WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES.

The Best, Most Reliable Sewing Machine Now in Use!

These Machines make the lock-stitch alike on both sides, and use less than half the thread and silks that the single or double thread loop-stitch Machines do. It will Stitch, Hem, Fell, Quilt, Tuck, Plait, Gather, Cord, Braid, etc., all without prvious basting; and are better adapted than any other Sewing Machine in use to the frequent changes and great variety of sewing required in a family, or they will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Marselles without stopping, and make every stitch perfect; or from the finest gauze to the heaviest beaver cloth, without changing the feed needle or tension, or making any adjustment of machine whatever!

It has the following advantages over all other machines:

Far greater variety of work; beauty and excellence of stitch; speed and quietness of motion; simplicity of construction; ease and management; elegance of design and finish.

These are peculiar facts, and will go far to determine the choice of an intelligent buyer.

Please call and examine.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from August 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of 7-30ths per cent. per annum, principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect.

They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent., which will be paid by the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made from the deposits.

Special Advantages of this Loan.

It is a NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other, and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government money.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collateral for discounts.

Convertible into Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bonds.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent.

Exemption from State or National Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith of either of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Duplicate certificates will be issued for all deposits. The party depositing must endorse upon the original certificate the denomination of notes required, and whether they are to be issued in blank or payable to order. When so endorsed it must be left with the officer receiving the deposit, to be forwarded to the Treasury Department.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositories, and by the First National Bank of Pittsburgh, Third National Bank of Pittsburgh, and by ALL NATIONAL BANKS, which are depositories of Public money, and RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS throughout the country will give further information and

Last Tuesday a meeting was held in Faneuil Hall, Boston, to rejoice over the late glorious victories of our arms at Atlanta and in Mobile Bay. Edward Everett, who is now in the city, was invited to speak, but, not being able to attend, sent a letter, which was read amid rounds of applause.

JOHN HART, JR.,

Ingenuity of our Soldiers.

A Herald correspondent writing from city Point says: I cannot refrain from giving an account of the building of a very small steam engine, the material of which were picked up in different parts of the State, and skinned in their proper places, at the factory of the builders. A description of the engine will be of interest, and any one anxious to procure relics of the war would find in this small engine a whole cabinet of curiosities. The length of this piece of Yankee ingenuity is fourteen inches, and its height ten inches, and though so small, yet it works beautifully. The boiler is a small brass plate, was taken from a mill at Port Royal. The cylinder is on which the boiler's name is generally engraved, was taken from a small engine used for washing gold at the gold mine on the Rapidan River. The stand is made from a piece of the balance beam of Fairbank's scales. The boiler is made from a piece of a market penholder, as also the exhaust pipe. The steam whistle is composed of several pieces; the head is a mouthpiece of a bugle, the cap a cartridge of Spencer's repeating rifle, and the knob the tip of a bayonet scabbard. The hub of the flywheel is the plug of a shell fuse. The four spokes are made from a Springfield musket ramrod, the rim from a centre table taken at Spottsylvania Court House. The safety valve is another piece of bugle, helped out by a piece of lightning rod taken from a mill at Rappahannock Station. The beam of the valve is a cavalryman's buckle fluted down; the weight, a knob of a bureau drawer from Spottsylvania Court House. Two try cocks from Fairbank's scales, taken at Rappahannock Station. The boiler is made from a common tin can. The furnace from a camp kettle, also the smoke stack. The frame upon which the whole rests is mahogany, made from a piano taken from the house of a major in the rebel army. The rests or logs to the frame were taken from a pair of andirons from the same house. The ends of the boiler came from a snare drum. The boiler is made from a beautiful little engine at W. E. Hawkins, at Newport, New York, and at E. Evans, of Utica, New York, both of company B, 44th regiment New York.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity, into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect.

They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

JOHN HART, JR.,

McClellan at Malvern Hill.

We find the following statement about McClellan's retreat from Malvern Hill in the Rev. J. J. Mark's able history of "The Peninsula Campaign in Virginia." It is a piece of history which will be difficult for General McClellan to explain. The statement is the more important just now from the fact that the Rev. Mr. Marks wrote his history immediately after McClellan abandoned the Peninsula.

It was not written for political effect, nor by a politician, but by an army chaplain who was a faithful witness of the scenes which he describes. We copy it now for the benefit of the people who are invited to vote for the sweet-scented General who ran away from a victory which the glorious old Army of the Potomac had won. Mr. Marks says:

The battle was over, but the cannonading still continued, and shells and balls of every kind torn through the woods in a ceaseless whirlwind of fury. In the meantime thousands of the Confederates oed in the wildest disorder from the scene, and hid themselves in swamps, and hollows; soldiers without guns, horsemen without caps and swords, came to the hospital in the battle-field of Glendale, and reported that their regiments and brigades were sweep away and they alone were "escaped to tell the tale."

It is one of the strangest things in this week of disaster that Gen. McClellan ordered a retreat to Harrison's Landing, six miles down the James river, after we had gained so decided a victory. When this order was received by the impatient and eager army, consternation and amazement overwhelped our patriotic and ardent hosts. Some refused to obey the command. Gen. Martindale shed tears of shame. The brave and chivalrous Kearney said in the presence of many officers: "I, Philip Kearney, an old soldier, enter my solemn protest against this order for retreat. I ought, instead of retreating to follow up the enemy and take Richmond. And in full view of all the responsibility of such a declaration, I say to you, all such an order, can only be prompted by cowardice or treason."

And with all this heroism, and desecration, the march of triumph, utterly broken, scattered and patri-otric.

And when there was not a foe within miles of us, we left our wounded behind to perish, and any one witnessing the wild eagerness of our retreat, would have supposed that we were in the greatest peril from a vigilant and triumphant enemy.

RETALIATION.—Gen. Burbridge, commanding the Union forces in Kentucky, has adopted a severe but necessary policy for ridding the State of the murdering guerrillas who have so long infested it. In retaliation for the murder of a Union man by a gang of these outlaws, he recently selected four of that class from a number of prisoners which he held, and ordered that they should be executed on the spot where the Unionist had been killed. Twenty soldiers under the command of a lieutenant, were detailed to carry out the order. Taking the doomed men to the place indicated, the lieutenant divided his men into four squads of five each, and assigned to each squad the duty of executing one of the guerrillas. The condemned men knelt upon the ground the order to fire was given, each received five bullets in his body, and the murder of the Union man was fearfully avenged.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue directs that when a manufacturer produces an article special application on his business; being but apart of a structure in the line of his business, no tax will be imposed on such article, but it will be levied upon the structure complete. Thus—a carriage maker will not be taxed for the manly, which are of special use in his business, but should be made nails, clothes, or other articles used in manufacturing carriages, yet having a general commercial value, not being specially applicable to his business such products will be subject to taxation.

That faith which Cromwell preached to his Ironsides, to trust in God, but keep their powder dry, was reproduced in essence by Rev. Mark Trafton in New Bedford last Sunday, in a sermon on "faith in God, faith in the Government, and faith in the rightness of the cause for which we are fighting." He warned his congregation of dark days, perhaps to our arms, of dark days to the Government, dark days to individual men's courage and trust. "But brethren," said he, "I beseech you don't in any dark day, vote for McClellan and Penderton."—Tribune.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that at the McClellan ratification meeting in the Park Mr. Overfield of Pennsylvania, said that Lincoln was a "scoundrel" and a "worse secessionist than Jeff Davis ever dared to be." This declaration, pronounced by McClellan, O'Connell, Lyell, and Barker.

A Warning from Andy Johnson.

The Indianapolis Journal publishes the following from Andrew Johnson, Union candidate for Vice President, written in answer to a letter inviting him to speak at Logansport, Indiana. NASHVILLE, Aug. 21st,
