OUR CANDIDATES.

We concluded our article last week Esq. Mr. Weyand has already filled the office for one term by election, and a tew months by appointment, and is therefore a tried man. This is the most difficult, taying, and responsible have the business capacity, prudence public and to themselves. Mr. Weyand possesses all these qualifications to an eminert degree. We but do him simple justice whon we say no better or more capable man could be selected for the position. He has proved himself an acceptable and popular officer, which is the best evidence of his ability and fitness. Perfectly honest, always obliging, generous, moral and many years editor of this paper; and they can say of him as an editor—for he was a good one, filling the editori-
