banker.

On November 27th, 1907, he married Miss Henrietta Pacini who survives with two sons, Eugene, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, and Richard, at home. He also leaves his aged mother, living in Bellefonte, and the following brothers and sisters: Nelson E. Robb, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Samuel Cole, of Dayton, Ohio; Alfred G. and L. R. Robb, of Altoona; Mrs. Thomas Swartz, of Tusseyville; Mrs. Katherine Miller, of Harrisburg; Mrs. W. Harrison Walker and Mrs. Mark Williams, of Bellefonte.

Funeral services were held at his late home in the Baum apartment, at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, by Rev. W. C. Thompson, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

CHRISTMAS SEALS HAVE ARRIVED IN BELLEFONTE.

Mrs. Charles R. Kurtz, chairman of the Tuberculosis Seals committee, has received a consignment of 140,000 yuletide seals for Bellefonte and surrounding towns. The little penny stickers will be mailed on November 28th for the 24th year under the auspices of the Health Council, which disposes of them for the purpose of financing its 1931 campaign against tuberculosis.

School children are helped by the sale of seals, by means of instruction on ways to avoid disease and to acquire hygienic habits.

The following ladies have kindly consented to serve on the committee: Mrs. James K. Barnhart, Mrs. Earl S. Orr, Mrs. Jacob Hoy, Mrs. Samuel Shallock, Mrs. Eben Bower, Mrs. Gregg Curtin, Mrs. W. Harrison Walker, Mrs. Roy Wilkinson, Mrs. Charles R. Kurtz.

CENTRE COUNTY BOY SCORES HIGH IN JUDGING.

The vocational dairy judging team selected from the pupils of vocational schools, representing Pennsylvania at the National Dairy Show held annually in St. Louis, has returned home after having won considerable honor.

Fred Bohn, a student in the Harris township vocational school, Boalsburg, was a member of the team. The other two members were Kermit Peterson, of Cochranon, and William Smith, of Guy Mills, Crawford county.

The Pennsylvania boys won national recognition in milk judging by placing 8th, 9th and 13th, which gave the team first place. In this contest there were 19 teams entered. The Pennsylvania boys placed as follows: Fred Bohn, 8th; Kermit Peterson, 9th, and William Smith, 13th.

In addition to winning in milk judging the boys placed second, as a team, in the Jersey cattle class in which 32 teams from as many States were entered. This time Smith and Bohn were well up toward the head of the list.

A judging team in order to place among winners must have its members consistently placing high. Judging from the above, the Pennsylvania boys were in the front rank.

The people of Crawford and Centre counties should feel justly proud of the very fine record the three boys have made. In the first place, to make a team that represents the entire State is no small job, but to be able to win in the national contest, as these boys have done, shows natural ability, as well as experience gained from agricultural school work and very fine coaching.

It also shows the benefits a boy may derive from vocational agriculture, for these boys have received their training in judging in their respective agricultural schools.

Edwin H. Dale, supervisor of agriculture in the Harris township school, accompanied the team to St. Louis and was in charge of their work just prior to the national contest. Mr. Dale gave the team special instructions in milk judging. The two boys from Crawford county were trained by D. L. Crum, county vocational supervisor of that county.

Mr. Dale reports that they had a very fine trip, driving some 1900 miles. They made it possible for the group to see considerable of the middle west as well as many individual points of interest.

The Chamber of Commerce of St. Louis provided all entertainment for the boys while in that city.

4 HORSES, 18 HEAD CATTLE PERISHED IN BARN FIRE.

Four horses, eleven milk cows and seven head of young cattle perished in a fire which completely destroyed the barn on the Harry Janet farm, at Plum Grove, in Union township, at about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. In addition Mr. Janet lost 126 bushels of rye, 140 bushels of oats, 40 bushels of wheat, his crop of buckwheat, 15 tons of hay and his entire potato crop, estimated at between six and seven hundred bushels. He had just finished raising his potatoes, on Saturday afternoon, and had them piled on the barn floor for sorting. While he does not know exactly the number of bushels in the pile he estimated the value of the crop at a thousand dollars.

In addition to the above some of his farm implements were also burned. Mr. Janet estimates his loss in excess of $8,000, on which he had but $500 insurance. He was planning to take out more insurance but had been so busy getting in his potato crop that he had not gotten around to it.

How the fire originated is not known. Mr. Janet went to the barn at 9:30 o'clock in the evening to see that his stock was all right and at that time there was no evidence of fire. Neighbors discovered the blaze about 11:30 but by the time they arrived on the scene and aroused the Janet family the entire barn was a mass of flames so that it was impossible to tell where the fire started. Mr. Janet, however, believes it was set on fire.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS AT THE Y. M. C. A. AGAIN.

The Young Men's Christian Association extends a kind invitation to its friends and patrons to again enjoy themselves at the annual Halloween Party, given on Monday and Tuesday evenings, October 27 and 28 at 7:30 o'clock.

All children under sixteen years of age should go to the party on Monday evening, and those over 16 should go on Tuesday evening, same hour, and look out for the spooks and ghosts. Spookland is still there.

Prizes for best costumes as follows: Best fairy, best witch, best cowboy, best Abe Lincoln, colored person, bum, most original, best funny paper representation and the prettiest costume, best couple.

There will be refreshments for all.

—Vote for John G. Miller, of Ferguson township, for Assembly and help smash the Holmes, Scott combination that they have formed to keep each other in office forever.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE IS LARGELY ATTENDED.

In the neighborhood of 370 school teachers are in Bellefonte this week attending the 66th annual institute, being held in the court house. County superintendent F. G. Rogers is the presiding officer.

The initial talk, on Monday afternoon, was by Dr. W. D. Henderson, of the University of Michigan, who discussed the theme of modern science and the changing order. The speaker stated that the big problems facing the world today are international relations, communism, facism, taxation, unemployment and conduct. Greater changes are now taking place than at any time in the world's history. He assigned as a cause for these changes the amazing scientific discoveries and inventions.

The next speaker was Dr. James P. Whyte, of Bucknell University, who talked on "Gaining Dominion." In part he said: "What we teach is going to determine the advance in the years to come. The success of the teacher depends upon not how much he teaches, but on how much he gets across."

After the regular devotional and musical period, on Tuesday morning, Dr. Whyte talked on "Your Voice—Asset or Liability." Children are impressed by the tone of your voice. Smooth down the raw tones. In speaking the voice ought to be well placed. Take your intimate voice to school and use it on your pupils. The secret of good teaching is to put into your voice the best that is in you, in a tone filled with kindness.

Dr. Henderson followed with a talk on play, work and drudgery. It is as natural for the child to play as it is for the kitten. It should be natural for the man and woman to work. Play comes as the natural response to the desire for activity. One can play in any kind of work and they can also make it drudgery.

Sectional meetings were also held in the High school building, on Tuesday morning, as well as in the afternoon.

At the regular session in the court house, Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Henderson talked on "The Iron Man in the Changing World." We Americans are not only the greatest scientists in the world, but we are also the greatest inventors. The automatic machine is digging our ditches, plowing our ground, sewing our grain, reaping the harvest and baking our bread. All the world has gone into the automatic machine business.

Talking on the topic "The Will to Work," at the Wednesday morning session Dr. Henderson said it depended on two things, inherited habit and acquired habit. Men work because of economic pressure and students because of social pressure.

Henry Klonower, of the Teachers' Bureau, Harrisburg, who was to have occupied a period on Wednesday morning, was ill and unable to be present and Dr. Henderson substituted with a talk on professional responsibility.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. Whyte discussed "Self, Then Service." The problem is not getting the job but sitting on top of it, said the speaker. We give what we are and any investment we make in our selves will never fail.

Another speaker of the afternoon was Miss Helena McCray, who discussed women's work and the place she has taken in the world of business. The institute will close with this (Friday) morning's session.

BOROUGH COUNCIL HELD SHORT SESSION.

Only six members were present at the regular meeting of borough council, on Monday evening, and it was the shortest session held this year. There were no verbal nor written communications.

The Street committee reported trimming trees, burning leaves, minor repairs and a check from Harry C. Taylor for $75.00 for a sewer tap on east Linn street. The committee also presented a written permit from Claude Poorman for digging a cesspool on his property on east Hward street to take care of surface water, providing the pool is put down where he specifies. Referred to the Street committee with power.

The Water committee reported repairing several leaks, making one new tap and continued progress on laying the big water line. Also the collection of over nine hundred dollars in water taxes, etc. The appeal date for the 1930 water assessment was fixed for Wednesday, October 29th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the council chamber.

The Finance committee reported a balance of $1866.03 in the borough fund and $2375.46 in the water fund. The committee also reported receipt of $300 from D. A. Barlett on account of former tax collector Herb Auman's duplicates. Notes for $5,000 were renewed.

The Fire and Police committee reported that the floor in the Logan fire company room needs repairing and the matter was referred to the committee with power.

Borough bills totaling $452.55 and water bills for $2312.18 were approved for payment after which council adjourned.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

—Robert Bottorf went down to Philadelphia, Saturday, to spend institute week with his aunt, Miss Sue Garner.

—James Rine went over to Danville, Monday, to enter the Geisinger hospital for observation, expecting to remain as a surgical patient.

—Mrs. A. C. Mingle and her daughter, Miss Roxey, went east, yesterday, for a visit with the Gross Mingle family, at Riverton, New Jersey.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ripka returned from Danville last week, where Mr. Ripka had been a surgical patient in the Geisinger hospital for two weeks.

—Eliza Curtin, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. H. L. Curtin, is spending this week in Philadelphia with her sister, Mary, a student at Temple University.

—Mrs. Willis Williams has been here from Johnstown, visiting with her brother on Half Moon hill and at State College. The Williams family left Bellefonte more than two years ago.

—King Morris is among the Penn State Alumni at State College for homecoming, having driven in from Pittsburgh to see his mother, and to join in the celebration of the dedication of Old Main tomorrow.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Talbot were here from Philippi, W. Va., last week, for an overnight visit with Mrs. Talbot's mother, Mrs. G. M. Gamble, expecting to return later in the fall to spend a week in Bellefonte.

—Miss E. M. Thomas, Mrs. John Porter Lyon and Mrs. Lyon's daughter, Mrs. Doblebower and her son, John, left, Monday morning, for a drive to Summit, N. J., where they have been guests of Miss Thomas' niece, Miss Anne Shafter, for the week.

—Miss Tamazine Potter came up from Ashbourne, Tuesday night, to be here, with her brother and sister, James H. Potter and Miss Lucy, until the Potter house is closed and Mr. and Mrs. Potter, with Miss Potter, go to the Penn Belle the first of November where they expect to be for the winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. George B. Thompson, Mrs. James B. Lane and Mrs. Harry Garber motored to McKeesport, Thursday of last week, visited there overnight with Mrs. Lane's son, Richard and his family, went from there to Pittsburgh and then to Butler, returning to Bellefonte Monday morning.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce S. Burlingame drove here from Cazenovia, Tuesday of last week, Mr. Burlingame having remained with Mrs. Burlingame for a week's visit with the latter's mother, Mrs. H. C. Valentine, returning home Wednesday. Mrs. Burlingame will be in Bellefonte for an indefinite time.

—Miss Maude Miller, of Pennsylvania Furnace, one of Centre county's most efficient instructors and among those always active in the progressive movements of the community, spent the entire week here. Being interested in politics, Miss Miller will return home to do her bit in the coming State contest.

—Miss Carrie Rankin, who had been here for a visit of two weeks with her brother, William B. Rankin, and his family at their home on Curtin street, returned to Hollidaysburg on Wednesday. Mrs. Helliwell, Miss Rankin and Miss Annie Cook motored over to Hollidaysburg two weeks ago and brought Miss Rankin here for the visit.

—Mrs. Louis Carpeneto went out to Conneville Monday, to attend the funeral of Louis Cuneo who died at his home in that place Saturday. Mr. Cuneo was a close friend of Mrs. Carpeneto's husband, and made frequent visits to Bellefonte during Mr. Carpeneto's life. Miss Anne Cuneo who had been a guest for two weeks, at the Carpeneto home, also left Monday to return to Riverhead, Long Island.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Glenn, of east High street, are away on the first real trip they have taken together since their marriage. They left here, Monday morning, for DuBois where they will visit with the James Dawson and Edward Stover families. From there they will go on to Brookville for a stay with Mrs. William Glenn, who is the widow of George's brother. We certainly hope they will have a delightful time.

—Mrs. Roxey McMillan Moore, of Dayton, Ohio, daughter of C. G. McMillan who for many years was proprietor of the Brockerhoff house in this place, visited in Bellefonte Wednesday, having driven over from Altoona with Mrs. Gemill Davis, whose guest she was while there for a ten days visit. Mrs. Moore was born while her parents were at the Brockerhoff, consequently, is a native of Bellefonte and lived all her girlhood here.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Twitmore returned recently from a visit to Lancaster county. While there they were guests of Dr. Twitmore and his family, and of Mr. Twitmore's grand-daughter, Mrs. Her, at whose home the celebration of Mr. Twitmore's eighty-fourth birthday was held, and at which all his children and grandchildren were present. Much of the time while there was spent in motoring, all places of interest within a radius of a hundred miles having been visited.

—E. M. Huyett, retired lumberman of Centre Hall, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday for the Kiwanis luncheon and made a pleasant little call at this office. Mr. Huyett recently returned from the general Synod of the Lutheran church and said that from the time he left Pittsburgh on the way to Milwaukee it rained continuously and continued for a day or so after they reached that city. We certainly wish Mr. Huyett could have chased a few of those clouds back over Centre county.

—Miss Louise Hoffer, a member of the teaching staff of the Philipsburg schools, and her two nieces, Eleanor and Ruth Hoffer, daughters of Richard Hoffer, of Buffalo, spent the week in Bellefonte, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk. Miss Hoffer was formerly of Bellefonte and though here attending Institute, much of the time was spent in renewing friendships. It has been a custom, since Eleanor and Ruth have made their home with their aunt, for her to have them accompany her to Bellefonte for Institute week.

—The "Buy-at Home" advertising campaign that Mr. Stinson has sponsored for merchants of Bellefonte will start in the next issue of the Watchman.

STATE COLLEGE PROFESSOR DIES OF HEART FAILURE.

Dr. William Day Crockett, 61 years old and for twenty-four years a member of the faculty at State College, died of heart failure, Sunday morning, following a collapse from over-exertion in an attempt to save his library when his home caught fire and was threatened with destruction. The library was on the third floor of the house and Dr. Crockett had made several trips carrying out his precious books when he suddenly collapsed. He was carried into the home of Prof. J. A. Ferguson where he died shortly afterwards.

Dr. Crockett was internationally known as a co-author and in recent years as the author of "Satchel Guide to Europe." Professor Crockett in the past ten years has guided thousands of tourists through Europe. He is said to be the first American to map European tours by air. Mrs. Crockett, his only immediate survivor, accompanied him on tours last summer.

Dr. Crockett was a native of Sterling, N. Y., and graduated from Hamilton College. For eight years he was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Canton, Pa. He taught four years in the Mansfield Normal School and came to State College in 1906. He became professor of Latin and was head of the department of classical languages there until 1929, when he relinquished administrative duties to devote all of his time to teaching. He was awarded a doctor of philosophy degree by Temple University and was a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

Funeral services were held at the College, on Tuesday afternoon, after which the body was taken to Pittsburgh for cremation. Burial of the ashes will be made later at Canton, Pa.

LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAMS LOSE SATURDAY GAMES.

The Bellefonte Academy football team lost to the Bucknell Freshmen, on Hughes field, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 7 to 0, and it was only through getting the breaks in the game that the visitors made their only score. Two penalties inflicted on the Academy put the ball within striking distance. Unable to push the ball over on four downs Bucknell lined up in kicking formation but instead heaved a forward pass which was safely caught behind the goal line. At no other time did they get within the danger mark of the Academy goal. Twice the Academy advanced the ball across the twenty yard line at the Bucknell end but each time was held for downs.

The Bellefonte High school lost its game with Mount Union, on Hughes field Saturday morning, by the score of 25 to 0. Up to this time the High school has not scored a point in the five games played, but the team has not lost its nerve.

At Easton, last Saturday, Penn State played a scoreless game with Lafayette, to the surprise of football fans who had picked State to win. State's home game tomorrow will be Colgate.

—Vote for John G. Miller, of Ferguson township, for Assembly and help smash the Holmes, Scott combination that they have formed to keep each other in office forever.

CHATTERTON AND BROOK AT THE RICHELIEU

The embattled lovers who stormed their way through "The Laughing Lady" and "Charming Sinners" will be seen again in another dramatic thunderbolt "Anybody's Woman".

In case you haven't guessed their names Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook are the struggling pair of lovers. The reason why they have been selected again for the teamed roles in a dramatic production is that they seem to be the ideal couple for the type of play they are cast in. Each a splendid portrayeur of characters, they never fail to impress public and critics alike with their very capable playing.

The supporting cast includes Paul Lukas, suave continental personality who scored successes in "The Wolf of Wall Street," "Halfway to Heaven," "The Devil's Holiday," and "Young Eagles"; Tom Patricola, song and dance comedian of the Broadway musicals; Cecil Cunningham, international star of the music comedy and variety stages; Huntly Gordon, featured in "The Marriage Playground," and others.

—The display room of Half Moon Gardens has been remodeled and a new and larger show window put in. The change has made an already attractive front even more so.
