Are You Assessed?

To member voters, that next Saturday, the 1st Oct., is the last day of Assessment. If your name is not on the roll you may lose your vote. See to it at once. We ask our friends in the several districts to look to this matter, and see that every loyal voter is assessed. Soldiers at home on furlough have a right to vote, and must be assessed.

Loyal Voters of Beaver County!

See that you are assessed. You ought to attend to this at once. Look at the Assessor's list; if your name is not there, or the name of any loyal man in your township is not on the list, see that it is placed there. Remember that it must be done at least ten days before the 1st Tuesday of October. See that every soldier is assessed, whether at home or in the field. Every effort should be made to get all the names, although they may be at home, have no right to vote. This is utterly untrue. Then let no one be deceived by their falseholds. We must lose no votes by negligence or carelessness, or by fraud or the bullying of our enemies and the enemies of our country.

LECTURE AND CONCERT.

Profr. S. J. Wilson, of the Western Theological Seminary, will deliver a Local and Instrumental music will be given in connection with the Lecture. Admission 25 cents; children 10 cents. Exercises commence at 7 o'clock.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.

The Mass Meeting of Thursday, the 24th, was all things considered, quite a success. A large crowd, was in attendance, carefully estimated at from two to three thousand persons, fully three-fourths of them being voters. Who was it that estimated it? By actual count there were not over 900—one fourth Republicans, one third women and children, the balance copperheads.

NEW STORE.

In visiting Rochester lately we stopped in at the new store recently opened by Mr. F. A. Fortune, and took pleasure in examining his stock, and we can safely say a more complete stock of Dry Goods, Millinery and Shoes, has never been opened in the county. In prices, one would think the war had lately come to a close, and we were at peace once more. His goods, arranged in their different departments, enables the purchaser, at first, to choose from a large and well selected stock. The back room has been fitted up exclusively for bonnets, hats and hoop skirts, of which a large assortment is always on hand. Mr. Fortune's dress goods is complete, and range in prices to suit the reach of all. His domestic goods having been purchased before the late advance, he will still continue to sell them at prices not to be had elsewhere. The store inside has lately been fitted up with much care, and can only be seen to be appreciated. From the amount of goods Mr. Fortune has lately purchased, and the steady run at his store, we are satisfied in saying Fortune is able to sell goods as low, if not lower than they can be had in any of the cities. Mr. Fortune is always behind his own counter, ready to receive and try to please any of the ladies who may favor him with a call. See advertisement in our columns.

QUESTIONS FOR THE STAR.

Are you in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rebellion? Are you in favor of furnishing the President with funds sufficient to equip, pay, clothe and subsist our armies and navies engaged in its suppression? Are you in favor of the amendment to the constitution of Pennsylvania giving suffrage to the right of suffrage? A man should be glad to have answers to these questions that we may understand the present position of our contemporaries.

HON. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM.

Hon. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM left Beaver on Friday evening last, accompanying the Governor, by invitation, to Washington county, to attend the Mass Convention held in that county on the 26th. Judge Cunningham will also accompany the Governor to other parts of the State, having accepted an invitation from the State Committee to speak at different places during the canvass. To the many who are anxious to know where he stands in his contest, we say he is, as always has been, for his country, and believes in the election of Curtin and Agnew necessary for the salvation of the country, he will use all his influence to secure their election.

The Second Tuesday of October.

The loyal Union men of Beaver county must be vigilant. They must work from this till the Second Tuesday of October. They must look well to their cause. We have an insidious and treacherous foe who are unliking and unscrupulous in their efforts to carry out their treasonable designs at the ballot box. Let every lover of our country—every one who desires to see it rescued from armed treason and the attacks of cowardly foes at home, be prepared for every assault of malignant copperheads.

OLD BEAVER AROUSED!

12,000 PEOPLE IN COUNCIL! The greatest meeting ever held in Beaver County, and the greatest in the State outside of the Cities. Friday, the 26th inst., was a great and proud day for loyal Beaver county. Notwithstanding the heavy rains of the evening before and the lowering clouds and cold, damp air, the loyal masses came out in their strength. The people came pouring into the town early in the morning and the stream of arrivals, carriages, buggies, wagons, on horseback and on foot, continued uninterrupted until one P. M. About eleven o'clock, A. M., a special train arrived from Pittsburgh with Gov. Curtin, Col. Thos. McDowell, former editor of the Harrisburg Patriot and Union, Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., Senator Graham, Mayor Sawyer, ex Mayor Weaver, Capt. Batchelor and a delegation of two or three hundred from Pittsburgh, accompanied by a splendid brass band. The delegation was met at Rochester by Gen. W. W. Irwin and a Committee from Beaver, consisting of D. L. Imbrie, B. B. Chamberlin, Dr. A. T. Shallenberger, Wm. Henry, J. S. Rutan and W. W. Kerr. An immense throng had congregated at the Station, and when the Governor arrived he was warmly greeted. Hundreds pressed up to shake hands with him, his presence creating the most unbounded enthusiasm. Delegations from several townships had arrived and joined the escort. First, the committee, the Governor, and his suite, with other distinguished visitors, led the procession. Then followed the New Sewickly delegation, with twenty five wagons, tastefully decorated with flags, unfiled, preceded by a fine drum band that played excellently. This delegation attracted a good deal of attention, coming as it does from the Gibraltar of Democracy in this county. Every one wondered how they had secured so large a representation. The fact is, New Sewickly is fast becoming all right. The activity of the leaders of the Union party in that township promises well for the future. After New Sewickly the Freedom borough and district, if really seemed, as if Freedom was out on masses. They had about two hundred in procession. They carried a banner on which was inscribed "Freedom good for three to one."

Immensely Meeting of Loyal Men.

It was followed by H. C. Mackereff and Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., of Pittsburgh, and George V. Lawrence, of Washington county. Each of the gentlemen named made excellent speeches, and were loudly applauded. A second stand was opened at the conclusion of the Governor's speech. Ritchey Eakin was called to preside. W. W. Ketcham, of Luzerne county, was introduced and made one of the best speeches we ever heard. Mr. Ketcham is a close reasoner and a pleasing speaker. He is, in fact, one of the ablest men in Pennsylvania. Those who listened to him were delighted, and considered it a rare treat. Senator Ketcham has a future that the State will yet be proud of. A third stand was erected to accommodate the people, at which M. Weyand, Esq., Chairman of the Flag Committee, announced the result, giving the flag to Racoon township. Mr. Weyand presented the flag in a most well-timed speech. His remarks were appropriate, and, in some parts, eloquent. Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., received the flag on behalf of the Township, in a speech at once witty, beautiful and eloquent. Marshall never fails to do justice to any occasion. Racoon township fairly earned the flag, although Ohio, New Sewickly, Industry, Darlington, Moon, Freedom, Economy and New Brighton were but little behind.

NEW STORE.

In visiting Rochester lately we stopped in at the new store recently opened by Mr. F. A. Fortune, and took pleasure in examining his stock, and we can safely say a more complete stock of Dry Goods, Millinery and Shoes, has never been opened in the county. In prices, one would think the war had lately come to a close, and we were at peace once more. His goods, arranged in their different departments, enables the purchaser, at first, to choose from a large and well selected stock. The back room has been fitted up exclusively for bonnets, hats and hoop skirts, of which a large assortment is always on hand. Mr. Fortune's dress goods is complete, and range in prices to suit the reach of all. His domestic goods having been purchased before the late advance, he will still continue to sell them at prices not to be had elsewhere. The store inside has lately been fitted up with much care, and can only be seen to be appreciated. From the amount of goods Mr. Fortune has lately purchased, and the steady run at his store, we are satisfied in saying Fortune is able to sell goods as low, if not lower than they can be had in any of the cities. Mr. Fortune is always behind his own counter, ready to receive and try to please any of the ladies who may favor him with a call. See advertisement in our columns.

QUESTIONS FOR THE STAR.

Are you in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rebellion? Are you in favor of furnishing the President with funds sufficient to equip, pay, clothe and subsist our armies and navies engaged in its suppression? Are you in favor of the amendment to the constitution of Pennsylvania giving suffrage to the right of suffrage? A man should be glad to have answers to these questions that we may understand the present position of our contemporaries.

HON. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM.

Hon. THOMAS CUNNINGHAM left Beaver on Friday evening last, accompanying the Governor, by invitation, to Washington county, to attend the Mass Convention held in that county on the 26th. Judge Cunningham will also accompany the Governor to other parts of the State, having accepted an invitation from the State Committee to speak at different places during the canvass. To the many who are anxious to know where he stands in his contest, we say he is, as always has been, for his country, and believes in the election of Curtin and Agnew necessary for the salvation of the country, he will use all his influence to secure their election.

Immensely Meeting of Loyal Men.

It was followed by H. C. Mackereff and Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., of Pittsburgh, and George V. Lawrence, of Washington county. Each of the gentlemen named made excellent speeches, and were loudly applauded. A second stand was opened at the conclusion of the Governor's speech. Ritchey Eakin was called to preside. W. W. Ketcham, of Luzerne county, was introduced and made one of the best speeches we ever heard. Mr. Ketcham is a close reasoner and a pleasing speaker. He is, in fact, one of the ablest men in Pennsylvania. Those who listened to him were delighted, and considered it a rare treat. Senator Ketcham has a future that the State will yet be proud of. A third stand was erected to accommodate the people, at which M. Weyand, Esq., Chairman of the Flag Committee, announced the result, giving the flag to Racoon township. Mr. Weyand presented the flag in a most well-timed speech. His remarks were appropriate, and, in some parts, eloquent. Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., received the flag on behalf of the Township, in a speech at once witty, beautiful and eloquent. Marshall never fails to do justice to any occasion. Racoon township fairly earned the flag, although Ohio, New Sewickly, Industry, Darlington, Moon, Freedom, Economy and New Brighton were but little behind.

The Greatest Meeting Ever held in Beaver County, and the Greatest in the State Outside of the Cities.

Friday, the 26th inst., was a great and proud day for loyal Beaver county. Notwithstanding the heavy rains of the evening before and the lowering clouds and cold, damp air, the loyal masses came out in their strength. The people came pouring into the town early in the morning and the stream of arrivals, carriages, buggies, wagons, on horseback and on foot, continued uninterrupted until one P. M. About eleven o'clock, A. M., a special train arrived from Pittsburgh with Gov. Curtin, Col. Thos. McDowell, former editor of the Harrisburg Patriot and Union, Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., Senator Graham, Mayor Sawyer, ex Mayor Weaver, Capt. Batchelor and a delegation of two or three hundred from Pittsburgh, accompanied by a splendid brass band. The delegation was met at Rochester by Gen. W. W. Irwin and a Committee from Beaver, consisting of D. L. Imbrie, B. B. Chamberlin, Dr. A. T. Shallenberger, Wm. Henry, J. S. Rutan and W. W. Kerr. An immense throng had congregated at the Station, and when the Governor arrived he
