-Ground barley in the fattening ration in the place of shelled corn gives very good results, it was found in a feeding experiment with fattening steer calves at the University of Minnesota in 1930. Other checks from a companion feeding experiment showed that when two pounds of shelled corn in the ration of shelled corn, linseed meal and alfalfa hay, the molasses failed to equal corn pound for pound in feeding value and resulted in lower profits. By substituting two pounds of molasses for two pounds of ground shelled corn in the ground mixed ration the consumption of feed was lightly in-creased and the profit was also slightly increased. Adding two pounds of molasses per steer per day to the ration of ground barley (full fed), linseed meal and alfalfa hay failed to improve the ration in any way except to increase total feed consumption and resulted in
