

A STORY OF THE "400"

Beginning next Sunday, the New York Sunday American will publish a new novel, "24 Hours," by Louis Bromfield, Pulitzer prize winner. This master of fiction has written a thrilling account of what happens to a group of society people while the hands go twice around the clock. The New York American is on sale at all news stands. If you are unable to obtain it from your local dealer, send ten cents and we will mail a copy.

IN BELLEFONTE CHURCHES

BELLEFONTE METHODIST CHURCH

Church Bible school, C. C. Shuey, Supt., 9:30, with special features, stirring study. League, 6:30, discussing "World Friendship," by Elmer Murtorff, Claire Rhoads, Charles Jodon and Melvin Foore. Worship—10:45, special exposition, highly challenging. 7:30, evangelistic period. Pastor responds to calls for his service. Strangers and week-end visitors welcome. Wednesday evening, mid-week congregational meeting for study on world conditions. devotional meditation on Scripture, prayer and praise.

Methodist Movements:

For a group get together meeting, Friday night, Nov. 7, eleven Epworthians motored to Unionville. The events of this meeting were very interesting, pleasant social features and some "eats." This Bellefonte group plans constructively to do things. December 5, meeting in Bellefonte.

The addresses of Dr. Sherwood Hall, of Korea, who specializes in treatment of tuberculosis which prevails widely in that Hermit Nation, before the school and congregation were very informing and heartening. He superintends both college and hospital. The film reels he displayed Saturday evening, in the home of M. R. Johnson, where he was entertained, presented abundant proof of the success of his work. His father and mother were missionaries to Korea. His wife, who is a graduate physician, does the hospital surgical work.

Pastor H. L. Jacobs attended in First Church house, Altoona, Friday, Nov. 7, the quarterly meeting of the Board of Philanthropies, which oversees the financial interest of the conference annuity fund, the Methodist Home for Children, Mechanicsburg, the Methodist Home for the Aged, Tyrone, Home Missionary Society and Wesley Foundation, State College, which was represented by W. G. Murtorff. Mrs. Jacobs was honor guest of the Loyalty class anniversary, fifty-six strong, at First Church parsonage in the afternoon, and later Rev. and Mrs. Jacobs were the honor guests of the reunion of Willing Workers class, in church house, Mrs. James Stauffer, formerly Emma Pennington, of Bellefonte, host.

Horace Lincoln Jacobs, Pastor.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

9:30 A. M., Sunday school, Herman Hazel, superintendent.

10:45 A. M., Morning service; Sermon: "Forgiving Our Brothers from Our Hearts."

6:30 P. M., Luther League and catechetical instruction; Louise Kline, leader.

7:30 P. M., Evening service; Sermon: "Maker of Heaven and Earth." Clarence E. Arnold, Pastor.

UNIONVILLE.

Mrs. Julia Parsons is visiting her son, Ray Parsons and family, at Fairmount, Va.

Miss Mary Turner, of Washington, D. C., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Askins.

Mrs. P. J. Hall, of Dix Run, visitor relatives, Mrs. Anna Finch and Mrs. Frances Hall, last week.

Miss Dorothy Kerchner spent the week-end with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Toner Calhoun, of Altoona. They accompanied her home on Sunday and spent the day here.

The Ladies Aid Society met, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Anna Finch and planned to have a bake sale on November 26th, in the community house. Any one wishing anything special baked should notify the solicitors, namely, Mrs. Stella Parsons, Mrs. Beatrice Holt, Mrs. Beulah Holt or Mrs. Anna Finch.

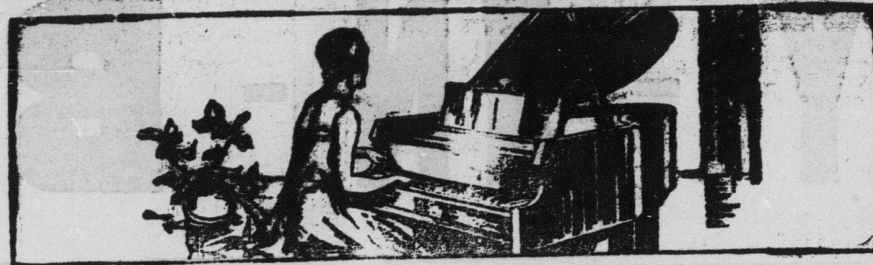

WINGATE.

Mrs. John Walker is seriously ill and her condition is causing her family much concern.

Jacob McClincy has sufficiently recovered from an attack of the grip to be up and around.

Mrs. Lucy Fye, of Moshannon, is at her parental home helping care for her mother, Mrs. John Walker, who is quite ill.

One night last week two men entered the home of Mrs. Sue Fisher, ate a pie, all the cake and took a jar of peanut butter with them. From appearances they then spent the night in Roy Fisher's barn, making a getaway before the men got around.
