

BEAVER ARGUS.

Wednesday, Nov. 25, 1863.

D. L. IMBRIE, Editor &amp; Proprietor.

TERMS One dollar and five cents per number, in advance; where two dollars will be charged. No paper discontinued until all arrears are settled.

Letters and communications by mail shall have prompt attention.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.
1863.

The New-York Tribune, first issued in 1841, in its twenty-second year, has obtained both a larger and a more widely diffused circulation than any other newspaper ever published in America. Though it has suffered, in common with other journals, from the volunteering and departure of tens of thousands of its patrons to serve in the War for the Union, its circulation on this 6th of December, 1863, is as follows:

Daily..... 50,125
Semi-Weekly..... 17,250
Weekly..... 149,000

Aggregate..... 215,375

Pre-eminently a journal of News and of Literature, The Tribune has political convictions which are well characterized by the single word REPUBLICAN. It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The Tribune devotes attention in calmer times, and to some extent in these, to Education, Temperance, Agriculture, "Inventions," and whatever else may minister to the spiritual and material progress and well-being of mankind; but for the present its energies and its columns are mainly devoted to the invigoration and success of the War for the Union. Its special correspondents accompany every conceivable army and report every important incident of that great struggle, which we trust to result in the signal and conclusive triumph of the National arms and the final establishment of Peace and Thrift to our distracted bleeding country. We believe that not otherwise can a fuller or more accurate view of the progress and character of this momentous conflict be obtained than through the regular perusal of our columns. And we earnestly solicit the co-operation of all friends of the National cause, which we regard and uphold as that of Universal Humanity, to aid us in extending its influence.

TERMS. The enormous increase in the price of printing paper and other materials used in printing newspapers, compels us to increase the price of The Tribune. Our new terms are:

DAILY TRIBUNE. Copy, one cent; 10 copies, ten cents; 50 copies, one year ($1.25); 100 copies, $1.50; 150 copies, one year, $2.00; 200 copies, one year, $2.50; extra copy will be sent to clubs of twenty or more.

WEEKLY TRIBUNE. Copy, one cent; 50 copies, one year, $2.00; 100 copies, $2.50; 150 copies, one year, $3.00; 200 copies, one year, $3.50; extra copy will be sent to clubs of twenty or more.

SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE. Copy, one year, $1.50; 100 copies, $1.75; 150 copies, one year, $2.00; 200 copies, one year, $2.25; extra copy will be sent to clubs of twenty or more.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE will be sent to clubs of fifty or more.

Address. THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Buildings, New York.

When drafts can be procured it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post Office and State should in all cases be plainly written.

Subscribers who send money by Express, must prepay the Express charges, else it will be deducted from the remittance.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC FOR 1863 is ready about Christmas.

Union Hotel, BEAVER, PENNA.

ALEX. CLARK, PROPRIETOR.

Address to the proprietors of a firm of jewelers, who have fitted up in a complete and satisfactory manner,

OYSTER SALOON, where the best quality of Oysters may be obtained during their season, in any desired quantity. Equally can be furnished with Oysters, by the dozen. The table is furnished with all the fixtures of the PITTSBURG MARKET can afford.

Thankful for the liberal patronage heretofore shown, a continuance of the same is respectfully solicited.

DESKS, SCISSORS, GUM, HAIR PINS, PARASOL, PORT MONIES, NEEDLES, TWEEZERS, PINCERS, SPONGE, COTTON, THREAD, ETC., FOR SALE AT THE DRUG STORE OF DR. O. P. CUNNINGHAM.

BEAVER ARGUS.

Vol. 39-No. 46.

Beaver, Wednesday, November 25, 1863.

Established 1818

SOUTHERN APPEAL FOR PEACE.

Stirring and Powerful Address by the Hon. E. W. Gant, of Ark., late General in the Rebel Service.

We have received, says the Philadelphia News, from the publisher of the National Democrat, at Little Rock, Arkansas, a copy of an Address issued to the people of that State (in particular and to the Southern people, in general) by the Hon. E. W. Gant, until recently a General in the rebel army. The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of Texas to the great Rebellion, to grasp the empire of the New World and weld the resources of our country for its own aggrandizement—Republican in its antagonism to the slaves of the Old World, who fondly hail in their ports and colonies suddenly thrust upon us by their American counterpart the overseer and ruin of the Model Republic—Republican in its hope and trust its faith and effort that this atrocious rebellion, now in the signal overthrow of its plotters, and the firm establishment of equal rights and equal laws throughout the whole extent of our country, wherein Liberty and Union shall indeed be one and inseparable," henceforth forever.

The views he puts forth being those of an intelligent Southerner, and one whose influence contributed no little to precipitate his State into the bloody mire of the rebellion.

It is Republican in its hearty subscription to the great truth that "God has made of one blood all nations of men"—Republican in its assertion of the equal and inalienable rights of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness—Republican in its steadfast, earnest, defiant hostility to every scheme and effort of the Slave Power, from the Annexation of