Notice.

Those of our patrons who are interested in the publication of the Argus, are requested to make immediate payment of their subscriptions...

The editor acknowledges the receipt of a written report of the late examination and exhibition of the Beaver Union School. As it was a voluminous and fully prepared for the press...

The Hookston Concert was a success. The audience was large and the exercises were interesting and vocal. Mrs. John Tinsley presided at the piano with great taste and skill.

A Gossiping - Mr. Wilhelm, a German, resident of Moon tp., informed the Board of Electors, the day after election, that Mr. Chas. Fisher was a freemason and could not vote.

EDUCATIONAL - The following teachers have been employed in Chippewa tp. for two and a half months at $22 and $30 per month, R. P. Herron and B. R. White.

A FATALITY - Mrs. Jolly, an old lady in Brighton tp., met with her death by falling into a well Monday morning.

A Fight - Quite an exciting scene was witnessed at the Beaver polls towards the evening of the election. Mr. McCullough, a wounded soldier, attempted to vote, when he was challenged by Mr. Gourley, an Irishman and an alien.

THE ARTICLE on our first page, on the question - Why Ministers of the Gospel should Meddle with Politics, was commended to the careful perusal of our readers. From a just and liberal point of view, we believe it presents arguments which are unanswerable by the worldly members of the Democratic party.

THE PAPER RESIGNED - Mr. Joseph Albree has resigned the office of Treasurer for the United States Christian Commission, in this city, and Mr. Wm. Frow has been appointed in his place.

UNQUESTIONABLY the best Sustained work of the kind in the World.

FREEBORN, Nov. 1, 1864.

Editor Argus: I see by a late issue of the Little Dark Lantern of Western Pennsylvania, published in Beaver, by one M. G. GREGG, that the creature who did the editorial writing for this week's Argus makes the very common mistake of calling the very common preachers who have not honesty or industry enough to make a living by hard work, and have not talents enough to live by any of the professions, but go round under the guise of the ministry making political harangues, "the church."

The above staff raised the inquiry as to how much brains was required in order to qualify a man to induce boys of 10 or 13 years of age to "take a drink." Does that illustrious editor, that standard of morality, remember of crossing the Beaver river at Home-wood Furnace, on the evening of July 26, 1864? Will memory carry that bundle of misrepresentations, and false accusations, back to the reply of a little boy about 10 years of age, in answer to an invitation to "take a drink."

"No! I DON'T DRINK, WHISKY, BOB MCGREGG!" And yet that thing pretenses to teach men who have forgotten more than he ever knew, or perhaps ever will know.

Should the above statement be denied, I hold myself responsible to furnish the proof, with names in full. TRUTH.

ANOTHER REPORT OF THE VANPORT AFFAIR - The facts which are miserably perverted - are that several boys at Vanport threw stones into the procession as it passed through the village - that several stones were thrown into the wagon in which Campbell was riding, among some ladies and children - that Campbell picked up one of the stones, and threw it into the crowd, and it happened to hit young M'Kinzie.

It is said that we have in the United States 50,000 heathens. Idol gods are worshipped in two heathen temples in San Francisco. The Baptists have erected chapels in both San Francisco and Sacramento, and some of those converted have already commenced preaching. The Presbyterians have an American missionary and two Chinese helpers. The Chinese have large colonies scattered all over California, and the work of their evangelization is an inviting one for Christians of every sect.

The Toronto Globe, speaking on Tuesday morning of the American election to be held that day, remarked: It will be no small credit to the American people that they can in time of internal war conduct an election for the Chief Magistracy of the nation, and the chief legislative body as well, without violence or bloodshed, and comparatively speaking, without serious breaches of the peace.

It is reported that the United States Government has notified England of their intention to increase their armament on the Lakes for the purpose of protecting the frontier. The Provincial delegates had a grand entertainment in Montreal on Saturday the 29th ult., and left on Monday for Ottawa.

A London correspondent, referring to the financial revision in Europe, says that three-fourths of all the failures and bankruptcies in England, during this panic, were caused by adventures in rebel affairs, cotton speculations, &c.
