

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

Don't forget the big stock and implement sale that Roland Spicer is going to have next Wednesday. It is to be a "clean-up."

A considerable amount of interesting local news will be found on pages 3 and 7 of this issue of the Watchman.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Belleville Lutheran church will hold a food sale at Olewine's hardware store tomorrow, Saturday. It will open at 9 o'clock.

The members of the old Milesburg band will have their third reunion and banquet at the Penn-Belle hotel, in this place, on the evening of St. Patrick's day.

The Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will not be held in March, this year, as it has in former years, but in June. It will then be held at Carlisle.

Mr. William Bolton died at his home in Atlantic City, N. J., last Monday morning. His widow, who is a niece of Miss Helen E. Canfield Overton, of this place, and four children survive him.

The American Legion auxiliary of Belleville, will hold a bake sale in the Variety shop, Saturday, March 28, at ten o'clock. Everything in the way of good bread stuffs and good pastry will be on sale.

At the public sale of the real and personal property of the late Miss Bessie McCafferty, last Saturday, the house and lot was purchased by A. C. Derr for $750, while the personal property brought $43.70.

Eugene J. Robb, of this place, and a freshman at the University of Pennsylvania, Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, has been elected to membership in Lambda Chi Alpha, one of the Campus fraternities.

R. B. Montgomery has started work on doing over all the doors in the court house, and it might here be added that a coat or two of fresh paint all over the interior would greatly improve the appearance of the temple of justice.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Belleville Methodist church will serve a baked ham supper in the social room of the church this evening at 6:30. It will be under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood and 65c will be the charge.

The Criminal Code, which has been running all week at the State theatre has been giving unusual satisfaction. It is an interesting screen play and if you haven't seen it we believe you will be repaid to have a look, as it will be run both tonight and tomorrow night.

Considerable rain and some snow fell in Centre county, Saturday night and Sunday, and we had visions at the time of well field cisterns and wells, flowing springs and swollen streams, but it passed over without giving even a tinge of color to the waters of Spring creek.

The Undine Fire Co., will celebrate St. Patrick's day with a banquet in their engine house on Bishop street. This is an annual affair with the organization and, needless to say, it is always anticipated with great pleasure by members of the company, as well as those fortunate enough to be their guests during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Potter, of Johnsonburg, are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first daughter and second child, the little Miss being named Katherine Jackson, for her maternal grand mother, Mrs. Potter, who is now in the Ridgeway hospital, was formerly Miss Janet Jackson Brew, only child of Mrs. George T. Brew, of Punksutawney.

Slid Bernstein, proprietor of the Ritz store here, bought a large store in Birdsboro, Pa., recently with the intention of closing it out. Last Saturday was set as the opening day of the sale. Early that morning burglars raided the place and were in the act of carrying away a lot of goods when a policeman discovered them, made arrests and recovered much of the stolen goods.

The Macmanus sale, on March 27th, will give to the public the opportunity of buying some of the rarest antiques ever sold in this section of the State. Among them will be a pair of Heppelwhite inlaid mahogany tables, solid brass andirons, mahogany sideboard, mahogany square piano, two mahogany bureaus, one pair Sheffield plate candlesticks and numberless other pieces which will appeal to the collector of antiques.

John Kelley Knapper, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Knapper, of Phillipsburg, was last week appointed a cadet to the Naval Academy, at Annapolis, on recommendation of Congressman J. Mitchell Chase. He is a graduate of the Phillipsburg High school, class of 1930, and since his graduation has been studying in the hope of securing the appointment. He left, on Monday, for the U. S. naval preparatory school to prepare for the entrance examination which will be held on April 15th.

"BULL DOG" TAPE MACHINES NOW BEING MADE HERE.

Machines Invented and Patented by Bellefonte Men Who Will Manufacture Them

Belleville has an infant industry which we would not be surprised to see grow into a manufacturing plant of considerable magnitude within the next few years. It is the making of "Bull Dog" tape machines, the combined invention and patent of John E. Dubbs and Frank W. West, who have started to manufacture same and have reached that point where they are now ready to put them on the market.

Most every merchant nowadays uses paper tape in doing up parcels and packages, as it is much simpler and more reliable than tying with twine. A number of tape machines are now on the market but none of them combine the simplicity of operation and improved qualities of the "Bull Dog." One movement of a small lever shoves out the tape, prints the merchant's name and business thereon, wets it ready to stick on the package and cuts it off at the proper length, all done in the twinkling of an eye. And the machine is so simple in construction that there is nothing to clog or get out of order while in operation. Its working parts are rolls and springs, and a new roll of tape can be put in in less than a minute.

The machine is being manufactured to sell for $22.50, which is cheaper than any other machine on the market. It is also the only machine made that will automatically print the name and business of the owner on every five inch length of tape. In this alone the owner is saved enough on the cost of the tape to pay for a machine in a few months.

Messrs. Dubbs and West are at present located in a small room in the rear of the garage on the E. E. Widdowson property, on Spring street, where they have several completed machines on display and several dozen in course of construction. So far they have done all the work themselves and will continue to do it until sales outgrow their present capacity to manufacture. They could probably have sold their invention and patents for a nice sum, but have no intention of doing so. They are going to make them themselves right here in Belleville and feel confident that they have a machine which, once introduced, will practically sell itself, and as the demand increases they will enlarge their plant without asking assistance of anyone.

EVANGELICAL CHURCH CONFERENCE CLOSES.

The annual conference of Central Pennsylvania Evangelical churches closed, at Carlisle, on Monday, with the reading of the assignments by the presiding Bishop. Only about thirty changes were made in the three conference districts. Affecting Centre county Rev. M. C. Kleffel was transferred from Millheim to the First church, Altoona, and Rev. A. C. Paulhamus was sent to Millheim. Rev. L. A. Fuhrman was assigned to Sugar valley and M. A. Herman was transferred from West Milton to the Lock Haven mission, which includes Nittany. T. R. Husler, who had heretofore filled the Lock Haven mission, was assigned to West Milton.

Rev. A. Ward Campbell was returned to the Belleville church and Rev. Reed O. Steely goes back to the First church, Milton, where the annual conference will meet in 1932.

Rev. W. J. Dice was chosen presiding elder of the Williamsport district, in which the Belleville church is located.

COUNTY LAMB GROWERS HAVE GOOD RETURNS.

Centre county 4-H lamb club members have a total income of $3702.34 for five years' operations, according to county agent R. C. Blaney, of Belleville. Of this amount, $639.34 was received in sales and $3063 was prize money.

Ten members joined the club in 1926 when it was organized. There were 15 members the second year, 13 the next year, 14 in 1929, and 11 last year. They fed 197 lambs in the five years. The average return per lamb has been $16.96, which includes sale price and prize money. Members have learned fitting and showing, proper types of feed to use and methods of handling lambs, value of proper method of controlling stomach worms, and the value of good blood in lambs for feeding purposes, says Blaney.

A BUSINESS SCHOOL OPENS IN BELLEVILLE.

A branch of the Perry business schools will start in Belleville Monday, March 16th, in the Bush Arcade. The president of the old institution, Mr. Alton H. Perry, will be here to attend the opening.

Quite a number of the young people of Belleville have already enrolled and others are making their reservations in this term which will be conducted both day and night and will continue long enough for all to graduate and receive their diplomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Prater, the representatives who have been in Belleville for the past few weeks, organizing the work here, will continue their work in other Pennsylvania towns as soon as the school is started.

GRANGE ENCAMPMENT DATES ARE CHANGED.

A change of dates to August 22-28 from that announced last fall for the next Grange Encampment was decided on at a recent conference with representatives from the Lewistown fair association. A conflict in dates had been discovered which in neighboring counties would be unfortunate. Lewistown, a member of the large fair circuit, was unable to make a change. Grange Encampment has no connection with fair organizations and could take action.

On March 6th the Grange Encampment committee reorganized with officers elected for 1931 as follows:

Chairman, Jacob Sharer; vice chairman, John S. Dale; treasurer, John E. Wert; secretary, Mrs. Edith Sankey Dale; Supt. grounds, A. H. Spayd; Supt. gates, Clyde Dutrow; Supt. education, Prof. T. I. Mairs; Supt. livestock, R. C. Blaney; F. P. Keller; Joseph K. Alexander; Supt. horticulture, N. I. Wilson; Supt. poultry, C. H. Eungard; Supt. automobile Dept., Morris Burkholder; Supt. farm machinery, J. V. Brungart; Supt. amusements, William Houtz; Supt. concessions, John S. Dale.

BEATY MOTOR COMPANY TO DISPLAY NEW FORDS.

On March 20th and 21st the Beatty Motor company, local Ford dealer, in co-operation with the Ford Motor company, will hold what promises to be a very interesting display of Ford products. The exhibit will be held in the old Army building, on north Spring street, and will be free to the public. In addition to the various body types of cars and trucks they will have a car cut completely in half, including motor and body.

They will have one of the new town sedans which will be the first showing of this car in Centre county. There will be talking pictures of the River Rouge factory which should prove unusually interesting to those who never have had the privilege of going through the Ford plant. It will be well worth any person's time to attend just to see the pictures of the Ford factory in operation. There will also be music, as part of the program, in store for those who attend this interesting as well as educational automotive exhibit. In addition to the car display, there will be an exhibit of farm equipment, including the new Fordson cultivator tractor.

ACADEMY WILL PLAY TWO BASKET BALL GAMES.

The St. Paul basket ball team of Williamsport, will play the Belleville Academy five, on the armory floor, next Tuesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock. Admission, 50 cents. While St. Paul is not a professional aggregation it is composed of a bunch of scrappy amateurs and the game will undoubtedly be a good one.

On Tuesday evening, March 24th, the Academy quintette will play the Coxies, of DuBois, the proceeds of the game to go to the fund of the crippled children's society of Centre and Clearfield counties which everybody knows is doing a splendid work. The price of admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Mr. Evans, of DuBois, an officer in the State society for crippled children and also an officer of the Centre-Clearfield society, is sponsoring the game in behalf of the DuBois team, while Samuel Shalcross, of Belleville, a Centre county representative of the society, is interested in the Belleville end of the game. This game will also be played on the armory floor at 8:30 o'clock.

PREPARING TO ADVERTISE FOR NEW POSTOFFICE SITE.

Congressman J. Mitchell Chase is expected to visit Belleville in the near future in regard to the new federal building to be erected here. It is understood, from reliable authority, that the Post Office Department anticipates placing advertisements for a location for the building, and the Congressman will be able to explain just how much land will be needed and what kind of a site will be most available. While it will be only natural for property owners to try and get all they can for their land, it might be said right here that the government will not pay an unreasonable price for any property.

Directions for the advertisements for bids were received at the post-office here yesterday morning and will be published next week.

STORMSTOWN NOW HAS ELECTRIC LIGHT IN HOMES.

Stormstown residents have for some time past said, "Let us have light," and now they have it. The West Penn Power company has completed their circuit through Stormstown and Halfmoon township and, on Monday, cut in the current. Up to Wednesday evening meter connections had been made for eighteen consumers and all told in the neighborhood of forty customers will be on the line. The line runs across Bald Eagle mountain, from Port Matilda to Stormstown then west along the main highway to the Huntingdon county line.

ROWE.—John C. Rowe, a former Recorder of Centre county died at his home in New York, on February 28th, following an illness of some weeks with complications.

He was 71 years old and a native of Pittsburgh. As a young man he located in Phillipsburg where he engaged in the tailoring business, in which he was quite successful. In 1903 he was elected Recorder of Centre county on the Democratic ticket and re-elected in 1906. Shortly after the close of his second term in office he moved to Baltimore and later to New York.

He was twice married and is survived by his second wife, whose maiden name was Mayme Armstrong, and the following children: William C. Rowe, of Belleville; Mrs. Percival C. Smith, of New York; Mrs. Edwin Stout, of White Plains, N. Y.; Frank Rowe, of Baltimore; Eugene, in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Jesse G. Coward, in China.

Funeral services were held at White Plains, N. Y., on Tuesday morning of last week, burial being made at that place.

HOSTERMAN.—Mrs. Rachel Hosterman, widow of the late Thomas W. Hosterman, died at her home at Millheim on February 26th following a year's illness with dropsy.

She was a daughter of Philip and Mary Harbach Vonada and was born in Nittany valley on March 15th, 1844, making her age 86 years, 11 months and 11 days. On September 17th, 1863 she married Mr. Hosterman and to this union sixteen children were born, only six of whom survive, namely: Warren E. Hosterman, of Lewisburg; William G. of Aaronsburg; Thomas A., of Coburn; Mrs. Ida Metz, of Woodward; Mrs. J. C. Krumrine and Mrs. Harry S. Snyder, of Tower City. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. David Mingle, of Aaronsburg, and Mrs. Thomas Vonada, of Woodward. Her husband died ten years ago.

Mrs. Hosterman had been a member of the Evangelical church for seventy years. Funeral services were held in the Evangelical church, at Coburn, on March 1st, by Rev. H. C. Kleffel, burial being made at Woodward.

CORMAN.—Ernest W. Corman died at the Mary Packer hospital, in Sunbury, on February 26th, following an operation for gall stones. Previous to his removal to the hospital he had been a patient at the State colony for epileptics, near Selingsgrove.

He was a son of Elias and Sarah Corman and was born in Belleville 45 years ago. He married Miss Bertha Eckley, of Benner township, who survives with two children, Grover, of Belleville, and Bruce, at home. He also leaves his father and the following brothers and sisters: H. E. and Albert Corman, of Belleville; R. D.; Mrs. Harvey Rockey, of State College; Mrs. Charles Fennington, of Belleville; Mrs. Ralph Hazel and Mrs. Anna Bollinger, of Akron, Ohio; Miss Eleanor, at home, and Clyde W., of Belleville.

Rev. G. E. Householder had charge of the funeral services which were held in the United Brethren church, at Valley View, on February 28th, burial being made in the Meyers cemetery.

GRAUER.—Arthur Grauer, a native of Belleville, died at his home in Ithaca, N. Y., on Saturday night, as the result of a heart attack.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Grauer and was born in Belleville on December 5th, 1885, hence was in his 46th year. When he was a boy his parents moved to Altoona and he was educated in the public schools of that city. When he grew to manhood he accepted a position as clerk in the Simon shoe store, Altoona, where he remained until moving to Ithaca a few years ago. He is survived by his wife, one brother and two sisters, Norman A. Grauer, of Phillipsburg; Mrs. Jacob Stinek, of Altoona, and Mrs. Louis Feinberg, of Ingram, near Pittsburgh.

The remains were taken to Altoona where funeral services were held at 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, burial being made in Mt. Sinai cemetery.

LONG.—Samuel M. Long died at his home in Penn township on February 27th, following an illness of some months with complications.

He was a son of John and Mary McClintic Long and was born at Potters Mills 77 years ago. He married Elvina Corman who died fourteen years ago but surviving him are three sons and one daughter, M. J. Long, of Milroy; George K., of Madisonburg; J. G., of Centre Hall, and Mrs. A. J. Burrell, of Penn township with whom he made his home. He also leaves one brother, John Long, of Potter township.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday of last week at the Union church, at Farmer's Mills, by Rev. W. E. Smith, burial being made at Farmer's Mills.

COWHER.—Harvey Cowher, 56 years old, well known lumberman and truck farmer of Port Matilda, died at the Phillipsburg State hospital, on Wednesday night of last week, following a brief illness. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cowher and is survived by his wife and several children. Burial was made at Port Matilda on Saturday.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

G. Murray Andrews arrived home this week from a three month's business trip to his former home in England.

Miss Jean Dillon was in from Bradford for a week-end visit, a guest of her cousins, the Joseph Fox family, at their home on east Bishop street.

Mrs. Harry Garber went down to Jersey Shore, a week ago, expecting to spend a part of the month of March as a guest of her cousin, Mrs. Carrie Sides.

Mrs. W. F. Reynolds was brought home Tuesday from Philadelphia, where she had been a surgical patient in the Graduate hospital for the past two months.

After three strenuous weeks of holding court in Belleville Judge M. Ward Fleming left Belleville, on Sunday, for Erie, where he is engaged in holding court this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schlow and Mr. and Mrs. Hassel Montgomery motored to New York this week on a three day's business trip, going over to do some buying for each of the stores which the men represent.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Craig Dickson stopped in Belleville last Friday, for an over night visit with Judge and Mrs. M. Ward Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson had been to New Haven, Conn., and were enroute home to Butler.

Mrs. Eyer was here from Washington the early part of the week, having come up to see her son Ralph, with whom she visited from Sunday until Tuesday. During her stay, Mrs. Eyer was a guest at the Garman house.

Mrs. F. E. Nagney will go to Atlantic City to-morrow with no definite plans as to when she will return. It has been Mrs. Nagney's custom for a number of years to spend a part of the late winter or early spring at the Shore.

J. Victor Brungart, of Rebersburg, was in Belleville last Thursday. Mr. Brungart is an aspirant for the office of County Commissioner and while his visit here was not exactly political he did talk over the situation with a few friends.

Ted Griffith, a former Belleville Academy student, was a guest at the Brockerhoff house from Thursday until Sunday night, back from New York visiting with some of his Belleville friends. Ted is now a law student in New York.

Mrs. C. J. Brenner, who has been a guest this week of her father, Harry Eberhart and Mrs. Eberhart, at their home on Curtin street, came up from Washington Friday of last week, intending to spend a week or ten days in Belleville.

The Rev. Charles Gallagher, of Exeter, was in Belleville to attend the forty hours devotion in St. John's Catholic church. Father Gallagher is well known and has many friends here, having been an assistant under the Rev. Patrick McArdle.

Mrs. Lenora Sheffer returned to her home at Verona, Monday, after a week's visit here with her niece, Mrs. A. Ward Campbell. Mrs. Sheffer's visit at this time was to be with Mrs. Campbell while Mr. Campbell attended conference at Carlisle last week.

The Rev. A. Ward Campbell, pastor of the Evangelical church and E. J. Teaman, representing the church as a delegate to the conference at Carlisle, returned home Monday. Mrs. Teaman, who had accompanied her husband, spent the week with relatives in the vicinity of Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Thompson, of Lemont, have been entertaining Mr. Thompson's sister, Dr. Mary Shaffer, who accompanied Mr. Thompson home from a trip to Philadelphia last week. Dr. Shaffer, who returned in December from a year abroad, is at present living at the Hotel Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harold Kirk spent the after part of last week in Harrisburg consulting an eye specialist and visiting with her sister, Mrs. Earl Tuten. Mrs. Kirk returned home Sunday afternoon with her brother, Frank Cole, of Phillipsburg, who with his family were also in Harrisburg for a short visit with Mrs. Tuten.

Miss Jennie Engles, who expects to make her home with her sister, Mrs. Martha Fetterolf, in Jersey Shore, after leaving Belleville, will remain in the Macmanus house until after the Macmanus sale on the 27th of March. Miss Engles has been in charge of the house and its contents since Miss Margaret Macmanus' death.

While in town last Friday C. Frank Clevenstone, merchant and agriculturist of Zion, came in to visit the Watchman for a few minutes. Since buying the Decker farm that runs right up to the corner of his store property he has made a number of very striking changes and one scarcely realizes what point will be unless he can recall what Frank's barn and out buildings looked like before and what they look like now that they are all dolled up in red with white trimmings. It's a fine farm and the buildings are good, but they had never been painted, so that now they rival Billy Corman's trim country home a mile further down the road. There is nothing that adds more to the appearance of buildings than fresh paint and a hundred dollars or so spent for it often adds thousands in apparent value.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Bryan, of State College, took a day off, last Thursday, to make a visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Homer Decker and Mr. Decker at their country home below town. Part of the afternoon they spent in the shops here, as they were looking for some wall paper and that means that they are going to have some extra work on their hands when they start spring housecleaning. While chatting with Mr. O'Bryan we got onto the subject of some of those remarkable old ladies up in College and Ferguson townships. It was the two-day quilting party and the big dinner that Mrs. Hannah Osman gave recently that brought the subject up. Mrs. Osman is 84. Then Mr. O'Bryan told us of his stepmother who lives in Pine Grove Mills. She's up in 80 too, and lives all alone. She just won't be bothered with any help about and the other day when he went to see her she had just come in from the wood house where, she said as if it had been child's play, that she had been splitting a little fire wood.

Dr. Lee B. Woodcock fell on the polished floor in the Y. M. C. A. building of Scranton, Sunday, breaking his right arm. Both Dr. Woodcock's studio and living apartment are in the building.

Mrs. J. M. Decker is visiting in Bayonne, N. J., having left Sunday to spend a month or more with her son Jack Jr., and his family. Jack is with the Western Electric Co. as metallurgist at their Kearney plant.

A Wednesday visitor at the Watchman office was Mr. A. C. O'Neil, a Pennsylvania railroad engineer, of Altoona. He was born and raised in Belleville but left here thirty years ago and when he was back this week, about the only man he saw who he well remembered was Christ Young, in the Shaffer store. In the last we saw of him he was out along Spring creek taking a look at the big trout. But he is still interested in what is going on in his native town, and in order to keep posted ordered the Watchman sent to him regularly.

MORE FACTS ABOUT THE CENTRE COUNTY CO-OP.

Having dissolved as a solvent and going unit the Centre county Farmers' Co-operation Association will make public sale of all its personal property and some real estate on Tuesday, March 18th. This will include the stock in the warehouse at Lemont, two and one-half lots at Millbrook, and the lot and warehouse at Lemont if the right price can be had for it. The board of directors of the Association is now in charge of its affairs and will do the best they can to get as much out of the resources as possible so as to reduce the liability on each stockholder.

H. A. Grubb, who for a number of years was secretary of the Association and was in active charge of its affairs, was in Belleville, on Monday, and took exception to the article published in the Watchman last week in regard to the Association, which was based entirely on information furnished by members of the Association. According to his statement the Association is not in as bad a financial condition as pictured last week.

Mr. Grubb stated that at the organization of the Association members were required to give their note for only $100 as collateral to the bank for operating capital instead of $200 as given in the Watchman, and that the annual dues were only $1.00 instead of $8.00, as we stated. At the present time there are 257 members. The Association's present obligation to the bank Mr. Grubb gave as $11,000. Outstanding merchandise accounts amount to almost $7,000, but it is probable that not over $5,000 of this amount is collectible. The stock on hand in the warehouse at Lemont has been appraised at $2,300, and at public sale will probably realize $1,000, as it consists of about 390 bales of binder twine, feeds of various kinds, oyster shells, egg mash, etc. The lot and building at Lemont cost $1500 and ought to bring from $800 to $1000 at public sale. The lots at Millbrook were taken in on a debt and just how much they will bring is problematical. As Mr. Grubb has it figured out after all the assets have been realized upon there ought not to be over $3500 to $4000 for the stockholders to make good.

JOIN THE CARAVAN.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, both Bishop and Allegheny street buildings, will give a very spectacular and entertaining cantata, in characteristic costumes, on Thursday evening, March 19th, at eight o'clock. This will be given in the High school auditorium, the stage of which will represent a typical street scene in Egypt. Mrs. Eleanor Cook MacDowell and Miss Daise Keichline will contribute curios, costumes, and draperies procured by them while they were abroad. They will, after the evening's performance, display to those interested these wonderful curios, and explain the manner in which they are used in Egypt. This display, alone, is well worth the small price of admission, twenty-five cents for adults, fifteen cents for grade children.

Choruses of Egyptians, slaves, guards, Arabian dancers, will enhance the performance.

Beautiful two, three and four part choruses are a part of the unusually difficult and beautiful music to this interesting story of the desert. Don't miss it, as it will be really one of the musical treats of the year.

Wellar-Emenhizer.—John Howard Wellar, of Julian, and Lillian Estelle Emenhizer, of Milesburg, were married, on Wednesday of last week, by justice of the peace Walter G. Tallhelm, at his office in Julian. The bridegroom is employed in the Altoona shops, in Altoona, but he and his bride will make their home at Julian for the present.

SALE REGISTER.

MARCH 18.—At the residence of Roland Spicer on the zwartz farm on the middle Buffalo Run road, 4 miles west of Belleville, a clean up sale, 6 horses, 14 milk cows, 15 head of other cattle, 25 hogs, 50 chickens, 2 tractors, and a general line of farm implements in good condition. Some household articles will also be offered. Sale will start at 9:30. L. P. Mays, auctioneer.
