

S. M. Penningill & Co., No. 37 Park Row, N. Y.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We make an earnest appeal to those of our subscribers who are in arrears for their paper, to come and pay up.

We learn that it is so sickly at Harrisburg that Henry D. Moore, our efficient State Treasurer, and all his clerks, have determined to leave that city about the first of May next.

Charles Sumner has been re-elected U. S. Senator by an overwhelming majority. The election there was not controlled by thugs and cut-throats.

John P. Wilson is at home on furlough, having been paroled by Rebelism. He looks well, but has returned hard service.

The editor of the Star asserts, in his last issue, that "the manifest proclivity of the Black Republicans is to steal."

If the editor really entertains this opinion, we wonder that he is not a Republican himself.

Every body should have a copy of the Tribune Almanac for 1863, a political register of great accuracy and value, containing Astronomical of States, Capitals, Governors, Organizations of the government, Army and Navy, and of the so-called rebel government. Price 13 cents.

"GREEN BACKS."—We met a man the other day, says an exchange, (who claimed to be an American citizen of foreign birth) who seemed to take a malicious pleasure in depreciating the currency of the United States, and thought he was promoting the political interests of the party to which he was attached by discrediting the National securities of the Union.

We looked him in the eye and said: "Sir, the man who fostered by this Country and identified with its interests, seeks in this hour of its trial to weaken its strength and destroy its credit, is not only a traitor but a fool."

So say we to that whole crowd of wretched partisans, who would degrade the public faith in order to exalt the interests of any party.

Fitz John Porter.

By the decree of the Court-Martial in the case of the above-named officer, he was ignominiously dismissed from the service. The principal ground on which the sentence of the Court was based, was that said Fitz John Porter failed to succor our army under Gen. Pope, at the time of the great disaster in front of Washington.

We have always thought that the Government was too lenient with traitors in our midst. Had a loyal man been in the place of Porter, the rebellion, in all probability, ere this, would have been entirely crushed.

The Purposes of Democracy.

The disgraceful conduct of the Democracy during the recent election of United States Senator, at Harrisburg, seems to be but an index of the course they intend to pursue hereafter.

We had hoped that like scenes would never be heard of or witnessed again in a free government. A large party professing obedience to the laws, and a respect at least for free speech, and free legislation, attempting and actually controlling free legislation by organized mobs.

He says he has no power to protect a co-ordinate branch of the State Government in the legitimate discharge of their duties. No power to prevent riot, preserve peace or maintain the dignity of the law! Who but a traitor and perjured villain would dare to offer such a false and frivolous excuse?

It is painful for us to charge, or even believe, that those with whom we meet daily, those too who have long enjoyed the benefits of a free government, should seek its overthrow.

It is painful for us to charge, or even believe, that those with whom we meet daily, those too who have long enjoyed the benefits of a free government, should seek its overthrow. We are forced to the conclusion, however, Day after day presents some new fact.

Excepting eight or nine wagons, whose drivers became panic-stricken, and cut their mules loose, we saved the whole train. Such a yelling, shouting, cursing and shooting as there was at that time, it would be hard to conceive of.

Letter from the Anderson Troop.

CAMP NASHVILLE, TENN., Jan. 23, '63.

Dear Parents and Brothers: We received orders to prepare to leave on the 23rd of December, which was quite contrary to our expectations.

Had I been told six months ago that I would lie down in a cornfield, with my feet toasting by five or six burning rails, and dead bodies lying within a few feet of my head, and enjoy a sleep, how little would I have believed it, and yet I did it!

I have foreborne to mention this matter heretofore, because I did not wish to cause you any uneasiness, but as I suppose it has already been made public through the papers, there is no longer any use in remaining silent.

After a fruitless search of an hour's duration for our late adversaries, we were posted along the lines as pickets, and were relieved at 12 o'clock, making forty-two hours since we had lain down.

Excepting eight or nine wagons, whose drivers became panic-stricken, and cut their mules loose, we saved the whole train. Such a yelling, shouting, cursing and shooting as there was at that time, it would be hard to conceive of.

Letter from "Occasional."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19, 1862.

The last exhibition of the settled purpose of the Democratic leaders to produce anarchy in the free States was the scandalous conduct of those who controlled less than one-half of the lower branch of the Legislature of New York.

Nothing of general interest has been done this week. A Bill, authorizing and requiring the State Treasurer to pay the interest on the public debt in legal tender notes, was read in place on Tuesday.

What if this golden payment could not be made for a long spell? It would seem as if some minds really labored under the delusion that a straight line was not the shortest distance between two given points.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21, 1863. Last week, Judge Advocate General Holt laid the record in the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter, which he had spent three days in making up, before the President, who to-day, signed his approval of the findings of the Court-Martial, and ordered the sentence to be carried into execution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Herald's special Washington dispatch states information has been received that the rise in the Mississippi river has caused the water to flow through the canal cut by Gen. Butler opposite Vicksburg.

Coincidences.

It is instructive to compare the attitude of the enemies of the country in the North with that of the country in Europe and the Southern States.

It is instructive to compare the attitude of the enemies of the country in the North with that of the country in Europe and the Southern States. They occupy the same ground; make the same objections to the Republic; and use the same arguments.

A UNION OFFICER ORDERED OUT OF A CINCINNATI HOTEL.—George P. Edgar, formerly a member of the 7th Regiment N. Y. National Guard, and now a member of the staff of Gen. Lew Wallace, was recently ordered out of the Burnet House, Cincinnati, by its proprietor for rebuking a number of Rebel sympathizers.

REMINISCENCE OF THE MOB which besieged the State Capitol during the election of U. S. Senator, was communicated to us by a gentleman, who has been sojourning in this city for several months past.

THE LATEST CONTRIVANCE.—There is reason to believe, says a reliable authority, that an attempt will be made in New York at the beginning of the next week, to question the public peace on the question of leaving New England in the cold, provided it is not otherwise possible to stop the war.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—This forenoon, side turned over to the command of the army of the Potomac to Gen. Hooker, who came to the headquarters' camp for that purpose.
