

NEWS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The new road through the Fishing creek narrows is practically completed. It is now asphalt macadam all the way from Lamar to Loganton and east.

The Ladies aid, of the Evangelical church, will hold a baked ham supper at the Y. M. C. A. Friday, Oct. 29. Price 25 and 50c. Serving five to seven o'clock.

The Andrews Engineering and Construction company, of Tyrone, began work this week on the two bridges they will build over Elk creek, in the borough of Millheim.

At the closing session of the annual convention of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, held at York, last week, Mrs. F. W. Hailer, of State College, was elected recording secretary.

On Monday morning a pigeon flew from the roof of the court house against a limb of one of the trees in the court house yard and broke its neck, falling to the ground and dying almost instantly.

Mrs. Herbert F. Miller, of east High street, fell down the stairs in her home, on Monday evening, and received very severe bruises. While no bones were broken it is feared she tore several ribs loose.

Constable Charles Summers, of Danville, arrested Dean Peterson, at State College, last week, and took him back to Montour county to answer to a charge preferred by a young woman of Strawberry Ridge.

The Centre Furniture Co., is the name of a new business undertaking that has been opened in the Penn-Hell building on High street. The company will buy or sell or exchange new and second hand furniture.

Merrill T. Berringer, of Altoona, workmen's compensation referee in this district, was in Belleville, last Thursday, and heard the testimony of five claimants for compensation on account of minor injuries.

Raccoons are in season now and Centre county hunters can keep after them until the morning of December 16th. The season for them runs until the evening of November 30.

The Woman's Club will hold a card party at the Elk's club Thursday evening, October 29th, at eight o'clock. Bridge and five hundred will be in play. Admission, 50c. Refreshments. The public is cordially invited.

So far this year 52 deer, 190 rabbits and 6 grouse have been killed and 16 deer and a bear crippled by automobiles in the vicinity of Philipsburg, most of them on the new State highway between Philipsburg and Sandy Ridge.

On Sunday afternoon some thoughtless smoker threw a cigarette stub into the waste paper receptacle in the Kelt-Fonte. A fire ensued which resulted in calling out the fire department but the blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived.

Adolph Johnson, a Swede working on the new building operations at State College, was brought to the Centre County hospital, Monday afternoon, with five fractured ribs and a punctured lung. Just now he was injured could not be ascertained.

Meteorologist Parker reports that September weather was about normal as to temperature in Centre county. In rain fall, however, it was one-third under normal for the month. Mr. Parker's interesting summary will be published in detail next week.

The Belleville branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual distribution day at the home of Mrs. R. S. Bruce, Thomas street, on Friday, November 5, at 2:30 o'clock. All members are asked to send their donations to their director not later than the 5th of November.

Walter Riley Whitehill, of Leont, and Madeline Robeson Tate, of Coleville, were married at Cumberland, Md., on Saturday of last week. Robeson House, of Leont, and Alice Tate, were also married at Cumberland, on Wednesday of last week. The brides are sisters, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Budd Tate, of Coleville.

The October meeting of the Belleville Civic club will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Weller, on east Centre street, next Monday, October 29, at 7:30 o'clock. V. J. Simmons, of the State College, will give a talk on the "Kings of the West Indies." The talk will be open to the public, and all most cordially invited to attend.

Tuesday was devoted to the preparation of the program for the coming week. The program will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Weller, on east Centre street, next Monday, October 29, at 7:30 o'clock.

DEATHS OF THE WEEK.

Chaplain Young Passed Away at His Home in Pittsburgh, on Tuesday, of General Debility.

YOUNG—Rev. Thomas W. Young, well known by many people in Belleville because of his residence here while chaplain at Rockview penitentiary, passed away at his home in Pittsburgh, early on Tuesday, as the result of general debility.

He was born in Ireland 89 years ago but came to this country with his parents when a small boy and most of his life had been spent in the western part of the State. For a number of years he was pastor of the Fifth United Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, going from there to Washington, Pa. It was while serving as pastor of the Presbyterian church in Washington that he was appointed chaplain of Rockview penitentiary in 1916, a position he filled until 1923. On leaving the penitentiary he returned to Pittsburgh.

Rev. Young was a member of Centre lodge No. 268, Free and Accepted Masons, of Belleville; Belleville chapter, No. 241, Royal Arch Masons; Nittany council, No. 57, Royal and Select Masters; Constans Commandery, No. 55, Knights Templar, and Jaffa Temple Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Altoona.

Rev. Young's wife died several years ago but he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. P. Epley and Miss Isabel Young, both at home, and one grand-daughter, Isabel Epley. Funeral services will be held at his late home this (Friday) morning, burial to be made at Washington, Pa., this afternoon.

CRAWFORD—Mrs. Minnie Williams Crawford, wife of William Crawford, passed away at her home at Coleville, at 3:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. She had not been in good health for several months but had been seriously ill only two weeks. During that time she spent a week in the Centre County hospital but was taken home several days previous to her death.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith and was born in Belleville on February 22nd, 1865, hence was in her 67th year. At the age of twenty years she married Mr. Crawford and all their married life had been spent at Coleville. In addition to her husband she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Joseph Barnes, of Belleville; Mrs. Andrew Tate, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. Sherman Lowery and Mrs. Clayton Rider, of Coleville; Mrs. Daniel Watters, Margaret, DeSoyles, Elmer and William, at home. She also leaves one sister and three brothers, Mrs. Howard Clegg, of Mt. Pleasant; Charles Smith, of Northampton; Orlando, in Tennessee; and John, of Beaver Falls.

She was a member of the Evangelical church and Rev. A. Ward Campbell had charge of the funeral services, which were held at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, at her late home in Coleville, burial being made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

TWITMYER—Dr. Edwin Twitmyer, a native of Centre county, died at his home in Olympia, Wash., last Thursday of a general breakdown in health.

He was a son of Emanuel and Lucy Geppert Twitmyer and was born at Zion on May 7th, 1863, hence was in his 74th year. He was educated in the public schools at Spring Mills academy and Franklin and Marshall college. After teaching a year or two in Centre county he went to the State of Washington when twenty-four years of age. For a number of years he was principal of the High school at Seattle, and later was made inspector of High schools for the entire State, a position he held until his retirement a year ago. During his term at the Spring Mills academy he was a classmate of Thomas H. Harter, senior editor of the Express, and later, while Mrs. Miss Fryberger Fisher, widow of the late Dr. F. S. Fisher, of Spring Mills, was one of his school teachers when he attended public school.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, Jeremiah Twitmyer, of Rockford, Ill. He was a member of the late Henry H. Twitmyer, of Pleasant Gap. Burial was made at Olympia.

FAYLER—Mrs. Mary Emma Fayler, widow of William H. Fayler, died at her home in Tyrone on Sunday morning following several weeks illness with heart trouble.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Fayler and was born at Tyrone on May 10th, 1846, hence was in her 85th year. She was educated in the public schools at Spring Mills academy and Franklin and Marshall college. After teaching a year or two in Centre county he went to the State of Washington when twenty-four years of age. For a number of years he was principal of the High school at Seattle, and later was made inspector of High schools for the entire State, a position he held until his retirement a year ago. During his term at the Spring Mills academy he was a classmate of Thomas H. Harter, senior editor of the Express, and later, while Mrs. Miss Fryberger Fisher, widow of the late Dr. F. S. Fisher, of Spring Mills, was one of his school teachers when he attended public school.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, Jeremiah Twitmyer, of Rockford, Ill. He was a member of the late Henry H. Twitmyer, of Pleasant Gap. Burial was made at Olympia.

FAYLER—Mrs. Mary Emma Fayler, widow of William H. Fayler, died at her home in Tyrone on Sunday morning following several weeks illness with heart trouble.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Fayler and was born at Tyrone on May 10th, 1846, hence was in her 85th year. She was educated in the public schools at Spring Mills academy and Franklin and Marshall college. After teaching a year or two in Centre county he went to the State of Washington when twenty-four years of age. For a number of years he was principal of the High school at Seattle, and later was made inspector of High schools for the entire State, a position he held until his retirement a year ago. During his term at the Spring Mills academy he was a classmate of Thomas H. Harter, senior editor of the Express, and later, while Mrs. Miss Fryberger Fisher, widow of the late Dr. F. S. Fisher, of Spring Mills, was one of his school teachers when he attended public school.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, Jeremiah Twitmyer, of Rockford, Ill. He was a member of the late Henry H. Twitmyer, of Pleasant Gap. Burial was made at Olympia.

FAYLER—Mrs. Mary Emma Fayler, widow of William H. Fayler, died at her home in Tyrone on Sunday morning following several weeks illness with heart trouble.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Fayler and was born at Tyrone on May 10th, 1846, hence was in her 85th year. She was educated in the public schools at Spring Mills academy and Franklin and Marshall college. After teaching a year or two in Centre county he went to the State of Washington when twenty-four years of age. For a number of years he was principal of the High school at Seattle, and later was made inspector of High schools for the entire State, a position he held until his retirement a year ago. During his term at the Spring Mills academy he was a classmate of Thomas H. Harter, senior editor of the Express, and later, while Mrs. Miss Fryberger Fisher, widow of the late Dr. F. S. Fisher, of Spring Mills, was one of his school teachers when he attended public school.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, Jeremiah Twitmyer, of Rockford, Ill. He was a member of the late Henry H. Twitmyer, of Pleasant Gap. Burial was made at Olympia.

FAYLER—Mrs. Mary Emma Fayler, widow of William H. Fayler, died at her home in Tyrone on Sunday morning following several weeks illness with heart trouble.

She was a daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Fayler and was born at Tyrone on May 10th, 1846, hence was in her 85th year. She was educated in the public schools at Spring Mills academy and Franklin and Marshall college. After teaching a year or two in Centre county he went to the State of Washington when twenty-four years of age. For a number of years he was principal of the High school at Seattle, and later was made inspector of High schools for the entire State, a position he held until his retirement a year ago. During his term at the Spring Mills academy he was a classmate of Thomas H. Harter, senior editor of the Express, and later, while Mrs. Miss Fryberger Fisher, widow of the late Dr. F. S. Fisher, of Spring Mills, was one of his school teachers when he attended public school.

He is survived by his wife and one brother, Jeremiah Twitmyer, of Rockford, Ill. He was a member of the late Henry H. Twitmyer, of Pleasant Gap. Burial was made at Olympia.

nesday afternoon, burial being made in the Grandview cemetery, Tyrone.

SPICHER—Michael Henry Spicher, died at his home at Pleasant Gap, on Tuesday evening of last week, as the result of general debility.

He was a native of Juniata county, having been born at Richwood on September 19th, 1844, hence was twenty-seven days past 87 years of age. While yet a boy his parents came to Centre county and located on a farm in Pennsylvania where Michael grew to manhood and engaged in farming for himself. He tilled the soil in Penna and Millers valleys until his retirement about twenty-five years ago, and since then had lived at Pleasant Gap. He was a member of the Methodist church all his life and a good citizen. In 1874 he married Miss Catherine Stine, who died thirty-seven years ago and his only survivor is one son, Boyd A. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap.

Funeral services were held at his late home, at two o'clock Friday afternoon by Rev. W. J. Wagner, of Boatsburg, burial being made in the Zion cemetery.

RHOADES—Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, wife of E. A. Rhoades, died at her home at Pleasant Gap at 12:35 o'clock last Thursday, following an illness of several weeks with typhoid fever and other complications. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Scott Rhoades and was born in Tyrone township, her age at death being 88 years, 9 months and 2 days. She is survived by her husband and seven children: Cora, Hazel, Florence, Agnes, William, Russell and Lloyd, all at home. The remains were taken to Tyrone for burial in the Grandview cemetery.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO JUNIATA FISHMAN.

Edward H. Fay, a native of Centre county and a member of the Juniata No. 5 Fishery, died at the State hospital on Saturday evening, as the result of injuries sustained on Saturday afternoon of last week, when he fell from the bridge over the Juniata river at Pleasant Gap.

He was a native of Juniata county, having been born at Richwood on September 19th, 1844, hence was twenty-seven days past 87 years of age. While yet a boy his parents came to Centre county and located on a farm in Pennsylvania where Michael grew to manhood and engaged in farming for himself. He tilled the soil in Penna and Millers valleys until his retirement about twenty-five years ago, and since then had lived at Pleasant Gap. He was a member of the Methodist church all his life and a good citizen. In 1874 he married Miss Catherine Stine, who died thirty-seven years ago and his only survivor is one son, Boyd A. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap.

Funeral services were held at his late home, at two o'clock Friday afternoon by Rev. W. J. Wagner, of Boatsburg, burial being made in the Zion cemetery.

RHOADES—Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, wife of E. A. Rhoades, died at her home at Pleasant Gap at 12:35 o'clock last Thursday, following an illness of several weeks with typhoid fever and other complications. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Scott Rhoades and was born in Tyrone township, her age at death being 88 years, 9 months and 2 days. She is survived by her husband and seven children: Cora, Hazel, Florence, Agnes, William, Russell and Lloyd, all at home. The remains were taken to Tyrone for burial in the Grandview cemetery.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

At a brief session of court, on Monday morning, Judge Wright of State College, who presided at a hearing on the appeal of the State of Pennsylvania, against the conviction of the late John J. Spicher, of Pleasant Gap, for the murder of Mrs. M. J. Rhoades, at Tyrone, Pa., on the 12th of August, 1929, the court rendered its decision in favor of the State.

NEWS FROM BELLEVILLE.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.

Mrs. M. A. Tandy arrived home from Philadelphia, Pa., early this morning, and will continue the management of the business.