

BEAVER ARGUS

Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1863.

D. L. IMBRIE, Editor & Proprietor.

NOTICE.

HAVING disposed of my interest in the Beaver Argus, all those indebted to me for subscriptions, job work, etc., will please call and settle immediately with J. L. Anderson, who is authorized to receive in my name.

The Union County Committee is requested to meet at the Court House, in Beaver, on Tuesday the 27th inst. at 1 o'clock p.m. for the transaction of important business.

Beaver County.

We can now give the official returns of the vote of Beaver county at the late election, which will be found in our paper to day. We have a clear majority, as will be seen, for Gov. Curtin, of 981, and for Judge Agnew, of 983, and all the rest of the ticket elected by handsome majorities. This is truly a glorious result, and we again congratulate the Union men of Beaver county upon the victory they have achieved. The enemies of our government have been defeated by the true and loyal voters, and that, too, under great disadvantages against us. Every one knows that large numbers of our patriotic men were in the army and could not vote. If they could have done so, our majority would have been increased at least 600. We have had to contend against the malignant falsehoods of bad men, who have been traveling over the county during the whole summer. Could we have had three weeks more, there would not have been a corporal's guard left of the Copperhead friends of Southern treason. Judge Woodward and his hangers-on have been severely rebuked and taught a lesson that no man or men can successfully make war against their country. We rejoice that Beaver county has stood so nobly up in the work, in this time of national trouble. Men of all the old parties have stood together shoulder to shoulder, doing their duty as patriots.

In common with good men in every part of the State we feel proud that our fellow townman, Judge Agnew, has been fully sustained, his vote being above all others in this county. He was eminently entitled to the home for his great moral worth, his justly high position as a Judge and a lawyer. We heartily congratulate him upon his elevation, by the people, to so high a position as Judge of Supreme Court of this State. All we regret is that he is about to leave us. In this District he has won the respect and secured the confidence of the entire people. We hope some one may be appointed capable of filling his place. Who is the man?

Lecture in Freedom.

Rev. J. A. Swaney will deliver a lecture on "CURIOS: OR EARLY TIMES—ANCIENT AND MODERN," in the M. E. Church, Freedom, Pa. Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th. Tickets 25 cents, the proceeds of the lecture to be appropriated to the treasury of the M. E. Sabbath School. This known popularity of the Reverend gentleman, and the object, should secure a large attendance.

Teachers' County Institute.

After consulting many Teachers and friends of education, we have concluded to divide our County into three districts, and hold Institutes at the following places viz: At Hookstown, Oct. 29 and 30. Darlington, Nov. 6 and 7. Concord Church, in North Sewickley township, Nov. 26 and 27. The exercises will commence at 8 o'clock a.m., and consist of Class Drills, Essays, Educational Reports, Discussions on Educational subjects, and best methods of teaching, &c.

Teachers, parents, School Directors and all who desire to see the cause of Education advanced by improving our Teachers and Schools, are earnestly requested to be present at the most convenient Institute.

Teachers will please prepare Essays and Educational Reports on subjects intimately connected with the culture of our schools and the Teachers' Profession. Appropriate Lectures will be delivered before the Institute during the evening sessions.

J. I. BEED, Co. Supt.

Darlington, Oct. 19, 63.

Arrested.—For some time past, Capt. Adam Poe and family, residing near Georgetown in this county, have been placed in great danger of being broken up by some persons stoning their house, breaking windows, &c. This has been done repeatedly during the past two weeks, but every effort to detect the offenders, who were concealed in a field near the house, proved unsuccessful until yesterday (Thursday) when a boy who lived with the guilty parties, made information against them. It seems to have been their intention to drive Capt. Poe out of the house, and to break up his family, or otherwise maltreat him. The names of the prisoners are Thomas Lewellen and Thomas Hogan. They were brought to Beaver and lodged in jail Friday morning.—Star, Oct. 16.

The Glorious Result.

The election in Pennsylvania has closed and the result is a clear and decided victory of the friends of the Constitution and Law, over the traitors of the South, and their allies, the Copperheads of the North. It is cheering and encouraging to the friends of freedom, everywhere, to witness such devotion to our free institutions, in the people of our glorious old Commonwealth.

The campaign on the part of the friends of the Union, did not commence until a few weeks before the election but there did not appear to be much necessity for any great effort, for the people throughout the State were thoroughly aroused to the great importance of the contest. Every man felt that it was not a mere political contest between parties, or for the support of particular men, but that the life of the government, the existence of this great Republic depended upon the action of Pennsylvania. Governor Curtin, our present excellent and most worthy Chief Magistrate represented the principles of the friends of the Union. He was chosen by them because they had entire confidence in his integrity, ability and sincere and ardent devotion to his country, and well and nobly has he been sustained by the loyal, the wise and good of Pennsylvania.

In view of all the circumstances, the victory which the friends of our country have achieved is extraordinary. For months the unscrupulous and unprincipled leaders of the allies of Southern treason, were in the field making the mightiest effort, for the overthrow of the government. The great masses of the people, of all the old organizations, were, at heart, truly loyal, and desired to support their country; but they were misled and misinformed by those who were totally destitute of moral principle and would willingly barter their country's liberties, for the gratification of their own selfish and unholy ambition. Such men have in our midst, in this country. It is true that the men who call themselves Democrats, and now claim to be leaders are men who have no ability, no character for anything which would constitute good citizens, and are not, and never were, considered ever in the party to which they belonged, fish-rate men. Yet these men, by their incessant preaching of wicked doctrines, have befaced and unmitigated falsehoods as to the rebellion and its causes and objects, did mislead many good men who had not informed themselves as to the true state of the case. Notwithstanding all the efforts of the friends of the South, the friends of our country and the cause of human liberty and human rights, have been and we now feel most confident will be, entirely successful in crushing out rebellion, and restore peace, and prosperity to this country, and that she will go on sowing the seeds of civil and religious liberty until all the nations of the earth shall be free.

We would say a word as to those men who have heretofore belonged to the Democratic party, in this State. Everywhere we have seen the wisest, the best and most intelligent of that party come out nobly in the face of the vilest abuse by bad men, and against their old party prejudices and feelings, in support of the government. All honor to such men. Amongst the number of devoted patriots who have hitherto belonged to that party, stands the Hon. Thomas Cunningham, a life long Democrat, eminent for his undoubted talents, ability and integrity. He was a member of the Charleston Convention and gave his hearty support to Douglas in opposition to the Southern disunionists, and aristocratic dictators. Since that time, and particularly from the time our flag was fired upon by Southern traitors, he has given himself to the support of his country in her time of peril, and in the contest which has just passed he contributed greatly, by his fearless course, to the victory of the friends of the Union. We have everywhere hosts of good and true men of that party who have bravely battled against the allies of the South, in this State.

Our majority in this State is about 20,000; the precise number cannot be ascertained until we receive the official returns. If to this majority we could have added the vote of the citizens now in the army, battling for their country's constitution, our majority would exceed 100,000. We have about 200,000 men in the army that is 200 Regiments, and after making full allowance for losses in battle and otherwise we have at least 120,000 men, of whom 90,000 are voters. Of that number, judging from the experience of the men and of the course pursued by the soldiers who are at home, we would have had on the side of the Union at least four-fifths, which leaves us a majority of the army vote, of 72,000. Of the soldiers vote we have been deprived by the decision of the Supreme Court, who said that the men who are fighting for the Constitution, have no constitutional right to vote. In Ohio that arch-traitor Vallandigham has been defeated by the overwhelming majority of about 100,000. Thus that great State has been redeemed from the curse of disloyalty, treason has been rebuked and will not be again permitted to raise its horrid head. The President has been fully sustained, and his wisdom and patriotism vindicated.

We rejoice that the great State of Pennsylvania and Ohio will not be arrayed with the State of New York, which is cursed with the rule of such infamous traitors as Seymour and the Woods. Those three States, if united, could paralyze the government and restore peace by the use of their arms; but we now have the gratifying assurance that it will be sustained at all hazards.

The President can now go on with renewed energy and vigor, sure of the support of the people, "who are at his back," and speedily and forever crush out Southern rebellion and mean and hateful copperheads in the North, until our country is again restored to the blessings of peace. He will probably again recur to this subject in a future issue.

TRUSTEES OF ACADEMY

The next Legislature will, early in January, elect a State Treasurer for the ensuing year. The present occupant of that office will undoubtedly be changed. We do not know that he has done anything wrong, but the friends of the Union cause can present men in every way his superior. The old Keystone has been almost uniformly fortunate in her State Treasurers. Few serious blunders have ever been committed, and in no instance have we had any defalcation. This is a matter upon which we can congratulate ourselves, without respect to party. The pending financial man of this State regarded very much last winter to lose the services of Henry D. Moore, who, from the opening of the war, had administered our finances with great credit to himself and profit to the State. If his services can be again secured, we think no one else should be thought of, while the present war lasts. A new man might do well, but we all know that Mr. Moore has conducted our finances admirably, and this is no time to jump bones. With him at the helm, and our old friend Thomas Nicholson, of Beaver, as Chief Clerk, every well-informed man in the State would know that all was right with the old Keystone money-box. We should, therefore, like to know if Mr. Moore will consent to be a candidate, and if so, we will give him our vote to keep the State's money up to the time this infamous rebellion is suppressed.—Pittsburg Commercial.

State Treasurer.

Editor Argus: I am informed by a reliable party, that at a copperhead meeting, held in Brighton tp. a few days before the election, one Daugherty, who pretends to be a copperhead lawyer and orator, addressed the meeting in his usual eloquent and masterly style. After proving, conclusively, that the country was "gone up," he turned his attention to the large Union Meet, held in Beaver on the 23d ultimo. He said that the expenses of that meeting was TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS, and that it was paid out of the Treasury of Beaver county, and that "you and I, my fellow-tax payers, have to foot the bill." I think comment is unnecessary. It shows the desperate means unprincipled men will adopt to bolster up a bad cause. Of course Daugherty knew better; and why did he make the ridiculous and false assertion? Was it done in the way of a joke? or was Daugherty simple enough to think that his audience swallowed his senseless balderdash. He may have been uttering this slander against the County Commissioners so often, that he finally got to believe it himself. Part of his hearers, no doubt, took it all down for a fact. For men that are opposed to all the improvements of the country, and want the Tariff run through their jaws, I think are fit subjects to be totally immortalized himself. His herculean efforts, in behalf of copperheadism, will one day meet its just reward. Put over, Edward, and instead of being a Delegate to the State Convention, you may be a candidate for some of the honors flowing from that august body. It was a bold stroke, Edward, worthy the cause and the occasion. The great leader himself would scarce have ventured an assertion so damaging to the opposition. But "fall oaks from little acorns grow."

From Meade's Army.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Accounts from the Army of the Potomac say there are no tidings of Lee's whereabouts as he has recently very materially enhanced his position. Such dispositions have been made of our own army as will meet all contingencies. There is no truth in the report that Gen. Meade's army is within the defenses of Washington. Heavy firing of artillery was, for an hour or two, heard this morning in the direction of Manassas.

OBITUARY.

Died, Oct. 4th, of Diphtheria in Darlington tp. Aug. daughter of Al exander and Anne Maria Miller, aged 10 years and 4 months.
God in this infinite mercy has been pleased to call her from our midst to join the Heavenly Hosts above. She is free from all her earthly pain and wish her not to back again in this world of rebellion. The true hero's little feet will be heard no more patterning down the aisle to meet her Sabbath School teacher and to greet her little mates with that angelic smile that was always found beaming in her youthful face. Neither will her sweet voice be heard in the home-circle; no more will she unite with those whom she has so pleasantly passed the summer, but, alas! she sleeps the sleep of death—she has left this unfortunally world and gone to join the songs of nobler praise, "where congregations ne'er break up and Sabbaths have no end." I will say to you who were her mates and companions in this world, take warning! Your turn may come next. Love Jesus, who died that you might live, and be prepared to meet Him. And to your heroic parents, who stood weeping o'er her little grave weep no longer; breathe not a sigh; dry your tears with the words of hope and consolation that "The Lord giveth and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." And to you, her sisters and little brothers, who are left to mourn her loss, remember, "blessed are they who mourn for they shall be comforted." Be faithful and devoted lovers of the Saviour, with the assurance that you will meet those who have gone to that spiritual Land to be separated no more forever.

Little did we think Ada,
When last we saw thy lovely face,
That we so soon Ada,
Would follow thee to thy resting place.
You were but a bird Ada,
Just blooming in life's youthful mound,
But now thou art gone Ada,
To where brighter buds are found.
Thy little voice was sweet Ada,
Both in thy play and songs of praise,
But alas! thou art gone Ada,
To learn of bright and better days.
We will not weep for thee Ada,
Not let tears in our eyes be started,
For 't was the will of God, Ada,
That thou from us was parted.

MARRIED.

On the 15th inst., by Rev. John Brown, M. B. ROBERT LOGAN, to Miss LUCIANA BAKER, all of Beaver county.

Dr. Tobias Venetian Liniment

A CERTAIN CURE FOR PAINS AND ACHES, and warranted superior to any other. Croup if positively cured; relief is absolutely sure immediately it is used. Mothers remember this, and arm yourselves with a bottle without delay. Croup is disease which gives no notice, frequently attacking the child in the dead hour of night; before a physician can be summoned it may be too late. Remember, the Venetian Liniment never fails. Price 25 and 60 cents a bottle. Sold by all Druggists, a bottle, 56 Cornland Street, New-York.

Fresh Oysters

Peter Angel, of Bridgewater, calls the attention of his friends and customers—and those who desire a nice dish of Oysters, to the fact that he is receiving, daily Malby's Oysters, the best Oysters known. He will also call by can or half can.

THE PRESIDENT HAS ISSUED A PROCLAMATION

calling for 300,000 men, to be raised by the different States. The quota is to be filled by the 5th day of January, 1864, by enlistment, failing in that, a draft will then be made to raise the requisite number.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.

Provision has been made in case the rebels undertake another raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania, to attend to them in order this time. The Tenth New Jersey, and other troops, went up through Chambersburg yesterday. It is said, although I doubt it, that Lee is falling back.
