NOTEWORTHY CHURCHES IN NEARBY COUNTIES.

In "Girard's Talk of the Day," in a recent issue of the Philadelphia Inquirer, appears the following regarding two noteworthy churches in nearby counties: A new and most unusual church was dedicated last Sunday in Clinton county near Lock Haven.

This is the time of year when many feeders are likely to overlook the importance of supplying a plentiful quantity of drinkable water for their dairy cows. Many cows, during the winter months, obtain but one good drink a day, and often this is so cold that they do not consume sufficient water to maintain efficient milk production. In the first place, water forms almost 87% of the contents of milk. etc. Practically a third of the water which the cow consumes is used in milk production.
