FRY CLAN REUNES AT PINE GROVE MILLS

The annual reunion of the Fry clan and students of the old Pine Grove Mills Academy was held on the Academy grounds, at Pine Grove, last Saturday. Capt. W. H. Fry, 88 years young, and the dean of the clan, was the busiest man at the gathering, seeing that everybody else had enough to eat and were as comfortable as the hot weather would permit.

The morning was spent in social intercourse and renewing old acquaintanceships. At 12.30 o'clock long tables on the grounds were literally heaped with one of the most elaborate picnic dinners ever seen in that locality. Capt. Fry's birthday cake was baked by Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, who had it decorated with 88 tiny candles. Rev. S. B. Brown invoked the divine blessing and promptly thereafter the good things began to disappear in rapid succession.

At 2.15 o'clock the assemblage was called to order and in the absence of Rev. J. S. English the Hon. J. Laird Holmes was drafted as the principal speaker. In extending congratulations to Capt. Fry he dwelt a little on the busy life he had lived in Ferguson township and the interest he always manifested in every public movement as well in his neighbors in general.

Other speakers were Prof. T. I. Mairs, Prof. E. B. Fitts, Rev. Samuel B. Brown and C. C. Shuey. Letters of regret were read from Rev. J. O. C. McCracken, Prof. Henry Stair and others. Four generations of the Fry family were in attendance.

Included in the gathering were quite a number of former students of the Academy, the oldest of whom was Capt. Fry, who was a member of the class of 1861. Following is a list of the men who taught at the Academy from the time it opened in 1851 until its close in 1917: Prof. C. E. Ward, Prof. N. E. Campbell, Theophilus Weaver, J. E. Thomas, Dr. D. D. Morgan, Charles Houtz, H. I. Stair, Morgan Gehret, C. T. Aikens, Dr. Burchfield, L. C. Thomas, G. W. Johnstonbaugh, and Messrs. Hosterman, Roan, White, Rosenberg, Park, White and Hadden. The last teacher was Miss Mary Kepler who gave up the work to go into service at Washington during the World war. The reunion next year will be held at the same place in July.

On the registry list of guests present appeared the following:

W. H. Fry, Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Annie Saucerman, Altoona; G. B. M. Fry, Pennsylvania Furnace; Mrs. A. P. Ward, Bellefonte; Mrs. Alma Rudy, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Mrs. Ida Meek Musser, Altoona; A. Linn Murphy, Ithaca, N. Y.; R. F. Sassaman, Altoona; Mary M. Burwell, Pine Grove Mills; Elsie Murphy Reed and Allen B. Reed, Aberdeen, Md.; G. W. Ward, Pittsburgh; Mary E. Ward, Lucetta, Md.; Clara E. Ward, Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Charlotte Kepler, Pittsburgh; S. E. Ward, State College; J. D. Dannelly, Deborah M. Dannelly, Medina, Ohio; Sue Dannelly, Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Jennie Fortney, Beulah E. Fortney, Boalsburg; Sara Dannelly, Pine Grove Mills; William W. Keller, Pittsburgh; A. L. Bowersox, State College, and a large number of others from Pine Grove Mills and Ferguson township.

KEW GARDENS CLOSED BY ORDER OF COURT.

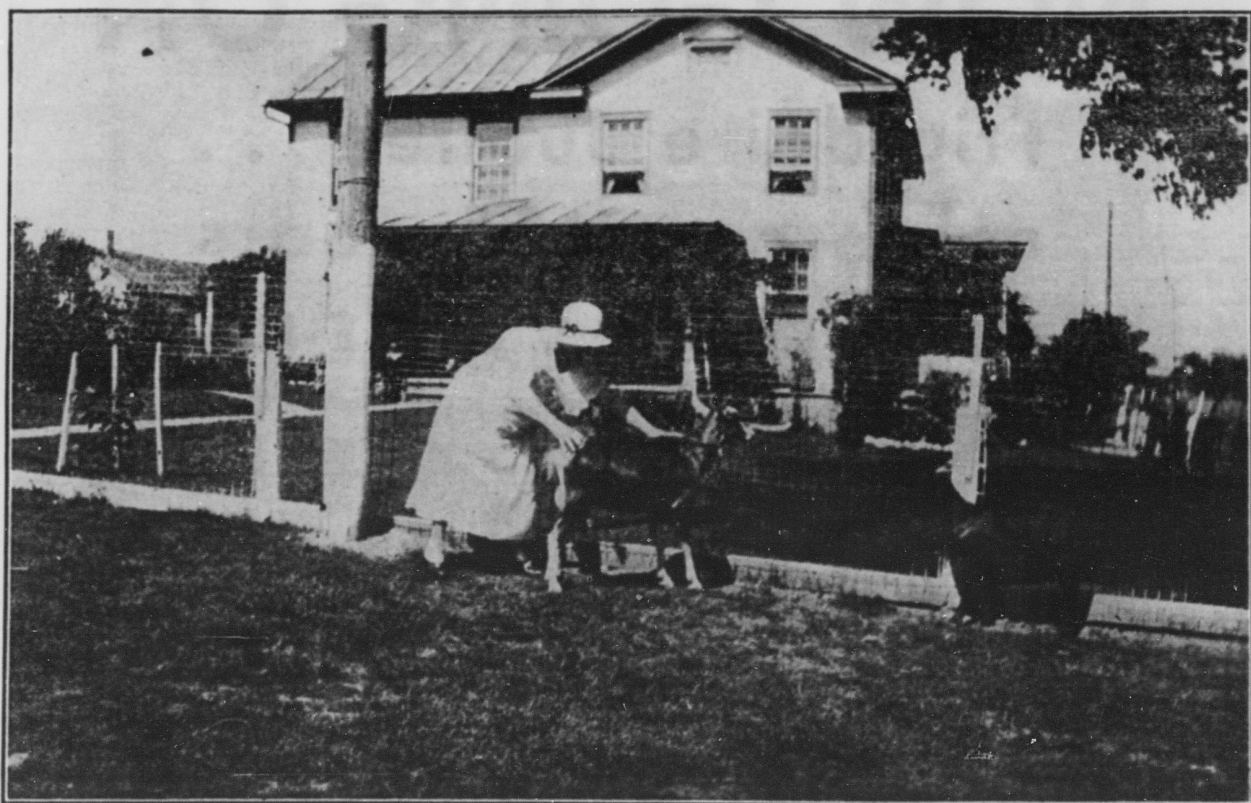

At a special session of court, on Wednesday morning, Joseph Labarto plead guilty to two indictments for violation of the liquor laws. On one indictment he was sentenced to pay the cost of prosecution, $500 fine and placed on probation for three years. An order was also made closing Kew Gardens as a public house. Sentence was suspended on the second indictment upon the payment of costs.

Lester Glass plead guilty to the charge of larceny and was sentenced to pay the costs, a dollar fine and spend thirty days in the county jail. Bertha McKinley was brought into court for violation of a parole order and was sentenced to serve one to two years in the Allegheny county work house.

During the past week the Superior court handed down a decree affirming the order of the lower court in refusing the petition of Angelo Genua for the release of his son, John Anthony Genua, from Polk Institute. The decree, however, was qualified with the suggestion that if the parents were willing to bear the expense, and the lower court deemed it wise to do so, they could send the boy to Philadelphia for examination by specialists to determine the exact nature of his physical and mental condition.

Attractive Country Homes in Centre County.

"Lingerlonger," the attractive farm home of Earl Yearick, situated on the Bellefonte-Lock Haven highway, eight miles east of Bellefonte, has been well named. The visitor's first and lasting impression is one of quietude, tranquility and beauty.

The house, painted pure white, sits off to the left of the road a hundred yards. Between the house and the highway is an apple orchard. Six rows of trees planted on a bed of green lawn lend a foreground that balances the house perfectly with the low mountain in the rear.

Surrounding the house are flowers and well trimmed grass. Climbing vines add distinction to the side porch and a large pine tree stands majestically at the corner of the lawn and shades a goodly portion of it.

The farm was purchased twenty-eight years ago by Mr. Yearick's father, Nathaniel Yearick, of Jacksonville, as a lumber investment. For three years after the purchase no farming was done and the only use it was put to was cutting the timber from "the Ridge" on its northern boundary. However at a later date farming was commenced and at the present time it stands as one of the finest in Centre county.

The present house, with the exception of a slight addition, was on the site when the Yearicks took possession. In 1913 Mr. Earl Yearick became the owner of the farm and since that time has made many improvements. Foremost among these being the addition of a water system whereby there is an abundance of flowing water at both house and barn all the year round.

The farm is four-hundred acres, two hundred and fifty of which are under cultivation while the others are timbered. It is equipped with all modern machinery for agriculture and is stocked to capacity.

In the foreground of the above illustration is Mrs. Yearick, with the chief pets of the Yearick home, "Nanny" and the "Kid." "Nanny" is a thoroughbred goat that has grown into the esteem of the family. She was brought to the farm when three weeks old and is now the proud mother of the "Kid."

Mr. Yearick is assisted on the farm by Mrs. Yearick and their two sons, Ocean, aged 18, who will enter The Pennsylvania State College next year, and Joel, aged eleven. —By John M. Fleming.

STATE COLLEGE MAN KILLED BY OWN AUTO.

Donald Allen, steward at the Nittany Lion Inn, at State College, was crushed to death by his own car shortly before six o'clock on Tuesday morning. He left the College about 5.30 o'clock to drive to Boalsburg in his Ford coupe. About six o'clock laborers on their way to work found him dead under his overturned car at the Branch school house. There is a sharp right hand turn at that place and he evidently failed to make it, with the result that his car skidded, turned over on its side and he was caught beneath it. Coroner W. R. Heaton made an investigation and deemed an inquest unnecessary, death having been caused by a fractured skull. Allen's home was in New Haven, Conn. He was 33 years old, a World war veteran and unmarried. The remains were sent to New Haven for burial.

"Happy Days" is running at the State this week. It is a return showing of the gorgeous musical show that gave such satisfaction at its premier here. Anyone would like "Happy Days." If you didn't see it before here is the opportunity.
