rom, the N. Y. Evening Post, Jan. 20.] TTLE - WORN BANNERS.

BY PARK BENJAMIN saw the soldiers come to-day vrom battle-fields afar: amqueror rode before the way On his triumphal car; the captains, like themselves, on foot, And banners radly torn, randly cloquent, though mute, In pride and glory borne.

Those banners, soiled with dust and smo And rent by shot and shell, That through the serried phalanx broke, Whatsterrors they could tell! What tales of sudden pain and death in every campon's boom, When even the bravest held his breath And waited for his doom.

hands of steel these flags were waved Above the camage dire, Almost destroyed, yet always saved, Mid battle-clouds and fire; Though down at times, still up they rose And kissed the breeze again, Dread tokens to the rebel foes Of true and loyal men. .

. And here the true and loyal still Those famous banner hear; The bugles wind, the fifes blow shrill, And clash the cymbols where, & With decimated ranks, they come, And through the crowded street Murch to the beating of the drum With firm though weary feet.

God bless the soldiers : cry the folks, Whose cheer of welcome swell; God bless the banners black with smoke, And torn by shot and shelld They should be hung on sacred shrines, Baptized with grateful tears, and live embalmed in poet's lines Through all succeeding years.

Angrander trophics could be brought By patriot sire to son, Of glorious battles nobly fought, Epic deeds sublimely done, And to to day, I chanced with pride And solemn joy to see June remnants from the bloody tid Of Victory.
