APPOINTMENTS BY THE COMMISSIONERS

The following appointments have been made by the Commissioners for the year 1865: Counsel Henry Rice, Esq. Mercantile Appraiser: G. W. Shrodes, Physician of Jail: Dr. D. McKinney, Director of House of Refuge: Benj. Wilde, Esq.

The appointments are all good ones and we congratulate the Commissioners upon their happy selection. Mr. Rice is a good lawyer and has already made his mark in his profession. Possessing the legal ability, and sound judgment, he is a safe and reliable counsellor. He has held the position for two years, and his re-appointment shows the satisfaction he has rendered. Energetic, prompt and decided, possessing remarkable business capacity, honest in every motive, he is an honor to the profession, and will take a stand, in time, among the leading lawyers of the country. Mr. Shrodes, who has been selected for Mercantile Appraiser, is well known to many of our readers as an active worker in the Union party. He is a good man and will perform the duties of his appointment well. Dr. McKinney, although a comparative stranger in the county, has won a high reputation as a Physician. He is a young man of moral habits, fine education, and correct, discriminating judgment. He was Surgeon of the 13th Regt. E. V. and was promoted to Medical Director of the Division. His success has been remarkable and we believe merited. Coming to this county about one year ago, he now has the largest practice, and we believe no superior in his profession in the County.

Benj. Wilde, Esq., Director of House of Refuge is one of our best business men and deservedly occupies a high position. If such men as him were always selected, it would be well for the county.

ELECTION OF THE 24th DIST. - An election will be held on the 24th inst. to fill a vacancy in the Assembly, caused by the death of Hon. R. R. Reed. We do not know who will be the candidate presented by the Union party, as the member is conceded to Washington county, and the Confed. one does not take place until the 12th. It is time, however, that our friends in this county should bestir their senses. We must elect whoever is presented; and in order to do this we must begin to work at once. We trust the local committees will see that the Boroughs and Townships are properly organized and our friends apprized of the coming election. A light vote in this county might defeat our candidate.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE - We print the Governor's Message and Election Proclamation this week, which run out much of our Editorial matter. The message is a carefully written document, and will be read with interest. We have not space to refer to it at length, and indeed no comment is necessary. The Governor has presented so clearly, forcibly and ably every subject of general importance that all can understand, and we feel assured that all will be gratified. Gov. Curtin has great Executive ability and his public acts, as well as documents, reflect credit upon the Commonwealth. We like the candor, honesty and independence with which he presents evils and abuses, and recommends their correction. Gov. Curtin is the ablest Governor Pennsylvania ever had, and his message is the best ever presented to the people of the State.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS - An Illustrated Magazine for Boys and Girls. Number 1, for January, 1855, edited by J. F. Trowbridge, Gail Hamilton, and Lucy Larcom. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. This new magazine will please all the young folks - and the old folks too. Its typographical appearance is very neat, although we see no good reason for preferring the old to the handsome modern faced type. Its illustrations are well executed, and its contents interesting. Here is its varied table: 1. Hum the son of Baz, by Harriet Beecher Stowe. 2. The Volunteer's Thanksgiving by Lucy Larcom. 3. Thumbing through the Finnish. 4. The Red-Coats by Gail Hamilton. 5. The Color-Blazer, by J. F. Trowbridge. 6. The Little Prisoner, by Edmund Kirke. 7. Thom's Hughes (with an engraved portrait). 8. Physical Health, by Dr. Dio Lewis. 9. Andy's Adventures, by J. F. Trowbridge. 10. Winning His Way, by Carleton. 11. New Year's Carol, by John Weiss. 12. Farming for Boys, by the Author of Ten Acres Enough. 13. Ad at in the Forest, by Main Reid. 14. Around the Evening Lamp. Terms, $2.00 a year. Single numbers 50 cents. All subscriptions payable in advance. As this magazine is not sold in the field, its merits will unquestionably secure for it an extended patronage.

Harrisburg Correspondence

Harrisburg, Jan. 4, 1865. Mr. Editor: With the new year we enter into the Capitol city the gentleman supposed to be selected by the people of the State on account of superior ability, integrity, and acquirements, to make laws for them, with a swarm of aspirants for the positions in their gift, and a liberal representation of the third house and a republican majority. For a day or two the button-holing was brisk upon the streets and in the hotels, but by Monday evening the "slates" were full for both houses and duly ratified in caucus, and upon the next day the Republican tickets were voted in by the party majority. The Democracy were disinterested spectators of the organization, though I believe they were through the form of holding a caucus and making nominations. The Union members of the Senate nominated without opposition and elected William J. Tipton of Susquehanna to the Speakership, with Geo. W. Hamersly, of Philadelphia, for Clerk. Mr. Tipton is a gentleman of distinguished ability and deservingly popular with his fellow senators. He was elected to the Speakership for the recess at the adjournment of the Senate of 1864, and in his re-election in the Senate has but conformed to an established custom. He holds the office to be highly successful in the position to which he has been elevated. Mr. Hamersly has had the Clerk's desk for the last three years, and will probably hold it while the Republicans hold the Senate. There is no one in the State better qualified for the place.

The organization of the lower house was not marked by the same unanimity. Messrs. Ombstead of Potter, and Brown of Warren, were named for the Speakership, and the canvass between them for a time was spirited. Both were respectable in private and public character, and were warmly supported by their respective friends. Mr. Brown uniting nearly all the western members, while Mr. Ombstead was strongly urged by the north and east. The contest was finally settled by the withdrawal of Brown, and Mr. Ombstead was unanimously nominated. He is a leading member of the Bar of Potter county, of large legislative experience, and the strictest integrity, and will be an able and impartial Speaker. His competitor is a lawyer by profession, and is now serving his third term as a representative from Warren. He was reported one of the ablest members of the last House, and the merits and will probably have the Chairmanship of one of the leading committees - Ways and means or Judiciary General.

A. W. Baugher, the efficient and energetic Clerk of the last House was nominated with opposition. Much interest was expressed at the defeat of Judge Stewart of Lawrence, for the Postmastership, which was designated by the Democrats in the delegation from his own district. The Postmaster of Beaver Springs was well cared for in the organization, and the Postmaster of Washington, being a Transferring Clerkship, and S. B. Wilson, of Beaver, going into the Posters Department.

During the call of the representatives for the election of Speaker, the organization of the members, a novel question was presented for settlement by Mr. Bedford and Fulton, comprising a Legislative District, and not a member. The first is strongly Union in politics, the latter two are out of the Democratic. The members of the district returned to the three counties, and a majority of some three hundred voters for the Union members for the Assembly. Messrs. Armstrong of Bedford, and Rose of Fulton, though the latter was defeated by a small majority for the same vote. Between one and a hundred military votes were cast by the Bands of Return Judges of Bedford and Fulton counties at their meeting, and the returns thus certified and placed in the hands of the persons elected as District Judges. These gentlemen upon the meeting of the Board for the District, finding that Armstrong and Rose were still in the land, undertook to alter the returns certified to their respective counties by the county Return Judges, themselves inclined, by throwing out the three army votes of Bedford and Fulton counties, and having done so, signed and forwarded a certificate of election of the Democratic candidates. The Return Judge for Bedford county, certified the vote as it actually appeared upon the official papers. Both these returns were in the hands of the Clerk, who submitted to the House the question, which of the four persons returned as elected he should recognize as members upon his roll. He was instructed by the House to place upon the roll the names of the persons upon the returns bearing the largest number of votes, the Democrats voting in the negative. The names of Armstrong and Rose were accordingly enrolled, and this unequalled attempt to set aside the verdict of the people, and introduce into the Legislature by means of military men who had been repudiated at the polls, failed utterly. It is just to the Democracy I must say that they supported their men but, fear, and declined any knowledge of the facts I have stated.

A rich joke on Gen. Butler is current in army circles. It seems that the regular officers have little faith in the Butch G. Co. and at a recent court-martial in the Army of the James a soldier was sentenced to two years hard labor on said canal. The report is that Butler was disgusted, and disowned the court immediately upon hearing of this finding and sentence.
