GETTIG.—Samuel Rudy Gettig, one of the very few Civil war veterans in Centre county, died at his home at Madisonburg, on August 7th, as the result of general debility. A son of Jacob and Anna Rudy Gettig he was born at Madisonburg on December 26th, 1838, hence had reached the age of 92 years, 7 months and 12 days. His early life was spent on the farm and when the Civil war broke he enlisted in Company A, 148th regiment, serving under General James A. Beaver. He served in some of the fiercest battles of the Virginia campaign and in one of the battles a small Bible he carried in his breast pocket stopped a bullet and probably saved his life. In November, 1863, he was made a corporal and at the battle of Ream's Station on August 25th, 1864, where General Beaver lost his leg, he was taken prisoner and held until the surrender of Lee. During his life he taught school, clerked in a store, owned and conducted a store a number of years, had a coal and grain depot at Coburn and served as postmaster at Madisonburg for eighteen years.

Following his return from the war he married Susannah Yearick, who died several years ago, but surviving him are six children, Mrs. Anna Musser, of Williamsport; William A. Gettig, of Ellwood City; Mrs. Cora Meyers, of Spring Mills; John F., of Kew, Alberta, Canada; Samuel L., of Winona, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Kern, of Madisonburg. One sister survives, Mrs. Susan Eyer, of Youngdale.

Funeral services were held in the Reformed church, at Madisonburg, on Monday afternoon of last week, by Rev. A. J. Miller, burial being made in the church cemetery.

NEIMAN.—Miss Carrie L. Neiman passed away at her home on Dix Run, in Union township, about two o'clock last Thursday afternoon, following over a month's illness with cancer of the liver.

She was a daughter of George and Elizabeth Neiman and was born at Snow Shoe Intersection over 61 years ago. When a young girl the family lived in Bellefonte and most of her education was received in the public schools here. Mr. Neiman later purchased a small farm on Dix Run and moved there. After she grew to womanhood Miss Neiman spent a number of years away from home, working for others, but illness in the family caused her to return home. A whole sermon could be written on the unselfish devotion and care given both her father and mother during long periods of illness and when they passed away and were laid to rest she took upon herself the burden of carrying on the homestead farm. Her life was not a path of roses, but she fought her own battles in the struggle for existence and had reached a point where brighter hopes for the future were in view when overtaken by illness.

Her only survivors are two brothers, Lloyd H., at home, and William T., of Jeannette. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist church and Rev. M. H. Crawford had charge of her funeral services which were held in the Methodist church, at Unionville, at 2 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, burial being made in the Stover cemetery.

LAIRD.—John Laird died, on Saturday evening, at the home of his son, Archie Laird, in the Glades, following an illness of a year or more with complications. He was born near Enosville, Huntingdon county, on October 10th, 1853, hence was in his 78th year. He was a farmer all his life until his retirement a few years ago. He was married three times. His first wife was Mary Saucerman, the second Mary McCauley and the third Mary Walker, all of whom have passed away. Three children survive, Mrs. Lizzie Rudy, of Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Christy, of Neff's Mills, and Archie Laird, in the Glades. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church, at Enosville, at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, by Rev. J. E. Rigby, burial being made in the Enosville cemetery.

HUBLER.—Mrs. Ellen Elvina Hubler, widow of Philip Hubler, died at her home at Rebersburg, on August 8th, following an illness of some weeks due to her advanced age. She was a daughter of Andrew and Peggy Spotts and was born in Union county in 1851, her age at death being 80 years, 2 months and 24 days. She married Mr. Hubler on Christmas day, 1877. He died some years ago but surviving her are three sons, John W., Thomas

FOUR MEN ELECTROCUTED ON MONDAY MORNING.

Four men, all sentenced to death for the murder of one man in Cambria county, were electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary, on Monday morning, the first quadruple execution since March 8th, 1927, when the four Olney bank robbers, of Philadelphia, were put to death in the electric chair.

The four Cambria county men were Joseph Parsi, Frank Powell, Frank Cantilla and Carl Crow, and it took just 28 minutes to carry out the mandate of the law, an average of seven minutes to a man. They were taken to the chair in the order named above. Parsi and Powell walked to the electrocution chamber without any visible signs of fear. Cantilla was quite nervous and showed signs of weakening so that he had to be supported by guards. Crow, the last man, and supposedly the ringleader of the gang, walked to the chair with slow, deliberate steps and in addition to repeating the Litany after Father McCreesh repeated the first lines of the Lord's Prayer. At the chair he asked for permission to make a remark and stated: "I am innocent; innocent as a babe. God bless my boy."

Father McCreesh attended all four men and the physician in charge was Dr. W. A. Barrett, of the penitentiary. The bodies of all the men were claimed and were taken to Cambria county for burial.

The men were convicted of the murder of Louis Hoffman on his farm in Adams township, Cambria county, on July 14th, 1928. An alleged quarrel over a supply of moonshine liquor was assigned as the cause of the murder. So well had the gang covered its tracks that it was not until late in 1929 that the men were arrested. Powell, Cantilla and Crow were tried and convicted in June and July, 1930, Parsi pleading guilty later. A fifth member of the gang, Tony Colombo, was convicted and given life imprisonment.

The four men put up a hard legal fight to escape the death chair. Their cases were before the Supreme court twice and also reviewed by the Board of Pardons twice, while two appeals for new trials were denied by the Cambria county court. In the fight for life Parsi had been respited seven times, Powell five times and Crow and Cantilla three times each.

It will be recalled that Crow and Cantilla, scheduled to be electrocuted on June 2nd, were granted a respite just five hours before they were to have been taken to the chair.

The men maintained to the last their innocence of the crime of which they were convicted and executed, but the preponderance of evidence produced by the Commonwealth at their trial was strong against them. The men were all members of a bootlegging gang operating in Johnstown and on the night of the murder had gone to the Hoffman farm to get a supply of liquor which they believed he had. Hoffman denied having any liquor, and a quarrel ensued which resulted in the killing of Hoffman.

Chester H. Barnes, one of Bellefonte's young men who is making good in teaching, was released by the Sheffield, Pa., school board, Monday evening, where he has been supervising principal the past six years, to accept the position of superintendent of schools at Bridgeport, Pa., which naturally carries with it a nice increase in salary.

It was probably fear, rather than affection, that influenced Vore to forgive Cunningham.

C. and Elmer E. Hubler, all living in or near Rebersburg. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Chestie Bierly, of Clintondale. Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church, at Rebersburg, on Tuesday morning of last week, by Rev. E. N. Fry, burial being made in the Rebersburg cemetery.

BATHURST.—Mrs. Maria Confer Bathurst, wife of Henry P. Bathurst, of South Water street, Bellefonte, died at the Centre county hospital, at noon on Monday, following an illness of several months. She was 69 years, 9 months and 24 days old, and in addition to her husband, is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Russell L. Rickard, of Tyrone. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Theodore Haupt, Bellefonte; Mrs. William Harkins, of Baltimore, and Mrs. P. A. Croft, of Wall. She was a member of the United Brethren church and Rev. G. E. Householder had charge of the funeral services, held on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

GARTH.—Mrs. Abbott Garth, a well known resident of Lock Haven, died at the Lock Haven hospital, Saturday, her body being taken from there to the home of her brother, William H. Mann, on Church street, from where the funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Garth was a daughter of Robert and Christine Reesman Mann, and was born in Mill Hall, over eighty years ago, living there all her life save for the ten years she made her home in Lock Haven. None of her immediate family survive, her husband and only child, Robert Garth, dying some years ago.

GARDEN CLUB MEETS AT ANCESTRAL HOME.

The August meeting of the Bellefonte Garden Club was held, last Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Curtin, at Curtin, with thirty members and ten guests present. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gregg Curtin, the vice president, Mrs. George A. Beezer had charge of the meeting.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, which were accepted as read, and the regular routine business was disposed of. Mrs. J. D. Hunter, for the membership committee, submitted the name of Mrs. Girard Altenderfer, of Howard, for membership, which was accepted. The committee on awards, Mrs. D. H. Hastings and Mrs. J. D. Hunter, awarded a blue ribbon to Mrs. A. O. Furst for a basket of choice dahlias and to H. L. Curtin Jr., for an artistically arranged basket of mixed flowers.

The speaker of the afternoon was A. O. Rasmussen, head of the Pennsylvania State College extension department of ornamental horticulture. His topic "Beautification of Home Grounds," was practical and intensely interesting. He stressed the importance of a definite plan for garden and shrubbery, suitable shrubbery for houses of different types and materials, also heights and distances. The most modern garden could be perfected by working along the lines suggested, and the large garden transformed into a place of beauty and correct proportion which in itself brings beauty and satisfaction. The Bellefonte Garden Club was most grateful and appreciative of Mr. Rasmussen's interest in the work. R. C. Blaney, Centre county farm bureau agent, was also present at the meeting.

The meeting was held on the north terrace, with chairs under the trees and adjoining the charming garden. On every side the lawn stretched away to shrubbery and flowers, and to the creek and mountains in the distance. A picnic supper was served after which the guests wandered through the beautiful old home, filled with its treasures of furniture and paintings dating back to the early settlements of Central Pennsylvania. The indescribable beauty of the home and gardens and the gracious hospitality of the host and hostess, Major and Mrs. H. L. Curtin, made a delightful afternoon long to be remembered by the Garden Club of Bellefonte.
