FIFTY YEARS AGO IN CENTRE COUNTY.

Items taken from the Watchman issue of May 20, 1881.

There was a young man from Saint Joseph

Who waited till he wore all his toes off;

And then he caught cold

And I have been told

He sneezed till he blew half his nose off.

—We have a communication from Rev. J. A. Woodcock about the Seminary in Milesburg. It will be published next week.

—The cold snap has made fires, and even overcoats, not a bit uncomfortable.

—There are at present ninety six men on the pay roll at the car works, and the number promises to be largely increased in a short time.

—During the absence of Mr. Nichols in Europe Valentine Smith and Frank Grice will be in charge of the Valentine Stores.

—The Mountain house at Snow Shoe has been granted a license by Judge Mayer. That makes two licensed houses in that place.

—The store of Holmes and Shaffer, just below Nittany Hall, was robbed again last Friday night. About $65.00 worth of goods were taken. This makes the seventh time that store has been robbed within the past few years.

—Simon Lyon died in Philipsburg last Sunday afternoon. He had been ill about six weeks, suffering from the effects of a burst blood vessel in his abdomen. He was buried in the Jewish cemetery here on Monday afternoon. A widow and seven children survive him.

—Chester Munson Esq., of Philipsburg, has purchased the timber on 1600 acres of land, near that place, owned by J. N. Casanova. It is estimated it will cut about twenty million feet of pine, hemlock and oak lumber. A water power mill is being erected on the track and a three mile tram-road will have to be built to get the lumber out to the Morrisdale branch.

—About three o'clock last Wednesday morning a clerk named Bower, who has his room over the store at Curtin's Works, heard some one trying to get in a window. He opened fire at the opening and soon the intruder fled. Next morning blood spots were found on the window sill and below it. The would-be robber was evidently wounded, but not so badly as to stop his escape.

—Mrs. P. G. Meek, wife of the editor-in-chief of the Watchman, is recovering from her long and serious illness, during which her life was despaired of much of the time.

—The stove has been taken out of the borough lock-up and that will certainly make "the cooler" cooler.

—James H. Williams, of this place, left for Philipsburg on Wednesday. He will engage in business in that place.

PSYCHOPATHIC PATIENT MAKES DASH FOR LIBERTY.

Joseph Raymond Savage, a prisoner at the Rockview penitentiary, made a dash for liberty, on Monday morning, but was captured inside of three hours at the plant of the Chemical Lime company, in Buffalo Run valley. Savage, who was sent up to Lackawanna county for ten to twenty years for robbery, was in the yard exercising when the other prisoners were taken out at seven o'clock to work on the farms. When the guard opened the gates he made a dash through the exit and with no extra guard to give chase headed northwest.

Trainmen on the Bellefonte Central spotted Savage in Buffalo Run valley and notified prison officials who went up to the Chemical plant and captured him.

SERIES OF SERMONS DRAW LARGE CROWDS.

Large congregations are in attendance every Sunday evening, at the United Brethren church of Bellefonte, to hear the pastor in his series of sermons on the "Second Coming of Christ." Last Sunday evening he preached from the subject, "Prophecies concerning the second coming of Christ, and false theories of His coming." Next Sunday evening he will preach on "The signs of the times, and signs that immediately precede the coming of Christ."

It is of great importance that every one should know what the Bible teaches on this subject. You are invited to attend these services and hear the subject discussed by the pastor, Rev. G. E. Householder. The series will continue each Sunday evening until June 6th. Everybody welcome.

After living in Bellefonte a few years Mr. Tibbens and family moved to Brisbin, Clearfield county, where their home was destroyed by the big fire of 1882. Pennsylvanians who go to Maryland to fish during the summer and fall need not be worried because of the new fish law that will become operative in that State on June 1. While it does make some radical changes regarding conditions under which fishing with nets can be done it will not effect anglers from this section because they all fish with hook and line. Commissioner Deibler has called attention to the fact that the new Maryland law prohibits a Pennsylvanian from fishing in Maryland waters on days when fishing is closed in this State. That need not worry Pennsylvanians, either, since they are licensed to fish for some kind of fish every day of the year except Sunday.

Barnett Bros. circus, which will exhibit on the old fair grounds here tomorrow, was in Danville on Monday. The Morning News of that place describes it as being a very exceptional little show. While it carries no animal acts it is strong in an aerial and ground acrobatic features. The News speaks especially of the Rogers-Gaudet troupe of wire performers and Vern Correll's thrilling contribution to the program. Remember! The show will be here tomorrow and will exhibit on the old fair grounds.

The Bellefonte Methodist church will be represented at the Central Pennsylvania Conference either by M. R. Johnson, who is the lay delegate, or Mrs. Charles E. Dorworth, who is the alternate. The Conference will convene in Carlisle on June 16.

George Arliss in "The Millionaire" is scheduled to be shown at the Richelleu theatre here on Thursday and Friday, May 21 and 22. Arliss is the finest living actor and "The Millionaire" gives him a role in which he brings out all the subtleties of his art.

The Federal District court, of Philadelphia, has decided that death from sun stroke is "by external, violent and accidental means." In other words, old Sol hits hard. Whatever farmers and financiers may think of him it may be said that President Hoover has won the enthusiastic admiration of Secretary Stimson.

Bellefonte Left Something Valuable There, Too.

While some of the recent communications we have received appear under "Talks with the Editor" on page 3 of this issue the following was received too late to have a place among them. We publish it here and add a fervent Amen! to all that Mrs. Hoopes says. Only those who ever have been the best interests of Bellefonte at heart realize what Mark Landsy meant to the town as a first contact point with the stranger within our gates. First impressions are best. Last ones are worth while too. Greeting and bidding the traveler farewell Mr. Landsy left an impression, through his genial, courteous personality, that was a Bellefonte asset of inestimable value.

West Chester, Pa., May 12, 1931.

Dear Mr. Meek: Last Sunday I made a very sad trip in to Philadelphia to be present at the funeral of Mr. M. A. Landsy. I joined my sister, Josephine P. White, and we went up to the funeral parlor at 2009 north Broad street, and from thence to Mt. Sinai cemetery. My aunt, Miss Powell, would have been with us, but she has been quite ill here at my home.

The ceremony at the funeral parlor was very short and most impressive, and likewise at the cemetery. There was a profusion of lovely flowers, and a very beautiful cover of white lilies and pink roses covering the casket.

I feel that I would like to express, with the many others, the shock and grief caused by Mr. Landsy's death. He had more friends than people will ever know, and his many kindnesses and good deeds have made glad innumerable people.

As we turned away from the grave, his former partner, Mr. Arliss, said to me, "Mrs. Hoopes, I feel that I have left something very valuable there."

I rather think that remark expresses what I want to say, and what I know many people in Bellefonte feel. Yours very sincerely,

MARIE WHITE HOOPES
