The Ring of True Metal.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE, Mar. 28.

MR. EDITOR:—The subjoined extract of a letter received by the Relief Board from the wife of a soldier, has the ring of true metal. She had been drawing a small amount, month-ly from the county to aid her in sus-taining herself and child; as she had rent to pay and being unable to leave home to work on account of her child, was compelled to ask aid from the Relief Fund. Her conduct is in such direct contrast with some others, that I deem it worthy of note.

MARCH 19 1863.

MR. WILSON:—Sir—Your letter came to hand to-day, and in kindness I acquaint you of its contents.

My conscience will not allow me to take the money, when I have the means of making a living without it. I believe there are so many who need it more than I do. I can now have five days work out of the week and while I can I feel that I am not entitled to it. I did I would receive it cheerfully, but under the circumstances I must think hard of me for taking it.

Yours, Respectfully,

J. A.

Union League Pledge.

The following pledge is in circulation in the city of New York and elsewhere as the basis of a Union League, and bearing the signatures of vast numbers of loyal men of all parties:

We the undersigned, citizens of the United States, hereby associate ourselves under the name and title of

LOYAL NATIONAL LEAGUE.

We pledge ourselves to an unconditional loyalty to the government of the United States, to an unwavering support of its efforts to suppress the rebellion, and to speedily re-establish and maintain unimpaired the National Unity, both in principle and in territorial boundary.

The primary object of this League shall be to bind together all loyal citizens, of all professions, without action to maintain the integrity and the unity of the Na-

It is a pledge that every truly loyal man would rejoice to take every day. It is necessary in half a dozen words. There is nothing in it which is not a traitor at heart would object to. The Satire observing any such pledge at all, unite unity of effort and prevention. Union men are coming everywhere upon this platform. A more comprehensive and patriotic pledge to stand
