

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The annual Farmer-Kiwanis picnic will be held on Grange park, Centre Hall, on Thursday, June 18. The complete program will be published next week.

The Earl C. Musser family moved from Bellefonte, last week, down onto their farm in Little Nittany valley, while their home in Bellefonte has been rented by Kenneth Jones, of the operating department of the West Penn Power company.

According to many requests the Misses McGarvey and Mrs. George B. Thompson have decided to repeat their "Living Pictures of Famous Paintings," and will add a few extra pictures, in St. John's Episcopal parish house, Friday evening, June 19th, at 8 o'clock. Admission, 35 cents.

The Karthaus State bank was taken over, last week, by the Clearfield Trust company. The bank was not closed nor insolvent but the board of directors decided it unwise to attempt to continue business under present conditions and therefore arranged with the Clearfield Trust to take it over.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Alice Nuttall Fryberger, daughter of the late John E. and Mrs. Fryberger, of Phillipsburg, to Paul Douglas Millbolland, of Washington, D. C., but who is now connected with the National City bank, New York city. No date for the wedding has been announced.

The attraction at the State theatre all next week will be "Misbehaving Ladies." It is a clever comedy production, featuring Louise Fazenda, Ben Lyon and Lila Lee. If you like something in the lighter vein, something that will make you forget everything else for an hour or more "Misbehaving Ladies" will supply the need.

Permission to operate an inter-state bus line from Youngstown, Ohio, to New York city, by way of Mercer, Oil City, Clearfield, Bellefonte, Williamsport, Sunbury and Nazareth, with inter-state rights between Clearfield and the New Jersey State line, at Easton, was asked of the Public Service Commission in an application filed at Harrisburg, last Thursday, by Lakes to Sea Stages, Inc.

A letter from Congressman Chase to post-master John L. Knisley, under date of June 2, expresses his regret at the failure to secure a post-office site in Bellefonte at a price the government will pay. The committee is coming back here to go over the situation again and if satisfactory terms cannot be secured the resort to condemnation proceeding on some desired property will probably be had.

A swarm of bees which settled on a tree, on Spring street, Wednesday morning, were still there when this item was written yesterday. They first settled on a tree in front of the Dr. Rogers property and two young men saved off a comb in an effort to capture them but they promptly settled on a tree along the Dr. Dale property and all efforts to dislodge them have so far proven futile.

The opening of the women's golf tournaments was played on the Nittany Country club course on Tuesday. Four clubs were represented: Phillipsburg won, with a score of 29 1/2 points; Blairmont, Altoona, was second with 24; Clinton, Rock Haven, was third with 22; Nittany, Bellefonte, was fourth with 20. There were eight players representing each club and with them were twenty-five visitors so that fifty-seven were at the club for the dinner that was served. The visitors played bridge while the tournament was on.

In the reorganization of the State Highway Department, as announced at Harrisburg last Friday, N. F. Staples, who for several years was district engineer in Bellefonte, has been made engineer in charge of district No. 6, which includes Philadelphia, Montgomery, Bucks, Chester and Delaware counties. C. H. Buckius, who two years ago was located at Harrisburg as engineer in charge of construction, has been put back to a district engineer, in charge of district No. 5, composed of the counties of Lehigh, Northampton, Monroe, Carbon, Schuylkill and Berks.

The Bellefonte chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, on Memorial day, placed on the graves of the eleven Revolutionary soldiers bronze Revolutionary grave markers and Betsy Ross flags, including Jacob Houser, at Houserville; General Philip Benner, at Rock Forge; Jacob Keller and George Rheinhardt, at Tusseyville; John Boron and Robert Moore, at the Branch; George Meek, at the Glades; John Holt, at Milesburg, and John Williams, at Bellefonte. They also placed fifty Betsy Ross flags on the graves of Revolutionary soldiers throughout the county. A granite boulder will be dedicated in the near future at the Branch cemetery in honor of the Revolutionary soldiers buried there.

BELLEFONTE HIGH HOLDS ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Twenty-four Young Men and Thirty-Seven Young Women Receive Their Diplomas.

Sixty-one young men and women were graduated at the 48th annual commencement at the Bellefonte High school this week. The exercises in connection therewith began with the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs, in the Presbyterian church, on Sunday evening. Rev. Jacobs stressed as the topic of his discourse an ideal. He advocated setting an ideal as the standard of life, then strive to accomplish the desired attainment. Speaking personally to the class he said: "Don't think that a flask in the hip pocket makes a gentleman, or a gold cigarette case a lady." He urged the young people to so fashion their lives that their careers may be clean and upright at all times and the world the better for their being in it.

The annual declamatory contest for the Col. Reynolds prizes was held in the High school auditorium on Monday evening. There were eight contestants, as published in the Watchman last week. The judges were Rev. C. E. Arnold, Philip H. Johnston and Miss Isabella S. Hill. Prizes were awarded to Joseph Meyers and Eleanor Johnson, with honorable mention for Samuel Noll and Martha Walker.

The closing exercises of the grade schools in both buildings were held in the Richelieu theatre, yesterday morning, and consisted of playlets, etc. Limited space, as well as time, prevents any detailed report of same. In the afternoon the Seniors presented a three act comedy in the Richelieu.

The final commencement exercises were held at the Richelieu last evening. Dr. Charles C. Ellis, president of Juniata College, delivered the commencement address while Dr. M. J. Locke, president of the school board, awarded the prizes and presented the diplomas to the sixty-one graduates, and the school year of 1930-31 passed into history.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS EXHIBIT THEIR ART IN WOODCRAFT.

Bellefonte High school boys—Seniors and Juniors—who the past year have pursued the course in mechanical arts, have a remarkable display of their handcraft on exhibition in a room in the Heverly building, on Allegheny street. It includes sixty or more pieces, among them being about twenty cedar chests, some of them massive in size, which in workmanship and finish are equal to the production of the finest woodworkers. Tables, desks, secretaries, in walnut and other hard woods, are included in the display.

The mechanical arts course is in charge of Harry P. Menold and the work of the boys is evidence of the ability of the instructor to fashion finished woodworkers out of a lot of raw human material in the school term of nine months. Naturally the public in general might be curious to know what becomes of all the stuff made by the boys. Any one who makes a piece of furniture of any description is allowed to claim it as his own by paying the actual cost of the material that enters into its construction. If he does not want it himself Mr. Menold will sell it for the best price possible and all the money received over and above the cost of materials is turned over to the boys. Of the twenty or more cedar chests made the past year all but one has been claimed by the maker.

The exhibit was brought down town this year by the boys, themselves, for the reason that they thought more people would stop in to see it than would go to the High school building. And they acknowledge obligation to Mr. Heverly, who gave them the room free of all charges, and the West Penn Power company for its contribution of light.

ELECTRIC DEMONSTRATION AT FARM OF C. C. BECK

A field day for the demonstration of electric utilities will be held at the C. O. Beck farm, in Halfmoon township, tomorrow (Saturday) at 2 o'clock p. m. The demonstration will be held under the auspices of the West Penn Power company, assisted by Messrs. Blasingame and Nichols, of the rural extension farm work department of State College. Grinding feed with a portable electric motor designed for farm use and other demonstrations will be given. Interesting talks on grinding feed and filling silos will be made.

Mr. Beck's farm is located a short distance west of Stormstown. Watch for the demonstration sign at the entrance to the farm lane. Farmers can secure any other information desired by calling West Penn Power company offices.

The property of the Ironva Coal and Coke company, in which a number of Bellefonters were interested some years ago, was sold at a special master's sale, on May 23rd, to the Cambria Smokeless Coal company, of Johnstown, for $20,100.

TERRIFIC RAIN STORM IN BELLEFONTE SATURDAY.

One of the hardest rainstorms that has hit Bellefonte in many moons occurred shortly after the noon hour, last Saturday, and according to all accounts, we got the most of it right here. It didn't last long, but while it did the rain came down in sheets and was accompanied by some hail, but not enough to prove destructive to gardens. Out near the Forge church the water poured down the hill in such a torrent that a portion of the hill was washed away and the water ran right through Joe Parker's house, in at the kitchen door and out through the front door. Mud and dirt had to be shoveled out of the house which was afterward flushed with hose to clean it out. Water from Pike alley flowed down over the gardens of residents of the upper end of Howard street, cutting deep gulleys in the gardens and washing the mud down through the yards and over the walks and pavements onto Howard street. The peculiar part about the storm was the restricted territory to which it was confined. No rain of any account fell in Bald Eagle valley while only a few drops fell at Axe Mann and south of that place. Considerable rain fell up Buffalo Run valley but the storm came to an end below Huberburg, in Nittany valley. On Saturday night there was another hard storm with terrific thunder and lightning but it didn't last long and not near as much rain fell as came down in the afternoon.

CLINICS TO CORRECT SPEECH IMPEDIMENTS.

Two speech correction clinics for the residents of Centre county will be established this summer by the division of public speech of the Pennsylvania State College, and conducted by Herbert Koepf-Baker. The service, which is to be free of charge, is designed to examine and treat such speech defects and disorders as stuttering, stammering, lisping, foreign accent, infatillism and voice disturbances. Both children and adults will be given personal treatment by Mr. Koepf-Baker, who was trained as a speech clinician at the University of Michigan and the University of Berlin, Germany.

The clinics will be held once a week for a period of eight weeks in both State College and Bellefonte.

The first clinic in State College will be conducted in the high school building at 2:30 o'clock on June 12, and the first clinic for the residents of Bellefonte and its vicinity will be held in Bellefonte high school at 2:30 o'clock on June 13.

Mr. Koepf-Baker, before coming to Pennsylvania State College last September, was in charge of the corrective speech work in the public schools of Binghamton, N. Y., and previous to that had been advisory director of the speech improvement program of Lansing, Michigan, public schools.

Further information may be obtained by addressing Mr. J. H. Frizzell, head of the division of public speech at the college.

HONEY BEE IN CAR CAUSE OF BAD WRECK.

A honey bee buzzing around the head of Mrs. Mary Walker, widow of the late Sinnickson Walker, of Bellefonte as she was driving to Bellefonte from Sewickley in her car, last Thursday, caused her to lose control of the machine, which crashed into a telephone pole on a hill near Ebensburg, completely wrecking the car and sustaining injuries which will keep her confined to the Centre County hospital for an indefinite time. She has a fracture of the right knee left chest injury and is suffering considerably from shock.

Since the death of her husband, several years ago, Mrs. Walker has been making her home with one of her children at Sewickley. Last Thursday she decided to come to Bellefonte on a visit and for Memorial day exercises. Her dog was her only companion in the car. A short distance this side of Ebensburg a bee flew into her car. Whether it was the bee buzzing or the dog after the bee that caused the woman to lose control of the car is not definitely known. However, it was wrecked against a telephone pole.

Passing motorists sought aid from an Ebensburg garage. The man who responded wanted to take her to a Johnstown hospital but she insisted on being brought to the Centre County hospital, and the man brought her here.

On Wednesday morning of last week Judge Eugene H. Baird, of the Clinton county court, handed down a decision in which he refused to grant a preliminary injunction against the board of commissioners of Clinton county restraining them from building a county poor home, near Hyner. Former Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of Bellefonte, represented the taxpayers seeking an injunction and in his argument, several weeks ago, claimed the law under which the commissioners were proceeding was unconstitutional. In his decision Judge Baird claimed the act to be constitutional, in his judgment.

MOVIE STARS TO APPEAR WITH THESPIANS AT STATION

Two famous stage and movie stars are to appear in person and take part in the final production of the Penn State Thespian musical comedy, "Reely and Truly," at State College at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. They are Alexander Gray, State graduate in the class of 1912, and Miss Bernice Claire, who on Tuesday telephoned the Penn State alumni association office that she would be on hand for the commencement week activities and take part in the Thespian performance. Gray was a member of the Thespian club when he was a student at Penn State, and his experience there to gether with his ability as a vocalist led him eventually to the musical comedy stage and more recently in to the movies. Within the past year he has been seen in five motion pictures, the most notable of which have been "Sally," in which he played opposite Marilyn Miller "Song of the Flame," and "No Nanette." He also appeared on the stage with Miss Miller in "Sally" and was a principal in the stag productions of "Rio Rita" and "Desert Song."

The Thespian show this year is a story of Hollywood, and Gray and Miss Claire will take a natural part in one of the scenes in which Gray will talk and sing. The Thespian have called upon co-eds for lead and chorus parts for the first time this year in a musical comedy, and they made a signal success in their first showing last month.

The board of trustees of the mothers' assistance fund for Centre county held an all day meeting at the home of Miss Mary Linn, Bellefonte, on Wednesday of last week. The members present were Mrs. Frank Gardner, State College; Mrs. C. E. McGirk, Phillipsburg; Mrs. G. C. Frank, Millheim; Mrs. Edward Harris, Snow Shoe; Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Linn, of Bellefonte. Miss Laura Porter, field secretary, of Harrisburg, was at the meeting Proper distribution of the anticipated increased appropriation was among the business discussed. Out of town members of the board were entertained at lunch at The Markland.

The directors of the Centre County Motor Club will hold their regular monthly meeting, at the Markland, in this place, this evening at 6:15.
